THIS Abridgment of the AMERICAN GAZETTEER has been made and published with a view to accommodate that class of citizens who may not incline to go to the expense of the larger work. It is designed also for a convenient pocket volume for travellers. The Author has taken great care to retain those parts of the original work which are the most interesting and important to the citizens of the United States.—He has introduced such improvements and corrections as have come to his knowledge since the publication of the AMERICAN GAZETTEER, particularly a new and correct Table of the Post-Offices in the United States, with their distances from the General Post-Office at Philadelphia, which add no inconsiderable value to this Abridgment. With these observations he commits it to the candor and patronage of the public.

A ARONSBURG, lies at the head of Penn's Creek, Northumberland co. Pennsylvania, about 30 miles westerly from Lewisburgh, and 40 W. by N. from Sunbury.

ABACCO, or Providence, one of the Bahama islands. See Providence.

ABBEVILLE Co. in Ninety-Six district, S. Carolina, is 35 miles in length and 21 in breadth, and contains 9197 inhabitants, including 1665 slaves.

ABERCORN, a small town on Savannah river, in Georgia, about 5 miles from Ebenezer, and 13 N. W. of Savannah.

ABINEAU Port, on the N. side of Lake Erie, is about 13 miles W. S. W. from Fort Erie.

ABINGDON, a town at the head of the tide waters of Bush river, Harford co. Maryland; 12 miles S. W. from Havre-de-Grace, and 20 N. E. from Baltimore.—Cokebury College, instituted by the Methodists in 1785, is in this town. It was burnt several years since, and has not been rebuilt.

ABINGDON, the chief town of Washington co. Virginia, contained but about 20 houses in 1788, but in 1796, upwards of 150. It is about 145 miles from Campbell's station, near Holston; 260 from Richmond in Virginia, in a direct line, and 310 as the road runs, bearing a little to the S. of W. Lat. 36 30 N.

ABINGTON, a township in Plymouth co. Massachusetts; 22 miles southeasterly from Boston, and contains 1453 inhabitants.

ABINGTON, a parish in the town of Pomfret, in Connecticut.

ABINGTON, a pleasant village in Pennsylvania, 12 miles N. of Philadelphia.

ABITIBI, a small lake in Upper Canada.

ABRAM's Creek, falls into Hudson's river, near the city of Hudson.

ABROJOS, or Bancos de Babuca, a bank, with several small rocks and isles, E. of Turk's island, in N. lat. 21 5, W. long. 69 40.

ACADIA, the name by which Nova-Scotia was called, when it belonged to the French.

ACAPALA, or Acapula, a town in the province of Chiapa, New Spain, on Tobacco river, near the city of Chiapa.

ACAPULCO, a city in N. Spain, on a bay of the Pacific Ocean, 220 miles S. E. of Mexico; the chief port in this sea, and the principal mart on the whole coast. Its harbour is so spacious that several hundred ships may ride in it without inconvenience. The town, surrounded by very high mountains, is so unhealthy, so destitute of good water, and so disagreeable, that except when the Manilla galeon is there, and while the consequent fair continues, it is almost deserted by the inhabitants. The cargo of the galeon, consisting of spices, all sorts of Chinese silks and manufactures, silk stockings, Indian stuffs, calicoes, chintz, together with other small articles, as goldsmiths work, &c., is delivered with all expedition; when the town of Acapulco, from almost solitude, is thronged with merchants from all parts of Mexico and Peru. The cargo being landed, the silver and the goods intended for Manilla are taken on board, and the ship prepares to put to sea with the utmost expedition. The galeon takes in here, in return for the goods which she brings, at least ten millions of dollars, a part of which pays the Spanish garrisons in the Philippine islands. From the end of November to the end of May, they have no rain here, and it is so hot in January, when the fair generally begins, that merchants are obliged to do their business chiefly in the morning. When the fair is over, almost every body leaves the place but a few blacks and mulattoes. The town is governed by a chief justice, who has 20,000 pieces of eight per annum; and the curate, though allowed but 180 pieces of eight, makes his place worth 14,000 by the burial fees of strangers who die here, or on board the ships in the harbor. There is an hospital maintained here, by deductions from the pay of the soldiers, and the alms of the merchants. Lat. 17 22 N. long. 102 20 W.

ACASATRUJA, a sea-port, situated on a point of land, in the province of Guatemala Proper, in Mexico, on a bay of the South Sea, about four leagues from Trinidad. It receives the greatest part of the treasures from Peru and Mexico. In its neighbourhood are three volcanoes.

ACOMA a town in N. Mexico, N. America, situated on a high mountain, with a strong castle, and is the capital of a province. N. lat. 35, W. long. 104 15.

ACCOMACK Co. in Virginia, is situated on a peninsula, bounded N. by Maryland, E. by the ocean, and on the W. by Chesapeake bay, and contains 13,959 inhabitants, including 4262 slaves.

ACQUACKNACK, or Aequakinnak, a town on the W. side of Passaic river, in Essex co. N. Jersey, 10 miles N. of Newark, and 17 N. W. from N. York.

ACRON, a township in Middlesex co. Massachusetts, containing 853 inhabitants; 24 miles N. W. of Boston.

ACWORTH, a township in Cheshire co. N. Hampshire, incorporated in 1766, and contains 704 inhabitants; 8 miles E. by N. from Charlestown, and 73 N. W. by W. from Portsmouth.

ADAMS, a township in Berkshire co. Massachusetts, containing 2040 inhabitants, is about 240 miles N. W. of Boston.

ADAMSTOWN, a town in Lancaster co. Pennsylvania, containing about 40 houses; 20 miles N. E. of Lancaster.

ADDISON Co. in Vermont, is on the east side of Lake Champlain, and is divided nearly into equal parts by Otter Creek, and contains 6449 inhabitants, dispersed in 21 townships. It is about 30 miles by 27: a range of the green mountains passes ADDISON, a town of the above co. containing 401 inhabitants. It lies on Lake Champlain, and is separated from N. Haven, on the E. by Otter Creek. Snake Mountains on the S.E. lie partly in this township.

ADDISON, a township in Maine, Washington co. 10 miles S. W. of Machias, on the sea-board, between Englishman's bay and pleasant river; incorporated in 1797.

ADOPATANGIE Creek, in N. York State, is the eastern head water of Susquehannah river.

ADSON'S Town, lies near the N. E. line of N. Jersey, and S. E. of the Drowned Lands; 27 miles N. of Morristown, and 24 N. W. of Patterton.

AGUERA, one of the islands of Juan Fernandes, on the South Sea coast, in the kingdom of Chili. This coast swarms with sea lions and wolves.

AGAMENTICUS, a mountain of considerable elevation in Maine, distant about six miles from Bald Head, and eight from York harbor. Lat. 43 16 N. and 70 39 W. long. from Greenwich. It is a noted landmark for seamen, and is a good directory for the entry of Passataqua harbour, as it lies very nearly in the same meridian with it, and with Pigeon Hill, on Cape Ann.

AGAMENTICUS, a river in York co. Maine. It is indebted to the ocean for its waters, having no considerable aid from streams of fresh water.

ALABAMA, a considerable river of Georgia, which pursues a southerly course to the Gulf of Mexico, 100 miles W. of the head of St. Mary's river. Its banks are low, and a trifling rain swells it to more than a mile in width. In a freshet the current is rapid, and those who pass are in danger of being entangled in vines and briars, and drowned; they are also in real danger from great numbers of hungry alligators. The country for nearly 100 miles on each side of this river, that is to say, from the head of St. Mary's to Flint river, which is 90 miles west of the Alabama, is a continued soft, miry, pine barren, affording neither water nor food for men or beasts; and is so poor indeed as that the common game of the woods are not found here. The country on the west of Alabama is rather preferable to that on the east.

ALABAMA, an Indian village, delightfully situated on the banks of the Mississippi, on several swelling green hills, gradually ascending from the verge of the river. These Indians are the remains of the ancient Alabama nation, who inhabited the east arm of the Great Mobile river, which still bears their name, now possessed by the Creeks, or Muscogulges, who conquered the former.

ALABAMA River, is formed by the junction of the Coosa and Tallapoossee rivers, at Little Tallassee, and runs in a S. W. direction, until it meets Tombigbee river from the N. W. at the great island which it there forms, 90 miles from the mouth of Mobile bay, in the gulf of Mexico. This beautiful river has a gentle current, pure waters, and excellent fish. It runs about 2 miles an hour, is 70 or 80 rods wide at its head, and from 15 to 18 feet deep, in the driest season. The banks are about 50 feet high, and seldom, if ever, overflowed. Travellers have gone down in large boats, in the month of May, in 9 days from Little Talhatchee to Mobile bay, which is about 350 miles by water. Its banks abound with valuable productions in the vegetable and mineral kingdoms.

ALABAMOUS, an old French fort, in the western part of Georgia; situated between Coosa and Tallapoossee rivers, and not far from their confluence.

ALABASTER, or Eleuthera, one of the Bahama or Lucayo islands, on which is a small fort and garrison. The climate is very healthy. N. lat. 25 to 26, W. long. 75 to 76 5.

ALACHUA Savannah, is a level green plain, in the country of the Indians of that name, in E. Florida, situated about 75 miles west from St. Augustine. It is above 15 miles over, and 50 in circumference; and scarcely a tree or bush of any kind to be seen on it. It is encircled with high sloping hills, covered with waving forests, and fragrant orange groves, rising from an exuberantly fertile soil. the ancient Alachua town stood on the borders of this Savannah; but the Indians removed to Cuscowilla, 2 miles distant, on account of the unhealthiness of the former site.

ALASKA, a long peninsula on the N. W. coast of America.

ALATAMAH, a navigable river of Georgia. It rises in the Cherokee mountains, near the head of a western branch of Savannah river, called Tugulo. In its descent through the mountains it receives several auxiliary streams; thence it winds, with considerable rapidity, through the hilly country 250 miles, from whence it throws itself into the open, flat country, by the name of Oakmulgee. Thence, after meandering for 150 miles, it is joined by the Oconee, which likewise has its source in the mountains. After this junction, it assumes the name of Alatamaha, when it becomes a large majestic river; and flowing with a gentle current through forests and plains 100 miles, discharges itself into the Atlantic by several mouths. At its confluence with the Atlantic, it is 500 yards wide.

ALBAN's, St. a township in Franklin co. Vermont, on Lake Champlain, opposite N. Hero island, 256 inhabitants.

ALBANY Co. on Hudson's river, in the State of N. York, lies between Ulster and Saratoga; its extent 46 miles by 28. By the State census, Jan. 20, 1796, the number of electors in this county were 6087, and the number of towns 11.

ALBANY, the chief town of the above co. is situated on the west bank of Hudson's river, 160 miles N. of the city of N. York, to which it is next in rank, and 340 S. of Quebec. N. lat. 42 39, W. long. 73 30. This city and suburbs, by enumeration in 1797, contained 1263 buildings, of which 863 were dwelling-houses, and 6021 inhabitants. Many of them are in the Gothic style, with the gable end to the street, which custom the first settlers brought from Holland; the new houses are built in modern style. Its inhabitants are collected from various parts of the world, and speak a great variety of languages, but the English predominates; and the use of every other is gradually lessening. noblest rivers in the world. It enjoys a salubrious air, and is the natural emporium of the increasing trade of a large extent of country W. and N.—a country of an excellent soil, abounding in every article for the W. India market; plentifully watered with navigable lakes, creeks and rivers, settling with almost unexampled rapidity, and capable of affording subsistence to millions of inhabitants; and when the contemplated locks and canals are completed, and convenient roads opened into every part of the country, all which will, it is expected, be accomplished in the course of a few years, Albany will probably increase and flourish beyond almost any other city or town in the United States. The public buildings are a Low Dutch church, of ancient and very curious construction, 1 for Episcopalians, two for Presbyterians, one for Germans, or High Dutch, and one for Methodists; an hospital, city hall, and a handsome brick jail. The corporation consists of a mayor, recorder, six aldermen, and as many assistants.

In the year 1609, Henry Hudson, whose name the river bears, accended, it in his boat to Aurania, the spot on which Albany now stands. The improvements in this city, within 5 or 6 years past, have been very great in almost all respects. Wharves have been built on the river, the streets have been paved, a bank instituted, a new and handsome style of building introduced, and now excellent water (an article in which this city has hitherto been extremely deficient, having been obliged to use the dirty water of the river) is about to be conducted into the various parts of the city, from a fine spring 5 miles W. of the city. For these improvements the inhabitants are indebted to the patriotic exertions of a very few gentlemen.

B 2

One mile north of this city, in its suburbs, near the manor house of lieutenant governor Van Rensselaer, are very ingeniously constructed, extensive and useful works, for the manufacture of Scotch and rappee snuff, roll and cut tobacco of different kinds, chocolate, mustard, starch, hair-powder, split peas, and hulled barley. These valuable works are the property of Mr. James Caldwell, who unfortunately lost a complete set of similar works, by fire, in July, 1794, with the stock, valued at 37,500 dollars. It is a circumstance worthy of remark, and is evincive of the industry and enterprize of the proprietor, that the whole of the present buildings and machinery were begun and completed in the short space of eleven months. These works are decidedly superior to any of the kind in America. All the articles above enumerated, even to the spinning of tobacco, are manufactured by the aid of water machinery. For the invention of this machinery the proprietor has obtained a patent. These works give employment and subsistence to 40 poor boys, and a number of workmen. Men who make such efforts to advance American manufactures, deserve well of their country.

ALBANY, a British fortress in New S. Wales, in N. America, situated on the river of the same name. N. lat. 52 14 40, W. long.
81 59 58.

ALBANY River, falls into James's bay, from the N. E. in N.
lat. 51 30, W. long. 84 30.

ALBEMARLE Co. in Virginia, lies between the Blue ridge and the tide waters, and contains 12,585 inhabitants, including 5579 slaves. Its extent about 35 miles square.

ALBEMARLE Sound, on the coast of N. Carolina, is a kind of inland sea, 60 miles in length, and from 8 to 12 in breadth. It lies north of Pamlico Sound, and communicates with it; as it likewise does with Currituck Inlet. It receives Roanoake and Meherrin rivers; and the passage into it from the sea is called Roanoake Inlet.

ALBION, Novo, the name given by Sir Francis Drake to California, and part of the N. W. coast of America, when he took possession of it. A large tract of the N. W. coast is thus called. Capt. Cook landed on a part of this coast on the 7th of March, 1778, in N. lat. 74 33, E. long. 235 10, which he thus describes: "The land is full of mountains, the tops of which are covered with snow, while the vallies between them, and the grounds on the sea-coast, high as well as low, are covered with trees, which form a beautiful prospect, as of one vast forest." At first the natives seemed to prefer iron to every other article of commerce; at last they preferred brass. They were more tenacious of their property than any of the savage nations that had hitherto been met with; so that they would not part with wood, water, grass, nor the most trifling article without a compensation, and were sometimes very unreasonable in their demands."

ALEXANDRIA, a township in Grafton co. N. Hampshire, containing 298 inhabitants.

ALEXANDRIA, a township in Hunterdon co. N. Jersey, containing 1303 inhabitants.

ALEXANDRIA, a small town in Huntingdon co. Pennsylvania, on the Frankstown branch of Juniatta river; 192 miles N. W. of Philadelphia.

ALEXANDRIA, formerly called Belhaven, a city in Virginia, situated on the southern bank of the Patowmac river, in Fairfax co. about 5 miles S. W. from the Federal City, 60 S. W. from Baltimore, 60 N. from Frederickburgh, 168 N. of Williamsburgh, and 290 from the sea; 38 45 N. lat. and 77 10 W. long. Its situation is elevated and pleasant. The soil is clayey. The original settlers, anticipating its future growth and importance, laid out the streets on the plan of Philadelphia. It contains about 400 houses, many of which are handsomely built, and 2748 inhabitants. This city, upon opening the navigation of Patowmac river, and in consequence of its vicinity to the future seat of the federal government, bids fair to be one of the most thriving commercial places on the continent.

ALFORD, a township in Berkshire co. Massachusetts, containing 577 inhabitants; 145 miles westward from Boston.

ALFORDSTOWN, a small town in Moor co. N. Carolina.

ALGONQUINS, an Indian nation in Upper Canada, on the N. side of Lake Huron.

ALLBURG, a township in Franklin co. Vermont, containing 446 inhabitants; situated on Missisquoi Bay.

ALL-SAINTS, a parish in Georgetown district, S. Carolina, containing 2225 inhabitants, of whom 1795 are slaves.

ALL-SAINTS Bay, a captainship in the middle division of Brazil. It is reckoned one of the richest and most fertile captainships in all Brazil, producing great quantities of cotton and sugar. The bay itself is about $2\frac{1}{2}$ leagues over, interspersed with a number of small, but pleasant islands, and is of prodigious advantage to the whole country. It has several cities and towns, particularly St. Salvador, which is its capital. All-Saints Bay lies in lat. $12^{\circ} 3'$ S. long. $40^{\circ} 10'$ W. See Salvador.

ALMSBURY. See Amesbury.

ALSTREAD, a township in Cheshire co. N. Hampshire, containing 1111 inhabitants; 8 miles S. from Charlestown.

ALVARADO, a river in N. Spain, which rises in the mountains of the Zapotecas, and empties into the gulf of Mexico, 30 miles from Vera Cruz.

AMANIBO, a town on the coast of Guiana, between Paramaribo and Cayenne.

AMAPALLA, a sea-port town in the province of Guatimala, in N. America, on a gulf of the same name, 220 miles S. E. of the town of Guatimala. N. lat. $12^{\circ} 30'$, W. long. $86^{\circ} 40'$.

AMARISCOCGIN River. See Androscoggin.

AMATQUES, a sea-port town at the mouth of Guanacos river, which empties into the Gulf of Honduras, in the province of Vera Paz, Mexico. The inhabitants are chiefly logwood-cutters, and on the S. of the gulf is a tract of land called Amatique land. Lat. $15^{\circ} 23'$, long. 89° .

AMAZONIA, a large country and river in S. America. The country is 1400 miles in length, and 900 in breadth; situated between the equator and 20° S. lat. and bounded N. by Terra Firma and Guiana; E. by Brazil; S. by Paraguay, and W. by Peru; but has never yet been thoroughly explored. The river Amazon, called also Maragnon, the largest in the known world, gives name to this country. A great number of rivers which rush down with amazing impetuosity from the eastern declivity of the Andes, unite in a spacious plain, and form this immense river. In its progress, it runs 3,300 miles from W. to E. across S. America. The Amazon is interspersed with a great number of islands, which are too often overflowed to admit of culture. It falls into the Atlantic ocean under the equator, and is there 150 miles broad. It received its present name from Francis d'Orillana who said he saw armed women on its banks. He was deputed, in 1516, to penetrate into the courses of this river, which he did with an armed ship, and fought several nations of Indians, till he came to that place where he saw the armed women, who, with bows and arrows, opposed his passage. The air is cooler in this country than could be expected, considering it is situated in the middle of the torrid zone. The soil is extremely fertile, producing a great variety of the tropical fruits; likewise a variety of timber, as cedar, red-wood, pak, ebony, logwood, and many other sorts of dyeing wood; together with tobacco, sugar-canes, cotton, potatoes, balsam, honey, &c. The woods abound with tigers, wild

Here are also sea-cows, and turtles; but the alligators and water serpents, render fishing a dangerous employment. The natives of this country are of a good stature, have handsome features, long black hair, and are of a copper colour. They are said to have a taste for the imitative arts, especially painting and sculpture, and turn out good mechanica. They spin and weave cotton cloth. Their houses are built with wood and clay, and thatched with reeds. Their arms, in general, are darts and javelins, bows and arrows, with targets of cane or fish skins. The several nations are governed by chiefs or caciques; it being observable that the monarchical form of government has prevailed almost universally, both among ancient and modern nations, in a rude state of society. The regalia which distinguish the chiefs, are a crown of parrot's feathers, a chain of tiger's teeth or claws, which hang round the waist, and a wooden sword.

AMBOY, or Perth Amboy, a city of N. Jersey, pleasantly situated in Middlesex co. at the head of Rariton Bay, and stands on a neck of land included between Rariton river and Arthur Kull Sound. Its site is high and healthy. It lies open to Sandy-Hook, and has one of the best harbours on the continent. Vessels from sea may enter it in one tide, in almost any weather. It is a port of entry and post-town; but although it is admirably situated for trade, and the legislature has given every encouragement to induce merchants to settle here, it is far from being in a flourishing state. It contains about 60 houses, and carries on a small trade to the W. Indies. Its exports for a year, ending 30th Sept. 1794, were to the value of 58,159 dolls. It is 35 miles S. W. of N. York, and 74 N. E. of Philadelphia. N. lat. 40 35, W. long. 74 50.

AMEROS, St. an island in the S. Pacific ocean, on the coast of Chili, 4 or 5 leagues due W. from St. Felix island. At first view, it appears like two small islands, but after a nearer approach, it is found they are joined by a reef. It lies in 26 13 S. lat. and 80 55 W. long. from Greenwich. On this island Capt. Roberts and his men, in 1792, killed and cured 13,000 seal skins of the best quality, in seven weeks. The island has little else to recommend it. The best season for sealing is from the 1st of April to the 1st of August. The island has the appearance of having had volcanic eruptions.

AMELIA, a co. in Virginia, situated between the Blue-ridge and the tide waters. Including Not-taway, a new co. It contains 18,097 inhabitants.

AMELIA Isle, on the coast of E. Florida, lies about 7 leagues N. of St. Augustine, and very near Talbot island on the S. at the mouth of St. John's river. It is 13 miles long and 2 broad, is very fertile, and has an excellent harbour.

AMOENIA, a thriving township in Dutchess co. N. York, 6 miles W. of Sharon, in Connecticut. It contains 3078 inhabitants.

AMERICA, is one of the four quarters of the world, probably the largest of the whole, and is, from its late discovery, frequen-ly denominated the New World or New Hemisphere. This vast country extends from the 36th degree of S. lat. to the N. pole, and from the 35th to the 165th degree of W. long. from Greenwich. It is nearly 10,000 miles in length. Its average breadth may be about 2800 or 3000 miles. It enjoys almost all the variety of climates which the earth affords. It is washed by two great oceans. To the eastward it has the Atlantic, which divides it from Europe and Africa. To the W. it has the Pacific, or Great South Sea, by which it is separated from Asia. By these it carries on a direct commerce with the other three parts of the world. America is divided into two great continents, called North and South America, by an isthmus about 500 miles long; and which, at Darien, about lat. 9 N. is only 60 miles over; other writers say 34 miles. This isthmus, with the northern and southern continents, forms the Gulf of Mexico, in and near which lie a great number of islands, called the West-Indies, in contradistinction to the eastern parts of Asia, which are called the East-Indies. In America nature seems to have carried on her operations upon a larger scale, and with a bolder hand, and to have distinguished the features of this country by a peculiar magnificence. The mountains of America are much superior in height to those in the other divisions of the globe. Chimborazo, the most elevated point of the Andes, is 20,280 feet high, which is at least 7,102 feet above the peak of Teneriffe. From the lofty and extensive mountains of America, descend rivers, with which the streams of Europe, of Asia, or of Africa, are not to be compared, either for length of course, or for the vast body of water which they convey to the ocean. The Danube, the Indus, the Ganges, or the Nile, in the eastern hemisphere, are not of equal magnitude even with the St. Lawrence, the Missouri, or the Mississippi, in N. America; and fall far short of the Amazon, and the La Plata, in S. America. The lakes of the New World are no less conspicuous for grandeur than its mountains and rivers. There is nothing in other parts of the globe which resembles the prodigious chain of lakes in N. America, viz. Superior, Michigan, Huron, Erie, and Ontario. They may be properly termed inland seas of fresh water. And even those of the second or third class, are of greater circuit (the Caspian sea excepted) than the greatest lake of the ancient continent. North America contains the four British provinces, viz. 1. Upper Canada; 2. Lower Canada, to which are annexed New-Britain, and the island of Cape Breton; 3. New-Brunswick; 4. Nova-Scotia, to which is annexed St. John's Island. Besides these are the island of Newfoundland, and the sixteen UNITED STATES. It contains also the Spanish territories of East and West Florida, Louisiana, New Mexico, California, and Mexico. Beside these, there are immense unexplored regions to the W. and N. W. South America contains the Spanish provinces of Terre Firme, Guiana, Peru, Paraguay and Chili; together with that of Brazil, belonging to the Portuguese, and the country of Surinam, belonging to the Dutch. merica, so far as known, is chiefly claimed and divided into colonies, by three European nations, the Spaniards, British, and Portuguese. The number of inhabitants on the American continent may be reckoned in round numbers at about 50 millions. The present Americans may be divided into two general classes. First, the proper Americans, commonly called Indians, sometimes Aborigines, or those who are descended from the first inhabitants of the new world, and who have not mixed their blood with the inhabitants of the old continent.

Secondly, those who have migrated, or have been transported to America, since its discovery by Columbus, and their descendants.
The former may be subdivided into three classes. First, the S. American Indians, who probably came over from the northern and western parts of Africa, and the southern parts of Asia and Europe. Secondly, the Mexicans, and all the Indians S. of the lakes and W. of the Mississippi. Thirdly, the inhabitants of Esquimaux, Labrador, and the countries around them. The latter may also be distinguished into three classes. First, Europeans of many different nations, who have migrated to America, and their descendants, of unmixed blood. In this class we include the Span- iards, English, Scotch, Irish, French, Portuguese, Germans, Dutch, Swedes, &c. both in N. and S. America. Secondly, Af- ricans, who have been transported to America and its islands, and their descendants. Thirdly, the mixed breeds called by the Span- iards, Casta, by the English, Mu- lattoes, that is, those who are descended from an European and an American, or from an European and African, or from an African and American.

AMESBURY, is a flourishing town in Essex co. Massachusetts, on the N. W. bank of Merrimack river about 4 miles N. W. of Newbury-Port, containing 1801 inhabitants. Powaws river divides the township from Salisbu- ry, over which a handsome bridge has lately been erected.
A number of mills lie on this river round the lower falls. See Powaws River.

AMEWELL, is the most populous town in Hunterdon co. N.
Jersey. It stands on the N. E. side of Delaware river, about half way between Trenton and Eas- ton, and contains 5201 inhabitants.

AMHERST, a township in Cum- berland co. Nova-Scotia, situated on Chignecto Bacon, on the S. side of La Planch river, and on the rivers Napan and Macon. The navigation of the two last is difficult on account of shoals. The town was settled by North Irish, Yorkshire, and New-England people.

AMHERST, the shire town of Hillborough co. N. Hampshire, is a town of some note, formerly Soubegan Wes, and was originally granted from Massachusetts. It has 2369 inhabitants, and was incorporated in 1762. The Au- rean Academy was founded here in 1790. A few years ago, the township being much infested with wolves, the people, on a day appointed, surrounded a large swamp which they frequented, and kept up an incessant firing of guns and beating of drums the whole day; which music forced the wolves to decamp the following night, with dismal howlings; and they have never done any mischief in the town since. Amherst lies on a northern branch of Souhegan river, which falls into Merrimack river, and is 36 miles W. of Portsmouth, and 53 N. W. of Boston. N. lat. 42 54, W. long. 71 33.

AMHERST, a township in Hampshire co. Massachusetts, containing 1233 inhabitants; 91 miles westerly from Boston, and about 8 N. easterly from Northampton.

AMHERST Co. in Virginia, lies between the Blue Ridge and the tide waters, and contains 13,703 inhabitants, including 5296 slaves. It lies on the N. of James river.

AMONOOSUCK, an Indian name given to two rivers in N. Hampshire: the one is called Upper Amonosuck, passing through a tract of excellent meadow. It rises near the N. end of the White Hills, runs northerly about 15 miles, where is a carrying place of about 3 miles to Amaricoggin river. From thence the river runs S. W. and W. nearly 18 miles, and empties into the Connecticut at Northumberland, near the Upper Coos. The other is called Great or Lower Amonosuck, which rises on the W. side of the White Mountains. It falls into the Connecticut just above the town of Haverhill, in Lower Coos, by a mouth 100 yards wide. About two miles from its mouth it receives Wild Amonosuck, 40 yards wide, from Franconia and Lincoln mountains. Two or three hours rain raises the water in this last mentioned river several feet, and occasions a current so furious as to put in motion stones of a foot in diameter, but its violence soon subsides.

AMOTAPE, a town lying near the shore of the S. Sea, in the empire of Peru, on a river of fine water. The adjacent country is highly improved. Lat. 4 15 43 S.

AMPALLA, by some authors called Ampalia, a city and sea-port in Guatimala gulf, in that of Mexico, 350 miles S. E. of the city of Guatimala, and carries on a brisk trade in cochineal, cocoa, hides, indigo, &c.

AMPARES, a jurisdiction under the archbishop of Plata, eastward of that city, in the empire of Peru. It abounds in grain and cattle.

AMSTERDAM, New, was the name originally given by the Dutch to the city of N. York. Also, an island in the S. Sea, S. S. W. of the Friendly Islands, and not far distant from them.

AMSTERDAM, a new township in Montgomery co. N. York. It contains 235 inhabitants, who are electors.

AMUSKEAG Falls, in N. Hampshire, are on Merrimack river, 16 miles below Concord, and 7 below Hookset Falls. It consists of three pitches, one below the other, so that the water falls about 80 feet in the course of half a mile. The second pitch, which maybe seen from the road, on the W. side, is truly majestic. In the middle of the upper part of the fall is a high rocky island, on the top of which are a number of pits, made exactly round, like barrels or hogheads, some of which are capable of holding several tons: formed by the circular

ANDES. The principal mountains on this western continent are the Cordillera de los Andes, or Great Chain of Andes, in S. America. They stretch along the Pacific Ocean from the straits of Magellan to the isthmus of Dari-en or Panama, upwards of 4000 miles; thence they run through the extensive kingdom of N. Spain, till they lose themselves in the unexplored countries of the north.
In N. Spain, the most considerable part of this chain is called Sierra Madre, particularly in Cinaloa and Tarahumery, provinces 1200 miles distant from the capital.
Further N. they have been called, from their bright appearance, the Shining Mountains. The height of Chimborazo, the most elevated point of this vast chain, is 20,380 feet above the level of the sea; which is 7103 feet higher than any other mountain in the known world. The Andes commonly form 2 ridges as they run, the one higher and barren, and covered with snow, although in the torrid zone; the other fruitful in woods, groves, &c. The latter abounds with wild hogs; and sheep called guanacos, resembling a camel in shape, but of a smaller size, whose hair for softness, fineness, and colour, is preferred to silk. The Andes have 16 volcanoes, which break out in various places, and by melting the snow, occasion such torrents of water, that numbers of men and cattle have perished. They are only passable in summer, and require 3 or 4 days to reach the top of any one of the highest.

ANDOVER, a large, fertile and thriving town in Essex co. Massachusetts. It contains 2863 inhabitants, in two parishes. In the S. parish are a paper mill and powder mill, from the latter of which the army received large supplies of gun-powder in the late war.
There is an excellent academy in this town, called "Phillips Academy," which owes its existence to the liberal benefactions of the family whose name it bears. Andover is under excellent cultivation, particularly that part which is watered by Shawheen river.
It lies about 20 miles W. from Newbury-Port, and about 22 N.
from Boston.

ANDOVER, in Hillsborough co.
N. Hampshire, contains 645 inhabitants.

ANDOVER is the S. westernmost township in Windsor co. Vermont, 35 miles N. E. of Bennington, and contains 275 inhabitants.

ANDOVER, in Suffolk co. N. Jersey, 5 miles S. E. from New-Town, and 16 in the same direction from Walpack.

ANDREW'S, St. a small town in the contested country between New Brunswick and the United States; situated in the rear of an island of the same name, on the E. side of the arm of the inner bay of Passamaquoddy, called Scodick. The town is regularly laid out in the form of an oblong square. The few inhabitants are chiefly employed in the lumber trade. The common tides rise here about 18 feet.

ANDREW'S, St. a parish in Charleston district, S. Carolina, containing 2947 inhabitants.

ANDREW'S Sound, St. lies S. of Jekyll's island, on the coast of Georgia.

ANDROS, islands on the S. W. of Providence, in the Bahama Islands, called by the Spaniards, Ylles del Espiritu Santo. They take up a space of 30 leagues long and 4 or 5 broad, intersected by a number of very narrow passages.

ANDROSCOGGIN, or Amarisoggin River, in Maine, may be called the principal western branch of the Kennebeck. Its course, from its source in Lake Umbagog, is southerly till it approaches near to the White Mountains, from which it receives Moose and Peabody rivers. It then turns to the E. and then to the S. E. in which course it passes within 2 miles of the sea-coast, and then turning N. runs over Pejepscuag falls into Merry-Meeting-Bay, where it forms a junction with the Kennebeck, 20 miles from the sea. Formerly, from this bay to the sea, the confluent stream was called Sagadahock. The lands on this river are very good.

ANQARA, a province in S. America, in the empire of Peru, subject to the archbishop of Lima, 20 leagues N. W. by W. of the city of Guamanga. It abounds in all kinds of grain and fruits, besides vast droves of cattle for labour and sustenance.

ANZOLES, or Tlaxala, a province of Mexico, extending both to the N. and S. Seas, having the gulf of Mexico on the E. the province of Guaxaca on the S. E. the Pacific ocean on the S. the province of Mexico Proper on the W. and that of Penuco on the N. From one sea to the other it is 100 leagues, about 80 along the gulf of Mexico, and 20 upon the S. Sea coast. Its soil, climate, and produce, are much the same with Mexico Proper. On the W. side is a chain of mountains of 18 leagues, well cultivated; and another great ridge of mountains on the N. W. the neighbourhood of which subjects it to shocking tempests, horrid hurricanes, and frequent inundations; yet this is allowed to be the most populous country of N. Spain, which is partly ascribed to its having been an ally to Cortez, in the conquest of Mexico, who obtained a grant of the emperor Charles V. then also king of Spain, by which it is to this day exempt from all service or duty whatsoever to that crown; and only pays the king of Spain an handful of maize per head, as an acknowledgment, which inconsiderable parcels, almost 60 years ago, amounted to near 23,000 bushels; for it produces so much of that this means the towns and villages warm with Indians. They speak the Spanish tongue, and scarcely any other; are perfectly reconciled to the Spanish customs, and grateful for the countenance and reference shewed to them above their fellow provinces. It was ciently governed by kings, till vil wars arising in it, the people rmed themselves into an aris-cracy of many princes, to get rid of one. They divided the owns into different districts, each of which named one of their chiefs to reside in the court of Tlascala, where they formed a senate, whose resolutions were a law to the whole. Under this form of government, they maintained themselves against the rulers of Mexico; and continued their ristocracy till their reception of the Spaniards under Cortes, whom they assisted with their nu-the ruin of that empire in 1521.

from St. Christopher's. It is the most northerly of all the Caribbee islands possessed by the British.
It was settled in 1650. The inhabitants subsist mostly by farming, planting Indian corn, and other kinds of husbandry. The climate is very healthy, and the inhabitants strong and vigorous.

The exports in 1770 amounted, in sugar, rum, and cotton, to near

ANNAPOLIS River, in Nova-Scotia, passes into the bay of Fundy through the basin of its own name, on the S. side of which, at the mouth of the river, stand the town and fort of Annapolis Royal. It is navigable for ships of any burden 10 miles, for those of 100 tons 25 miles; and is passable for boats within 20 miles of Horton. The tide flows up 30 miles.

ANNAPOLIS, a co. on the above river, having 5 townships, viz.
Wilmot, Granville, Annapolis, and the chief towns, Clare and Monckton. It is chiefly inhabited by Acadians, Irish, and emigrants from New-England.

ANNAPOLIS Royal, called Port Royal, by the French, is the chief town in the county of this name, and stands on the S. side of the river and bay of Annapolis.
Nature has scarcely omitted one thing to render this the finest harbour in the world. It is two leagues in length, and one in breadth, having a small island, called Goat Island, almost in the middle of the basin, which is said to be large enough to contain several hundred ships. Its depth of water is no where less than 4 or 5 fathoms; it being 6 or 7 on one side of the island, and on the other 16 or 18. The bottom is every where very good, and ships may be secure in it from all winds. The town is not large, but has some very handsome buildings. It is fortified; nor can it be easily attacked, but by a bombardment. The fort is capable of containing about 100 men in its present state. N. lat. 45 10, W. long. 64 5.

ANNAPOLIS, is the chief town of Ann Arundel co. and the capital of the State of Maryland. It stands at the mouth of Severn river, 30 miles S. of Baltimore; 32 E. by N. from the Federal city; 72 S. W. from Wilmington, in Delaware State, and 132 S. W. from Philadelphia. It was formerly called Severn, and in 1694 it was made a port town. It is situated on a peninsula formed by the river and two small creeks; and affords a beautiful prospect of Chesapeake Bay and the E. shore beyond it. This city is of little note in the commercial world; but is the wealthiest town of its size in the United States. The houses, about 300 in number, are spacious and elegant, indicative of great wealth. The state-house is the noblest building of the kind in the union. It stands in the centre of the city, from which point the streets diverge in every direction, like radii. N. lat. 38 56 15, long. 75 8 W.

ANN ARUNDEL Co. in Maryland, lies between Patuxet and Patuxet rivers, and has Chesapeake Bay S. E. Annapolis is the chief town. This county contains 22,598 inhabitants.

ANN, CAPE, is the point of land in the town of that name, or Gloucester, which forms the N. side of Massachusetts Bay, as Cape Cod does the S. side.

ANN, FORT, in the State of New-York, lies at the head of batteaux navigation, on Wood Creek, which falls into South Bay, Lake Champlain, near Skenesborough. It lies 6½ miles S. W. by S. from Skenesborough Fort; 10 E. S. E. from Fort George, and 12 N. E. by N. from Fort Edward, on Hudson river. Such was the savage state of this part of the country, and the layers of trees laid lengthwise and across, and so broken with creeks and marshes, that General Burgoyne's army, in July, 1777, could scarcely advance above a mile in a day, on the road to Fort Edward. They had no fewer than 40 bridges to construct, one of which was of log-work 2 miles in length; circumstances, which in after ages will appear hardly credible.

ANN's, St. is a small town on the river St. John's, province of N. Brunswick, about 80 miles from St. John's. It is at present the seat of government.

ANSON, an interior county of N. Carolina, in Fayette district, containing 5133 inhabitants.

ANTHONY'S Falls, St. in the river Mississippi, are in about lat. 44 50 N. and were so named by father Louis Hennipin, who travelled into these parts about the year 1680, and was the first European ever seen by the natives there. The whole river, 250 yards wide, falls perpendicularly above 30 feet, and forms a most pleasing cataract. The rapids below, in the space of 300 yards, render the descent considerably greater. These falls are peculiarly situated, as they are approachable without the least obstruction from any intervening hill or precipice; which cannot be said, perhaps, of any other considerable fall in the world. ANTHONY'S Nose, a point of land in the Highlands, on Hudson river, in the State of N. York, from which to Fort Montgomery, on the opposite side, a large boom and chain was extended in the late war, which cost not less than 70,000 sterling. It was partly destroyed and partly carried away by General Sir Henry Clinton, in October, 1777.
Also, the name given to the point of a mountain on the N. bank of Mohawk river, about 30 miles above Schenectady. Around this point runs the stage road.

habited island, in the mouth of St. Lawrence river.

ANTIGUA, or Antego, one of the Caribbee Islands in the W. Indies, belonging to Great Britain, is situated 60 miles to the eastward of Nevis and St. Christopher's. It is almost circular; being about 13 miles long, and 10 broad, containing 59,838 acres of land, of which about 34,000 are appropriated to the growth of sugar, and pasturage annexed: Its other staples are cotton and tobacco. The soil is naturally rich, and when not checked by excessive droughts, to which Antigua is particularly subject, is very productive. It has not a single spring or rivulet of fresh water in it. The inhabitants make use of rain water, which, when preserved in cisterns, is light, pure and wholesome. From drought and other circumstances, it is difficult to furnish an average return of the crops, which vary to such a degree, that the quantity of sugar exported in some years, is five times greater than in others; thus, in 1779, were shipped 3382 hhds. and 579 tierces; in 1782, the crop was 15,382 hhds. and 1603 tierces; and in the years 1770, 1773, and 1778, there were no crops at all; the ones being destroyed by a long drought, and the whole body of negroes must have perished, for want of food, if American vessels had not supplied them with corn and flour.

On an average, 17,000 hhds. of sugar, of 16 cwt. each, are reckoned a good saving crop. Antigua exported in one year, ending the 5th of January, 1778, to the value of £592,596:15:8 sterling, in 233 vessels. The value exported to the United States, included in the above, was £11,031:15:4.
The island abounds in black cattle, hogs, fowls, and most of the animals in common with the other islands. The number of inhabitants, both white and black, seem to have decreased progressively. In 1774, the white inhabitants amounted to 2590, and the slaves to 37,808. The island is divided into 6 parishes and 11 districts. It has 6 towns and villages. St. John's, (the capital) Parham, Falmouth, Willoughby-Bay, Old-Bay, Old Road, and

James Fort; the two first of which are legal ports of entry. No island in this part of the W. Indies can boast of so many excellent harbours; of these the principal are English Harbour, and St. John's, both well fortified; and at the former are a royal navy yard, and arsenal, with conveniences for careening ships of war. The church of the United Brethren has been very successful in converting to Christianity many of the negro slaves of this and the other islands. The climate here is hotter than at Barbadoes, and like that island subject to hurricanes. In October, 1736, was the plot of Court, Tomboay and Hercules, three Indians who had conveyed gunpowder under the ball room, where the governor was to give a ball; but it was happily discovered, and they were all executed. Antigua lies between $17^{\circ} 7\frac{1}{2}'$ and $17^{\circ} 17' 45''$ N. lat. and between $61^{\circ} 22' 15''$ and $61^{\circ} 36' 12''$ W. long.

ANTILLES, a cluster of islands in the W. Indies, distinguished into Great and Small. They lie in from 18° to 24° degrees of N. lat. are distinguished into Windward and Leeward Islands, and lie in the form of a bow, stretching from the coast of Florida N. to that of Brazil S. The most remarkable of them are Cuba, Jamaica, Hispaniola or Domingo, and Porto Rico.

ANTONIO, St. the capital of the province of Apachiera, in N. Mexico.

ANTONIO, a town in the province of Navarre, in N. America, on a river which runs S. W. into the Gulph of California.

ANTONIO De Cabo, St. a town in Brazil, in S. America, near Cape St. Augustine, subject to the Portuguese, where they make a considerable quantity of sugar.

ANTERIM, a township in Hillsborough co. N. Hampshire, having 528 inhabitants, 75 miles W. of Portsmouth, and about the same distance N. W. of Boston.

ANVILLE, or Miller's-Town, in Dauphine co. Pennsylvania, at the head of Tulpehocken Creek. When the canal between the Susquehannah and Schuylkill, along these creeks, is completed, this town will probably rise to some consequence. It is 28 miles N. E. by E. from Harrisburg, and 65 N. W. from Philadelphia.

ANZERMA, is a town and province of Popayan, in S. America, having mines of gold. It is seated on the river Coca. N. lat. $4^{\circ} 58'$.

APACHIERA, an audience and province of N. Mexico, whose capital is St. Fe, in N. lat. $36^{\circ} 30'$, W. long. 104° .

APALACHES, or St. Mark's R. rises in the country of the Seminole Indians, in E. Florida, in N. lat. $31^{\circ} 30'$, near the N. W. source of Great Satilla river; runs S. W. through the Apalachy country, into the bay of Apalachy, in the Gulph of Mexico, about 15 miles below the town of St. Mark's.

APALACHICOLA, a river between E. and W. Florida, having its source in the Apalachian Mountains, in the Cherokee country, within ten miles of Tuguloo, the upper branch of Savannah river. From its source to the mouth of Flint river, a distance of 300 miles, it is called Chata-Uche, or Chatahooche river. Flint river falls into it from the N. E. below the Lower Creek Towns, in N. lat. 31° .

from thence it runs near 80 miles, and falls into the Bay of Apalachy, or Apalachicola in the Gulf of Mexico.

APALACHICOLA, is likewise the name of the mother town or capital of the Creek or Muscogulgee confederacy, called Apalachicola by Bertram. It is, says he, sacred to peace; no captives are put to death or human blood spilt here; and when a general peace is proposed, deputies from all the towns in the confederacy meet here to deliberate. On the other hand, the great Coweta Town, 12 miles higher up the Chata-Uche river, is called the Bloody Town, where the Micos chiefs and warriors assemble when a general war is proposed; and there captives and state malefactors are put to death. Apalachicola is situated a mile and an half above the ancient town of that name, which was situated on a peninsula formed by the doubling of the river, but deserted on account of inundations. The town is about 3 days journey from Tallassee, a town on the Tallapoosa river, a branch of the Mobile river.

APALACHIAN Mountains, a part of the range called sometimes by this name, but generally Alleghany Mountains.

APALACHY Country, extends across Flint and St. Mark's rivers, in East Florida, having the Seminole country on the N. E.

APPOQUENEMY Creek, falls into Delaware Bay from Middletown, in Newcastle county, Delaware, a mile and an half below Reedy Island. A canal is proposed to extend from the southern branch of this creek, at about 4 miles from Middletown, to the head of Bohemia river, nearly 8 miles distant; which will form a water communication between Delaware Bay and that of Chesapeake, through Elk-river.

APPLE Island, a small uninhabited island in St. Lawrence river, in Canada, on the S. side of the river, between Basque and Green Islands. It is surrounded by rocks, which renders the navigation dangerous.

APPLE Town. See Plymouth, N. York.

APPOMATOX River, a southern branch of James river, in Virginia. It may be navigated as far as Broadways, 8 or 10 miles from Bermuda Hundred, by any vessel which has crossed Harrison's Bar, in James river. It has 8 or 9 feet water a mile or two farther up to Fisher's Bar, and 4 feet on that and upwards to Petersburg, where all navigation ceases.

APOLO-BAMA, a jurisdiction consisting of missions belonging to the Franciscans, subject to the bishop of Cusco, 60 leagues from that city, in the empire of Peru. These consist of 7 towns of converted Indians.

AQUAFORT, a settlement on the E. side of the south-eastern extremity of Newfoundland Island.

ARARAT, Mount, or the Stone Head, a short range of mountains on the N. frontier of North-Carolina, in a N. E. direction from Ararat river, a N. W. branch of Yadkin river.

ARATHAPESCOW, an Indian tribe inhabiting the shores of the lake and river of that name, in the N. W. part of North-America, between the latitudes of 62 and 63 N. This Lake was discovered by Mr. Hearne in 1774. In Arrowmith's map, about 3 degrees south of this, a lake and river are laid down by the name of Athapescow Lake and River. The Lake is made to communicate N. with Slave Lake by Slave river; and S. with Buffalo Lake by Athapescow river.

AZAZISO, one of the principal places in Porto Rico Island, in the West-Indies. It has few inhabitants, and little trade but smuggling.

ARCHIPELAGO of the Great Cyclades, a cluster of islands in the Pacific Ocean, lying between 14 and 20 deg. S. lat. and between 164 and 168 deg. E. long. from Paris, discovered by Bougainville, 22d of May, 1768. This is the same cluster of islands discovered by Quiros in 1606; and by him called Tierra Austral del Espíritu Santo, which see.—Captain Cook passed these islands in 1774, and called them New Hebrides.

ARDOIS, a mountain in Nova-Scotia, between Windsor and Halifax; 13 miles N. W. from the latter. It is deemed the highest land in Nova-Scotia.

AREQUIPA, is one of the largest cities in Peru, South-America, and was founded by Don Francisco Pizarro, in 1539. It stands in the valley of Quilca, about 20 leagues from the sea, in a fertile country. Near it is a dreadful volcano. It lies 290 miles S. by E. from Lima.

ARGYLE, a township in Washington co. New-York, on the E. bank of Hudson river, containing 2341 inhabitants.

ARGYLE, a township in Shelburne county, Nova-Scotia.

ARICA, a jurisdiction in the Bishoprick of Arequipa, in Peru, extending along the coast of the S. Sea. It produces little else except Guinea pepper and olives. The produce of pepper amounts annually to no less than 60,000 dollars value.

ARICA, a town and port in the province of Los Charcos, in Peru; being the port-town to most of the mines in that country. It is a place of vast trade, and very populous; seldom without a great deal of shipping. No rain ever falls here; the houses are therefore without roofs. The valley of Arica is famous for little else than the culture of Guinea pepper, which the Spaniards planted, and of this they raise annually to the value of 80,000 crowns. It is 530 miles S. E. of Lima. S. lat. 18 27, W. long. 71 6.

ARICHA, a town in Cape Breton island.

ARKANSAS a N. W. branch of Mississippi river. Its mouth is in N. lat. 33 35.

ARLINGTON, a township in Bennington co. Vermont, 12 miles N. from Bennington. It has 991 inhabitants.

ARRACIFFE, a port-town of Brazil, in the captainship of Pernambuco; esteemed the strongest in all Brazil. The port consists of a suburb, in which are some large houses, and repositories for stores; and is built upon a narrow passage, with a castle to defend the entrance. Notwithstanding which, James Lancaster entered the harbour in 1595, with 7 English vessels, and made himself master of the town and castle, where he continued a month and carried off immense plunder; but since that time, the Portuguese have rendered it almost inaccessible to enemies. ARSACIDES, the Islands of the,
the name given by M. de Sur-ville, in 1769, to Solomon's Islands, in account of the barbarous character of their inhabitants, particularly at Port Praslin.
These islands were visited by Mr.
Portland in 1788, and by him called New-Georgia.

ARTHUR KULL, of Newark
Bay, on the coast of New-Jersey, is formed by the union of Passaic and Hackinsack rivers.

ARUBA, one of the Little An-tille Islands, in the W. Indies, is subject to the Dutch. It is uninhabited, lies 14 leagues W. of Curacao, and produces little else besides corn and wood.

ARUNDEL, a township in York co. Maine, containing 1458 inhabitants. It lies between Cape Porpoise, and Biddeford on the N. E. on Saco river, 21 miles N. E. from York, and 96 N. E.
from Boston.

ASANGARO, a jurisdiction under the bishop of Cusco, in Peru, South America, 50 leagues from that city: numbers of cattle are bred here.

ASCENSION Bay, lies on the S. side of the peninsula of Yucatan, in the Bay of Honduras.
This is also the name of a bay in the N. part of the Gulf of Mexico, situated near the mouth of the Mississippi.

ASHBURNHAM, a township in Worcester co. Massachusetts, 30 miles N. of Worcester, and 55 from Boston, was incorporated in 1765, and contains 951 inhabitants. It stands upon the height of land E. of Connecticut river, and W. of Merrimack, on the banks of Little Naukeag. In this township is a white sand, equal in fineness to that at Cape Ann, and which, it is judged, would make fine glass.

ASHEB, a township in Middlesex co. Massachusetts, 50 miles N.
W. from Boston, containing 751 inhabitants.

ASHCUTNEY, or Afascutney, a mountain in Vermont, being partly in the townships of Windsor and Wethersfield. It is 2032 feet above the sea, and 1732 above high water in Connecticut river, which glides by its E. side.

ASHFIELD, a township in Hampshire co. Massachusetts, about 15 miles N. W. of Northampton, and 117 W. from Boston, containing 1459 inhabitants.

ASHFORD, a township in Windham co. Connecticut, 38 miles north-easterly from Hartford, and 76 south-westerly from Boston.

ASHFORD, New, a township, in Berkshire co. Massachusetts, 155 miles W. from Boston, containing 460 inhabitants.

ASHULOT, a small river, in N.
Hampshire, which empties into Connecticut river, at Hinsdale.

ASPOTAGOEN Mountain, on the coast of Nova-Scotia. It is seen at a great distance from the offing, and is the land generally made by the ships bound from Europe and the West-Indies to Halifax.
The summit is about 500 feet above the level of the sea.

co. and regularly laid out on a generous scale on the S. W. bank of Savannah R. where it is near 500 yards broad, at a bend of the river, 127 miles N. W. from Savannah; from Washington S.
E. by E. and from Louisville S.
E. by E. 40 miles; and 934 miles S. W. from Philadelphia. At the first settlement of the colony, Gen. Oglethorpe erected a fort here, for protecting the Indian trade, and holding treaties with the natives. In 1739, about 600 people separated themselves from the maritime settlements, and removed to its neighbourhood to carry on a pekry trade with the Indians. There were, however, but 3 or 4 houses in the town of Augusta in 1780, and in 1787 it contained 200. The country round it has an excellent soil, which with its central situation, between the upper and lower countries, will bring it fast into importance. N. lat. 33 19, W.

AUGUSTA, a town in Upper Canada.

AUGUSTA, a thriving town in Lincoln co. Maine, at the head of the tide waters on the Kennebeck river, three miles N. of Hallowell, of which till its incorporation in 1797, it was a part, and known by the name of Fort Western. Vessels of 100 tons ascend the river to this town. The judicial courts for the county are held alternately in this town and at Pownalborough. There is here a court-house, and gaol.
A bridge is about to be erected upon the Kennebeck, opposite old Fort Western. Several merchants and traders are settled here, and carry on a brisk commerce with the back country.

The township contains 36,000 acres of land, and about 1,000 inhabitants. N. lat. 44 25. This town was incorporated in Feb. 7, 1797, by the name of Harrington, and in June following the name was altered to Augusta.

AUGUSTINES, St. a port and river on the coast of Labrador, near the straits of Bellisle and opposite St. John's Bay, Newfoundland.

AUGUSTINE, St. the capital of E. Florida, is situated on the sea-coast, about 80 leagues from the mouth of the gulf of Florida, 180 miles E. from St. Mark's, and 326 S. W. from Charleston in S.
Carolina. It is of an oblong figure, and intersected by 4 streets, which cut each other at right angles. The town is well fortified, has been under different masters, and now belongs to the Spanish king. It has a church and monastery of the order of its name. The breakers at the entrance of the harbour have formed two channels whose bars have 8 feet of water each. N. lat. 30,
W. long. 81 30.

AURELIUS, a military township in N. York, in Onondaga co. on Owasco L. having the Cayuga Reservation Lands W. and Marcellus E. and 9 miles E. of the ferry on Cayuga lake. By the State census of 1796, 213 of the inhabitants are electors.

AURORA, an island belonging to the Archipelago of the Great Cyclades, 15 8 S. lat. and 165 58
E. long. from Paris, discovered by Bougainville, May 22d, 1768.
It is about 20 leagues long, and 2 broad. Its eastern shore is steep, and covered with wood.

AVALON, a peninsula at the S.

E. corner of the island of Newfoundland. It contains several excellent harbours and bays.

AVERIL, a township in Essex co. Vermont. It joins Hamilton on the N.W. Canaan on the N.E. and its N. corner is the Canada line.

AVES, or Bird's Island, in the W. Indies, situated in N. lat. 13° 30', W. long. 63° 15', named so from the great number of birds that breed there, yet is without a tree, which obliges them to lay their eggs in the sand. There is another island of this name, among the Little Antilles, between the coast of St. Jago de Leon, in Terra Firma, and the island of Bonaire.

AVINO La Panca, a town in the western part of the kingdom of Leon, in North-America.

AVON, a river of Nova-Scotia, which empties into the Atlantic Ocean a little eastward of Halifax. It is navigable as far as Fort Edward for vessels of 400 tons, and for vessels of 60 tons 2 miles higher.

AXAS, a town in the interior part of New Albion, in N. lat. 39° 5', W. long. 114° 30'.

AYERSTOWN, in Burlington co. N. Jersey, lies on the middle branch of Ancocus Creek, 16 miles from the mouth of the creek in the Delaware, and 13 S. easterly from Burlington.

AYMARAES, a jurisdiction in the empire of Peru; subject to the bishop of Cusco, 40 leagues S. W. of that city. It abounds in sugars, cattle, corn, and mines of gold and silver.

AZUCA, or Aza, a little town in the island of St. Domingo, in the W. Indies, on the southern side, at the bottom of a deep bay. Before the French revolution it belonged to the Spaniards.

BAAL's River and Bay, in W. Greenland, lie opposite the mouth of Hudson's Strait.

BABAHYO, a village and custom-house on Guayaquil-river, in Peru, being the landing place from the city of Guayaquil. Here the merchandize from Peru and Terra Firma, and their respective provinces, are landed.

BABOYAS, a town in the interior parts of New Albion.

BAEZA, the chief town of the district of Quixos, in the province of Quito, in Peru, and the residence of the governor.

BAFFIN's Bay, is the largest and most northern gulf or bay that has yet been discovered in N. America; and lies between the 70th and 80th degrees of N. lat. It opens into the Atlantic ocean through Baffin's and Davis's straits. It was discovered by the navigator whose name it bears, in the year 1662.

BAGADUCE Point, a head land within Penobscot Bay, in the District of Maine.

BAHAMA Islands, in the W. Indies, called by the Spaniards Lucayos, comprehend under this denomination all the islands, in general, which are to the N. of Cuba and St. Domingo. The first discovery of the New World, by Columbus, began October 11, 1492, at Guanahani, or Cat Island, one of the Bahamas. They were then full of people who were simple, mild, and lived happy in the midst of plenty. These unfortunate people were transported to the mines of St. Domingo, after the cruel Spanards had exterminated the numerous inhabitants of that large land; 14 years after the discovery of these islands, not one person remained in any of the Bahamas. At this time Charles II. granted the Bahamas to the proprietors of Carolina. They sent several governors, and built the town of Nassau, which is now the seat of government in the I. of Providence. The island of Providence afterwards became an harbour for pirates, who, for a long time, infested the American navigation. In 1718, Capt. Woods Rogers was sent out to dislodge the pirates, and form a settlement. This the captain effected; and the islands have been improving since by a slow progress. In time of war, the people are considered by the prizes condemned there; and in the course of the present war between Great-Britain and France, numbers of American vessels, carrying provisions and stores to French ports, have been carried off and condemned; and at all times they profit by the wrecks which are frequent in this labyrinth of rocks and shoals. The Spaniards and Americans captured these islands during the last war; but they were retaken April 7, 1783. The Bahamas are said to be 500 in number; some of them only rocks, others very low and narrow, or little bits of land on a level with the water's edge; but 12 of them are large and fertile, some indeed rocky and barren. Five of them only are inhabited, viz. Providence, Harbor, Eleuthera, Cat, and Exuma; Turk's islands have about 20 men in the salt season, but at other times half of them return to Bermuda. The climate of these islands is temperate and the air healthy. On the coasts is found ambergris; and the inhabitants catch great quantities of green turtle. The only article cultivated for exportation is cotton; of which the medium export is 1,300 bags of 2cwt. each. In 1787, there were 4,500 acres in cotton. In 1785, 1786, and 1787, which were favourable years, each acre produced about 112lbs. It is very liable to be destroyed by the worms; between Sept. and March, 1788, not less than 280 tons were destroyed. These islands also produce a great quantity of dying woods, and some lignumvita and mahogany; and lie between 22 and 27 N. lat. and 73 and 81 W. long. In 1773, there were 2052 white, and 2241 black, inhabitants; but of late years there has been a considerable emigration from N. America, so that the precise number cannot be given.

BAHAMA, the chief of the Bahama islands, is about 20 leagues from the coast of Florida, and about 10 W. from the island of Lucayo. It is about 28 leagues long and 3 broad, is very fruitful, has a serene air, and is watered with multitudes of springs and brooks. The Strait of Bahama, or Gulf of Florida, lies between the coast of Florida and this island. The Spanish ships from the Havannah homeward, are obliged to wait an opportunity to pass this strait; and the strait is 16 leagues broad, and 45 long.

BAKERSFIELD, a newly settled township in Franklin co. Vermont. In 1790 it had only 13 inhabitants.

BAKERTOWN, in Cumberland co. Maine, contains 1276 inhabitants; 162 miles N. E. from Boston.

BATCLUTHA, a settlement in the easternmost part of Kentucky, on the W. side of Big Sandy river.

BALD Eagle or Warrior Mountains, lie about 200 miles W. of Philadelphia, in Bedford co. Pennsylvania, and forms the western boundary of Bald Eagle Valley.

BALD Eagle Valley, or, as it is commonly called, Sinking Spring Valley, lies upon the frontiers of Bedford co. in Pennsylvania, about 200 miles W. from Philadelphia. This is a pleasant vale, of lime-stone bottom, five miles in extent where widest; and in the vicinity are great quantities of lead ore. It contained, in 1779, about 60 or 70 families, living in log-houses, who formed, in the space of 7 or 8 years, several valuable and pleasantly situated plantations. During the late war with Great-Britain, lead was much wanted, and very difficult to be procured, which induced a company, under the promises of the State, to settle here, and establish a regular set of works. A fort of logs was erected for the protection of the miners; and a considerable quantity of ore was produced, from which lead enough was made, to give a competent idea of the real value of the mines in general. The danger of the situation, however, while an Indian war continued, occasioned the failure of the undertaking. Among other curiosities of this place, is that called the Swallows, which absorb several of the largest streams of the valley, and after conveying them several miles under ground, in a subter-aneous course, return them again upon the surface. These subterraneous passages have given rise to the name Sinking Spring Valley. Of these the most remarkable is called the Arch Springs, and run close upon the road from the town to the fort. It is a deep hollow, formed in the lime-stone rock, about 30 feet wide, with a rude natural stone arch hanging over it, forming a passage for the water, which it throws out with some degree of violence, and in such plenty as to form a fine stream, which at length buries itself again in the bowels of the earth. Some of these pits are near 300 feet deep; the water at the bottom seems in rapid motion, and is apparently as black as ink, though it is as pure as the finest spring water can produce. Such as visit these parts must cross the Juniata river 3 or 4 times, from Standing Stone, or Huntington, to the fort; from which it is computed to be about 22 miles distant.

BALD Head, at the mouth of Cape Fear river, N. Carolina, is at the S. W. end of Smith's Island, and with Oak Island forms the main entrance into the river. The light-house, which was erected here in Dec. 1794, bears 6 miles N. N. W. from the point of Cape Fear, and 24 miles N. W. by N. from the extremity of the Frying Pan shoal.

These stages have given the Sinking Spring the most remarkable the Arch close upon the town to the fort. low, formed in rock, about 30 feet above the natural stone level, forming a water, which in some degree of such plenty as to stream, which at itself again in the earth. Valdivia, a seaport province of Chile, kingdom of Chile. It was built by General Baldivia in 1557, and stands between the rivers Callacalles and Portero, where they fall into the S. Sea. In the year 1559, the Chilese chased the Spaniards from this settlement, burned the town, and put the inhabitants to the sword; pouring melted gold down the governor's throat when alive, and afterwards used his skull for a cup to drink in. There are many gold mines here, and the Spaniards have fortified the place strongly, as it is supposed to be the key of the S. Seas. The whites of Peru and Chili, banished for their crimes, are sent hither to support the fortifications. The viceroy sends 30,000 crowns a year, to support the garrison. There are great rains here during three months of the year. S. lat. 32 38, W. long. 73 20.

Baldivia is also the name of a river in Chili.

BALIZA, a fort at the mouth of Mississippi river.

BALLER, Ballise, or Wallis, a river in the peninsula of Yucatan, New Spain, which runs N. easterly above 100 miles, and empties into the bay of Honduras, opposite the N. end of Turneffe Island. By the treaty of peace in 1783 it is agreed that British subjects shall have the right of cutting and carrying away logwood in the district lying between this river and that of Rio Honda, on the N. which falls into Hanover Bay. The course of the rivers are to be the unalterable boundaries.

BALLTOWN, a township in Saratoga co. N. York, and contained in 1790, 7333 inhabitants. It lies 36 miles N. of Albany, has a Presbyterian meeting-house, and is in a thriving state. The medicinal waters called Balltown Springs, from their being found within the limits of this town, are of great celebrity, both on account of their healing virtue, and the superior accommodation found near them for val-etudinarians. They are situated about 12 miles W. of Still Water; 14 from that part of the banks of the Hudson famous for the victory of Gen. Gates over Gen. Burgoyne; 36 N. of Albany; 30 S. of Lake George, and 296 above the city of New-York. The springs are found in the bottom of a valley, or excavation, forming a kind of basin, of about fifty acres in extent. In this hollow grow lofty pines, which are overtopped by others, and rise at a greater or less distance above the brims of this basin. The woods are pretty well cleared near the springs. There is a large house for entertainment, with neat bathing houses, and shower baths for the convenience of invalids. These, as also the greatest part of the valley, belong to an eminent merchant of N. York; the largest spring, however, belongs to the public. Sir William Johnson made this observation, when he sold this tract of land to private individuals: "In tracing the history of these medicinal springs, I could only learn that an Indian chief discovered them to a sick French officer in the early part of their wars with the English. But whether they were these very springs in this basin, or those at 10 miles distance, properly called the Saratoga Springs, I know not." The soil for half a dozen miles round this place, is poor and sandy, producing little else than pine trees, shrub-oaks, fern, and mullen. In the hills in the vicinity, ores have been accidentally found, especially iron and copper, or rather what the mineralogists call irruous and capreous pyrites. The valley of Balltown and its environs may be made an enchanting spot, equal, nay, superior in some respects, to any of the watering places in Europe. The Kaya-derafforas river, which is about 70 yards wide, gives several hints to the man of taste, to turn its waters to the use and beauty of the future town, which these medicinal springs will one day raise in this place. The medicinal waters which have made this spot so famous of late, are remarkably limpid, considering they contain iron, a mineral alkali, common salt, and lime. They are brisk and sparkling like champagne. In drinking they affect the nose and palate like bottled beer, and slightly affect the head of some people, by their inebriating quality. They derive this exhilarating quality from what Dr. Priestly calls fixed air, and is that animating something which gives activity to yeast, and life to malt liquors. It is used in the neighbourhood of the springs instead of yeast in making bread; and makes it rise more speedily and effectually than any other ferment in ordinary use. Horses drink these waters with avidity. The ignorant country people see, with astonishment, that a candle will not burn near the surface of these waters. Fish and frogs are killed in a few minutes, and geese and ducks can only swim in them a few minutes, before they expire. These waters are apt to burst bottles, when corked in very warm weather, especially during a thunder storm; but with care may be transported in bottles to any distance. They boil with a very moderate degree of heat; they are, nevertheless, remarkably cold; for when the mercury in Fahrenheit's thermometer stood at 86 in the open air, and 79 in the brook running near the spring, it stood in one of these mineral springs at 49 and in the other at 51. The first was constantly secluded from the rays of the sun; the last always exposed without a covering. Physicians seldom direct their patients to drink more than three quarts of these waters in twelve hours; but some drink the enormous quantity of three gallons, and even more, in a day. Cold as they are, they may be drunken with safety in the hottest weather. They increase every natural evacuation; nay, they are cathartic, diuretic and sudorific; at the same time. On the first trial they are apt to disagree with many people, they create uneasiness in the stomach and bowels, and cause a heat in the glands of the throat, until they begin to pass off freely by the kidneys. They then become pleasant and operate agreeably. They blacken the teeth and also the alvine faeces. They are deemed a specific in loss of appetite and indigestion. They are highly serviceable in hypochondriac cases, in obstructions, and in the stone and gravel, and cutaneous disorders. Their credit is not so well established in the gout or rheumatism. They are hurtful in inflammatory disorders and consumptions. Their use occasions heat in the glands of the throat, and stiffness of the neck; and in such as are subject to the tooth-ache, an aggravation of the pain. They are a power-

BALLTOWN, or Balltown, a township in Lincoln co. Maine, containing 1,072 inhabitants; 295 miles N. E. from Boston.

BALTIMORE Co. in Maryland, lies between Patapsco and Gunpowder rivers. It has Pennsylvania on the N. and Chesapeake Bay on the S. E. There are numerous iron works in this county; and it contains 25,434 inhabitants, including 5,877 slaves. Its chief town is Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, the chief town in the above co. is the largest in the State of Maryland. In size it is the fourth, and in commerce the fifth in rank in the United States.
It is situated on the N. side of Patapsco river, at a small distance from its junction with the Chesapeake. The entrance of the harbour is defended by Whetstone Fort; hardly a pistol shot across, and of course may be easily defended against naval force.
From the head of Elk river at the head of the bay to Baltimore, is about 60 miles. The town is built around what is called the basin, reckoned one of the finest harbors in America. The water rises 5 or 6 feet at common tides.
It is divided into what is called the town and Fell's Point, by a creek, over which are two bridges; but the houses extend, in an irregular manner, from the one to the other. At Fell's Point the water is deep enough for ships of burden, but small vessels only go up to the town. The situation is low, and was formerly thought unhealthy, but, by its rapid increase, improvements have taken place which have corrected the dampness of the air, and it is now judged to be tolerably healthy. In 1787, it contained 1955 dwelling houses; of which 1200 were in the town, and the rest at Fell's Point. It then contained 152 stores. The number of the inhabitants of the town and precincts, in 1791, were 13,503, including 1,255 slaves. The number of houses and inhabitants have been greatly increased since.

Here are 9 places of public worship, which belong to Roman Catholics, German Calvinists and Lutherans, Episcopalians, Presbyterians, Baptists, Methodists, Quakers, and Nicolites, or New Quakers, who all live together in peace. It is inhabited by people from most parts of Europe. The principal street is Market street, which runs nearly E. and W. a mile in length, parallel with the water. This is crossed by a number of other streets, which run from the water; a number of which, particularly Calvert and Gay streets, are well built.
N. and E. of the town, the land rises, and presents a noble view of the town and bay. In 1790, this city owned 27 ships, 1 snow, 31 brigantines, 34 schooners, and 9 sloops—Total 102; tonnage 13,564. The exports in the same year amounted to 2,027,270, and the imports to 1,945,899 dollars.
The exports in July, August, and Sept. in 1799, amounted only to 343,584 dollars; but in these months, in 1795, they amounted to 1,675,748 dollars. It is 53 miles S. W. from Elk town, 176 N.
E. from Richmond in Virginia; 50 N. E. from the city of Washington, and 103 S. W. from Philadelphia. N. lat. 39 21, W. long.
77 48.

BANCOR, a township in Hapcock co. Maine, on the western side of Penobscot river, 25 miles from its mouth at Belfast Bay; 65 N. W. by W. from Machias; 63 N. E. from Hallowell, and 280 N. E. from Boston.

BANN, a township in York co. Pennsylvania.

BARACOA, a seaport town in the N. E. part of the island of Cuba, in the W. Indies; 50 miles N. E. of St. Jago de Cuba.

BARAQUICIMITO, a town in Terra Firma, S. America, in the province of Caracas, and on the head waters of Oroonoco river, about 80 miles S. from Valencia, and 175 N. W. from Calabeza.

BARBADOES, one of the Caribbee islands, belonging to Britain, and next to Jamaica for importance in the W. Indies. It is about 21 miles in length, and 14 in breadth, and contains 106,470 acres of land, most of which is under cultivation. It lies 20 leagues E. from St. Vincent, which may be seen in a clear day; 25 from St. Lucia; 28 S. E. from Martinico; 6c N. E. from Trinidad, and 100 S. E. from St. Christopher's. It is divided into 5 districts, and 11 parishes; and contains 4 towns, viz. Bridgetown, the capital; Oskins, or Charlestown; St. James, formerly called the Hole; and Speights Town. Its soil is highly fertile, as it contained, in 1670, 50,000 whites, and 100,000 blacks; whose labors employed 60,000 tons of shipping. This, however, is thought to be exaggerated; but it is certain that its population has decreased rapidly. In 1786 the numbers were, 16,167 whites; 838 free people of color, and 42,115 negroes. The exports, on an average, of 1784, 1785, and 1786, had fallen to 9,554 hhds.

of sugar; 5,448 puncheons of rum; 6,320 bags of ginger; 8,332 bags of cotton, exclusive of small articles, as aloes, sweetmeats, &c. In the year, ending the 5th of Jan. 1788; 243 vessels cleared outwards; and the London market price of their cargoes in sterling money, amounted to £539,605 14 10; of which the value exported to the United States was £23,217 13 4. That the dreadful succession of hurricanes, with which this and the other W. India islands have been visited, for many years past, has contributed to this great defalcation, cannot be doubted. Bridgetown was scarcely risen from the ashes to which two dreadful fires had reduced it, when it was torn from its foundations, and the whole country made a scene of desolation, by the storm of the 10th of Oct. 1780, in which no less than 4326 of the inhabitants, blacks and whites, miserably perished; and the damage done to property was computed at £1,320,564 15 sterl. The force of the wind was at one place so great as to lift some pieces of cannon, with their carriages, several paces from the ramparts. The trade of this, and some others of the islands suffers considerably by a duty of 4 per cent. on exported produce; out of which, however, the governor's salary, £2000 a year, is paid. The crown acquired this revenue in the reign of Charles II. which the planters agreed to, in order to secure possessions to which they had uncertain titles. Barbadoes was probably discovered first by the Portuguese. It is usually ranked among the Windward division of the Caribbees, being a day or its being the first discovered of any of these islands, it is called Master of the Sugar Colonies. The first of the English who are known to have landed here, were the crew of the Olive Blossom, fitted out by Sir Olive Leigh, in 1605. It was found absolutely desolate; nor had it the appearance of having been peopled even by the most barbarous Indians. The island is fortified by nature, all along the windward shore, by rocks and shoals, so as to be almost inaccessible; on the leeward side it has good harbours; but the whole coast is protected by a good line, of several miles in length, and several forts to defend it, at the most material places. The military, civil, and religious establishments are well provided for. Here is a college, founded by Col. Codrington; the only institution of the kind in the W. Indies; but it has not answered the intention of the founder.

The houses of the planters are very thickly sown all along the country, which, with the luxuriant productions of the soil, and the gently swelling hills, form a delightful scene. The earliest planters of Barbadoes were sometimes reproached with the guilt of forcing or decoying into slavery, the Indians of the neighboring continent. The history of Inle and Yarico, which the Spectator has recorded for the detestation of mankind, took its rise in this island; but happily this species of slavery was soon abolished. The Barbadoes tar is a particular production of this island. It rises out of the earth, and swims on the surface of the water. It is of great use in the dry, belly-ache, and in diseases of the breast. The capital,

Bridgetown, lies in N. lat. 13 10, apply themselves chiefly to the of the other W. India islands; and has a good road for ship-

BARNEGAT, the name of a small village of 8 or 10 houses, on the E. bank of Hudson river, 5 miles S. of Poughkeepsie, and 7.5 N. of New-York. Much lime is burnt here, from lime-stone, and marketed in New-York.

BARNET, a township in Caledonia co. Vermont, containing 477 inhabitants, and 172 miles N. E. from Bennington.

BARNSTABLE Co. lies upon the peninsula, the point of which is Cape Cod, the S. eastward point of Massachusetts Bay, opposite Cape Ann. It is 65 miles long, and its breadth for 30 miles not more than 3, and above half the remainder from 6 to 9 miles. It contains 11 townships and the plantation of Marshpee; having 2343 houses, and 17,354 inhabitants.

BARNSTABLE is a port of entry and post-town, and the thire town of Barnstable co. It extends across the peninsula, and is washed by the sea on the N. and S. and is about 5 miles broad, and 9 long; 67 miles S. easterly from Boston. The harbor is about a mile wide, and 4 long; in which the tide rises from 8 to 14 feet. There are 20 or 30 ponds in Barnstable. The land here produces about 25 bushels of Indian corn to an acre, and rye and other grain in proportion. Wheat and flax are cultivated; the latter with success. From 12 to 18,000 bushels of onions are raised for the supply of the neighbouring towns. Upwards of 100 men are employed in the fishery, which is yearly increasing. No quarrels with the ancient natives of the country are recorded in the accounts of this town, where the English settlers of N. England first landed, Nov. 11, 1620. The people, 2620 in number, are generally healthy. Numbers of the farmers are occasional seamen; and this town has furnished many masters of vessels and mariners, who sail from other parts. N. lat. 41 43.

BARNSTEAD, a township in Strafford co. N. Hampshire, containing 807 inhabitants; 38 miles N. W. of Portsmouth.

BARRELL'S Sand, on the N. W. Coast of America, called by the natives Conget-doi-tai, is situated about 6 leagues from the southern extremity of Washington or Charlotte Island, in a N. W. direction, about N. lat. 52, W. long. 131 from Greenwich. The shores are of a craggy black rock: the banks lined with trees of various kinds, as pines, spruce, hemlock, alder, &c. Mr. Hoskins, in the summer of 1791, measured one of these trees which was ten fathoms in circumference. On one side of it a hole had been cut, large enough to admit a man; within was a spacious and convenient room which had apparently been dug and burnt out with much labor. Mr. Hoskins concluded that it must have been occasionally inhabited by the natives; as he found in it a box, fireworks, dried wood, and several domestic utensils. This found was named after Joseph Barrell, Esq. a 25 miles N. of St. Christor's and 30 N. E. of Saba. It reckoned 5 leagues in circumference, but has little ground fit for cultivation. It produces tobacco, cassava, and abounds with woods. The trees most in esteem are, 1. The soap tree, or aloes tree. 2. The caleback. 3. The canapia, whose gum is an excellent cathartic. 4. The parotane, whose boughs grow downward, take root again; and form a kind of bulwark and strong defence in time of attack. All along the shore are those trees called Sea Trees, whose boughs are curiously plaited together, and look as if they were glazed. Here is an infinite variety of birds, and a peculiar kind of lime-stone, which the inhabitants export to the adjacent islands. They have likewise plenty of lignumvite and iron wood. Its shores are dangerous, and the approaching time requires a good pilot; but it has an excellent harbor, in which ships of any size are sheltered from all winds. Half its inhabitants are Irish Roman Catholics, whose predecessors settled here in 1666; the others are French, to whom the island lately belonged. It was ceded by France to the crown of Sweden in 1785. They depend on the skies for water, which they keep in cisterns. It was a nest for privatters when in the hands of the French; and at one time had 50 British prizes in its harbor.

BERMUDA Hundred, or City Point, is a port of entry and post-town, in Chesterfield co. Virginia, situated on the point of the peninsula, formed by the confluence of the Appamattox with James river, 36 miles westerly from Williamsburg, 64 from Point Comfort, in Chesapeake Bay, and 315 S. W. by S. from Philadelphia. City Point, from which it is named, lies on the southern bank of James R. 4 miles S. S. W. from this town. The exports from this place, chiefly collected at Richmond, 20 miles above it, amounted, in 1794, to the value of 773,549 dollars; and from the 1st of October, to the 1st of December, 1795, were as follow: 15 kegs of butter, 578 bbls. S. fine flour, 101 half do. 789 fine do. 393 lbs. indigo, 10 tons pig-iron, 100 lbs. saffrafas, 80,320 khd. staves, 66,300 bbl. staves, 1,819 hhd. tobacco, and 3 kegs manufactured do. Total exports, 90,859 dollars, 45 cents. There are about 40 houses here, including some warehouses. It trades chiefly with the W. Indies, and the different States.

BERMUDA Islands. These received this name from the discoverer, John Bermudas, a Spaniard; and were called Sommer's Isles, from Sir George Sommers, who was shipwrecked on their rocks in 1609, in his passage to Virginia. The number of this cluster, lying in the form of a shepherd's crook, has been computed to be about 400, distant from the land's end in England, 1500 leagues, from the Madeiras 1200, from Hispaniola 400, and 200 from Cape Hatteras, which last is the nearest land to them.

The islands are walled with rocks and by reason of these, together with shoals, are difficult to approach. The entrances into the harbors and channels are narrow as well as shoaly, and are more dangerous by reason of the strong current which sets to the N. E. from the gulf of Florida. They contain from 12 to 13,000 acres of poor land, of which 9 parts in 10 are either uncultivated, or reserved in woods, which consist chiefly of cedar, for building ships. There are about 200 acres laid out in cotton. The main island is about 16 miles long, and from one to two in breadth. The parish of St. George's, is an I. to the eastward of the main land, in which stands the town of St. George's, containing about 500 houses. Contiguous to that is St. David's I. which supplies the town with provisions. The air is healthy, and a continual spring prevails; and most of the productions of the W. Indies might be cultivated here. The houses are built of a soft stone, which is sawn like timber, but being washed with lime, it becomes hard; these stones are greatly in request throughout the W. Indies, for filtrating water. The houses are white as snow; which, beheld from an eminence, contrasted with the greenness of the cedars, and pasture ground, and the multitude of islands full in view, realize what the poets have feigned of the Elysian Fields.—Some accounts say that these islands contain from 15 to 20,000 inhabitants; but Mr. Edwards says, the number of white people is 5,462, of blacks 4,919. The Bermudians are chiefly seafaring men, and the negroes walled with rocks of these, together with the difficult to approach entrances into the channels are narrow, and are more easily, and are more reason of the strong fetts to the N. E. of Florida. They are 2 to 13,000 acres of which 9 parts are uncultivated, or ponds, which are used for building are about 200 in cotton. The about 16 miles one to two, in the parish of St. L. to the eastward land, in which of St. George's out 500 houses, that is St. David's is the town with the air is healthy. Spring prevails, the productions of might be cultivated, houses are built, which is sawn, but being washed hecom's hard; the grey in re-ut the W. Indies, water. The house-ow; which, be-ance, contrast-ness, of the ce-are ground, and of islands full in at the poets have Elysian Fields.— say that these is-om 15 to 20,000 at Mr. Edwards er of white peo- of blacks 4,919. na are chiefly and the negroes very expert mariners. In the late war, there were at one time between 15 and 20 privateers fitted out from hence, which were manned by negro slaves, and behaved irreproachably; and such is the state of slavery here, and so much are they attached to their masters, that such were captured always returned when it was in their power; singular instance of which occurred in the State of Massachusetts. The ship Regulator, a privateer, was carried into Boston, and had 70 slaves on board; of them returned in a flag of truce, nine returned by way of New-York; one only was missing, who died. The government conducted under a governor, named by the British crown, a council, and a general assembly. There are 9 churches, of which the clergymen have the charge; and there is one presbyterian church.

At the present European war, the numerous cruizers from Bermuda, have unwarrantably captured numbers of American vessels, loaded with provisions or naval stores, bound for French and other ports, which have been iniquitously condemned.

BETHLEHEM, a township in Litchfield co. Connecticut, between Litchfield on the N. and Woodbury on the S.

BETHLEHEM, a post-town in Northampton co. Pennsylvania, is a celebrated settlement of the Moravians, or United Brethren, of the Protestant Episcopal church. It is situated on Lehigh river, a western branch of the Delaware, 53 miles northerly from Philadelphia. The situation of the town is healthful and pleasant, and in summer is frequented by gentry from different parts. In 1787, there were 60 dwelling-houses of stone, well built, and 600 inhabitants, both which have since been much increased. Besides the meeting-house, are 3 other public buildings large and spacious; one for the single brethren, one for the single sisters, and the other for the widows. The literary establishments, as well as the religious regulations here, deserve notice. In a house adjoining to the church is a school for females, and since 1787, a boarding-school for young ladies, who are sent here from different parts, and are instructed in reading and writing (in the English and German tongues) grammar, arithmetic, geography, needle work, music, &c. The minister of the place has the direction of this as well as of the boys' school, which is kept in a separate house, where they are initiated in the fundamental branches of literature. These schools, especially that for the young ladies, are deservedly in very high repute; and scholars, more than can be accommodated, are offered from all parts of the United States. There is at the lower part of the town a machine, of simple construction, which raises the water, from a spring, into a reservoir, to the height of 100 feet; whence it is conducted by pipes into the several streets of the town. There is a genteel tavern at the N. end of the town, the profits arising from which, belong to the society. There is also a store, with a general assortment of goods an apothecary's shop, a large tannery, a currier's and a dyer's shop, a grist-mill, a fulling-mill, an oil-mill, and a saw-mill, and on the banks of the Lehigh, a brew-ery. co. Kentucky, falls into the Ohio River on the E. in about N. lat. 39 15, W. long. 85 54. It is noticeable only for the large bones, and the licks near it.

BIG Bone Licks, The, lie on each side of the above mentioned creek, a little below the junction of the two eastern branches, about 10 miles from the mouth of the creek. These, as also the other salt springs, in the western county, are called Licks, because the earth about them is furrowed up in a most curious manner, by the buffaloes and deer that lick the earth, on account of the saline particles with which it is impregnated. The large bones found here, and in several other places near salt licks, and in low soft grounds, thought to belong to the mammoth, still puzzle the most learned naturalists to determine to what animal they have belonged. A thigh bone found here by General Parsons, measured forty-nine inches in length.

BOSTON, the capital of the te of Massachusetts, the larg-town in New-England, and third in size and rank in the ited States, lies in 42 23.15 N. and 70 58 53 W. long. This wn, with the towns of Hing-m, Chelsea and Hull, consti-te the county of Suffolk; 176 miles S. W. of Wiscasset, 61 S. by W. of Portsmouth, 164 N. E. of New-Haven, 252 N. E. of N.

York, 347 N. E. of Philadelphia, and 500 N. E. of the city of Washington. Boston is built upon a peninsula of irregular form at the bottom of Massachusetts Bay, and is joined to the main land by an isthmus on the S. end of the town, leading to Roxbury.
It is two miles long, but is of unequal breadth; the broadest part is 726 yards. The peninsula contains about 700 acres (other accounts say 1000) on which are 2376 dwelling-houses. The number of inhabitants in 1790 was 18,038, but the increase has been very considerable since.
The town is intersected by 97 streets, 36 lanes, and 26 alleys, besides 18 courts, &c. most of these are irregular, and not very convenient. State-street, Common-street, and a few others, are exceptions to this general character; the former is very spacious, and being on a line with Long Wharf, where strangers usually land, exhibits a flattering idea of the town. Here are 19 edifices for public worship, of which 9 are for Congregationalists, 3 for Episcopalians, and 2 for Baptists; the Friends, Roman Catholics, Methodists, Sandemanians and Universalists have one each. Most of these are ornamented with beautiful spires, with clocks and bells. The other public buildings are the State-House, Court-House, 2 Theatres, Concert Hall, Faneuil Hall, Gaol, an Alms-House, a Work-House, a Bridewell and Powder Magazine.
Franklin Place, adjoining Federal-street Theatre, is a great ornament to the town; it contains a monument of Dr. Franklin, from whom it takes its name, and is encompassed on two sides with buildings, which, in point of elegance, are not exceeded, perhaps, in the United States. Here are kept in capacious rooms, given and fitted up for the purpose, the Boston Library, and the valuable Collections of the Historical Society. Most of the public buildings are handsome, and some of them are elegant. A magnificent State-House is now erecting in Boston, on the S. side of Beacon Hill, fronting the Mall, the cornerstone of which was laid by SAMUEL ADAMS, then Governor of the Commonwealth, with great formality and parade on the 4th of July, 1795; and which overtops the monument on Beacon Hill. The Market Place, in which Faneuil Hall is situated, is supplied with all kinds of provisions which the country affords. The fish market in particular, by the bounteous supplies of the ocean and rivers, not only furnishes the rich with the rarest productions, but often provides the poor with a cheap and grateful repast. Boston harbor is capacious enough for 500 vessels to ride at anchor in good depth of water; whilst the entrance is so narrow as scarcely to admit two ships abreast. It is variegated with about 40 islands, of which 15 only can be properly called so; the others being small rocks or banks of sand, slightly covered with verdure. These islands afford excellent pasturage, hay and grain, and furnish agreeable places of resort in summer to parties of pleasure. Castle Island is about 3 miles from the town; its fortifications, formerly called Castle William, defend the entrance of the harbor. It is garrisoned by about 50 soldiers, who serve as a guard for the convicts, who are sent here to hard labour. The convicts are chiefly employed in making nails. The light-house stands on a small island on the N. entrance of the channel (Point Alderton and Nantasket Heights being on the S.) and is about 65 feet high. To steer for it from Cape Cod, the course is W. N. W. when within one league of the Cape; from Cape Cod to the light-house is about 16 leagues; from Cape Ann the course is S. W. distant 10 leagues. A cannon is lodged and mounted at the light-house to answer signals. Only seven of the islands in the bay are within the jurisdiction of the town, and taxed with it, viz. Noddle's, Hog, Long Deer, Spectacle, Governor's and Apple Islands. The wharves and quays in Boston are about 80 in number, and very convenient for vessels. Long Wharf, or Boston Pier, in particular, extends from the bottom of State-street 174 feet into the harbor, in a straight line. The breadth is 104 feet. At the end are 17 feet of water at ebb tide. Adjoining to this wharf on the N. is a convenient wharf called Minot's T, from the name of its former proprietor, and its form. Vessels are supplied here with fresh water from a well surrounded by salt water, which has been dug at a great expense. Long Wharf is covered on the N. side with large and commodious stores, and in every respect exceeds any thing of the kind in the United States. In February, 1796, a company was incorporated to cut a canal between this harbor and Roxbury,

which is nearly completed. The w of the town, as it is approached from the sea, is truly beautiful and picturesque. It is in a circular and pleasingly regular form round the harbour, and is ornamented with trees, above which the monument of Beacon Hill rises pre-eminent; on its top is a gilt eagle bearing the arms of the Union, and on the base of the column inscriptions, commemorating some of the most remarkable events of the late war. Beacon Hill is the highest ground on the peninsula, and affords a most delightful and extensive prospect of the Common below it, contains about 45 acres, always open to refreshing breezes; on its E. side the Mall, a very pleasant walk above 500 yards in length; adorned with rows of trees, to which an addition of about 100 yards has been lately added. Charles river and West-Boston bridges are highly useful and ornamental to Boston; and both are on Charles river, which mingles its waters with those of Mystic river, Boston harbour. Charles river bridge connects Boston with Charlestown in Middlesex county and is 1,503 feet long, 42 feet broad, stands on 75 piers, and cost the subscribers 50,000 dolls.
 It was opened June 19, 1787.

 free schools are supported here at the public expense, in which the children of every class of citizens may freely associate together. The number of scholars is computed at about 900, of which 160 are taught Latin, &c. There are, besides these, many private schools. The principal societies in the Commonwealth hold their meetings in this town, and are, the Marine Society, American Academy of Arts and Sciences, Massachusetts Agricultural Society, Massachusetts Charitable Society, Boston Episcopal Charitable Society, Massachusetts Historical Society, Society for propagating the Gospel, Massachusetts Congregational Society, Medical Society, Humane Society, Boston Library Society, Boston Mechanic Association, Society for the Aid of Emigrants, Charitable Fire Society, and seven respectable Lodges of free and accepted Masons. The foreign and domestic trade of Boston is very considerable, to support which there are three Banks, viz. the Branch of the United States Bank, the Union, and the Massachusetts Bank; the latter consists of 800 shares of 500 dollars, equal to 400,000; the capital of the Union Bank is 1,200,000 dollars, 400,000 of which is the property of the State. In 1748, 500 vessels cleared out of this port for, and 430 were entered from foreign parts. In 1784, the entries of foreign and coasting vessels were 372, and the clearances 450. In 1794, the entries from foreign ports were 567. In 1795, these entries amounted to 725, of which the ships were 96, barques 3, snows 9, polacre 1, brigs 185, dogger 1, schooners 362, shallop 1, and sloops 65. The principal manufactures consist of rum, loaf-sugar, beer, sail-cloth, cordage, wool and cotton cards, playing cards, pot and pearl ashes, paper hangings, hats, plate, glass, tobacco, and chocolate. There are 30 distilleries, 2 breweries, 8 sugar-houses, and 11 rope-walks. Eight years ago, the intercourse with the country barely required 2 stages and 12 horses, on the great road between this and N. Haven, distant 164 miles; whereas there were, in 1796, 20 carriages and 100 horses employed. The number of the different stages that run, through the week from this town was then upwards of 20, 8 years ago there were only 3. They have increased since. Attempts have been made to change the government of the town from its present form to that of a city; but this measure, not according with the democratic spirit of the people, has as yet failed. At an annual meeting in March, 9 Selectmen are chosen for the government of the town; at the same time are chosen a Town Clerk, a Treasurer, 12 Overseers of the Poor, 24 Firewards, 12 Clerks of the Market, 12 Scavengers, 12 Constables, besides a number of other officers. If the inhabitants do not reap all the advantages they have a right to expect from their numerous officers, it is not for want of wholesome laws for the regulation of the weights, measures and quality of provisions, or other branches of police; but, because the laws are not put in execution. Besides the called Trained Bands, there are 4 other military companies in Boston, viz. the Ancient and Honourable Artillery Company, the Cadets, Fusiliers, and Artillery. The Ancient and Honourable Artillery Company was incorporated in 1638, and the election of a captain and other officers for the year is on the 1st Monday in June annually, which is observed here as a day of festivity. Several officers in the American army, who signalized themselves in the late war, received their first knowledge of tactics in this military school. Boston was settled as early as 1631, by the Charlestown; it was called Shmut by the Indians; Trimountain by the settlers in Charlestown, from the view of its three hills; and had its present name as a token of respect to the Rev. Mr. Cotton, a minister of Boston in England, and afterwards minister of the first church in Boston, who was greatly damaged by an earthquake in Oct. 29, 1700, and since that time has suffered severely by numerous fires, houses being mostly built of wood. The large fire, July 1794, consumed 96 houses, rope-walks, &c. and the amount of losses given in by the sufferers amounted to 209,861 dollars. A considerable fire happened in New-Boston, in 1796, which consumed several rope-walks and other buildings. It was in Boston that the Revolution originated which gave independence to America, and from thence spread like an electrical shock throughout the Union. It suffered much at the commencement of the war by the loss of an extensive trade and other calamities. Boston cution. Besides the Bands, there were military companies of the Ancient and Artillery Companies, Fusiliers, and Artillery, and Honorary Company was in 1638, and the election and other officers are on the 1st of January annually, which are as a day of festivity for officers in the Army who signalized themselves in the late war, received knowledge of the military school. Boston was early as 1631, it was called Shawmut; Indians; Trimble's settlers in Charleston, the view of its knowledge of respect to the minister of Boston and afterwards the first church was greatly damaged in Oct. 29, 1780, at that time has suffered numerous fires, being mostly built of wood. A large fire, July 1786, destroyed 96 houses, and the accounts in by the sufferers 209,861 dollars. The fire happened in 1796, which destroyed rope-walks and other buildings. It was in the Revolution originated independence and from thence the terrible shock through the nation. It suffered much from the commencement of the war of an extensive trade calamities. Boston

BONSON Co. in Kentucky, being Licking and Kentucky rivers contains 7837 inhabitants.

BONSON, a post-town, and one of the above co. stands on a tract of land, formed by two southern branches of Licking river; 22 miles N. E. of Lexington. It contains about 60 houses, a Baptist church, a court-house and gaol.

BORSON, a county laid out and organized in the year 1785, in the State of Georgia, in the corner of the State, on the Mississippi, including the Natchez country. The laws of Georgia were never carried into effect in this co. and it has been under the jurisdiction of the Spaniards since their conquest of this part of the country in 1780, till it was given up to the United States, by the treaty of 1795. The law of Georgia, establishing the co. of Bourbon, is now in force. See Louisiana.

BOW, a township in Rockingham co. N. Hampshire, on the W. bank of Merrimack river, 53 miles W. of Portsmouth, and about 3 miles S. of Concord. It contains 568 inhabitants.

BOWDOIN, a township in Lincoln co. Maine, on the N. eastern bank of Androscoggin river; distant from York, N. easterly, 36 miles, and from the mouth of Kennebeck river, 6 miles; and 166 N. E. of Boston. It contains 983 inhabitants.

BOWDOINHAM, a township in Lincoln co. Maine, separated from Pownalborough E. and Woolwich S. E. by Kennebeck river. It has 455 inhabitants, and lies 171 miles N. E. from Boston.

BOWLING Green, a village in Virginia, on the post-road, 22 miles S. of Fredericksburg, 48 N. of Richmond, and 25 N. of Hanover court-house.

BOXBOROUGH, a township in Middlesex co. Massachusetts, containing 412 inhabitants; 30 miles N. W. from Boston.

BOXFORD, a small township in Essex co. Massachusetts, having 925 inhabitants. It lies on the S. E. side of Merrimack river, 7 miles westerly of Newbury-Port. In the southernmost of its two parishes is a bloomery.

BOYLSTON, a township in Worcester co. Massachusetts, having 839 inhabitants; 10 miles N. E. of Worcester, and 45 N. W. of Boston.

BOZMAN, a town in New-London co. Connecticut, formerly a parish in the town of Norwich, 36 miles E. S. E. of Hartford.

BRADDOCK'S Field, the place where Gen. Braddock, with the first division of his army, consisting of 1400 men, fell into an ambuscade of 400 men, chiefly Indians, by whom he was defeated and mortally wounded, July 9, 1755. The American militia, who were disdainfully turned in the rear, continued unbroken and served as a rear guard; and, under Col. Washington, the late President of the U. S. A. preserved the regulars from being entirely cut off. It is situated on Turtle Creek, on the N. E. bank of Monongahela river, 6 miles E. S. E. from Pittsburg, Pennsylvania.

BRADFORD, East and West, are townships in Chester co. Pennsylvania.

BRADFORD, a township in Essex co. Massachusetts, opposite Haverhill, and 10 miles W. of Newbury-Port. It has two parishes, and 1371 inhabitants.

BRADFORD, a township in Hillsborough co. N. Hampshire, containing 217 inhabitants, incorporated in 1760; 20 miles E. of Charlestown, and about the same distance W. of Concord.

BRADFORD, a township in Orange co. Vermont, on the W. bank of Connecticut river, about 20 miles above Dartmouth College, having 654 inhabitants.

BRAINTREE, a township in Orange co. Vermont, lies 75 miles N. eastward of Bennington. It joins Kingston westward, Randolph on the eastward, and contains 221 inhabitants.

BRAINTREE, one of the most ancient townships in Norfolk co.

in the State of Massachusetts, was settled in 1625, and then called Mount Wollaston. It lies on a bay, 8 miles E. of S. from Boston, and contained, before its division, 400 houses and 2771 inhabitants. Great quantities of granite stones are sent to Boston from this town for sale. This town is noted for having produced, in former and latter times, very respectable characters both in church and state; and, in distant ages, will derive no small degree of fame, for having given birth to JOHN ADAMS, the first Vice-President, and the second President of the United States of America; a man highly distinguished for his patriotism, as a citizen; his justice, integrity, and talents, as a lawyer; his profound and extensive erudition, as a writer; and his discernment, firmness, and success, as a foreign minister and statesman.

BRANDON, a township in Rutland co. Vermont, on Otter Creek, containing 637 inhabitants, and is about 60 miles northerly from Bennington.

BRANDYWINE Creek falls into Christiana Creek from the northward, at Wilmington, in Delaware State. This Creek is famous for a bloody battle, fought September 11, 1777, between the British and Americans, which lasted nearly the whole day, and the latter were defeated with considerable loss; but it was far from being of the decisive kind which people have been led to expect, in the event of a meeting between the hostile armies, on nearly equal terms, both as to numbers, and the nature of the ground on which each army was situated. It was fought at Chadds Ford, and in the neighbourhood of, and

BRAZIL, or Brasil, comprehends the Portuguese settlements in America, and is situated between the equator and 35 S. lat. and between 35 and 60 W. long. and in length 2,500 miles, and in breadth 700 miles. Bounded by the mouth of the river Amazon, and the Atlantic Ocean, on the W.; by the same ocean on the E.; the mouth of the river Plata, and by morasses, lakes, torrents, rivers, and mountains, which separate it from Amazon and the Spanish possessions, on the W. It has three grand divisions.—1. The northern contains 8 provinces. 2. The middle division—5 captainships. 3.

The southern division—3 cap-tainships. The number of considerable cities are 16; of these Salvadore, in the Bay of All saints, is the chief, and is the capital of Brazil; the second in rank is Rio de Janeiro.

The climate of Brazil is temperate and mild, owing chiefly to the refreshing wind, which blows continually from the sea.
The air is not only cool, but chilly during the night, so that the natives kindle a fire every evening in their huts. The rivers in this country annually overflow their banks, and the soil, in consequence, is in many places amazingly rich. The vegetable productions are, Indian corn, sugar-canes, tobacco, indigo, balsam, ipecacuanha, brazil wood, yellow fustic, and a beautiful kind of speckled wood used in cabinet work. Here are five different sorts of palm trees, curious ebony, and a great variety of cotton trees. This country abounds in horned cattle, which are hunted for their hides only, 20,000 being sent annually to Europe. There is a numberless variety of fowl, wild and tame, in this country. The trade of Brazil is very great, and is said, increases every year. They import as many as 40,000 negroes annually. The exports of Brazil are diamonds, gold, sugar, tobacco, hides, drugs and medicines; and they receive in return, woollen goods of all kinds, linens, laces, silks, hats, lead, tin, potter, copper, iron, beef, and cheese. They also receive from Madeira, a great quantity of wine, vinegar and brandy; and from the Azores, £25,000 worth of other liquors. The gold and diamond mines were first opened in 1681, and have since yielded above five millions sterling annually, of which a fifth part belongs to the crown. These, with the sugar plantations, occupy so many hands, that agriculture lies neglected, and Brazil depends upon Europe for its daily bread; although before the discovery of these mines, the soil was found very sufficient for subsisting the inhabitants. The diamonds here are neither so hard, nor so clear as those of the E. Indies, neither do they sparkle so much, but they are whiter. The Brazilian diamonds are sold ten per cent. cheaper than the oriental ones, supposing the weights to be equal. The crown revenue arising from this colony, amounts annually to two millions sterling in gold, besides the duties and customs on merchandize imported from that quarter. The Portuguese here live in the most effeminate luxury. When people appear abroad they are carried in a kind of cotton hammocks, called serpentines, which are borne on negroes' shoulders: similar to palanquins in India. The portrait drawn of the manners, customs, and morals of that nation, in America, by judicious travellers, is very far from being favourable. The Portuguese discovered this country in 1500, but did not plant it till the year 1549, when they took possession of All Saints Bay, and built the city of St. Salvadore. The Dutch invaded Brazil in 1623, and subdued the northern provinces; but the Portuguese agreed in 1661, to pay the Dutch eight tons of gold, to relinquish their interest in this country, which was accepted.

BRECKNOCK, a township in Lancaster co. Pennsylvania.

BRENTWOOD, a township in Rockingham co. N. Hampshire, having 976 inhabitants; distant 7 miles W. from Exeter, and 19 from Portsmouth.

BRETON, Cape. The island, or rather collection of islands, called by the French Les Isles Madame, which lie so contiguous as that they are commonly called but one, and comprehended under the name of the Island of Cape Breton, lies between lat. 45 28 and 47 N. and between 64 44 and 61 29 W. long. and about 45 leagues to the eastward of Halifax. It is about 109 miles in length, and from 20 to 84 in breadth; and is separated from Nova-Scotia by a narrow strait called the Gut of Canso, which the communication between the Atlantic Ocean and the Gulf of St. Lawrence. This island was considered as annexed to Nova Scotia in respect to matters of government till 1784, when it was erected into a separate government by the name of Sydney. There is a great proportion of arable land on this island; and it abounds in timber and hard wood, such as pine, beach, birch, maple, spruce, and fir. Here are about 1000 inhabitants, who have a lieutenant governor resident among them, appointed by the king. Ile Madame, which is an appendage to this government, is settled for the most part with French Acadians, about 50 families, whose chief employment is the fishery at Asimot, the principal harbor in this little island. The principal towns are Sydney, the capital, and Louisbourg, which has the best harbor in the island. The present seat of government is at Spanish river on the north side of the island. This island may be considered as the key to Canada, and the very valuable fishery in its neighborhood depends for its protection on the possession of this island, as no nation can carry it on, with on of islands, called the French Les Isles, which lie so contiguous that they are commonly comprehended under the name of the Islands, lies between lat. 44° N. and between long. 66° W. long. and about 100 miles to the eastward of the mouth of the St. Lawrence from 20 to 84 miles is separated from the continent by a narrow strait called the Gulf of Canada, which is a communication between the Atlantic and the Gulf of Mexico. This island was annexed to Nova Scotia in 1784, when it was made into a separate government, and the name of Sydney was given to the great proportion of the population on this island; and it is a timber and a pine beach, birch, and fir. There are no inhabitants, who are appointed by the governor to this government, and for the most part are Acadians, about 1000, who are the chief employment at Annapolis, the port in this little island. The principal towns are Annapolis, and Louisbourg, which is the best harbor. The present sea is at Spanish river, and the side of the island may be considered as a bay, and the very dry in its neighbourhood for its protection of this island, and can carry it on with some convenient harbor of length to supply and protect it, and Louisbourg is the principal port for these purposes. Great advantages are derived from the mines which are situated near the entrance of the harbor, the working of which, and the fishery, are the chief employment of the inhabitants. They lie in a horizontal direction; and between 6 or 8 feet below the surface, may be worked without digging deep, or draining the waters. In one of these mines, a fire has been kindled, which could never yet be extinguished. These mines yield a revenue of £12,000 yearly to the crown. The French, who took possession of this island in 1713, were properly the first settled inhabitants. They changed its name into that of Royale, and fixed upon Fort Amherst for their principal settlement. In 1720, the fortifications of Louisbourg were begun. The island remained in the possession of the French till 1745, when it was captured by the New-England militia under the command of Col. William Pepperell, and a squadron under Commodore Warren. It was afterwards restored to the French, and again taken in 1758, by Admiral Boscawen, and General Amherst, when the garrison, consisting of 5,600 men, were made prisoners; and 11 men of war in the harbor, were either taken, sunk or burnt; and it was ceded to Great-Britain by the peace of 1763.

BREWINGTON, Fort, lies in the township of Mexico, N. York, and at the W. end of Lake Ontario, about 24 miles S. E. from Fort Oswego.

BRIAR Creek, a water of Savannah river in Georgia. Its mouth is about 50 miles S. E. by S. from Augusta, and 55 N. westerly from Savannah.

BRIDGETOWN, in Cumberland co. Maine. It contains 329 inhabitants, and lies 34 miles N. by N. W. from Portland, and 156 N. E. from Boston. There is a curiosity to be seen in Long Pond, which lies mostly in Bridgetown, which may afford matter of speculation to the natural philosopher. On the easterly side of the pond is a cove which extends about 100 rods farther E. than the general course of the shore, the bottom is clay, and so shoal that a man may wade 50 rods into the pond. On the bottom of this cove are stones of various sizes, which, it is evident from many circumstances, have an annual motion towards the shore; the proof of this is the mark or track left behind them, and the bodies of clay driven up before them. Some of these stones are 2 or 3 tons weight, and have left a track of several rods behind them; having at least a common cart-load of clay before them. The shore of the cove is lined with these stones, which, it would seem, have crawled out of the water.

BRIDGETOWN, the chief town of Cumberland co. N. Jersey, and near the centre of it. It is 50 miles S. S. E. of Philadelphia; 80 S. by E. of Trenton, and 145 S. W. of New-York.

BRIDGETOWN, a post-town in Queen Ann's co. Maryland, on the western side of Tuckahoe Creek, 8 miles E. from Centerville, as far S. E. from Church-Hill, and 65 S. W. from Philadelphia. Also the name of a town in Kent co. in the same State, on the N. bank of Chester river, 7 miles S. E. from Cross Roads; and 4 southerly from Newmarket.

BRIDGETOWN, in the island of Antigua. See Willoughby Bay.

BRIDGETOWN, the metropolis of the island of Barbadoes, in the West-Indies, lying in the S. W. part of the island, and in the parish of St. Michael. It is situated in the innermost part of Carlisle bay, which is large enough to contain 500 ships, being $1\frac{1}{2}$ league long and one broad; but the bottom is foul and apt to cut the cables. The streets are broad, the houses high, and there is also a Cheapside, where the rents are as high as those in London. It has a college, founded, and liberally endowed by Col. Codrington, the only institution of the kind in the W. Indies; but it does not appear that its success has answered the designs of the founder. The town has commodious wharves for loading and unloading goods, and is well defended by a number of forts; but it is very subject to hurricanes. This town had scarcely risen from the ashes to which it had been reduced by a succession of dreadful fires, when it was torn from its foundations, and the whole country made a scene of desolation, by a storm on the 20th of October, 1780, in which above 4000 of the inhabitants miserably perished; the force of the wind was then so great, as not only to blow down the strongest walls, but even lifted some pieces of cannon off the ramparts and carried them some yards distance; and the damage to the country in general was estimated at £1,320,504-15 sterl. and it is scarcely yet restored to its former splendor.

BRIDGEWATER, a township in Grafton co. New-Hampshire, incorporated in 1769, and containing 287 inhabitants.

BRIDGEWATER, a township in Somerset co. New-Jersey, which contains 2,578 inhabitants, including 377 slaves.

BRIDGEWATER, a considerable township in Plymouth co. Massachusetts, containing 4975 inhabitants; 5 miles N. E. from Raynham; about 30 miles E. S. from Boston, in which large quantities of hard ware, nails &c. are manufactured. At the sitting mills in this place 40 tons of iron were cut, in the year 1795, of which 200 tons were rolled into hoop iron for casks, and for cutting nails.

BRIDGEWATER, a township in Windsor co. Vermont, about 10 miles N. E. of Bennington, containing 293 inhabitants.

BRIDGEWATER, a new township in Herkemer co. N. York, taken from Sangerfield, and incorporated in 1797.

BRIDPORT, a township in Addison co. Vermont, on the shore of Lake Champlain; about 72 miles N. N. W. from Bennington. It has 449 inhabitants.

BRISTOL Co. in Rhode-Island, contains the townships of Bristol, Warren, and Barrington; containing 3211 inhabitants.

BRISTOL, a sea-port town, and chief of the above county, lies on the E. side of Bristol bay. It is 13 miles northerly from New-Hampshire, 24 S. E. from Providence, 63 from Boston. Bristol suffered greatly by the ravages of the late war; but is now in a flourishing state, having 3211 inhabitants. It is beautiful for situation—a healthful climate—rich soil, and a commodious, safe harbor.

BRISTOL, a township in Hartford co. Connecticut, 16 miles from the city of Hartford.

BRISTOL, a town in Bucks co. Pennsylvania, 11 miles S. S. E. from Newtown, and 20 N. E. from Philadelphia. It stands on the Delaware river, opposite Burlington, in New-Jersey; and has about 50 or 60 houses. It is a thoroughfare, 6 stages pass through the town, and it is used for its mills of several kinds. The chalybeate baths of this town are represented, perhaps, a little extravagantly, as equal to any in Europe—as being serviceable in cases of debility, and irritability of the nervous system, as hysterics, epistaxis, gout, diarrhæa, a want of appetite, dropsy, rheumatism, &c. The baths are about half a mile from the compact part of the town, and have been lately set up for the accommodation of valetudinarians. There are 4 plunging baths, a shower bath, and 1 hot bath, all in separate rooms completely furnished, adjoining a large commodious airy room, which commands an extensive and beautiful prospect.

BRISTOL, a township in Philadelphia county,

BRISTOL, a small town in Charles co. Maryland.

BRISTOL, a new town of New-York in Schoharie co. incorporated in 1797.

BRITAIN, New. The country lying round Hudson bay, or the country of the Esquimaux, comprehending Labrador, New N. and S. Wales, has obtained the general name of New-Britain, and is attached to the government of Lower Canada. A superintendent of trade, appointed by the governor general of the four British provinces, and responsible to him, resides at Labrador. The principal rivers which water this country, are the Wager, Monk Seal, Pockerekesko, Churchill, Nelson, Hayes, New-Severn, Albany and Moose rivers, all which empty into Hudson and James' bay, from the W. and S. The mouths of all the rivers are filled with shoals, except Churchill's, in which the largest ships may lie; but 10 miles higher the channel is obstructed by sand banks. All the rivers, as far as they have been explored, are full of rapids and cataracts, from 10 to 60 feet perpendicular. Down these rivers the Indian traders find a quick passage; but their return is a labour of many months. Copper Mine, and McKenzies rivers, fall into the North Sea. As far inland as the Hudson bay Company have settlements, which is 600 miles to the west of fort Churchill, at a place called Hudson House, lat. 53 long. 106 27 W. from London, is flat country. The vast countries which surround Hudson bay, abound with animals, whose fur and skins are excellent. In 1670, a charter was granted to the Hudson bay Company, which does not consist of above 9 or 10 persons, for the exclusive trade to this bay; and they have acted under it ever since, with great benefit to the individuals who compose the company, though comparatively with little advantage to Britain. The company employ 4 ships, and 130 seamen. They have several forts which are garrisoned by 186 men. The French, in May, 1784, took and destroyed these forts, and the settlements, &c. said to amount to the value of £500,000. They export commodities to the value of £16,000, and carry home returns to the value of £29,340, which yield to the revenue £3,734. This includes the fishery in Hudson's Bay. The only attempt to trade to that part which is called Labrador, has been directed towards the fishery. The annual produce of the fishery amounts to upwards of £49,000.

BRITAIN, New, a large island in the Pacific ocean, lying N. E. of Dampier's Straits, between 4 and 7 S. lat. and 146 and 149 E. long. from Paris. There is nothing yet discovered peculiarly different in its productions or its inhabitants, from those of the other islands in its neighborhood. It has the appearance of a mountainous country, and is covered with large and stately trees. It is surrounded with many fertile islands, most of which are said to yield abundance of plantain and cocoa-nut trees.

BRITISH AMERICA. Under the general name of British America, we comprehend the vast extent of country, bounded S. by the United States of America, and the Atlantic ocean; E. by the same ocean and Davis's Straits, which divide it from Greenland; extending N. to the northern limits of Hudson bay charter; and westward indefinitely—lying between 42 30 and 70 N. lat.; and between 50 and 96 W. long. from Greenwich. British America is divided into four provinces, viz. 1. Upper Canada; 2. Lower Canada, to which are annexed New-Britain, or the country lying round Hudson bay, and the island of Cape Breton or Sydney; 3. New-Brunswick; 4. Nova-Scotia, to which is annexed the island of St. John's. Besides these, there is the island of Newfoundland, which is governed by the admiral for the time being, and two lieutenant governors, who reside at Placentia and St. John's. The number of people in the whole northern British colonies is perhaps 160,000 or 180,000.

BROADALBIN, a township in Montgomery co. N. York; which, by the State census of 1796, contained 277 electors.

BROUGHTON Island, lies at the mouth of Alatomaha river, in Georgia.

BROWNSVILLE, or Redstone Old-fort, is a flourishing post-town in Fayette co. Pennsylvania; on the S. eastern bank of Monongahela river; between Dunlap and Redstone creeks; and, next to Pittsburg, is the most considerable town in the western parts of the State. The town is regularly laid out, and contains about 100 houses, an Episcopalian and Roman Catholic church, a brewery and distillery. It is connected with Bridgeport, a small village on the opposite side of Dunlap creek, by a bridge 260 feet long. Within a few miles of the town are 4 Friends' meeting-houses, 24 grist, saw, oil, and fulling mills. The trade and emigration to Kentucky, employ boat-builders here very profitably; above 100 boats of 40 tons each, are built annually. Byrd's Fort formerly stood here, on the S. side of the mouth of Redstone Creek, in N. lat. 39 58, W. long. 81 12½; 37 miles southerly from Pittsburg; 13 S. by E. of Washington, and 34½ W. of Philadelphia.

BRUNSWICK, a maritime county in Wilmington district, North-Carolina, containing 3,071 inhabitants. It is the most southerly county of the State, having S. Carolina on the S. W. and bounded by Cape Fear river, on the E. Smithville is the seat of justice.

BRUNSWICK, the chief town in the above county, is situated on the W. side of Cape Fear river; it was formerly the best built the whole State, and carried the most extensive trade. It is 30 miles above the cape, about 9 miles N. of Fort Johnston, S. W. of Wilmington, and was formerly the seat of government. In 1780, it was burnt down by the British, and has now only 4 houses and an elegant church in ruins.

BRUNSWICK, a township in Essex co. Vermont, on the bank of Connecticut river, opposite Stratford, in N. Hampshire.

BRUNSWICK, a city in Middlesex co. N. Jersey, is situated on the S. W. bank of Raritan river in a low situation; the most of the houses being built under a hill which rises W. of the town. It has between 200 and 300 houses, and about 2,500 inhabitants, one half of whom are Dutch. Queen's college was in this city but is now extinct as a place of instruction. There is a considerable inland trade carried here. One of the most elegant and expensive bridges in America, has been built over the river opposite the city. Brunswick is 18 miles N. E. of Princetown, N. E. from Philadelphia, and S. W. from N. York. N. lat. 30, W. long. 74 30.

BRUNSWICK, in Cumberland co. Maine, contains 1,387 inhabitants, and lies N. E. of Portland 30 miles, and of Boston 100. Bowdoin College is to be established in this town.

A college was in this extinct as a place. There is a commerce and trade carried on the most elegant bridges in America built over the river. Brunswick is E. of Princetown, Philadelphia, and N. York. N. lat. 43. 74 30.

BRUNSWICK, in Cumberland contains 1,387 inhabitants N. E. of Portland and of Boston College is to be established in this town.

BRUNSWICK, the chief town of Georgia, is situated on the bank of Turtle river, harbour, and sufficient to contain. Although there is an entrance of the

it has depth of water for the largest ship that swims. The river is regularly laid out, but yet built. From its advantageous situation, and from the fertility of the back country, it is supposed to be one of the most commercial and flourishing places in the State. It lies 19 miles from Darien, 60 S. S. W. from Savannah, and 110 S. E. from Louisville.

BRUNSWICK, New, one of the British provinces in North America, has Maine on the W. Nova-Scotia on the S. E. The chief towns are St. John's, capital, Frederick-Town, St. Ann, and St. Ann, the present seat of government. The principal river is St. John's, which is a vast extent of fine country in which are rich intervals of meadow lands; most of which are settled and under improvement. The upland is in general well timbered. The trees are pine and spruce, hemlock and fir, wood, principally beech, maple, and some ash. The mountains on St. John's river, are the most to be met with in British America, and afford a considerable supply of masts for the royal navy.

The rivers which fall into the Chesapeake Bay, have inlets and meadows on their banks, and must formerly have been covered with a large growth of timber; as the remains of the tree trunks are yet to be seen. During fire passed through that country, in a very dry season, according to Indian accounts) years ago, and spread destruction to an immense extent.

BRUNSWICK Co. in Virginia, is situated between Nottaway and Meherrin rivers, and contains 12,827 inhabitants, including 6776 slaves.

BUEN-AIRE, one of the Leeward Isles in the W. Indies. It is small; lies eastward of Curaçoa, and belongs to the Dutch.

BUENOS AYRES, is one of the most considerable towns in South-America, and the only place of traffic to the southward of Brazil.

It is the capital of Paraguay, or La Plata, in the S. division and province of La Plata. S. lat. 34 35, W. long. 57 54. This city is a bishop's see, is well fortified and defended. It has an elegant cathedral, a small Indian church, and about 4000 houses. Here we meet with the merchants of Europe and Peru; but no regular fleet comes here as to the other parts of Spanish America; 2, or at most 3, register ships, make the whole of their regular intercourse with Europe. The returns are chiefly gold and silver of Chili and Peru, sugar and hides. The most valuable commodities come here to be exchanged for European goods, such as Vigogna wool from Peru, copper from Coquimbo, gold from Chili, and silver from Potosi. From the towns of Corientes and Paraguay, the former 250, the latter 500 leagues from Buenos Ayres, are brought hither the finest tobacco, sugars, cotton, thread, yellow wax, and cotton cloth; and from Paraguay, the herb, so called, and so highly valued, being a kind of tea drank all over S. America by the better sort; which one branch is computed to amount to a million of pieces of eight, annually, all paid in goods, no money being allowed to pass here. The commerce between Peru and Buenos Ayres is chiefly for cattle and mules to an immense value. It is surrounded by a spacious plain, and pleasant country, abounding with all good things; and there is perhaps no place on the globe where meat is better or cheaper.

BURLINGTON, city, the chief town of the above co. is under the government of a mayor, aldermen, and common council.

The extent of the township is 3 miles along the Delaware, and a mile back; being about 18 miles N. of Philadelphia, and 11 S. from Trenton. The island, which is the most populous part, is about a mile each way. It has entrances over bridges, and seaways, and a quantity of meadow adjoining. On the island are about 160 houses, 1200 inhabitants. The main streets are conveniently spacious, and ornamented with rows of houses. The town is opposite Bristol in Pennsylvania, where the river is about a mile wide. Burlington was first settled in 1677, and has an academy and free school. Mittenicunk island beongs to the latter, and yields a early profit of £.180. Burlington has a place of public worship for the Friends, and another for the Episcopalians; the former denominations of christians are the most numerous. Here are two market-houses, and the best gaol in the State. There is likewise a oil manufactory, and a distillery.

CAMBRIDGE, the half shire town of Middlesex co. Massachusetts, is one of the largest and most respectable townships of the county. Its three parishes, Cambridge, Little Cambridge, and Menotomy, contain 3 Congregational meeting-houses, one for Baptists, and another for Episcopals; a number of very pleasant seats, and 2,115 inhabitants. It contains about 100 dwelling-houses. Its public buildings, (besides the edifices which belong to Harvard university) are the Episcopal and Congregational meeting-houses, and a handsome court-house. The college buildings are 4 in number, and are of brick, named Harvard, Hollis, and Massachusetts Halls, and Holden Chapel. They stand on a beautiful green which spreads to the N. W. and exhibit a pleasing view. This university, as to its library, philosophical apparatus and professorships, is at present the first literary institution on this continent. It takes its date from the year 1638. Since its establishment, to July, 1794, 3399 students have received honorary degrees from its successive officers. It has generally from 140 to 200 students. The library contains upwards of 12,000 volumes. The cabinet of minerals, in the museum, contains the more useful productions of nature; and, (excepting what are called the precious stones) there are very few substances yet discovered in the mineral kingdom, but what may be found here. The university owes this noble collection of minerals, and several other natural curiosities, to the munificence of Dr. Letson, of London, and to that of the republic of France. N. lat. 42 23 28, W. long. from Greenwich, 71 7 30.

CAMBRIDGE, a post-town of Ninety-Six district, S. Carolina. It contains about 60 houses, a court-house, and a brick gaol. The college by law instituted here is no better than a grammar school. It is 80 miles N. N. W. of Columbia; 50 N. by W. of Augusta, in Georgia; 140

N. W. of Charleston, and 76 S. W. of Philadelphia.

CAMBRIDGE, the chief town of Dorchester co. Maryland, is 126 miles W. S. W. of Newmarket, and 57 S. E. of Baltimore. Its situation is healthy, and it contains about 50 houses and a church.

us; having, according to Bat tram, "above 100 houses; many wealthy merchants; respectable public buildings; a vast resort of inhabitants and travellers, and continual brisk commerce by waggons from the back settle ments, with large trading-boats."

CAMPBELL's Port, in the State of Tennessee, stands near the junction of Holston river, with the Tennessee; distant 135 miles from Abingdon, in Washington co. Virginia, and 445 W. of Rich mond in Virginia.

CAMPBELL's Salines, in North Holston, in the State of Tennessee, are the only ones that have yet been discovered on the upper branches of the Tennessee. Many thousands of people are now sup plied from them with salt of a superior quality, and at a low price. The tract consists of about 300 acres of salt marsh land, of as rich a soil as can be imagined.
In this flat, pits are sunk in or der to obtain the salt water. The best is found from 30 to 40 feet deep; after passing through the rich soil or mud, from 6 to 10 feet, you come to a very brittle lime-stone rock, with cracks or chafins, through which the salt water issues into the pits, whence it is drawn by buckets and put into the boilers, which are placed in furnaces adjoining the pits. The hills that surround this flat, are covered with fine timber; and a coal-mine has been discovered not far from it.

CAMPEACHY, a town in the au dience of Old-Mexico, or New Spain, and province of Yucatan, situated on the bay of Campea chy, near the W. shore. Its houses are well built of stone; when taken by the Spaniards it was a large town of 3,000 houses, and had considerable monuments of Indian art and industry. There is a good dock and fort, with a governor and garrison, commanding both the town and harbor. It was stormed and taken, either by the English or French buccaniers, in 1659, 1678, and last in 1685, when these freebooters united, and plundered every place within 15 leagues round it, for the space of 2 months; they afterwards set fire to the fort and town, which the governor, who kept the field with his men, would not ransom; & to complete the pillage by a singular piece of folly, the French buccaniers celebrated the feast of their king, (the day of St. Louis) by burning to the value of £50,000 sterl. of Campeachy wood, which was a part of their share of the plunder. The port is large but shallow. It was formerly a stated market for logwood, of which great quantities grew in the neighbourhood.

CAMPO BELLO, a long and narrow island on the E. coast of Washington co. Maine.

CAMPTON, a small township in Grafton co. N. Hampshire; 35 miles N.E. of Dartmouth College, and 67 N.W. of Portsmouth. It contains 395 inhabitants.

CANAAN, a township in Grafton co. N. Hampshire, 10 miles E. of Dartmouth College, and has 483 inhabitants.

CANAAN, a township in Litchfield co. Connecticut, E. of Housatonic river, having Massachusetts on the N. Here is a forge and sitting mill, erected on a new construction; and the iron used here is said to be excellent. The mountains of Canaan, are found valuable specimens of minerals, particularly lead and iron. It lies 60 miles N. of New-Haven and 40 N. W. from Hartford.

CANAAN, a township in Essex co. Vermont, is the N. easternmost town in the State, and has 19 inhabitants.

CANAAN, a township in Columbia co. N. York, having Kinderhook on the W. and Massena on the E. It has 6,692 inhabitants.

CANADA. The British provinces of Upper and Lower Canada, constituted by act of parliament in 1791, comprehend the territory heretofore called Canada, lying between 61 and 81 W. long from London, and between 30 and 52 N. lat. In length about 1400 miles, and in breadth 500. Upper Canada lies N. of the great Lakes, and is separated from New-York by the river St. Lawrence, and the lakes Ontario and Erie. Lower Canada lies on both sides the river St. Lawrence, and is bounded S. by N. Brunswick, Maine, N. Hampshire, Vermont, and New-York; and W. by Upper Canada. Though the climate is cold, and the winter long and tedious, the soil is in general very good, and in many parts both pleasant & fertile, producing wheat, barley, rye, and many other sorts of grain, fruit, and vegetables; tobacco, in particular thrives well, and is much cultivated. The meadow grounds in Canada, which are well watered, yield excellent grass, and feed great numbers of great and small cattle. CANANDAQUA, a post-town, lake, and creek, in Ontario co.

New-York. The town is the shire town of the co. situated on the N. end of the lake of the same name, at its outlet into Canandaqua creek. The lake is about 20 miles long and 3 broad, and sends its waters in a N. eastward and eastward course 35 miles to Seneca river. This is the site of an ancient Indian town of the same name, and stands on the road from Albany to Niagara, 22 miles E. from Hartford on Genesee river; 16 miles W. of Geneva, and 235 miles N. W. from New-York city, measuring in a straight line, and 340 by Albany road. This settlement was begun by Messrs Gorham and Phelps, and is now in a flourishing state. There are about 30 or 40 houses, situated on a pleasant slope from the lake and the adjoining farms are under good cultivation. By the State census of 1796, it appears there are 291 electors in this township.

CANADA SAGA, or Seneca Lake, a handsome piece of water from 35 to 40 miles long, and about 2 miles broad, in New-York. At the N. W. corner of the Lake stands the town of Genesee, and on the E. side between Cayuga, are the towns of Seneca, Ovid, Hector and Ulysses in Onondago co. New-York. Its outlet is Cayage river.

CANAJOHARY, a post-town in Montgomery co. New-York, on the S. side of Mohawk river, comprehending a very large district of fine country, 36 miles W. of Albany. In 1796, 730 of the inhabitants were electors. This was the principal seat of the Mohawk nation of Indians, and abounds with apple trees of their planting, from the fruit of which is made cider of an excellent quality.

CANANEA, a small oblong island in the captainship of Brazil, S. America, belonging to the Portuguese, about 37 leagues from St. Vincent.

CAPE FEAR River, more prop-Clarendon, affords the best ation in N. Carolina. It to the Atlantic ocean by channels. The S. western largest channel will admit vessels drawing 10 or 11 feet, and is about 3 miles wide at its entrance, having 18 feet water at full tides over the bar. It continues its breadth to the flats, and is navigable for large vessels 21 miles from its mouth, and 14 from Wilmington; to which town vessels drawing 10 or 12 feet can reach without any risk.

As you ascend this river, you leave Brunswick on the left, and Wilmington on the right. A little above Wilmington the river divides into N. E. and N. W. branches. The former is broader than the latter, but it is neither so deep nor so long. The N. W. branch rises within a few miles of the Virginia line, and is formed by the junction of Haw and Deep rivers. Its general course is S. easterly. Sea vessels can go 25 miles above Wilmington, and large boats 90 miles, to Fayetteville. The N. E. branch joins the N. W. branch a little above Wilmington, and is navigable by sea vessels 20 miles above that town, and by large boats to South Washington, 40 miles further, and by rafts to Sarecto, which is nearly 70 miles.
The whole length of Cape Fear river is about 200 miles.

CAPE May, is the S. western-

N. E.

CAPE May Co. spreads northward, around the cape of its name, is a healthy, sandy tract of country, of sufficient fertility to give support to 2571 industrious and peaceable inhabitants.
The county is divided into Upper, Middle, and Lower precincts.

CARACAS, a province of Terra Firma, S. America, lying on the southern coast of the Caribbean Sea. The cocoa tree grows here in abundance. There are from 500 to 2000 trees in a walk, or plantation. These nuts are passed for money, and are used as such in the bay of Campeachy.

CARAMANTA, a province of Terra Firma, S. America, lying on the river Cauca, bounded N. by the district of Carthagena; E. by New-Granada; and S. and W. by Popayan, in the audience of Panama. It is a valley, surrounded by high mountains; and there are waters from which the natives extract very good salt. The capital of the same name lies in N. lat. 5 18, W. long. 75 15.

CARANGAS, a province and jurisdiction under the bishop of Plata, and 70 leagues W. of that city, in Peru, very barren in corn and grain, &c. but abounding in cattle.

CARDIGAN, New-Hampshire. See Orange.

CARIACO, a large gulf in the province of Comana, Terra Firma, S. America.

CARIACOU, is the chief of the small isles dependent on Grenada island. It contains 6913 acres of fertile and well cultivated land, producing about a million lbs. of cotton, besides corn, yams, potatoes and plantains for the negroes. It has two sugar plantations, and a town called Hillborough.

CARIBBEE Islands, in the West-Indies, extend in a semicircular form from the island of Porto Rico, the easternmost of the Antilles, to the coast of S. America. The chief of these islands are Santa Cruz, Sombuca, Anguilla, St. Martin, St. Bartholomew, Barbuda, Saba, St. Eustatia, St. Christopher, Nevis, Antigua, Montserrat, Guadaloupe, Desceada, Mariagante, Dominico, Martinico, St. Vincent, Barbadoes, and Grenada. These are again classed into Windward and Leeward isles by seamen, with regard to the usual courses of ships, from Old Spain or to the Canaries, to Carthagena or New-Spain, and Porto Bello.

CARIBOU, an island towards the E. end of Lake Superior.

CARLISLE, the chief town of Cumberland co. Pennsylvania, on the post-road from Philadelphia to Pittsburg; is 125 miles W. by N. from the former, and 178 E. from the latter, and 18 S. W. from Harrisburg. Its situation is pleasant and healthy, on a plain near the southern bank of Conedogwinet creek, a water of the Susquehanna. The town contains about 400 houses, chiefly of stone and brick, and about 1,500 inhabitants. The streets intersect each other at right angles, and the public buildings are a college, court-house and gaol, and 4 edifices for public worship. Of these the Presbyterians, Germans, Episcopalians, and Roman Catholics have each one. Dickinson College, named after the celebrated John Dickinson, Esq. has a principal, 3 professors, a philosophical apparatus, and a library containing near 3,000 volumes. Its revenue arises from £4,000 in funded certificates, and 10,000 acres of land. In 1787, there were 80 students, and its reputation is daily increasing.

CAYENNE, a province in S. America, belonging to the French, and the only part of the continent which they possess; bounded N. and E. by the Atlantic ocean; S. by Amazonia; and W. by Guiana, or Surinam. It extends 240 miles along the coast of Guiana, and nearly 300 miles within land; lying between the equator and the 5th degree of N.
lat. The coast is low and marshy, and subject to inundations, from the multitude of rivers which rush down the mountains with great impetuosity. The soil is in many places fertile, producing sugar, tobacco, Indian corn, fruits, &c.

CAYENNE River, which passes through this country, is 100 leagues long; the island which it environs, is 18 leagues in circuit, is good and fertile, but unhealthy.
In 1752, the exports of the colony were 260,541 lbs. of arnotto; 80,363 lbs. sugar; 17,919 lbs. cotton; 26,881 lbs. coffee, 91,916 lbs. cocoa; beside timber and planks.

CAYLOMA, a jurisdiction under the bishop of Arequipa, 32 leagues E. of that city, in South-America, in Peru, famous for the silver mines in the mountains of the same name; which are very rich, though they have been worked for a long time.

CAYUGA, a beautiful lake in Onondaga co. New-York, from 35 to 40 miles long, about 2 miles wide, in some places 3, and abounds with salmon, bass, catfish, cels, &c. The reservation lands of the Cayuga Indians lie on both sides of this lake, at its northern end.

CHACAPOYAS, a jurisdiction under the bishop of Truxillo, in Peru, S. America. It lies within the Cordilleras.

CHACTAW Hills, in the N. W. corner of Georgia river.

CHACTAWS, or flat heads, are a powerful, hardy, subtle and intrepid race of Indians, who inhabit a very fine and extensive tract of hilly country, with large and fertile plains intervening, between the Alabama and Mississippi rivers, and in the western part of the State of Georgia. This nation had, not many years ago, 43 towns and villages, in three divisions, containing 12,123 souls, of which 4,041 were fighting men.

Different from most of the Indian nations bordering on the United States, they have large plantations or country farms, where they employ much of their time in agricultural improvement after the manner of the white people. Altho' their territories are not 1/4th so large as those of the Muscogulge confederacy, the number of inhabitants is great. The Chactaws and Creeks are veteran enemies to each other. CHALEURS, a deep and broad bay on the W. side of the gulf of St. Lawrence.

CHAMBERSBURG, a post-town in Pennsylvania, and the chief of Franklin co. It is situated on the eastern branch of Conococheague creek, a water of Potomac river in a rich, and highly cultivated country, and healthy situation. Here are about 100 houses, 2 Presbyterian churches, a stone gaol, a handsome country house, built of brick, a paper and merchant mill. It is 58 miles by S. of Bedford, 11 N. W. of Shippensburg, and 157 W. of Philadelphia. N. lat. 39 53. W. long. 77 30.

CHAMBLEE River, or Sorell, a water of the St. Lawrence, issuing from lake Champlain, 300 yards wide when lowest; shoal in seasons, but of sufficient breadth for rafting lumber, &c. springing a fall.

CHAMBLEE Fort, is handsome and well built on the margin of the river of the same name, about 12 or 15 miles S. W. from Montreal. It was taken by the Americans, Oct. 20, 1775, and retaken by the British, Jan. 1776. N. lat. 45 45.

CHARLES River, in Massachusetts, is a considerable stream, the principal branch of which rises from a pond bordering on Hopkinton. It empties into Boston harbor, and mingles with the waters of Mystic river, at the point of the peninsula of Charlestown. It is navigable for boats to Watertown, 7 miles. The most remarkable bridges on this river are those which connect Boston with Charlestown and Cambridge.
There are 7 paper mills on this river, besides other mills.

CHARLES Co. on the western shore of Maryland, lies between Potowmack and Patuxent rivers.
Its chief town is Port Tobacco, on the river of that name. It contains 20,613 inhabitants, including 10,085 slaves.

CHARLES City Co. in Virginia, lies between Chickahominy and James rivers. It has 5588 inhabitants, including 3141 slaves.

CHARLEST. WN, a post-town in Cecl co. Maryland, near the head of Chesapeake bay; 6 miles E. N. E. from the mouth of Sus-channah river; 10 W. S. W. from Elkton, and 50 S. W. by W. from Philadelphia. Here are about 20 houses, chiefly inhabited by fishermen employed in the herring fishery.

CHARLESTON, a district in the Lower country of S. Carolina, subdivided into 14 parishes. This large district, of which the city of Charleston is the capital, lies between Santee and Combahee rivers. It contains 66,986 inhabitants, of whom only 16,354 are free.

CHARLESTON, the metropolis of South-Carolina, is situated in the district of the same name, and on the tongue of land formed by the confluent streams of Ashley and Cooper, which are short rivers, but large and navigable. These waters unite immediately below the city, and form a spacious and convenient harbor; which communicates with the ocean just below Sullivan's island; which it leaves on the N. 7 miles S. E. of Charleston. In these rivers the tide rises, in common, about 6½ feet; but uniformly rises 10 or 12 inches more during a night tide. The continual agitation which the tides occasion in the waters which almost surround Charleston—the refreshing sea breezes which are regularly felt, and the smoke arising from so many chimneys, render this city more healthy than any part of the low country in the Southern States. On this account it is the resort of great numbers of gentlemen, invalids from the W. India islands, and of the rich planters from the country, who come here to spend the lucky months, as they are called, in quest of health and of the social enjoyments which the city affords. And in no part of America are the social blessings enjoyed more rationally and liberally than here. Unaffected hospitality—affability—ease of manners and address, and a disposition to make their guests welcome, easy and pleased with themselves, are characteristics of the respectable people of Charleston. The land on which the town is built is flat and low, and the water brackish and unwholesome. The streets are pretty regularly cut, and open beautiful prospects, and have subterranean drains to carry off filth, and keep the city clean and healthy; but are too narrow for so large a place, and so warm a climate. The general breadth is from 35 to 60 feet. The houses which have been lately built, are brick, with tiled roofs. The buildings in general are elegant, and most of them are neat, airy and well furnished. The public buildings are, an exchange, a state-house, an armoury, a poor-house, and an orphan's house. Here are several respectable academies. Part of the old barracks have been handsomely fitted up, and converted into a college, and there are a number of students; but it can only be called as yet a respectable academy. Here are two banks—a branch of the national bank, and the S. Carolina bank, established in 1792. The houses for public worship are two Episcopal churches, two for Independents, one for Scotch Presbyterians, one for Baptists, one for German Lutherans, two for Methodists, one for French Protestants, a meeting-house for Quakers, a Roman Catholic chapel, and a Jewish synagogue. And in no part of the social blessings of the town. Unaffected hospitality—ease of manners and a disposition to receive guests with welcome. The climate of the respective towns. Charleston. The town is built on a low, sandy, and the water is wholesome. The town is regularly cultivated. The prospect is beautiful. The town is drained by a canal, and keep the water healthy; but are so large a place, that the climate is from 35 to 60 degrees, which have been, are brick, with the buildings elegant, and most airy and well furnished. The public buildings are a state-house, a poor-house, and a court-house. Here are several academies, and barracks have been fitted up, and a college, and a number of students are called as you academy. Here is a branch of the S. Carolina, and the S. Carolina, established in 1794, public worship in the churches, two, one for Scotch, one for Baptists, Lutherans, two for French, meeting-house for an Catholic chapel, and a synagogue. Little is paid to the public acts; a great proportion of the most wealthy inhabitants are engaged in plantations from which they receive supplies of almost every article of living. The country abounds with poultry and wild ducks. Their beef, mutton and veal are not generally of the best kind; and few fish are found in the market. In 1791, it was computed that there were 1600 houses in this city, and 10,000 inhabitants, including slaves; and what evinces the healthiness of the place, upwards of 200 of the white inhabitants were above 60 years of age. In 1791, there were 16,359 inhabitants, of whom 7,684 were slaves. This city has often suffered much by fire; the last and most destructive happened in late 1796. Charleston was incorporated in 1783, and divided into three wards, which have as many wardens, from whom the citizens elect a council, who have power to regulate and enforce bye-laws for the regulation of the city. The value of exports from this city in the year ending Nov. 1795, amounted to £505,279-19-5. The number of vessels cleared from the custom-house the year, was 947, measuring 18 tons; 735 of these, measuring 41,531 tons, were American, the others belonged to Great Britain, Ireland, Spain, France, the United Netherlands. In the year 1794, the value of exports amounted to 3,846,392 dollars. It is 60 miles S. W. by S. of Georgetown; 150 E. by S. of Augusta; 497 S. by W. of Richmond; 630 S. W. by S. of Washington city; 763 S. W. by S. of Philadelphia; and 1,110 S. W. of Boston. The light-house lies in N. lat. 32 41 52. White Point at the S. end of the town, N. lat. 32 44 30, W. long. 80 39 45.

CHARLESTOWN, a township in Montgomery co. N. York, on the S. side of Mohawk river, about 32 miles W. of Schenectady. By the State census of 1796, 456 of the inhabitants are electors.

CHARLESTOWN, a township in Mason co. Kentucky; situated on the Ohio. It is 6 miles N. of Washington, and 60 N. E. of Lexington.

CHARLESTOWN, a township in Chester co. Pennsylvania.

CHARLESTOWN, a post-town in Cheshire co. New-Hampshire, on the E. side of Connecticut river, 30 miles S. of Dartmouth College; upwards of 70 N. of Northampton, 120 W. by N. of Portsmouth, and 341 N. N. E. of Philadelphia. It was incorporated in 1753, and contains 90 or 100 houses, a Congregational church, a court-house, and an academy. The road from Boston to New-Beck passes through this town. N. lat. 43 16, W. long. 73 19.

CHARLESTOWN, the principal town in Middlesex co. Massachusetts, lies N. of Boston, with which it is connected by Charles river Bridge. The town, properly so called, is built on a peninsula, formed by Mystic river on the E. and a bay, setting up from Charles river on the W. It is very advantageously situated for health, navigation, trade, and manufactures of almost all the various kinds. A dam across the mouth of the bay, which sets up from Charles river, would afford a great number of mill-seats for manufactures. Bunker's, Breed's and Cobble (now Barrell's) hills, are celebrated in the history of the American Revolution. The second hill has upon its summit a monument erected to the memory of Major Gen. Warren, near the spot where he fell, among the first sacrifices to American liberty. The brow of the hill begins to be ornamented with elegant houses. All these hills afford elegant and delightful prospects of Boston, and its charmingly variegated harbor, of Cambridge and its colleges, and of an extensive tract of highly cultivated country. It contains within the neck or parish about 250 houses, and about 2000 inhabitants. The only public buildings of consequence are a handsome Congregational church, with an elegant steeple and clock, and an alms-house, very commodious and pleasantly situated. Before the destruction of this town by the British in 1775, several branches of manufactures were carried on to great advantage, some of which have been since revived. Three rope-walks have lately been erected in this town, and the increase of its houses, population, trade, and navigation, have been very great within a few years past. This town is a port of entry in conjunction with Boston. At the head of the neck there is a bridge over Mystic river, which connects Charlestown with Malden.

CHARLESTOWN, a village in Berkeley co. Virginia, situated on the great road leading from Philadelphia to Winchester; 3 miles from Shepherdstown, and 20 from Winchester.

CHARLESTOWN, a township in Washington co. Rhode-Island. It is 19 miles N. W. of Newport, and contains 2022 inhabitants.

A few years ago there were about 500 Indians in the State, the greater part of them residing in this township.

were formerly a powerful nation; but by continual wars, in which it has been their destiny to be engaged, with the northern Indian tribes, and with the whites, they are now reduced to about 1,500 warriors; and they are becoming weak and pusillanimous. Some writers estimate their numbers at 2,500 warriors. They have 43 towns now inhabited.

CHERRY Valley, a post-town in Otsego co. N. York, about 12 miles N. E. of Cooperstown, and 18 southeasterly of Canajohary, 61 W. of Albany, and 336 from Philadelphia. It contains about 30 houses, and a Presbyterian church. There is an academy here, which contained in 1796, 50 or 60 scholars. It is a spacious building, 60 feet by 40. The township is very large, and lies along the E. side of Otsego lake and its outlet to Adiquatungie creek. In 1796, 629 of its inhabitants were electors. This settlement suffered severely from the Indians in the late war.

CHESAPEAKE, is one of the largest and safest bays in the United States. Its entrance is nearly E. N. E. and S. S. W. between Cape Charles, lat. 37. 15, and Cape Henry, lat. 37, in Virginia, 12 miles wide, and it extends 270 miles to the northward, dividing Virginia and Maryland. It is from 7 to 18 miles broad, and generally as much as 9 fathoms deep; affording many commodious harbors, and a safe and easy navigation. It embosoms many fertile islands. A number of navigable rivers and other streams empty into it, the chief of which are Susquehannah, Patuxent, Patowmack, Rappahannock, and York, which are all large and navigable. In a commercial point of view, this bay is of immense advantage to the States which border upon it.

CHESTER, a borough and post-town in Pennsylvania, and the capital of Delaware co. pleasantly situated on the W. side of Delaware river, near Marcus Hook, and 13 miles N. E. of Wilmington. It contains about 60 houses, built on a regular plan, a courthouse and a gaol. From Chester to Philadelphia, is 20 miles by water, and 15 N. E. by land.
The place affords genteel inns and good entertainment, and is the resort of much company from the metropolis, during the summer season.

CHESTER Co. in Pennsylvania, W. of Philadelphia, contains 13 townships, of which West-Chester is the shire town, and 27,937 inhabitants. Iron ore is found in the northern parts, and is wrought in 6 forges, which manufacture about 1000 tons of bar-iron annually.

CHESTER Court-House, in S. Caro-tox rivers, and contains 14,214 inhabitants, including 7487 slaves.

CHESTERFIELD Inlet, on the W. side of Hudson bay, upwards of 200 miles in length, and from 10 to 30 in breadth—full of islands.

CHESTERTOWN, a post-town and the capital of Kent co. Maryland, on the W. side of Chester river 16 miles S. W. of Georgetown, 38 E. by S. from Baltimore, and 81 S. W. of Philadelphia. It contains about 140 houses, a church, college, courthouse, and gaol. The college was incorporated in 1782, by the name of Washington. It is under the direction of 24 trustees, who are empowered to supply vacancies and hold estates, whose yearly value shall not exced £. 6,000 currency. In 1787, it had a permanent fund of £. 1,250 a year settled upon it by law.

CHETIMACHAS. The Chetimachas fork is an outlet of Mississippi river in Louisiana, about 30 leagues above New-Orleans, and after running in a southerly direction about 8 leagues from that river, divides into 2 branches, one of which runs S. westerly, and the other S. easterly, to the distance of 7 leagues, when they both empty their waters into the Mexican gulf.

CHETTENHAM, a township in Montgomery co. Pennsylvania.

CHIAMETLAN, a maritime province of Mexico, in N. America, with a town of the same name, very fertile, and contains mines of silver, and produces a great deal of honey and wax. The river St. Jago empties into the sea here. The chief town is St. Sebastian.

CHIAPA, a river and inland province of Mexico or New-Spain, in the audience of Mexico. It abounds with great woods of pine, cypress, cedar, oak, walnut, wood-vines, aromatic gums, balsams, liquid amber, tacamahaca, copal, and others, that yield pure and sovereign balsams; also with corn, cocoa, cotton and wild cochineal; pears, apples, quinces, &c. It is famous for a fine breed of horses, so valuable, that they send their colts to Mexico, though 300 miles off, and also for cattle. Beasts of prey are here in abundance, with foxes, rabbits, and wild hogs. In this province there is variety of snakes, particularly in the hilly parts, some of which are said to be 20 feet long, others of a curious red color, and streaked with white and black, which the Indians tame, and even put them about their necks. Though the Spaniards reckon this one of their poorest provinces in America, as having no mines or sand of gold, nor any harbor on the South Sea, yet in size it is inferior to none but Guatemala. Besides, it is a place of great importance to the Spaniards, because the strength of all their empire in America depends on it; and into it is an easy entrance by the river Tabasco, Puerto Real, and its vicinity to Yucatan.

CHIAPA, the name of two towns in the above province; the one is sometimes called Ciudad Real, or the Royal City, and the other Chiapa de los Indos, inhabited by Spaniards. Ciudad Real is a bishop's see, and the seat of the judicial courts. It is delightfully situated on a plain, surrounded with mountains, and almost equally distant from the N. and S. seas, and 100 leagues N. W. from Guatemala. The bishop's revenue is 8000 ducats a year. The place is neither populous nor rich; and the Spanish gentry here are become a proverb on account of their pride, ignorance, and poverty. It has several monasteries; and the cathedral is an elegant structure. This city is governed by magistrates chosen amongst the burghesses of the town, by a particular privilege granted them by the king of Spain. N. lat. 17, W. long. 96 40. The other town, called Chiapa de los Indos, that is, as belonging to the Indians, is the largest they have in this country, and lies in a valley near the river Tabasco, which abounds with fish, and is about 12 leagues N. W. of Chiapa, or Ciudad Real. The celebrated Bartholomew de las Casas, the friend of mankind, was the first bishop of Chiapa; and having complained to the court of Madrid of the cruelties of the Spaniards here, procured the people great privileges, and an exemption from slavery. This is a very large and rich place, with many cloisters and churches in it, and no town has so many Dons of Indian blood as this Chiapa. On the river they have several boats, in which they often exhibit sea-fights and sieges. In the environs are several farms well stocked with cattle, and some sugar plantations. There are about 20,000 Indians in this town.

CHICAPPEE, or Chickabee, a small river in Massachusetts, which empties into the Connecticut at Springfield, on the E. bank of that river.

CHICCAMOGGA, a large creek which runs N. westerly into Tennessee river. Its mouth is 6 miles above the Whirl, and about 27 S. W. from the mouth of the Hiwassee. N. lat. 33 12. The Chickamogga Indian towns, 5 in number, lie on this creek, and on the bank of the Tennessee.

CHICHESTER, Upper and Lower, two townships in Delaware co. Pennsylvania.

CHICHESTER, a small township in Rockingham co. New-Hampshire, about 35 miles N. W. of Exeter, and 45 from Portsmouth. It lies on Suncook river, and contains 491 inhabitants.

CHICKAHOMINY, a small navigable river in Virginia. At its mouth in James river, 37 miles from Point Comfort, in Chesapeake bay, is a bar on which is only 12 feet water at common flood tide. Vessels passing that, may go 8 miles up the river; those of 10 feet draught 12 miles, and vessels of 6 tons burden may go 22 miles up the river.

CHICKASAW Bluff, is on the eastern bank of the Mississippi, within the territories of the United States, in N. lat. 35. The Spaniards erected here a strong stockaded fort, with cannon, and furnished it with troops, all in the space of 24 hours, in the month of June, 1795.

CHICKASAW, a river which empties into the Mississippi, on the E. side, 104 miles N. from the mouth of Margot, and 67 S. W. of Mine au-fer. The lands here are of an excellent quality and covered with a variety of useful timber, canes, &c. This river may be ascended during high floods, upwards of 30 miles with boats of several tons burden.

CHICKASAW, a famous nation of Indians, who inhabit the country on the E. side of the Mississippi, on the head branches of the Tombigbee, Mobile, and Yazoo rivers, in the N. W. corner of the State of Georgia, and N. of the country of the Chactaws. Their country is an extensive plain, tolerably well watered from springs, and of a pretty good soil. They have 7 towns, the central one of which is in N. lat. 34 23, W. long. 89 30. The number of souls in this nation, has been formerly reckoned at 1775, of which 575 were fighting men.

CHICAGO River empties into the S. W. end of lake Michigan, where a fort formerly stood. Here the Indians have ceded to the United States, by the treaty of Greenville, a tract of land 6 miles square.

CHILAPAN, a town in N. Spain, in the country of the Coahuillas. Between this and Teolitylan is an entire mountain of loadstone.

CHILEA, a town in the jurisdiction of Canette, in Peru, S. America, celebrated for its excellent saltpetre.

CHILI, in S. America, is bounded by Peru, on the N. by Paraguay, or La Plata, on the E. by Patagonia on the S. and by the Pacific ocean on the W. It is in length about 1260 miles; in breadth 580; between 25 and 44 S. lat. and between 65 and 85 W. long. It lies on both sides of the Andes. The principal towns are St. Jago, Baldivia, and St. John de Frontiera. The climate of Chili is one of the most delightful in the world, being a medium between the intense heats of the torrid, and the piercing colds of the frigid zones. Along the coast of the Pacific ocean, they enjoy a fine temperate air, and a clear serene sky, most part of the year; but sometimes the winds that blow from the mountains, in winter are exceedingly sharp. There are few places in this extensive country, where the soil is not exuberantly rich; and were its natural advantages seconded by the industry of the inhabitants, Chili would be the most opulent kingdom in America. The horses and mules of Chili are in great esteem, particularly the former. Prodigious numbers of oxen, goats and sheep, are fattened in the luxuriant pastures of Chili; and indeed this is the only part of husbandry to which the inhabitants pay any considerable attention. An ox, well fattened, may be purchased for four dollars. Turkeys, geese, and all kinds of poultry, are found here in the same profusion. The coasts abound with many excellent fish; there are also vast numbers of whales and sea wolves. The soil produces Indian and European corn, hemp, grapes, and all other fruits. The European fruit trees are obliged to be propped to enable them to sustain the weight of the fruit. Orange trees are in bloom, and bear fruit throughout the year. Olives also, and almond trees, thrive exceedingly well; and the inhabitants press a kind of muscadine wine from the grapes, which far exceeds any of the kind made in Spain. Mines of gold, silver, copper, tin, quicksilver, iron and lead, abound in this country. Vast quantities of gold are washed down from the mountains by brooks and torrents; the annual amount of which, when manufactured, is estimated at no less than 800,000 dollars. It is difficult to ascertain the number of Spaniards in Chili. The Abbe Raynal says, there are 40,000 in the city of St. Jago, the capital of this country; if this be true, the aggregate number in all the provinces of Chili must be more considerable than has been generally supposed.

CHILISQUAKE, a township on Susquehanna R. in Pennsylvania.

CHILLAKOTHE, OGD, is an Indian town destroyed by the forces of the U. S. in 1780. It lies about 3 miles S. of Little Miami R. The country in its vicinity is of a rich soil, and is beautifully chequered with meadows.

CHILMARK, a township on Martha's Vineyard Island, Duke's co. Massachusetts, containing 771 inhabitants. It lies 99 miles S. by E. of Boston.

CHILOR, a considerable island of Chili, S. America, the S. part of which is divided from the continent by a narrow sea, and the continent situated between the island and the continent, being of great length and breadth, and containing many divisions, and cities of importance on the coast.

CHILLOAN, a jurisdiction in the bishopric of Truxillo, in S. America.

CHILQUES, a jurisdiction of S. America, in Peru, subject to the bishop of Cusco, 8 leagues S. E. from that city.

CHIMBO, a jurisdiction in the province of Zúto, in S. America, in the torrid zone. The capital is also called by the same name.

CHUABORASO, in the province of Quito, is the highest point of the Andes, and the highest mountain as yet known in the world; being, according to Condamine, 19,200 feet; according to others, 20,608 feet, above the level of the sea. It lies nearly under the line, being in 41.40 S. lat. yet its tops are covered with ice and snow, and the country adjacent is often pierced with intolerable cold from the winds which blow from the mountain.

CHINCA, a large and pleasant valley in the diocese of Lima, in Peru.

CHIFFAWAY, an inconsiderable place near the falls of Niagara, 20 miles from Queenstown.

CHIFFAWAY River, runs S. westward into Mississippi River, in that part where the confluent waters form lake Pepin, in N. lat. 44, W. long. 93 34.

CHISSEL, a fort in the State of Tennessee, 43 miles from Abingdon.

CHITTENDEN Co. in Vermont, lies on lake Champlain. Moille river passes through its N. W.

corner, and Onion river divides it nearly in the center. Its chief town is Burlington. This county contained, by the census of 1791, 44 townships and 7301 inhabitants. Since that time the northern counties have been taken from it.

CHITTENDEN, a township in Rutland co. Vermont, contains 159 inhabitants. The road over the mountain passes through this township. It is 7 miles E. from Pittsford, and about 60 N. by E. from Bennington.

CHITTENANGO, or Canaferage, a considerable stream which runs northerly into Lake Oneida, in the State of New-York.

CHOCOLOCO-CA, which the Spaniards call Castro Virreyrna, a town of Peru, 60 leagues S. eastward of Lima, is very famous for its silver mines, which are at the top of a great mountain, always covered with snow, and but 2 leagues from the town.

CNECOPZ, a town in the jurisdiction of Truxillo, in S. America, in Peru; 14 leagues southward of St. Pedro. Here are about 90 or 100 houses, and about 60 or 70 families, chiefly Spaniards, with some of the others casts, but not above 25 Indian families. It has a church built of brick, both large and decent. The people here mention a rain that fell in 1726, which lasted 40 nights, beginning constantly at 4 or 5 in the evening, and ceasing at the same hour next morning, which laid most of the houses in ruins. S. lat. 7 46.

CHOCUIVO, or rather Chucuito, or Titi Caca, a large lake near Paria, in S. America, and in Peru, into which a great number of rivers empty themselves. It is 100 miles in circumference, and in some parts 80 fathoms deep; yet the water cannot be drank, it is so very turbid. It is said the ancient Yncas, on the conquest of Peru, by the Spaniards, threw into this lake all their riches of gold and silver. It was this lake into which the Ynca Huana Capac threw the famous chain of gold, the value of which was immense. It abounds with flags and rushes, of which Capac Vupanchi, the fifth Ynca built a bridge, for transporting his army to the other side.

CHOISUL Bay, on the N. W. coast of the islands of the Arsaides, W. of Port Prallin.

CHOPTANK, a large navigable river of the eastern shore of Maryland, emptying into Chesapeake Bay.

CHOWAN Co. in Edenton district, N. Carolina, on the N. side of Albemarle sound. It contains 5015 inhabitants, of whom 2588 are slaves. Chief town, Edenton.

CHOWAN River, in N. Carolina, falls into the N. W. corner of Albemarle sound. It is 3 miles wide at the mouth, but narrows fast as you ascend it.

CHURCH CROOK, a parish in Charleston district, S. Carolina, containing 2954 inhabitants.

CHRISTIANA, a port-town in New-Castle co. Delaware, is situated on a navigable creek of its name, 22 miles from Elkton, 9 S. W. of Wilmington, and 37 S. W. of Philadelphia. The town, consisting of about 50 houses, and a Presbyterian church, stands on a declivity which commands a pleasant prospect of the country towards the Delaware. It carries on a brisk trade with Philadelphia in flour. It is the greatest carrying place between the navigable waters of the Delaware and Chesapeake, which are 13 miles asunder at this place. It was built by the Swedes, in 1640, and thus called after their queen.

CHRISTIANA Creek, on which the above town is situated, falls into Delaware river from the S. W. a little below Wilmington. It is proposed to cut a canal of about 9 miles in length, in a S. western direction from this creek, at the town of Christiana, to Elk river in Maryland, about a mile below Elkton.

CHRISTIANA, St. one of the Marquesa isles, in lat. 9 35 30 S. long. 139 8 40 W. from Greenwich. This island produces cotton of a superior kind. A specimen of it is deposited in the Museum of the Mass. Hist. Society.

CHRISTIANSBURG, the chief town of Montgomery co. Virginia. It contains very few houses; has a court-house and gaol, situated near a branch of Little river, a water of the Kanaway. N. lat. 37 5.

CHRISTIANTON, the principal town in the island of Santa Cruz, situated on the N. side of the island, on a fine harbor. It is the residence of the Danish governor, and is defended by a stone fortress.

CHRISTMAS Island, in the Pacific ocean, lies entirely solitary, nearly equally distant from the Sandwich islands on the N. and the Marquesas on the S. It was so named by Captain Cook, on account of his first landing there, on Christmas day. Not a drop of fresh water was found by digging. A ship touching at this desolate isle must expect nothing but turtle, fish, and a few birds. It is about 15 or 20 leagues in CHRISTOPHER'S, St. an island in the West-Indies, belonging to Great-Britain, commonly called St. Kitts; N. lat. 17° , W. long. 62° ; and is 20 miles long and 7 broad, containing about 80 square miles. Great quantities of indigo were formerly raised here. In 1770, the exports amounted to above £419,000 sterling, in sugar, molasses, and rum; and near £8000 for cotton. Besides cotton, ginger and the tropical fruits, it produced, in 1787, 331,397 cwt. of sugar, and in 1790, but about 113,000 cwt. It is computed that this island contains 6000 whites and 36,000 negroes. In February, 1784, it was taken by the French, but restored to Britain by the treaty of 1783.

CHUMBI VILLAGES, a jurisdiction subject to the bishop of Cusco, about 40 leagues from Peru; it produces corn, fruits, large pastures for cattle, and mines of gold and silver.

Church Creek Town, in Dorchester co. Maryland, 7 miles S. westerly from Cambridge.

CHURCH TOWN, a village of Lancaster co. Pennsylvania, about 20 miles E. N. E. of Lancaster, and 50 W. N. W. of Philadelphia. It has 34 houses, and an Episcopal church; and in the environs are two forges, which manufacture about 450 tons of bar-iron annually.

CIACICA, a jurisdiction in S. America, in Peru, 90 leagues distant from Plata city; abounding in cocoa, cattle, and some silver mines.

CIBOLA, or Ciwola, the name of a town in, and also the ancient name of, New Granada, in Terra Firma, S. America. The country here, though not mountainous, is very cool; and the Indians are said to be the whitest, wisest, most sincere and orderly of all the aboriginal Americans. When the country was discovered, they had each but one wife, and were excessively jealous. They worshipped water; and an old woman that was a magician; and believed she lay hid under one of their lakes.

CICAGO, a military township in New-York, on the S. W. side of Oneida lake.

CINABADA, a province in the audience of Galicia, in Old-Mexico, or New-Spain. It has the gulf of California on the W. It abounds with all sorts of fruits, and grain, and cotton. The natives are hardy and industrious, and manufacture cotton cloth, with which they clothe themselves.

CINCINNATI, a flourishing town in the territory of the United States, N. W. of the Ohio, and the present seat of government. It stands on the N. bank of the Ohio, between Great and Little Miami rivers, and contains about 200 houses; and is 24 miles N. by E. of Frankfort; 90 N. W. of Lexington, and 779 W. by S. of Philadelphia. N. lat. $39^{\circ} 25'$, W. long. $85^{\circ} 44'$.

CINCINNATUS, is the S. easternmost of the military townships of New-York State, and lies 53 miles S. W. by W. of Coopersdown.

the eclipse. To render the benevolent designs of Congress as extensively useful as possible, the Marine Society in Boston, by a large Committee from their body, whose views have been seconded by others, have taken such distances and bearings as they thought necessary; which observations giving light and safety, are added for the benefit of all interested, and are as follow:—Vessels outward bound, from Boston light-house, and would wish to fall in with Cape-Cod, the course is E. S. E.—distance 15 leagues; thence 3 leagues to the light-house. When up with the light-house and it bears S. W. 2 leagues distance, you may then steer S. S. E. which will carry you out of the S. channel. Vessels inward bound and fall in with the back of Cape-Cod, bring the Light to bear S. W. 2 leagues distance, then you may steer W. N. W. for Boston light-house. If you would wish to go into Cape-Cod harbor, you may keep the shore aboard about a mile distant, where you will have 10 fathoms water. There is a bar lies off the back of the Cape, about half a mile from the shore. When up with Race point, which is very bold, and about 3 leagues to the westward of the light-house, and may be known by a number of fish houses on it. From 1 to 3 miles to the southward of Race point, is what is called Herring Cove, where you may have good anchoring half a mile from the shore, the wind from E. to N. N. E. in 4 or even in 3 fathom water. If bound into Cape-Cod harbor, your course from Race point to Wood-End, is S. S. E. 6 miles distance, bring the Light to bear E. by N. and run for it about 2 miles, you will then be clear of Wood-End—then you must steer N. E. until the Light bears E. by S.—then run N. W. for the harbor, until you have from 4 to $4\frac{1}{2}$ fathom water, where you have good anchoring; the Light then will bear E. by S. $\frac{1}{2}$ S. 5 or 6 miles distance. In running from the Race point to Wood-End, after you pass the Black Land or Hynamucks, you will come up with a low sandy beach, which forms the harbor, extending between 2 and 3 miles to Wood-End, which is difficult to be distinguished in the night—it is very bold—you will have 25 fathom water within half a mile of the shore. In beating into Cape-Cod harbor, you must keep the eastern shore aboard, until you get into 3 fathom water. Stand no further to the westward than to bring the Light to bear E. by S.—as there is a long spit of sand runs off from the western shore, which being very bold, you will have 11 fathom water within a stone's throw of shore. In case it blows so hard that you cannot beat in the harbor, you will have good anchoring without, from 10 to 15 fathom water. Vessels in Boston bay, and would wish to put away for Cape-Cod harbor, must endeavor to fall in with the Race. If in the night, and you cannot see the land, you must bring the Light to bear E. by N. and run for it until you have soundings in 14 or 15 fathom water—then steer north-east until the Light bears E. by S. then run in N. W. for the harbor. At full and change it is high water off Race point at 10 o'clock and 45 minutes. Vessels in leaving Cape-Cod, bound to Boston, should calculate the tide, as the flood sets strong to the south-west.

CLARESVILLE, the chief town of Montgomery co. Tennessee, situated on the N. bank of Cumberland river, immediately above the mouth of Red river. It has about 30 houses, a court-house, and gaol; 43 miles N. W. of Nashville.

CLERMONT, a post-town in Columbia co. New-York, 6 miles from Red Hook, 15 from Hudson, and 117 miles N. of New-York. The township contains 867 inhabitants.

CLERMONT, a village 13 miles from Camden, S. Carolina.

CLIE, Lake 46, in Upper Canada, about 38 miles long, and 30 broad; its waters communicate with those of Lake Huron.

CLINCH, or Pelican, a navigable branch of Tennessee river. Its course is S. W. and S. W. by W. Its mouth, 150 yards wide, is 35 miles below Knoxville, and 60 above the mouth of the Hiwassee, it is boatable for upwards of 200 miles.

CLINTON, the most northern co. of the State of N. York, W. of Lake Champlain. By the census of 1791, it contained 1614 inhabitants. It is divided into 5 townships, viz. Plattsburg, the capital, Crown Point, Willsborough, Champlain, and Peru. The number of souls in 1796 was estimated to be 6,000. By the State census, in Jan. 1796, there were 624 persons entitled to be electors. A great proportion of the lands are of an excellent quality; and produce abundance of the various kinds of grain cultivated in other parts of the State.

CLINTON, a township in Dutchess co. N. York, above Poughkeepsie. It contains 4607 inhabitants.

CLINTON, a settlement in Tioga co. New-York.

CLINTON parish, in the township of Paris, 7 miles from Whitestown, is a wealthy, pleasant, and flourishing settlement, containing several handsome houses, a newly erected Presbyterian meeting-house, a convenient school-house, and an edifice for an academy, delightfully situated, but not yet finished. Between this settlement and the Indian settlements at Oneida, a distance of 12 miles, (in June, 1796) was wilderness, without any inhabitants, excepting a few Indians at the Old Oneida village.

CLINTON, a plantation in Lincoln co. Maine, lies 27 miles from Hallowell.

CLOSTER, a village in Bergen co. N. Jersey, 16 miles N. of N. York city.

CLYQUOT, a sound or bay on the N. W. coast of America, westerly from Bentley's Sound. See Hancock's Harbour.

COBBESCONTE, or Coppscott, a small river of Maine, and falls into the Kennebeck, 15 miles from Moose Island.

COBHAM, a small town in Virginia, on the S. bank of James R. opposite Jamestown; 8 or 9 miles S. W. of Williamsburg.

COBLESKILL, a new town, in the co. of Schoharie, N. York, incorporated March, 1797.

COCALICO, a township in Lancaster co. Pennsylvania.

COCHABAMBA, a province and jurisdiction in Peru, 50 leagues from Plata, and 54 from Potosi. Its capital of the same name is one of the richest, largest, and most populous in Peru, as it is the granary of the archbishopric of Plata.

COCHACHE, a N. W. branch of Piscataqua river, in New-Hampshire.

northern part of N. Hampshire, Grafton co. on the E. bank of Connecticut river, S. of Colebrook.

COCKERMOUTH, a town in Oraston co. N. Hampshire, about 15 miles N. E. of Dartmouth College.

COESBURY, a township in York co. Pennsylvania.

CORYMANS, a township in Albany co. N. York, 12 miles below Albany.

COUGHAWAGA, a parish in the township of Johnstown, Montgomery co. N. York, on the W. side of Mohawk river, 26 miles W. of Schenectady. This place, which had been settled nearly 80 years, and which was the seat of Sir William Johnson, was mostly destroyed by the British and Indians, under the command of Sir William, in the year 1780. In this action, Johnson evinced a want of feeling which would have disgraced a savage. The people destroyed in this expedition, were his old neighbors, with whom he had formerly lived in the habits of friendship. His estate was among them, and the inhabitants had always considered him as their friend and neighbor. These unfortunate people, after seeing their houses and property consumed to ashes, were hurried, such as could walk, into cruel captivity; those who could not walk, fell victims to the tomahawk and scalping knife.

CORANBY, a small river of N. Jersey, which empties into Delaware river, opposite the upper end of Bombay Hook. It is about 30 miles in length, and is navigable for vessels of 100 tons to Bridgetown, 20 miles from its mouth.

CORASSER, a township in Norfolk co. Massachusetts, which contains 817 inhabitants. Cohasset rocks, which have been so fatal to many vessels, lie off this town, about a league from the shore. It lies 25 miles S. E. of Boston.

CONORE, or the Falls in Mohawk river, between 2 and 3 miles from its mouth, and 10 miles northward of Albany, are a very great natural curiosity. The river above the falls is about 300 yards wide, and approaches them from the N. W. in a rapid current, between high banks on each side, & pours the whole body of its water over a perpendicular rock of about 40 (some say more) feet in height, which extends quite across the river, like a mill-dam. The banks of the river, immediately below the falls, are about 100 feet high. A bridge 1100 feet long, and 24 feet wide, resting on 13 piers, was erected, at the expense of 12,000 dollars, in 1794, a mile below the falls, from which a spectator may have a grand view of them; but they appear most romantically from Lansburgh hill, 3 miles E. of them.

COLAN, a small Indian town, situated near the S. Sea, 2 or 3 leagues to the northward of Payan, inhabited by fishermen.

COLCHESTER, a township in Ulster co. N. York, on the Popacton branch of Delaware river, about 50 miles S. W. by S. of Cooperstown.

COLCHESTER, a large township in N. London co. Connecticut, 15 miles westward of Norwich, 25 S. E. of Hartford, 20 E. of Middleton, and 20 N. W. of N. London city.

COLCHESTER, the chief town in Chittenden co. Vermont, is on the E. bank of lake Champlain, at the mouth of Onion river, and N. of Burlington.

COLCHESTER, a post-town in Fairfax co. Virginia, of about 40 houses, and lies 16 miles S. W. of Alexandria, 106 N. by E. of Richmond, and 17 s. from Philadelphia.

Cold Spring, in the island of Jamaica, is a villa, 6 miles from the high lands of Iiguania. The grounds are in a high state of improvement. Cold Spring is 4,200 feet above the level of the sea; and few or none of the tropical fruits will flourish in so cold a climate.

Cold Spring Cove, near Burlington, N. Jersey, is remarkable for its sand and clay, used in the manufacture of glass; from whence the glass works at Hamilton, 10 miles W. of Albany, are supplied with these articles.

COLEBROOKE, in the northern part of N. Hampshire, in Grafton co. lies on the E. bank of Connecticut river, opposite the Great Monadnock in Vermont.

COLEBROOKE, a rough, hilly township on the N. line of Connecticut, in Litchfield co. 30 miles N. W. of Hartford city. In digging a cellar in this town, at the close of the year 1796, belonging to Mr. John Hulhult, the workmen, at the depth of about 9 or 10 feet, found three large tusks and two thigh bones of an animal, the latter of which measured each about 4 feet 4 inches in length, and 12½ inches in circumference. When first discovered they were entire, but as soon as they were exposed to the air they moulderred to dust. This adds another to the many facts, which prove that a race of enormous animals, now ex-ting, once inhabited the United States.

COLERAIN, a township in Lancaster co. Pennsylvania.

COLERAIN, a town on the N. bank of St. Mary's river, Camden co. Georgia, 40 or 50 miles from its mouth. On the 29th of June, 1796, a treaty of peace and friendship was made and concluded at this place, between the President of the United States, on the one part, in behalf of the United States, and the king's chiefs and warriors of the Creek nation of Indians, on the other.

COLRAINE, a township in Hampshire co. Massachusetts, which contains 1417 inhabitants.

COLIMA, a large and rich town of Mechoacan and New Spain, on the S. Sea, near the borders of Xalisco, and in the most pleasant and fruitful valley in all Mexico, producing cocoa, cassia, and other things of value, besides some gold.

COLUMBIA, a township in Washington co. Maine, 15 miles W. of Machias, and 9 from Steuben.

COLUMBIA Co. in N. York is between the State of Massachusetts and Hudson river which divides it from Albany co. It is divided into eight towns, of which Hudson, Claverack, and Kinderhook are the chief. It contained, in 1790, 27,732 inhabitants, and in 1796, 3560 electors.

COLUMBIA, a post-town, the capital of Kershaw co. and the seat of government of S. Carolina. It is situated in Camden district, on the E. side of the Congaree, just below the confluence of Saluda and Broad rivers. The streets are regular, and the town contains upwards of 70 houses. The public offices have, in some measure, been divided for the

CONCEPTION, by the Indians called Penco, a city in Chili, S.
America, situated on the sea-coast, at the mouth of a river, and at the bottom of a bay of its own name. It lies in about 37 S. lat.
This city has a church and six very famous monasteries; but the dwelling houses make no great appearance. Here the women go out in the night to the shops, to buy such necessaries as they want for their families, it being contrary to the custom of this country for women of any character to go abroad in the day-time on such affairs. It is an open town; and the few batteries it has, are kept in very indifferent order.

CONCUCOS, a jurisdiction in the empire of Peru, in S. America, under the archbishop of Lima.

CONCORD, a post-town of N.
Hampshire, very flourishing and pleasantly situated on the W. bank of Merrimack river, in Rockingham co. The legislature, of late, have commonly held their sessions here; and from its central situation, and a thriving back country, it will probably become the permanent seat of government. A considerable part of the trade of the upper country centers here. Here are two printing offices, and two weekly news-papers are published, which circulate pretty extensively.

through the northern and western parts of the State. A handsome toll bridge across the Merrimack, connects this town with Pembroke. It has 1747 inhabitants. The compact part of the town contains about 170 houses, a congregational church, and a court-house. It is 55 miles W. N. W. of Portsmouth, 62 S. E. of Dartmouth college, and 75 northward from Boston. N. lat. 43 12, W. long. 71 39.

Concord, in Essex co. Vermont, lies on Connecticut river, opposite a part of the 15 mile falls.

Concord, in Massachusetts, a post-town, one of the most considerable towns in Middlesex co. situated on Concord river, in a healthy and pleasant spot, nearly in the center of the county, and 18 miles N. W. of Boston, and 17 E. of Lancaster. This town is famous in the history of the revolution, having been the seat of the provincial congress in 1774, and the spot where the first opposition was made to the British troops, on the memorable 19th of April, 1775.

Concord, a small river which passes through the center of the above town, and empties itself into Merrimack river at Tewksbury.

Concord, a township in Delaware co. Pennsylvania.

Concord, a settlement in Georgia, on the E. bank of the Mississippi, about a mile from the S. line of Tennessee, 108 miles N. from the mouth of Yazoo river.

Conde, Fort, or Mobile City, is situated on Mobile bay, in W. Florida, about 40 miles above its mouth in the gulf of Mexico. N. lat. 30 44, W. long. 87 57.

Conde, or de Azaguirre, a jurisdiction under the bishop of Arequipa, 30 leagues N. of that city, in Peru.

Conduwago, a settlement in the district of Maine, in Hancock co. containing 567 inhabitants.

CONDOUGAUGUE Creek, empties into the Potowmac, at William port, in Washington co. Maryland.

CONESTOGA, a township in Lancaster co. Pennsylvania.

CONOCHEE, a considerable river of S. Carolina, formed by the confluence of Saluda and Broad rivers.

CONNECTICUT, one of the United States of America, called by the ancient natives Quinnibicut, is situated between 41 and 42 N. lat. and between 71 20 and 73 15 W. long. Its greatest breadth is 72 miles, its length 100 miles; bounded N. by Massachusetts; E. by Rhode-Island; S. by the sound which dividest from Long-Island; and W. by the State of N. York. This State contains about 4674 square miles; equal to about 2,640,000 acres. It is divided into 8 counties, viz. Fairfield, New-Haven, Middlesex, & N. London, which extend along the sound from W. to E.; Litchfield, Hartford, Tolland, and Windham, extend in the same direction on the border of the State of Massachusetts. The counties are divided and subdivided into townships and parishes; in each of which is one or more places of public worship, and school-houses at convenient distances. The number of townships is about 100. Each township is a corporation, invested with powers sufficient for their own internal regulation. The number of representatives is sometimes 120; but more commonly about 160; a number fully adequate to legislate for a wide and virtuous people, well informed, and jealous of their rights; and whose external circumstances approach nearer to equality than those, perhaps, of any other people in a state of civilization, in the world. The principal rivers in this State are, Connecticut, Housatonic, the Thames, and their branches. The whole of the sea-coast is indented with harbors, many of which are safe and commodious; those of New-London and New-Haven are the most important. This State sends seven representatives to Congress. Its principal productions are Indian corn, rye, wheat in many parts of the State, oats, &c. barley, which are heavy and good; and of late, buck-wheat—flax in large quantities—some hemp, potatoes of several kinds, pumpkins, turnips, peas, beans, &c. &c.—fruits of all kinds which are common to the climate. The soil is very well calculated for pasturage and mowing, which enables the farmers to feed large numbers of neat cattle and horses. The value of the whole exported produce and commodities from this State, before the year 1774, was then estimated at about £100,000 lawful money, annually. In the year ending Sept. 30, 1791, the amount of foreign exports was 210,340 dolls. besides articles carried to different parts of the United States, to a great amount. In the year 1792—249,025 dolls.—in the year 1793—270,339 dolls.—and in the year 1794—206,246 dolls. This State owns and employs, in the foreign and coasting trade, 22,267 tons of shipping. In 1756, the population of the State amounted to 130,611 souls; in 1774, to 297,856; in 1782, to 302,373 whites, and 6273 Indians and negroes; in 1790, to 237,946 persons, of whom 2764 were slaves. In no part of the world is the education of all ranks of people more attended to than in Connecticut. Almost every town in the State is divided into districts, and each district has a public school kept in it at a greater or less part of every year. Somewhat more than one third of the monies arising from a tax on the polls and rateable estate of the inhabitants, is appropriated to the support of schools in the several towns, for the education of children and youth. The law directs that a grammar school shall be kept in every county town throughout the State.

CONNECTICUT, the most considerable river in the eastern part of the United States, rises in the highlands which separate the States of Vermont and N. Hampshire from Lower Canada. It has been surveyed about 25 miles beyond the 45th degree of latitude; to the head spring of its northern branch; from which, to its mouth, in Long Island Sound, is upwards of 300 miles, through a thick settled country; having upon its banks a great number of the most flourishing and pleasant towns in the United States. It is from 80 to 100 rods wide, 130 miles from its mouth. Its course between Vermont and N. Hampshire is generally S. S. W. as likewise through Massachusetts, and part of Connecticut, until it reaches the city of Middletown, after which it runs S. E. & E. course to its mouth. This river is navigable to Hartford city, upwards of 50 miles from its mouth, and the produce of the country, for 100 miles above it, is brought thither in boats. The boats which are used in this business, were flat-bottomed, long and narrow, and of straight make as to be portable in carts. Before the reconstruction of locks and canals on this river, they were taken out at 3 different carrying places, all of which made 15 miles. It is expected that in a few years the obstructions will be all removed. From this river were employed, in 1789, three brigs of 180 tons each, in the European trade; and about 60 sail, from 60 to 150 tons, in the W. India trade, besides a few fishermen, and 40 or 50 coasting vessels. The number has considerably increased since.

CONTINENTAL Village, was situated on North river in N. York State. Before its destruction by Sir Henry Clinton, in Oct. 1777, there were here barracks for 12,000 men.

CONWAY, a township in the province of New-Brunswick, Sussex co. on the western bank of St. John's river.

CONWAY, a township in Stratford co. N. Hampshire, on Saco river, containing 574 inhabitants.

CONWAY, a thriving township in Hampshire co. Massachusetts, containing 2092 inhabitants, 13 miles N. W. of Northampton, and 115 N. W. by W. of Boston.

COOK'S River, in the N. W. coast of N. America, lies N. W. of Prince William's sound, and 2000 miles N. W. of Nootka sound. N. lat. 59 30, W. long. 153 12, and promises to vie with the most considerable ones already known. It was traced by Capt. Cook for 210 miles from the mouth, as high as N. lat. 61 30, and so far as is discovered, opens a very considerable inland navigation by its various branches. The inhabitants seemed to be of the same race with those of Prince William's sound; and like them, had glass beads and knives, and were also clothed in fine furs.

COOPER'S Town, a post-town in Otsego co. N. York, and is the compact part of the township of Otsego, and the chief town in the country round Lake Otsego. It is pleasantly situated at the S. W. end of the lake, on its banks, and those of its outlet; 12 miles N. W. of Cherry Valley, and 73 W. of Albany. Here are a court-house, gaol, and academy. In 1793, it contained 292 inhabitants. In 1789, it had but 3 houses only; and in the spring of 1795, 50 houses had been erected, of which above a fourth part were respectable 2 story dwelling-houses, with every proportionable improvement, on a plan regularly laid out in squares. N. lat. 42 44, W. long. 74 48.

COOPER'S Town, Pennsylvania, is situated on the Susquehanna river. This place, in 1785, was a wilderness. Nine years after, it contained 1800 inhabitants; a large and handsome church, with a steeple; a market house and a bettering house; a library of 1200 volumes, and an academy of 64 scholars. Four hundred and seventy pipes were laid under ground, for the purpose of bringing water from West Mountain, and conducting it to every house in town.

Coer's Town, in Harford co. Maryland, lies 21 miles N. W. of Harford, and 23 N. easterly of Baltimore.

CUBA, SANTA, DE LA SIERRA, a government and generalship, also a jurisdiction and bishopric, under the bishop of Charcas, 90 leagues E. of Lima in Peru.

CRUZ, SANTA. See St. Cruz.

CUBA, is the most valuable island of all the Spanish W. Indies, and is situated between 20 and 23 30 N. lat. and between 74 and 85 15 W. long. 100 miles S. of Cape Florida, and 75 N. of Jamaica; and is nearly 700 miles in length, and generally about 70 in breadth. A chain of hills runs through the middle of the island, from E. to W. but the land near the sea is in general level, and flooded in the rainy season, when the sun is vertical. This noble island, the key of the West-Indies, is supposed to have the best soil, for so large a country, of any in America, and contains 38,400 square miles. It produces all the commodities known in the West-Indies, particularly sugar, long pepper, and other spices, cassia, nutmeg, mastic, and aloes. It also produces tobacco and sugar; but from the want of hands, and the laziness of the Spaniards, it does not produce, including all its commodities, so much for exportation, as the small island of Antigua. Not an hundredth part of the island is yet cleared. The principal part of the plantations are on the beautiful plains of savannah, and are cultivated by about 25,000 slaves. The other inhabitants amount to about 30,000. This island was discovered by the famous Christopher Columbus, in 1492. It was taken possession of by the Spaniards in 1493, and they soon exterminated the mild and peaceable natives, to the amount of 300,000. The hills are rich in mines, and in some of the rivers there is gold dust. The copper mines only are worked, which are in the eastern part of the island. There are also fountains of bitumen.

CUBAGUA, an island of America, situated between that of Margareta and Terra Firma, subject to Spain, and is about 8 miles long. There are a number of pearls got here, but not of the largest size. N. lat. 10 15, W. long. 54 30.

CUMBERLAND Co. in Virginia, on the N. side of Appamatox river. It contains 8153 inhabitants. The court-house is 28 miles from Powhatan court-house, and 32 from Richmond.

CUMBERLAND Mountain, in the State of Tennessee, is about 30 miles broad, and extends from Crow creek, on Tennessee river, from S. W. to N. E. In one place, near the summit of the mountain, there is a most remarkable ledge of rocks of about 30 miles in length, and 200 feet thick, shewing a perpendicular face to the S. E. more noble and grand than any artificial fortification in the known world, and apparently equal in point of regularity.

CUMBERLAND River, falls into the Ohio 10 miles above the mouth of Tennessee river, and 1113 below Pittsburg. It is navigable for large vessels to Nashville in Tennessee, and from thence to the mouth of Obad's river. It is 200 yards broad at Nashville, and its whole length is computed to be above 450 miles.

has, besides, good salt works, for the produce of which there is a brisk demand from the English islands, and the colonies on the continent. The trade of Curasou, even in times of peace, is said to be annually worth, to the Dutch, no less than £,300,000; but in time of war the profit is still greater, for then it becomes the common emporium of the W. Indies; it affords a retreat to ships of all nations, and at the same time refuses none of them arms and ammunition to destroy one another. The intercourse with Spain being then interrupted, the Spanish colonies have scarcely any other market from whence they can be well supplied either with slaves or goods. The French come hither to buy the beef, pork, corn, flour, and lumber, which are brought from the continent of N. America, or exported from Ireland; so that, whether in peace or in war, the trade of this island flourishes.

CUMMINGS Co. is situated on the sea-coast of Edenton district, N. Carolina, and forms the N. E. corner of the State; and has 5219 inhabitants. Dismal swamp lies in this county, on the S. side of Albemarle sound, and is now supposed to contain one of the most valuable rice estates in America.

DARIEN, or Terra Firma Profer, is the northern division of Terra Firma, or Castile del Oro. It is the narrow isthmus that joins North and South America. It lies in the form of a bow or crescent, about the great bay of Panama, in the South Sea, and is 300 miles in length. Its breadth has generally been reckoned 60 miles from N. to S. but it is only 37 miles broad from Porto Bello to Panama, the two chief towns of the province. The former lies in N. lat. 9 34 35, W. long. 81 52; the latter in N. lat. 8 57 48, W. long. 82. This province is not the richest, but is of the greatest importance to Spain, and has been the scene of more actions than any other in America. The wealth of Peru is brought hither, and from hence exported to Europe. The Scotch nation had so just an idea of the great importance of this isthmus, that they got possession of a part of the province in 1699, and though among the poorest nations in Europe, attempted to form an establishment more useful and of more real importance, all the parts of the plan considered, than had perhaps ever been undertaken by the greatest nation in the DAVIDSON, a county in Merce district, in Tennessee, bounded N. by the State of Kentucky. Its chief town, Nashville.

DAVIDSON Co. so called after General William Davidson, who bravely fell in defence of his country in the year 1780, opposing the passage of Lord Cornwallis's army across the Catawba R.; is bounded S. by the Indian boundary E. by Sumner co. and on the other sides by the counties of Robertson and Montgomery. It is watered by Cumberland, Harpeth and Stones rivers.

DAVID'S TOWN, on the Assanpink river, Hunterdon co. New Jersey, 10 or 12 miles from Trenton. Between these towns a boat navigation has lately been opened by means of three locks, erected at a considerable expense.

DAVIS' Strait. The water communication between Baffin's bay and the Atlantic ocean is so called from Mr. John Davis, who first discovered it.

DAWUSKEE, an island on the coast of S. Carolina, at the mouth of Savannah river.

DAXABON, is a town and settlement of Spaniards on the line between the French and Spanish divisions of the island of St. Domingo. It contains about 4000 persons.

DEDHAM, a post-town, and the capital of Norfolk co. Massachusetts. The township contains 1159 inhabitants. Its public buildings are 3 congregational churches, an episcopal church, and a court-house. It is pleasantly situated, 21 miles S. W. of Boston, on Charles river. A respectable academical school is kept in this town. A wire manufactory is erected here, for the use of the fish-hook and card manufacturers in Boston.

DEAL, in Monmouth co. New-Jersey, about 7 miles southward of Shrewsbury. This place is the resort of great numbers of people from Philadelphia, in summer, for health and pleasure.

DEER Spring, in the State of New-York, is a curiosity, and is about 9 miles S. of Oneida lake, and 10 S. W. of Oneida castle.

DEER River, in N. Carolina, unites with Haw river, and forms the N. W. branch of Cape Fear river.

DEERFIELD, a township in Cumberland co. New-Jersey.

DEERFIELD River, empties into Connecticut river, between the townships of Greenfield and Deerfield, where it is about 15 rods wide. Excellent tracts of meadow lie on its banks.

DEERFIELD, a very pleasant town in Hampshire co. Massachusetts, on the W. bank of Connecticut river, from which the compact part of the town is separated by a chain of high hills. It is in the midst of a fertile country, and has a small inland trade. The compact part of the town has from 60 to 100 houses, principally on one street, and a handsome congregational church. It contains 1330 inhabitants; 17 miles N. of Northampton, and 109 N. by W. of Boston. An academy, by the name of "The Deerfield Academy," has lately been established in this town.

DEERFIELD, a town in Rockingham co. New-Hampshire, 19 miles S. E. of Concord, and 35 N. W. of Portsmouth. It contains 2619 inhabitants.

DEER Island, an island and township in Penobscot bay, Hancock co. Maine, containing 682 inhabitants; 305 miles N. E. of Boston.

DEER, an island in Passamaquoddy bay.

DEERING, a township in Hillsborough co. N. Hampshire, has 928 inhabitants, and lies 15 miles S. W. of Concord, and 54 W. of Portsmouth.

DEPIANCE, a fort in the N. Western Territory, situated on the point of land formed by the confluence of the rivers of Au Glaize, and the Miami of the lake, nearly half way between Fort Wayne, on the Miami, and lake Erie. N. lat. 41 41, W. long. 84 43.

DE LA WAZ, a town in King William's co. Virginia, situated at the confluence of the Pamunkey and Mattaponi rivers; 40 miles N. by W. of Williamsburg.

DELAWARE Bay and River. The Bay is 60 miles long, from the cape to the entrance of the river, at Bombay Hook, and opens into the Atlantic, N. W. and S. E. between Cape Henlopen on the right, and Cape May on the left. These capes are 18 or 20 miles apart. The River rises in New-York State, and runs southwardly, until it strikes the N. W. corner of New-Jersey; and then passes off to sea through Delaware bay; having New-Jersey E. Pennsylvania and Delaware W. The bay and river are navigable from the sea, up to the great or lower falls at Trenton, 155 miles; and are accommodated with buoys and piers, for the direction and safety of ships. A 74 gun ship may go up to Philadelphia, 120 miles by the ship channel, from the sea.

DELAWARE, one of the United States of N. America, is situated between 38. 29. 30 and 39. 54 N. lat. and between 75 and 75. 42 W. long. 92 miles long and 24 broad; having Pennsylvania N. Delaware river E. Maryland on the S. and W. It is divided into 3 counties, Newcastle, Kent and Suffex; whose chief towns are Wilmington, Newcastle, Dover and Lewes. Dover is the seat of government. The number of inhabitants in 1790, was 59,094, of whom 887 were slaves. This State, the upper parts of the county of Newcastle excepted, is, to speak generally, low and level. Large quantities of stagnant water, at particular seasons of the year, overpreading a great proportion of the land, render it equally unfit for the purposes of agriculture, and injurious to the health of the inhabitants. The soil along the Delaware river, and from 8 to 10 miles into the interior country, is generally a rich clay, producing large timber, and well adapted to the various purposes of agriculture. From thence to the interior swamps, the soil is light, sandy, and of an inferior quality. Wheat is the staple of this State, and it is of a superior quality. It yields also Indian corn, barley, rye, oats, flax, buck-wheat, and potatoes, and a large variety of grasses. The county of Suffex possesses excellent grazing lands. Almost the whole of the foreign exports of Delaware are from Wilmington. No less than 265,000 barrels of flour, 300,000 bushels of wheat, 170,000 bushels of Indian corn, besides barley, oats, flaxseed, paper, slit iron, snuff, salted provisions, &c. &c. to a very considerable amount, are annually sent from the waters of this State. Wilmington and its neighbourhood are probably already the greatest seat of manufactures in the United States. In the fall of 1789, and spring of 1790, there were made at the Brandywine mills in this neighbourhood, 50,000 barrels of superfine flour, 1,314 do. of common, 400 do. middling, as many of ship stuff, and 2,000 do. corn-meal. The quantity of wheat and corn ground, from which this flour, &c. was made, was 308,000 bushels, equal to the export in those articles from the port of Philadelphia for the same year. These mills give employment to about 200 persons. The amount of exports for the year ending September 30th, 1795, was 158,041 dollars, 21 cents. The inhabitants of this State are chiefly Presbyterians, Episcopalians, Baptists, and Methodists. Settlements were made here by the Dutch about the year 1623, and by the Swedes about the year 1627. Their settlements were comprehended in the grant to the duke of York; and William Penn united them to his government by purchase. They were afterwards separated, in some measure, from Pennsylvania, and denominated the Three Lower Counties. They had their own assemblies, but the governor of Pennsylvania used to attend, as he did in his own proper government. At the late revolution, the three counties were erected into a sovereign State; and have established a republican constitution. DELAWARE Co. in Pennsylvania, is S.W. of Philadelphia co. on Delaware river, and is subdivided into 19 townships; the chief of which is Chester. The number of inhabitants is 9,483.

DELAWARE, a new co. in the State of N. York, on the head waters of Delaware river, taken from Otsego co.

DELAWARE, a township in Northampton co. Pennsylvania.

DELAWARES, an Indian nation formerly numerous and powerful, and who possessed part of Pennsylvania, N. Jersey and N. York. They were lately hostile, but made peace with the United States, 1795, and ceded some lands. The United States, on the other hand, have engaged to pay them in goods, to the value of 1000 dollars a year forever.

DEMERARA, a river in Dutch Guiana, in S. America, is about two miles wide at its mouth. Its course is from S. to N. It is navigable upwards of 200 miles for vessels which can pass the bar at its mouth, which is a mud-bank, not having above 24 feet at the highest tides. Stabroek, the seat of government, stands on the E. side of the river, 14 miles above the mouth of the river.

DEMERARA, a district in Dutch Guiana, which, together with Essequibo, form one government, and have the same court of police, but each has a separate court of justice. The two districts contain about 3,000 whites and 40,000 slaves. Demerara river, which gives name to the district, passes thro' it, and is usually visited by 40 or 50 large ships from Holland, who often make two voyages in a year, besides upwards of 250 smaller vessels, under the Dutch and other flags. The plantations are regularly laid out in lots along the sea-shore. The shores of the rivers and creeks are chiefly planted with coffee, to the distance of about 30 miles from the sea; thence 30 miles farther up, the soil becomes clayey, and more fit for sugar-canes. Beyond this, the finest kinds of wood, for building, furniture, &c. are cut.

DEMERY'S River, Maine, 23 miles E. of Machias.

DENNIS, a township in Barnstable co. Massachusetts, incorporated in 1794, and till that period, a parish of Yarmouth.

DENTON, the chief town of Caroline co. in Maryland; situated on the E. side of Choptank creek, 7 miles S. of Greensborough, and 37 S. S. E. of Chester.

DEPTFORD, a township in Gloucester co. New-Jersey.

DERBY, a township in Orleans co. Vermont, on the E. shore of lake Memphremagog.

DERBY, a town in N. Haven co. Connecticut, at the head of navigation, on Housatonic river, 12 miles from its mouth and 12 or 14 miles N. W. of New-Haven; a place of considerable business.

DERBY, a town in Chester co. Pennsylvania, 7 miles from Chester, and 5 from Philadelphia.

DERBY, a township in Dauphin co. Pennsylvania, situated on the E. side of Swatara creek, 2 miles above its confluence with the Susquehannah, and celebrated for its curious cave. See Dauphin Co.

DERBY, a township on Susquehannah river, in Pennsylvania. There are 2 other townships of the same name in Pennsylvania; the one in Mifflin co. the other in that of Westmoreland.

DERRYFIELD, a township in N. Hampshire, on the E. bank of Merrimack river, Hillsborough co. containing 362 inhabitants, 43 miles W. of Portsmouth.

DESADA, the first of the Caribbe islands, discovered by Columbus in his second voyage, anno 1494, when he gave it that name. It is situated E. of Guadaloupe, and subject to the French; and is of little consequence, except in time of war, when it is the resort of a number of privateers. It is 10 miles long and 5 broad. N. lat. 16 40, W. long. 61 20.

DESERT ISLAND, Mout, on the coast of Maine, Massachusetts, contains about 200 families, divided into two different settlements, about 15 miles apart.

DETOUR DES ANGOIS, or English Turn, is a circular direction of the river Mississippi, 18 miles below New-Orleans, and 87 above the Balize. The banks of the river are settled and well cultivated from this to New-Orleans, and there is a good road for carriages all the way.

D'ETROIT, one of the principal towns and best fortified, in the N. W. Territory; situated on the western bank of D'Eetroit river, between lake Erie and lake St. Clair; 18 miles N. of the W. end of the former, and 9 miles below the latter. Fort D'Eetroit is of an oblong figure, built with stockades, and advantageously situated, with one entire side commanding the river. It is near a mile in circumference, and encloses about 300 wooden houses and a Roman Catholic church; built in a regular manner, with parallel streets, crossing each other at right angles. Its situation is delightful, and in the centre of a pleasant and fruitful country. The inhabitants who were mostly French, were about 2000 in number in 1778. By the treaty of Greenville, Aug. 3, 1795, the Indians ceded to the United States the post of D'Eetroit, and all the land to the N. the W. and the S. of it, of which the Indian title has been extinguished by gifts or grants to the French or English governments. The fort was delivered up by the British in July, 1796, according to treaty. It lies 18 miles N. of lake Erie, 7 24 N. W. by W. from Philadelphia. N. lat. 42 40, W. long. 82 56.

D'ETROIT River, or Strait of St. Clair, extends from lake St. Clair into the W. end of lake Erie, forming part of the boundary between the United States and Upper Canada. In ascending it, its entrance is more than 3 miles wide, but it perceptibly diminishes; so that opposite the fort, 18 miles from lake Erie, it does not exceed half a mile in width; from thence to lake St. Clair it widens to more than a mile. The channel of the strait is gentle, and wide and deep enough for shipping of great burden, although it is incommoded by several islands, one of which is more than 7 miles in length. These islands are of a fertile soil, and from their situation afford a very agreeable appearance. The length of the river is 28 miles.

DICKENSON College. See Carlisle, in Pennsylvania.

DICK'S R. in Kentucky, is a branch of Kentucky R. which it joins in a N. W. direction. It is about 50 miles long, and 45 yards wide at the mouth, and has a number of excellent mill seats, and runs through a body of first rate land.

DIXE Town, lies on the N. western side of the island of St. Christopher's, on a bay of the same name.

DROBY, situated on the S. E. side of Annapolis bay, 18 miles S. W. of Annapolis, and 53 N. by E. of Yarmouth, is one of the most considerable of the new settlements in Nova-Scotia.

DIGHTON, a post-town in Bristol co. Massachusetts, 7 miles from Taunton, and 20 from Warren, has 1793 inhabitants.

DINWIDDE, a co. in Virginia, S. of Appamattox R. Its chief town is Petersburg.

DISMAL Swamp, called the Great Dismal, to distinguish it from another swamp called Dismal, in Currituck co. is a very large bog extending from N. to S. near 30 miles, and from E. to W. at a medium about 10 miles; partly in Virginia, and partly in N. Carolina. This dreadful swamp was judged impassable, till the line, dividing Virginia from N. Carolina, was carried through it, with great difficulty, in N. lat. 36 28 in the year 1728, by order of king George II. This swamp is chiefly owned by two companies. The Virginia company, of which General Washington is one, owns 100,000 acres: the N. Carolina company owns 40,000 acres. In the midst of the swamp is a lake, about 7 miles long, called Drummond's pond, whose waters discharge themselves to the S. into Pasquotank river, which empties into Albemarle sound; on the N. into Elizabeth and Nansemond rivers, which fall into James R. A navigable canal is now digging to connect the navigable waters of the Pasquotank and Elizabeth rivers; the distance about 24 miles. This canal will pass about a mile E. of Drummond's pond, and will receive water from it. The canal company are incorporated by the concurring laws of Virginia and N. Carolina. This canal, when finished, will open an inland navigation from the head of Chesapeake bay, including all the rivers in Virginia, to Georgetown in S. Carolina; and when the short canal from Elk river to Christiansa creek is opened, the communication will extend to Philadelphia and the other ports connected with Delaware river. Such an extensive inland communication must be beneficial in time of peace, and in time of war will be essentially serviceable.

DIXON'S Sound, on the N. W. coast of N. America, is the passage into the sound between the main land and Washington's or Queen Charlotte's islands, from the N. W. This is what is called, in America, Barrell's Sound.

DONN'S Co. in Newbern district, N. Carolina, has been divided into 2 cos. viz. Glasgow and Lenoir, since the census of 1790, and the name no longer exists. It contained 6893 inhabitants.

DOMINGO, Sr. an island in the Atlantic ocean, at the entrance of the gulf of Mexico, is one of the four great Antilles, the largest of them all, except the island of Cuba, and proved the cradle of European power in the new world: Christopher Columbus landed on it the 6th of Dec. 1492. The natives called it Hayti, signifying high or mountainous land. Charlevoix says it was called Quisqueya, that is great country, or mother of countries. Others say it had the name of Bobbe, which means a country full of habitations and villages. Columbus called it Hispaniola, or

Little Spain, which name the Spaniards still retain, though St. Domingo is the name commonly used by other nations; so called from St. Domingo, the capital of the Spanish part; which was thus named by Columbus in honour of his father. St. Domingo is situated between 17 35 and 20 N. lat. and between 71 and 77 W. long. from Paris. It lies 45 leagues E. N. E. of Jamaica, 22 S. E. of Cuba, and 20 N. W. by W. of Porto Rico; and is 180 leagues long from E. to W. and from 60 to 70 broad from N. to S. When the Spaniards discovered the island, there were on it at least a million of happy inhabitants; and Bartholomew de las Casas says there were 3 millions. Such, however, were the cruelties of the Spaniards, and to such an infamous height did they carry their oppression of the poor natives, that they were reduced to 60,000 in the short space of 15 years! It formed 5 Kingdoms, each governed by sovereigns called caciques. The Spaniards had possession of the whole of the island for 120 years. At last, about the year 1630, a handful of English, French, and other Europeans, came and forced them to fight in its defence, and after repeated wars for 50 years, they were forced to divide the island with the French. The whole island now belongs to the French republic, the Spaniards having ceded their part of it to that power in the treaty of 1795. The two great chains of mountains, which extend from E. to W. and their numerous spurs, give the island an aspect, at a distance, not so favourable, as it deserves. They are, however, the cause of the fertility of the island. They give source to innumerable rivers, repel the violence of the winds, vary the temperature of the air, and multiply the resources of human industry. They abound with excellent timber, and mines of iron, lead, copper, silver, gold, some precious stones, and even mercury. With respect to the vegetable class in this island, it would be difficult, even in a work devoted to the subject, to express or paint all their majesty. Here are the mountains of Cibao, Selle, and Hotté, reckoned 1000 fathoms above the level of the sea. In the bowels of the first, the cruel Spaniards condemned thousands of the natives to sacrifice their lives, in search of gold. The mines are not now worked, although Valverde thinks they might be to advantage. In the plains, in the Spanish part, the heat is nearly uniform, but varies in proportion to their distance from the mountains. In the plains, the thermometer is sometimes at 99. In the mountains it rarely rises above 72 or 77. There the nights are cool enough to render a blanket not unwelcome; and these are mountains where even a fire is a very agreeable companion in some evenings. The contrast of violent heats and heavy rains renders St. Domingo humid; hence the tarnished appearance of almost all metals, however brilliant the polish they may originally have had. This is particularly observable on the sea shore, which is more unhealthy than the interior parts of the island. The southern part of the island is pretty much subject to hurricanes, called here southern gales, because they are not attended with such dreadful consequences as the hurricanes in the windward island. The Spanish part of this island, (or what belonged to Spain; before the treaty of 1795) was computed to contain about 90 leagues in its greatest length from E. to W. 60 leagues in its greatest breadth; having a surface of about 3,200 square leagues. About 400 square leagues of this surface is in mountains, which are generally more capable of cultivation than those in the French part, and have sometimes a soil that disputes the preference with that of the valleys. There remains therefore a fine fertile surface of more than 2,700 square leagues, divided into valleys and plains of various lengths and breadths. Over the whole, mountains and plains, are spread 125,000 inhabitants; of whom 110,000 are free, and 15,000 slaves; which does not amount to 40 individuals to one square league. The Spanish creoles are insensible of all the treasures which surround them, and pass their lives without wishing to change their lot; while the French portion furnishes three-fifths of the produce of all the French W. India colonies put together; or more than 10 millions sterling. The supply of horned cattle to the French part of the island cannot be estimated at less than 15,000 head annually; of which the Spaniards furnish four-fifths. There are, in the Spanish part of the island, but 22 sugar manufactories of any consequence; the rest being not worth naming; and even these 22 have all together but 600 negroes. Of these, 6 produce syrop and some sugar; but the others, which are called trapiches, where animals are employed to turn the mills and press the canes, without shelter, in the open air, make nothing but syrop. The whole of which produce is generally used in the colony. Slaves are treated with extreme mildness, and are usually fed as well as their masters. A slave can redeem himself at a price fixed by law. Thus the fate of the slave is softened by the hope of freedom, and the authority of the master by the habit of being confounded, in some sort, with those who were the other day in slavery. The laws against slaves are much neglected; those in their favour are very exactly observed. Few of the creoles can either read or write. The island is, in general, well watered by rivers and brooks without number, but certain spaces are deprived of this advantage. The French part of St. Domingo, containing 2,500,000 acres, of which 1,500,000 were under high cultivation in 1789, was then divided into 10 jurisdictions, which were subdivided into 52 parishes. W. jurisdictions. Port au Prince, St. Mark, Le Petit Goave, and Jeremie—in the N. Cape Francois, Fort Dauphin, and Port de Paix—those in the S. Les Cayes, St. Louis, and Jacmel. Before the late revolution, there were in these parishes about 42000 white people, 44000 free people of colour, and 600,000 slaves. The exports from Jan. 1, 1789, to Dec. 31, of the same year, were 47,516,531 lbs. of white sugar, 93,573,300 lbs. of brown sugar, 76,835,219 lbs. coffee, 7,004,274 cotton, 758,663 lbs. indigo, and other articles. tations, amounted to 770,801 dollars, gets. Port au Prince is the seat of the French government in this island, in time of peace, and a place of considerable trade. Cape François exceeds Port au Prince in the value of its productions, the elegance of its buildings, and the advantageous situation of its port. It is the governor's residence in time of war. The Mole, though inferior to these in other respects, is the first port in the island for safety in time of war, being by nature and art strongly fortified. The other towns and ports of any note, are Fort Dauphin, St. Mark, Leogane, Petit Goave, Jeremie, Les Cayes, St. Louis, and Jacmel, which see under their different names. To these particular observations, we add the following, of a more general nature: The sugar and indigo plantations are in the flat, the coffee in the mountainous lands. The plantations are for the most part enclosed with live hedges, straight and well dressed; the dwelling and manufactory houses were built and laid out with great neatness and taste; every habitation possessed a private hospital for the accommodation of its sick negroes, who were parentally dealt with; the roads were excellent; and from the general hospitality and cheerfulness of its former inhabitants, it was considered as one of the most enviable spots on earth. Such was the French part of St. Domingo in 1789; but, alas! it is no more: the destructive ravages of an unrelenting insurrection, of frightful massacres and conflagrations, have laid waste all those beautiful settlements, reduced the buildings to ashes, and laid low in dust or scattered in exile its wretched inhabitants.

Domingo, St. the capital of the Spanish part of the island of St. Domingo or Hispaniola, is situated on the W. bank of the Ozama, on the S. side of the island, towards the E. end. To the W. and to the N. of the city, the land is rough and rocky for about half a league, but after that it becomes good, and the country delightful. Towards the sea the scite of the city lies very high, which forms an insurmountable dyke against the fury of the waves. It is surrounded with a rampart 8 feet in diameter, and about 10 feet high. The streets are spacious, and straight as a line, which gives it a pleasing appearance. Ten of these streets ran from N. to S. and 20 others from E. to W. The greatest part of the houses, first built, are of a sort of marble found in the vicinity, and in the style of the ancient towns of Spain and Italy: those of a more recent construction are of tapia, a sort of pise. To erect these buildings, a case is made of planks, between pillars of masonry: this case is filled by degrees with a reddish clay, which is rammed down as it is thrown in, until it forms a solid or sort of wall, between the pillars. The clay thus pressed together, acquires an amazing hardness, and the walls are sometimes so solid and strong, that the pillars of masonry are useless. The houses of St. Domingo are tolerably handsome, in a simple style, and nearly uniform. A considerable part of these built within these 15 years, are of wood, covered with the leaves or taches of palm trees. The roofs are generally platformed, being shaped so as to conduct the rain.

water to the cisterns. The climate of the capital is, happily, very temperate. The nights of these months, which answer to the winter in Europe, are even found to be cold. The cathedral in this declining city, is a noble Gothic pile begun in 1512, and finished in 1546, and was constructed after the model of a church at Rome. It merits admiration on account of the boldness of its vault, which, notwithstanding the ravages of earthquakes in its neighborhood, has never, till within these 15 or 20 years, had a single flaw. The dust of Columbus rested within this pile until the year 1796, when it was removed. Here are 3 convents for men; which have increased in importance since 1782; 2 nunneries, 3 hospitals, a college, and a gaol. The convent of the Cordeliers was built by Ovando in 1503, on a little hill containing a mine of mercury. All the 3 parochial churches of St. Domingo are beautiful, rich in ornaments, in vases of gold and silver set with precious stones, in pictures, in statues of marble and of metal; but the cathedral surpasses the others in every respect. The population of the city of St. Domingo amounts to between 20 and 30,000. This city is 70 leagues E. by S. of Port au Prince, 90 S. E. of Cape Francois. N. lat. 18. 49. 30, W. long. from Paris 72 37.

DOMINICA, the last of the leeward or Caribbee islands, taking them from N. W. to S. E. It is situated about half way betwixt Guadaloupe on the N. W. and Martinico on the S. E. 15 leagues from each, between 15. 20 and 15. 44. 30 N. lat. and between 61. 17 and 61. 30 W. long. being about 29 miles in length, and nearly 16 broad, and contains 186,436 acres of land, and is divided into 10 parishes. The island contains many high and rugged mountains, interspersed with fertile valleys, and is watered by upwards of 30 rivers, beside a number of rivulets. The forests afford an inexhaustible quantity of rose wood, so esteemed by cabinet makers. The fruits and other productions are similar to those in the neighboring islands; but the soil being generally thin, is more adapted to the rearing of cotton than sugar. The best eye-stones that are known, are found on the shores of this island. The value of exports, according to the current London prices in 1788, amounted to £302,987-15 ster. including exports to American States, value £7,164-5. The cargoes, in 162 vessels, consisted of 71,302 cwt. 1 qr. 21 lbs. of sugar—63,392 gall. of rum—16,803 gall. molasses—1,194 cwt. 3 qrs. 2 lbs. cacao—18,149 cwt. 3 qrs. 6 lbs. coffee—12,250 lbs. indigo—970,816 lbs. cotton—161 cwt. ginger, besides hides, dying woods, &c. The number of inhabitants, in the same year, appears to have been 1236 whites—445 free negroes, &c. and 14,967 slaves. The only towns here of any note are Charlotte-town, the capital and seat of government, formerly called Roseau, on the S. W. side of the island, and Portsmouth, situated at the head of Prince Rupert's bay. It was taken by the French in the late war, and restored to Britain at the peace of 1783.

It contains 15 townships, of which Poughkeepsie and Fish-Kill are the chief, and 45,166 inhabitants. In the year 1792, a remarkable cavern was discovered in this county, at a place called by the Indians Sepalcot, at Rhyneck.

DUTCH AMERICA. The only possession which the Seven United Provinces, now called the Batavian Republic, retain on the continent of America, is the province called Dutch Guiana. A part of these possessions have been lately taken by the English. The islands in the West-Indies belonging to the republic are St. Eustatius and Curassou. The small island of Saba, near St. Eustatius, and the islands Bonaire and Aruba; which are appendages to Curassou, and chiefly improved in raising cattle and provisions for that island.

DUTCH GUIANA, in S. America, is bounded N. by the Atlantic ocean; lies between 5 and 7 N. lat. extending along the coast from the mouth of Oronoko R. to the river Marowynne. This country was esteemed by admiral Rodney, who captured it in 1780, as an acquisition of more value to the British empire, than all their W. India islands. It is divided into 3 distinct governments, viz.

1. Surinam, 2. Berbisch, 3. Essequibo and Demerara. The two last are districts, forming one government. A number of fine rivers pass through this province, the chief of which are Essequibo, Surinam, Demerara, Berbisch, and Canya. Essequibo is 22 miles wide at its mouth, and is more than 300 miles in length. The others are navigable, and are described under their different names. The chief towns are Paramabiro and Stachbroeck. In the months of September, October, and November, the climate on the coast is unhealthy, particularly to strangers; 100 miles back from the sea, you come to quite a different soil, a hilly country, a pure, dry, wholesome air, where a fire sometimes would not be disagreeable. Along the sea-coast, the water is brackish and unwholesome—the air damp and sultry. About 70 miles from the sea, on the river Surinam, is a village of about 40 or 50 houses, inhabited by Jews. This village and the towns above mentioned, with the intervening plantations, contain all the inhabitants in this colony, which amount to 3,200 whites, and 43,000 slaves. The country around is thinly inhabited with the native Indians, a harmless friendly set of people. On each side of the rivers and creeks are situated the plantations, containing from 500 to 2000 acres each, in number about 350 in the whole colony, producing at present annually about 16,000 hhds. of sugar, 12,000,000 lb. coffee, 700,000 lb. cocoa, 850,000 lb. cotton. The soil is perhaps as rich and as luxuriant as any in the world; it is generally a rich, fat, clayey earth, lying in some places above the level of the rivers at high water (which rises about 8 feet) and in most places below it. This colony, by proper management, it is asserted, might become equal to Jamaica. Land is not wanting; it is finely intersected by noble rivers, and abundant creeks; the soil is of the best kind, it is well situated, and the climate is not very unhealthy, and is growing better, as the country is cleared of its woods, and cultivated. The colony is guarded by about 1600 regular troops, paid by the directors. These troops together with a corps of about 250 free negroes, paid by the court here, and another small corps of chasseurs, and so many slaves as the court thinks fit to order from the planters from time to time, are dispersed at posts placed at proper distances on a Cordón, surrounding the colony on the land side, in order, as far as possible, to defend the distant plantations and the colony in general from the attacks of several dangerous bands of runaway slaves, which from very small beginnings have, from the natural prolificacy of the negro race, and the continual addition of fresh fugitives, arrived at such an height as to have cost the country very great sums of money and much loss of men, without being able to do these negroes any effectual injury. This colony was first possessed by the French about the year 1630 or 40—was taken up by some Englishmen, about 1650. In 1667 it was taken by the Dutch. At present this colony is in the possession of the British.

It is regularly laid out, and contains about 150 dwelling-houses, a church, court-house, register's office, and an academy. It is 12 miles N. E. of Bethlehem, and 70 N. of Philadelphia.

EASTON, the chief town of Talbot co. Maryland, formerly called Talbot Court-House, is on the E. side of Chesapeake Bay. It has a handsome court-house, and market-house; about 150 dwelling-houses, and several stores for the supply of the adjacent country. It is 5 miles S. westerly of Williamsburg, 37 S. of Chester Town, and 128 S. W. of Philadelphia.

EASTON, a township in Washington co. N. York, and has 2339 inhabitants.

EASTON, or Rafdown, a township important for its iron manufactures, in Bristol co. Massachusetts, near the head of Raynham R. 6 miles N. W. of Raynham, has Bridgewater on the E. adjoining. It contains 1466 inhabitants. The best mill-saws in the State are made here. The art of making steel was introduced here by Capt. Eliphalet Leonard, in 1787. It is made in quantities; and is cheaper than imported steel, and equal in quality for large work, such as ploughshares, mill saws, horse shoes, &c. which require large quantities of hard steel. But for edge tools, in general, it is found to be of inferior quality to what is imported. The manufacture of linseed oil began here in 1792, and from an annual stock of 3000 bushels of seed, there has been annually produced near 5000 gallons of oil.

EUSTATIA Town, in the island of Eustatia or Eustatius.

EUSTATIUS, St. or Eustatia, is the chief island belonging to the Dutch in the W. Indies, in 17° 29' N. lat. and in 63° 10' W. long. and 3 leagues N. W. of St. Christopher's. It is only a mountain, about 25 miles in compass, rising out of the sea, like a pyramid, and almost round; but though so small and inconveniently laid out by nature, the industry of the Dutch has turned it to so good account, that it is said to contain 3000 whites, and 15,000 negroes. The sides of the mountains are laid out in very pretty settlements; but they have neither springs nor rivers. The produce is chiefly sugar and tobacco. The Dutch first took possession of this island in the year 1635.

EVANHAM, the capital of Wythe co. in Virginia. It contains a court-house, gaol, and about 25 houses; 40 miles W. by S. of Christiansburg, 242 in a like direction from Richmond.

FAIRLEE, a township in Orange co. Vermont, on the W. bank of Connecticut R. 16 miles N. of Dartmouth College. It contains 463 inhabitants. This township has lately been divided. The names of the two divisions are Fairlee and West Fairlee. In the former are two remarkable ledges of rocks, which project to the river, presenting a perpendicular front, one about 200 feet high, the other as much as 300. The latter called Sawyer's mount appears to hang over the road, and to threaten the traveller as he passes. The space between this ledge and the river is scarcely wide enough for a road. Behind these mountains is a pond of considerable size, bordered with excellent land, and thickly settled.

FALKLAND Isle lies at no great distance from the straits of Magellan, at the utmost extremity of S. America; between 50 and 56 W. long. and 51 and 53 S. lat. The Spaniards now send criminals to these inhospitable shores from their settlements in America.

Carolina, the seat of justice for the above district, and pleasantly situated in Cumberland co. on the W. side of the N. W. branch of Cape Fear R. nearly at the head of navigation, and 100 miles above Wilmington, and 61 southerly of Raleigh. On the bank of the R. stand a few buildings and the tobacco ware houses, which have received in one season 6000 hhds. of tobacco, equal in quality to that of Petersburg. The compact part of the town is situated about a mile from the R. It contains about 400 houses, a handsome edifice for the supreme, district, and courts, and the meetings of the town officers and its citizens. The Free Masons' lodge is also a large and handsome building. The town is regularly laid out, and its principal streets are 100 feet wide. Here are three mills, two considerable distilleries and breweries, and several extensive tan yards. The trade to Wilmington is very considerable, to which it sends down tobacco, wheat, flour, beef, pork, flax-seed, hemp, cotton, butter, lumber, slaves, naval stores, &c. The situation of the town is agreeable and healthy, and stands in a settlement of Scotch Highlanders, and is 55 miles N. W. of Camden in S. Carolina, 100 S. W. of Tarborough, 147 S. W. by S. of Halifax, 379 S. by W. of Washington city, and 526 S. W. by S. of Philadelphia.

FLETCHER, a township in Franklin co. Vermont, has 47 inhabitants.

FLINT River, a considerable river of Georgia, which rises in the country of the Creek Indians, and running a S. and thence a S. W. course, joins the Appalachicola, at its entrance into Florida. The Flint is about 30 rods wide, and from 12 to 15 feet deep in summer, and has a gentle current. The territory lying on this river, especially on the upper part of it, presents every appearance of a delightful and fruitful region in some future day; it being a rich soil, and exceedingly well situated for every branch of agriculture, and offers an uninterrupted navigation to the bay of Mexico, and Atlantic ocean, and thence to the W. India islands and over the whole world. There are a number of villages of Creek Indians on this river.

FLINT, a small river, in the Genesee country, N. York, which runs N. N. E. into Canadawagus creek.

FLORIDA, a township in Orange co. N. York, 6 or 8 miles S. of Goshen, and 50 N. W. of New-York city.

FLORIDA, East and West, belonging to Spain, situated between 25 and 31 N. lat. and between 80 and 91 W. long. about 600 miles in length. Its breadth is various; the broadest part of W. Florida is about 130 miles, while the narrow peninsula of E. Florida extends, in the same direction, from S. to N. 400 miles. It is bounded N. by Georgia, S. by the gulf of Mexico, E. by the Atlantic ocean, and W. by the Mississippi, which separates it from Louisiana, and is nearly of the form of the letter L. Among its rivers that fall into the Atlantic, St. John's and Indian rivers are the chief. Seguana, Appalachicola, Chatahatchi, Escambia, Mobile, Pascagoula, and Pearl rivers, all rise in Georgia, and run southerly into the gulf of Mexico. The climate is little different from that of Georgia. There are, in this country, a great variety of soils; the eastern part of it, near to, and about St. Augustine, is by far the least fruitful. The banks of the rivers, which water the Floridas, and the parts contiguous, are of a superior quality, and well adapted to the culture of rice and corn. The orange and lemon trees grow here, without cultivation, to a large size, and produce better fruit than in Spain and Portugal. The intervals between the hills are extremely rich. The principal town in W. Florida is Pensacola; in E. Florida, St. Augustine. The Spanish strength in the Floridas, in 1790, was as follows, according to Mr. Melford's account: Troops and levies at St. Augustine and on St. John's river, 400—St. Mark's, 100—Pensacola, 350—Mobile and Tombigbee, 150—at the Natchez, 200. The number of American families that have been Spanish subjects since 1783, amounts to 1740, viz. at Tensaw, near Mobile bay, 90—on Tombigbee river, 130—at the Natchez, on the Mississippi, 1500. The British divided this country into E. and W. Florida. During the American war, both the Floridas were reduced by the Spaniards, and guarantied to the crown of Spain by the definitive treaty of 1783.

FLORIDA KEYS, or Martyr's Islands, a number of rocks and sand banks, projecting from the peninsula of E. Florida inward, to the gulf of Mexico, in the form of a hook.

FLOWERTOWN, in Pennsylvania, is a small village about 12 miles N. of Philadelphia, in Montgomery co.

FLOYD, a new township in Herkemer co. N. York.

FLUSHING, a town in Queen's co. N. York, on Long-Island, and on the S. side of Hell Gate; 7 miles E. by N. of New-York city. It contains 160 inhabitants.

FLUVANA, a Virginia, on Fluvanna or James river, contains 3,921 inhabitants. There is great plenty of marble, both white and variegated with blue, red and purple veins, found here, on James R. at the mouth of Rockfish; where it forms a large precipice, overhanging a navigable part of the river.

Fox, a river in the N. W. Territory, which rises in the S. and runs about 50 miles N. where it approaches very near to, and parallel with, Quiseconfin, a N. eastern branch of the Mississippi river. From the Great Carrying place here, through lake Winnebago, it runs easterly, then N. E. to bay Pécot, about 180 miles. Its breadth is between 70 and 100 yards. The land on its borders is good, thinly wooded with hickory, oak, and hazel.

FRAMINGHAM, a township in Middlesex co. Massachusetts, containing 1998 inhabitants, 24 miles W. S. W. of Boston.

FRANCETOWN, Hillsborough co. N. Hampshire, 21 miles to the S. W. of Concord. It has 982 inhabitants.

FRANCISSBOROUGH, a settlement in York co. Maine, 311 inhabitants.

FRANCIS, St. a lake, or extension of the river St. Lawrence, between Kingston and Montreal, through which passes the line dividing Upper from Lower Canada. This lake is about 21 miles long, and, in the widest place, about 9 miles wide.

FRANCIS, St. a river in Lower Canada, which rises from lake Memphremagog, and runs northward into the river St. Lawrence. It is not all the way navigable.

FRANCIS, St. in Brazil, S. America, a long and large river, which empties into the ocean, N. E. of the town of Seregeppe del Rey. It has a number of towns and settlements, chiefly on its head waters.

FRANÇOIS, Cape St. a jurisdiction, city, and port in the N. western part of the island of St. Domingo. This jurisdiction is in the N. division of the island, in what was called the French part of it; and contains 13 parishes. Its exports from Jan. 1, 1789, to Dec. 31, of the same year, were as follow: 31,187,636 lbs. white sugar; 7,267,531 lbs. brown sugar; 32,545,524 lbs. coffee; 269,240 lbs. cotton; 225,477 lbs. indigo; tanned hides, molasses, spirits, &c. to the value of 21,789 livres. Total value of duties on exportation, 253,590 dollars, 37 cents. Cape François exceeds Port au Prince in the value of its productions; the elegance of its buildings, and the advantageous situation of its port. The city, which is the governor's residence in time of war, is situated on a cape at the edge of a large plain, cut through by straight roads, 40 feet broad, uninterruptedly lined with hedges of lime and lemon trees, interspersed with long avenues of lofty trees, leading to plantations which produce a greater quantity of sugar than any spot of the same size in the world. The town is situated in the most unhealthy place of this extensive and beautiful plain. The harbour is admirably well situated for ships which come from Europe, being only open to the N. from whence ships receive no damage, its entrance being sprinkled over with reefs that break the force of the waves. Before its destruction in 1793, this city contained about 8009 inhabitants; whites, people of colour, and slaves.

FRANK, 13, Old Cape, the northeasternmost point of the island of St. Domingo or Hispaniola.

FRANCONIA, a township in Grafton co. N. Hampshire, 14 miles N. E. of Haverhill (N. H.) on Connecticut R. 72 inhabitants.

FRANKLIN, a township N. London co. Connecticut, 6 miles N. W. of Norwich. It contains above 1000 inhabitants.

FRANKSTOWN, a township in Huntingdon co. Pennsylvania, on the Frankstown branch of Juniata R. 20 miles W. of Huntingdon.

FREDERICK, a village in Kent co. Delaware, of about 40 houses, 12 miles E. of Dover, and 88 from Philadelphia.

FREDERICK, a town of Glynn co. in Georgia, on St. Simon's island, in a very pleasant situation, and was built by Gen. Oglethorpe. The fortress was beautiful and regular, but is now in ruins. The town contains but few houses, which stand on an eminence, upon a branch of Altamaha river, which washes the W. side of this agreeable island, and forms a bay before the town, affording a safe and commodious harbor for vessels of the largest burden, which may lie along the wharf.

FREDERICK Co. Maryland, on Potomac R. On the Monocacy river and its branches in this county about 37 grist-mills, a furnace, iron forge, and a glass manufactory, called the Great glass works, which are in a thriving state. It contains 30,792 inhabitants. Chief town, Fredericktown.

FREDERICK Co. Virginia, on Shenandoah R. contains 19,683 inhabitants. Near the North Mountain in this co. is a curious cave, by some called Zeng's Cave. Its entrance is on the top of an extensive ridge. You descend 30 or 40 feet as into a well, from whence the cave then extends, nearly horizontally, 400 feet into the earth, preserving a breadth of from 20 to 30 feet, and a height of from 5 to 12 feet. It is used with a bucket and windlass as an ordinary well. It is said there is a current in it tending sensibly downwards. Chief town, Winchester.

FREDERICK, a township in Montgomery co. Pennsylvania.

FREDERICK, a town in Cecil co. Maryland, 6 miles S. W. of Warwick, and 12 E. of Grove point, in Chesapeake bay.

FREDERICKSBURG, a post-town in Spotsylvania co. Virginia, on the S. W. bank of Rappahannock river, 110 miles from its mouth in Chesapeake bay. It is an incorporated town, and regularly laid out into several streets, the chief of which run parallel with the river, and in all contains upwards of 200 houses, two tobacco warehouses, and several stores of well assorted goods. Its public buildings are an Episcopal church, an academy, court-house and gaol. It is a place of considerable trade, and contains about 2000 inhabitants. It is 50 miles S. S. W. of Alexandria, 68 N. by E. of Richmond.

FREDERICKSTOWN, in Dutchess co. N. York, contains 5932 inhabitants.

FREDERICKTON, a considerable township in the province of N. Brunswick, 20 miles up St. John's R. which is thus far navigable for ships.

FREDERICKSTOWN, a post-town of Maryland, and capital of Frederick co. The streets are regularly laid out, intersecting each other at right angles. The dwelling-houses, chiefly of stone and brick, are about 700 in number, many of which are handsome and commodious. The public edifices are, one church for Presbyterians; two for German Lutherans and Calvinists, and one for Baptists, an elegant court-house, a gaol, and a brick market-house. It is a very flourishing town, and has considerable trade with the back country. The Etna glass works are situated 4 miles above the town, on Tuskarora creek. Fredericktown is 47 miles W. by N. of Baltimore, 24 E. of Sharpsburg, and 148 S. W. by W. of Philadelphia. N. lat. 39 24.

FREEMOLD, a post-town in Monmouth co. N. Jersey, 15 miles W. of Shrewsbury, and 20 S. E. by S. of N. Brunswick. In this town was fought the obstinate battle called the Monmouth battle, on the 28th of June, 1778. There is an academy in this town, and it contains 3785 inhabitants.

FREEMOLD, Upper, a township of N. Jersey, Monmouth co. adjoining the Burlington and Middlesex cos. on the N. and S. W. and Freehold on the E. It contains 3442 inhabitants.

FREEMOLD, a township in Albany co. N. York, containing 1821 inhabitants.

FREETAT, a township in Cumberland co. Maine, at the head of Cato bay; about 10 miles N. E. of Portland, and 140 N. by E. of Boston. It contains 1330 inhabitants.

FREETOWN, a township in Bristol co. Massachusetts, contains 2202 inhabitants, 50 miles south-erly of Boston.

FRENCH AMERICA. The only part of the continent which the French nation now possess, is the district or province of Cayenne; and the island of the same name on its coast, in S. America. In the W. Indies the French claim the following islands, to which the reader is referred for a particular description: St. Domingo, or Hispaniola, Gondoupe, St. Lucia, Tobago, St. Barthelemy, Dominica, and Martinique. The W. India islands are at present in so fluctuating a state, and so often changing masters, that it is impossible to give a correct account of them.

FRENCH BROAD, a navigable R. in Tennessee, formed by two main branches, which unite about 58 miles from the source of the Nolichucky, the eastern branch; thence flows N. westerly about 25 miles, and joins the Holston 12 miles above Knoxville, and is 400 or 500 yards wide. The navigation of this branch is much interrupted by rocks.

FRENCH CREEK, a N. western water of Alleghany R. into which it falls along the N. side of Port Franklin, 63 miles N. by E. of Pittsburg. It affords the nearest passage to Lake Erie. It is navigable with small boats to Le Beuf; the portage thence to Presque Isle, from an adjoining peninsula, is 15 miles. This is the usual route from Quebec to Ohio.

FRENCHMAN'S Bay, lies on the sea coast of Lincoln co. Maine, and is formed by Mount Desert island on the westward, and the peninsula of Goldborough township on the eastward.

FRENCH TOWN, in Cecil co. Maryland, lies on the E. side of Elk R. a mile S. of Elkton.

FRONTENAC, Fort, a fortress in Canada, situated at the head of a fine bay or harbor, on the N. W. side of the outlet of Lake Ontario, where all sorts of vessels may ride in safety. It is a league from the mouth of the lake, and a short distance S. of Kingston, and about 300 miles from Quebec. The British, under Col. Bradstreet, took it in 1759, to which it was confirmed at the peace in 1763.

FREDERICK, a township in Chester co. Pennsylvania.

FREING-BANK, a dangerous rapid so called from its form, at the entrance of Cape Fear R. in N.
Carolina; the S. part of it is in N.
lat. 33 34, 6 miles from Cape Fear-pitch; and 24 S. E. by S. from the light-house on Bald Head.

FREESTON, a township pleasantly situated in York co. Maine, in a bend of Saco R. and has a flourishing academy, and contains 447 inhabitants. This is the ancient Indian village Pigwacket, through which the upper part of Saco meanders; 60 miles from the sea, at 120 N. by E. of Boston.

FUEN, Straits of Juan de, lie on the N. W. coast of N. America.
The entrance is in N. lat. 48 25, W. long. 124 52. The Spaniards jealous of their right to the American coast, established a settlement at this place.

FUROR, a large bay which ex-pans between the islands in Penobscot bay, in Lincoln co.
Maine, and Cape Sable, the S. western point of Nova-Scotia. It extends about 100 miles in a N.

E. direction. It is 12 leagues across from St. John's, in N. Brunswick, to the Gut of Annapolis, in Nova-Scotia; where the tides are rapid, and rise 30 feet. Above this it preserves nearly an equal breadth, until its waters are formed into 2 arms, by a peninsula, the western point of which is called Cape Chignecto.
At the head of the N. eastern arm, called Chignecto channel, which,
with bay Verte, forms the isthmus, the tides rise 60 feet. In the Basin of Minas, which is the E. arm or branch of this bay, the tides rise 40 feet. These tides are so rapid as to overtake animals feeding on the shore.

GAGE'S Town, a settlement in Sunbury co. N. Brunswick; on the lands granted to Gen.
Gage on the W. side of St. John's R. on the northern shore of the bay of Fundy. The general grant consists of 20,000 acres of land.

GALEN, a military township in the State of N. York, 12 miles N. W. of the N. end of Cayuga lake, and 13 S. by E. of Great Sodus.

GALICIA, an audience in Old Mexico or N. Spain, containing 7 provinces. Guadalajara is the capital city.

GALLIOPOLIS, a post-town in the N. W. Territory, situated on a bend of the Ohio, and nearly opposite to the mouth of the Great Kanaway. It is said to contain about 100 houses, all inhabited by French people. It is 140 miles eastward of Columbia, 300 S. W. of Pittsburgh, and 359

S. W. of Philadelphia. This town is said to be on the decline, their right to the lands not being sufficiently secured.

GALLOWAY, a township in Gloucester co. N. Jersey.

GALWAY, a township in the new co. of Saratoga, in N. York; 491 of its inhabitants are electors.

GAMBEL'S Station, a fort about 14 miles from Knoxville, in Tennessee.

GARDNER, a township in Worcester co. Massachusetts. It contains 531 inhabitants, and is 26 miles N. by W. of Worcester, and 60 N. W. of Boston.

GARDNER'S Island, at the E. end of Long Island, N. York, is 10 miles N. W. of Montauk Point, and as far S. W. of Plum Island. It contains about 3000 acres of fertile land, the property of one person, and yields excellent grain, wheat, and corn. Fine sheep and cattle are raised on it. It is annexed to B. Hampton, and lies 40 miles southwesterly of Newport, Rhode Island.

GARZA, or Nanqui Point, 7 miles from Providence (R.I.) projecting from the western shore of Providence R. remarkable as being the place where the British armed schooner, called the Gazette, was burnt, June 10, 1772, by about 60 men from Providence, painted like Narragansett Indians.

GATES Co. in Edenton district, N. Carolina, contains 5,392 inhabitants, including 2,219 slaves. Chief town, Hertford.

GAY Head, is a kind of peninsula on Martha's Vineyard, between 3 and 4 miles in length, and 2 in breadth, and almost separated from the other part of the island by a large pond. The Indians inhabiting this part, when lately numbered, amounted to 203. The soil is good. The sea has made such encroachments here, that, within 30 years, it has swept off 15 or 20 rods. The extremity of Gay Head is the S. W. point of the Vineyard. N. lat. 41 20, W. long. from Greenwich, 70 50.

GENESSEE Country, a large tract of land in the State of N. York, bounded N. and N. W. by lake Ontario, S. by Pennsylvania, E. by the western part of the military townships in Onondago co. and W. by lake Erie and Niagara river. It is a rich tract of country, and well watered by lakes and rivers; one of the latter, Genessee river, gives name to this tract. It is generally flat; the rivers sluggish; the soil moist; and the lakes numerous.

GENESSEE, a township in Ontario co. N. York, having 217 electors.

GENESSEE River rises in Pennsylvania, in the highest ground in that State. Fifty miles from its source there are falls of 40 feet, and 5 from its mouth, other falls of 75 feet; and a little above that, falls of 96 feet. These falls furnish excellent mill-steps, which are improved by the inhabitants. After a course of about 100 miles, mostly N. E. by N. it empties into lake Ontario, 44 miles E. of Irondequoit, or Rondout bay, and 80 E. from Niagara falls. The settlements on Genessee river, from its mouth upwards, are, Hartford, Ontario, Wadsworth and Williamburgh. The last mentioned place, it is probable, will soon be the seat of extensive commerce. There will not be a carrying-place between N. York city and Williamburgh, when the western canal and locks shall be completed. The carrying-place follows, viz. Genessee. It is but 200 miles necessary, to carry a million of goods. Genessee borders on about 200 miles wide; rich, quick, and fertile. It is a most fertile soil, and is a most fertile soil.

carrying-places at present are as follows, viz. Albany to Schenectady 16 miles, Oswego falls 2, Genesee falls 4; so that there are but 20 miles land-carriage necessary, in order to convey commodities from a tract of country capable of maintaining several millions of people. The famous Genesee flats lie on the borders of this river. They are about 20 miles long, and about 4 wide. The soil is remarkably rich, quite clear of trees, producing grass 2 or 3 feet high. These flats are estimated to be worth $200,000 as they now lie. They are mostly the property of the Indians.

GENEVA, a post-town in Onondago co. N. York, on the great road from Albany to Niagara, on the bank of the N. W. corner of Seneca lake, about 74 miles from Oneida castle, and 92 W. of W. town. The Friends' settlement lies about 18 miles below this. Here were 20 log-houses, and a few other buildings several years ago, which have much increased since.

GENEVIEVE, St. a village in Louisiana, on the western bank of the Mississippi, nearly opposite to the village of Kaskaskias, 12 miles southerly of Fort Chartres. It contained, about 20 years ago, upwards of 200 houses, and 466 inhabitants, besides negroes.

GEORGE'S, St. a cape and island, nearly opposite to the river Apalachicola, on the coast of E. Florida.

GEORGE'S LAKE, in East-Florida, is a dilatation of the river St. John, and called also Great Lake. It is about 15 miles wide, and generally about 15 or 20 feet deep. The lake is beautified with several fertile islands. Here are evident marks of a large town of the Aborigines, and the island appears to have been once the chosen residence of an Indian prince. On the site of this ancient town, stands a very pompous Indian mount, or conical pyramid of earth, from which runs in a straight line, a grand avenue or Indian-highway, thro' a magnificent grove of magnolias, live oaks, palms and orange-trees, terminating at the verge of a large, green, level savanna. From fragments dug up, it appears to have been a thickly inhabited town.

GEORGE'S LAKE, lies to the southward of lake Champlain, and its waters lie about 100 feet higher. The portage between the two lakes is a mile and a half; but with a small expense might be reduced to 60 yards; and with one or two locks might be made navigable through, for batteaux. It is a most clear, beautiful collection of water; 36 miles long, and from 1 to 7 wide. It contains more than 200 small barren islands. The famous fort of Frontenac, which stood on the N. side of the outlet of the lake, where it discharges its waters into lake Champlain, is now in ruins.

GEORGE'S, St. a large and deep bay on the W. side of Newfoundland Island. N. lat. 48-12.

GEORGE'S BANK, St. a fishing bank in the Atlantic Ocean, E. of Cape Cod, in Massachusetts. It extends from N. to S. between 41-15, and 42-22 N. lat. and between 67-50, and 68-40 W. long.

GEORGE'S R. St. in Lincoln co. Maine, is rather an arm of the sea, and lies about 4 leagues S. W. of Penobscot bay. Four leagues from the mouth of this R. sands Thomaston. This river is navigable for brigs and ships of a large burden up to the narrows; and from thence about 4 miles higher, to nearly the head of the tide, for sloops and schooners of 80 or 90 tons.

Georgetown, St. a village nearly in the centre of Newcastle co. Delaware, 17 miles S. by W. of Wilmington, and 45 S. W. of Philadelphia.

Georgetown, St. the capital of the island of Grenada, in the W. Indies; formerly called Fort Royale, which name the fort still retains. It is situated on a spacious bay, on the W. or lee-side of the island, not far from the S. end; and possesses one of the safest and most commodious harbors in the British W. Indies, which has lately been fortified at a very great expense, and declared a free port. The town is computed to contain about 2000 inhabitants, many of whom are wealthy merchants. This was its situation before the insurrection of the negroes; of its present state we have not authentic information.

Georgetown, the chief town of Sussex co. Delaware, 16 miles W. by W. of Lewistown, and 103 S. of Philadelphia—contains about 30 houses.

Georgetown, a post-town in Maryland, Kent co. on the E. side of Chesapeake bay, of about 30 houses; is 60 miles N. E. of Chester; and 65 S. W. of Philadelphia.

Georgetown, a village of Fayette co. Pennsylvania, on the S. E. side of Monongahela river, 16 miles S. W. of Union.

Georgetown, a post-town and port of entry, in Montgomery co. Maryland, in the territory of Columbia, pleasantly situated on a number of small hills, upon the northern bank of Potowmac R. 4 miles from Washington city, and 8 N. of Alexandria. It contains about 230 houses, several of which are elegant and commodious. The Roman Catholics have established a college here, for the promotion of general literature, which is at present in a very flourishing state. Georgetown carries on a small trade with Europe and the W. Indies. The exports in one year, ending Sept. 30, 1794, amounted to the value of 228,924 dollars. It is 46 miles S. W. by W. of Baltimore, and 148 S. W. of Philadelphia.

Georgetown, in Lincoln co. Maine, is situated on both sides of Kennebeck R. It is the oldest town in the co. contains 1333 inhabitants, and is almost surrounded by navigable waters. The entrance at the mouth of Kennebeck R. is guided on the E. by Parker's island, belonging to this township. It contains about 28,000 acres of land and salt marsh, and is inhabited by more than one-third part of the people of the township. This was the spot on which the Europeans first attempted to colonize N. England, in the year 1607. It is a part of what was called Sagadahock; and the patentees of the Plymouth Company began here to lay the foundation of a great State. They sent over a number of civil and military officers, and about 200 people. By various misfortunes they were forced to give up the settlement, and in 1608, the whole number who survived the winter returned to England. Georgetown is 15 miles S. of Pownalborough, and 179 N. by E. of Boston.

It is about 112 miles from N. to S. and 63 from E. to W. and is divided into the parishes of All Saints, Prince George, and Prince Frederick. It contains 22,122 inhabitants, of whom 13,131 are slaves.

GEORGETOWN, a post-town, port of entry, and capital of the above district, is situated on a spot near which several streams unite their waters, and form a broad stream called Winyaw bay, 12 miles from the sea. Its situation connects it with an extensive back country of both the Carolinas, and would be a place of vast importance, were it not for a bar at the entrance of Winyaw bay, which interrupts the entrance of vessels drawing above 11 feet water, and is in many respects a dangerous place. It contains above 300 houses, built chiefly of wood. The public buildings are a court-house, gaol, and academy; 3 churches, of which the Episcopalians, Baptists, and Methodists have one each. There is here a small trade to the W. Indies. The exports for one year, ending Sept. 30, 1795, were to the value of 21,311 dollars. It is 60 miles N. E. by N. of Charleston, 127 S. W. of Wilmington, N. Carolina, and 681 from Philadelphia. N. lat. 33 24, W. long. 79 35.

GEORGIA, one of the United States of N. America, is situated between 30 37 and 35 N. lat. and between 80 8 and 92 S. W.

long. being about 600 miles in length, and on an average 250 in breadth. It is bounded E. by the Atlantic ocean; S. by E. and W. Florida; W. by the river Mississippi; N. E. and N. by S. Carolina and the Tennessee State. It was formerly divided into parishes, afterwards into 3 districts, but lately into two districts, viz. Upper and Lower, which are subdivided into 24 counties, as follow: In the Lower district are Camden, Glynn, Liberty, Chatham, Bryan, McIntosh, Effingham, Scriven, and Burke. The counties in the Upper District are Montgomery, Washington, Hancock, Greene, Franklin, Oglethorpe, Elbert, Wilkes, Lincoln, Warren, Jefferson, Jackson, Bullock, Columbia, and Richmond. The principal towns are Augusta, formerly the seat of government, Savannah, the former capital of the State, Sunbury, Brunswick, Frederica, Washington, and Louisville, which is the metropolis of the State; and here are deposited the records of the State, such of them as a late legislature did not order to be publicly burnt. The principal rivers which water Georgia are, Savannah, Ogeechee and Altamaha. Besides these and their numerous branches, there is Turtle river, Little Satilla, Great Satilla, Crooked R. and St. Mary's, which forms a part of the southern boundary of the United States. The rivers in the middle and western parts, as the Mobile, Tombigbee, Pearl, &c. are noticed under their titles. The chief lake or marsh is Ekanfanoka, by some called Ouagapheogaw, which is 300 miles in circumference. The eastern part of the State, between the mountains and the ocean, and the river Savannah and St. Mary's, a tract of country more than 120 miles from N. to S. and from 50 to 80 E. and W. is level, without a hill or stone. At the distance of about 40 or 50 miles from the sea board, or salt marsh, the lands begin to be more or less uneven, until they gradually rise to mountains. In the low country, near the rice swamps, bilious complaints and fevers of various kinds are pretty universal, during the months of July, August, and September. In the winter and spring, pleuritis, peripneumonies, and other inflammatory disorders, occasioned by violent and sudden colds, are considerably common, and frequently fatal. Consumptions, epilepsies, cancers, pallsies, and apoplexies, are not so common among the inhabitants of the Southern as northern climates. The winters in Georgia are very mild and pleasant. In the low lands are the rice, indigo, and cotton fields. In the interior and hilly parts, wheat, Indian corn, and the other productions more common to the northern States. Rice and cotton is at present the staple commodities of the State; tobacco, wheat and indigo are the other great articles of produce. Besides these the State yields silk, corn, potatoes, oranges, figs, olives, pomegranates, &c. The forests consist of oak, hickory, mulberry, pine, cedar, &c. The whole coast is bordered with islands. There is a prospect, that in a few years the States of S. Carolina and Georgia may be able to raise more than ten millions of pounds of cotton annually for exportation. Most of the tropical fruits would flourish in this State, with proper attention. The south-western part of this State, and the parts of E. and W. Florida, which lie adjoining, will probably, in some future time, become the vineyard of America. The chief articles of export are rice, tobacco, indigo, sugar, lumber, naval stores, leather, deer-skins, snake-root, myrtle and bees wax, corn, and live stock. The planters and farmers raise large flocks of cattle, from 1,000 to 1,500 head, and some more. The value in sterling money, of the exports of Georgia, in the year 1796, was 950,158. In 1790, the tonnage employed in this State was 23,540, and the number of American seamen 11,225. In return for her exports Georgia receives W. India goods, teas, wines, cloathing, and dry goods of all kinds. From the northern States, cheese, fish, potatoes, apples, cider, and shoes. The imports and exports are principally to and from Savannah, which has a fine harbour, and is the place where the principal commercial business of the State is transacted. According to the census of 1790, the number of inhabitants amounted to 24,348, of whom 29,264 were slaves. The increase by immigration and otherwise, has been very considerable since. The different religious sects are Presbyterians, Episcopians, Baptists, and Methodists. They have but few regular ministers among them. The literature of this State, which is yet in its infancy, is commencing on a plan which, if ever carried into effect, will be very advantageous to the State. The funds for the support of literary institutions are principally in lands, amounting in the whole to 50,000 acres, which is of great value at present, and will be more so with new bonds, however, as it was first settled, and was the first at the expense of Georgia. The United States included all the land of Georgia head waters fall into this. This extensive embraces for in the United States, and was the first of the rivers, except such as by the title of the Muscogee, Chactaw, Cherokee, small portions of this Tennessee together and 9000 families of those parts where the extinguished Natchez, and on the bank and a considerable number of the Tombigbee. This Territory become a public attention, and was the first of the States, is very defective. Gazetteer, and an abridgement of the same are referred to Georgia.

to 30,000 acres, a great part of which is of the best quality, and at present very valuable; together with nearly 60000 sterling in bonds, houses, &c. This State was first settled in the year 1732, and was the only colony settled at the expense of the crown.

GEORGIA WESTERN TERRITORY. Under this name is included all that part of the State of Georgia which lies W. of the head waters of those rivers which fall into the Atlantic Ocean. This extensive tract of country embraces some of the finest land in the United States, is intersected with a great number of noble rivers, and is inhabited (except such parts wherein the Indian title has been extinguished) by three nations of Indians, viz. the Muskogulge or Creek, the Chactaws, and Chicafaws. The Cherokees also have a title to a small portion of the northern part of this Territory, on the Tennessee river. These nations together can furnish between 8 and 9000 warriors. About 2000 families of white people inhabit those parts of this Territory where the Indian title has been extinguished, chiefly at the Natchez, and the Yazoo river, on the banks of the Mississippi, and a considerable number on the Tombighee river, and scattered among the Creek Indians. This Territory, which has lately become an object of much public attention and inquiry, in Europe, as well as in the United States, is very fully and accurately described in the American Gazetteer, of which this work is an abridgment, to which inquiries concerning this Territory are referred for information.

GEORGIA, a township in Franklin co. Vermont, on Lake Champlain, contains 340 inhabitants.

GERARDSTOWN, a neat little town, situated in Berkely co. Virginia, containing about 30 or 40 houses; 10 miles from Martinsburg, and 254 from Philadelphia.

GERMAN, a township in Fayette co. Pennsylvania.

GERMAN FLATS, the chief township of Herkemer co. N. York. By the State census of 1796, it had 4194 inhabitants, of whom 684 are electors. It lies on the S. side of Mohawk R. opposite Herkemer. It is 24 miles E. of Whitestown, and 60 miles W. of Schenectady.

GERMANTOWN, Columbia co. N. York, contains 516 inhabitants.

GERMANTOWN, in Philadelphia co. Pennsylvania, 7 miles N. of Philadelphia city, is a corporation, consisting chiefly of High and Low Dutch, and contains about 250 houses, chiefly of stone, some of which are large, elegant and commodious; built chiefly on one street, about two miles in length. The public buildings are a German Calvinist and Lutheran church, a Friend's meeting-house, and an academy. Kait stockings, of cotton, thread and worsted, are manufactured here by individuals to a considerable extent, and of an excellent quality. This town is also rendered famous, by the battle fought in it on the 4th of Oct. 1777.

GERMANTOWN, a post-town and the capital of Stokes co. N. Carolina. It is situated near the Town Fork of Dan R. and contains a court-house, gaol, and about 30 houses. It is 328 miles S. W. by S. of Philadelphia.

GERMANTOWN, the chief town of Hyde co. in Newbern district, N. Carolina.

GERMANY, a township in York co. Pennsylvania.

GERARD ISLAND, a small isle near Cape Neddock, close to the main land in the District of Maine.

GERRY, a township in Worcester co. Massachusetts, has 740 inhabitants, is 30 miles N. W. of Worcester, and 65 N. W. by W. of Boston.

GERTTSBURGH, a small town in York co. Pennsylvania, of about 30 houses; 8 miles from Millerstown, 15 from Abbotstown, 36 from Williamsport in Maryland, and 118 W. by S. of Philadelphia.

GIBRALTAR, an ancient town in the province of Venezuela, in Terra Firma, on the south-eastern side of Maracaibo Lake. The best Spanish tobacco is made here, called Tabago de Maracaibo, from which the valuable snuff is made, vulgarly called Machaba snuff. The air, however, is so unhealthy, that very few but labourers live in the town; the wealthier sort resorting to Merida or Maracaibo. N. lat. 8. W. long. 70 10.

GILL, a new township in Hampshire co. Massachusetts, on the W. bank of Connecticut R. a little below the mouth of Miller's R. on the opposite side, and named after his Honor Moses Gill, Lieutenant-Governor of Massachusetts.

GILMANTOWN, a township in Strafford co. N. Hampshire, S. westerly of Lake Winnipicogee, and 52 miles N. W. of Portsmouth. Its inhabitants, in 1790, amounted to 2613.

GILSON, a township in Cheshire co. N. Hampshire, containing 298 inhabitants; on the E. side of Ashuelot R. and joins Keene on the south.

GIRTY'S TOWN, an Indian village in the N. W. Territory, near the head of the navigable water or landing on St. Mary's R. where the Indians ceded at the treaty of Greenville, a tract of 2 miles square to the United States.

GLATZ, Au, a S. S. W. branch of the Miami of the Lake, which interlocks with St. Mary's river. By the treaty of Greenville, the Indians have ceded to the United States a tract of land 6 miles square, at the head of its navigable waters, and 6 miles square at its confluence with the Miami, where Fort Defiance now stands.

GLASCOW, a new county in Newbern district, N. Carolina.

GLASTENBURY, a township in Bennington co. Vermont, having 34 inhabitants. It has good intervale lands, and lies N. E. of Bennington, adjoining.

GLASTENBURY, a handsome little town in Hartford co. Connecticut, situated on the E. side of Connecticut R. opposite to Weathersfield, 4 miles S. E. of Hartford, and 11 N. of Middletown.

GLOUCESTER, or Cape Ann, a township in Essex co. Massachusetts, whose E. point forms the N. side of the bay of Massachusetts. It contains 5317 inhabitants, and is divided into 5 parishes, and has besides a society of Universalists. This is a port-town and port of entry. The harbor is very open and accessible to large ships; and is one of the most considerable fishing towns in the Commonwealth. At the harbor, properly so called, are fitted out annually from 60 to 70 bankers; and from Squam and Sandy Bay, two small but ports, the bay fishery is carried on with great spirit,

30, 1794, amounted in value to 229,613 dollars. Thatcher's Island, on which are two lights of equal height, lies close to the S.
E. side of the township, which is itself joined to the continent by a beach of sand which is very rarely overflowed by the water.
There is a very fine white sand here, suitable for making glass.
The harbor is defended by a battery and citadel erected in 1795. It is 16 miles N. E. by E. of Salem, and 34 N. E. of Boston.

Gloucester, the north-west-ernmost township, and the large-est in Providence co. Rhode-Island, having Connecticut on the W. and Massachusetts on the N.
and contains 4025 inhabitants.

Gloucester Co. N. Jersey, S. of Burlington co. on the Delaware, is divided into 10 townships, viz: Woodbury, Waterford, Newtown, Gloucester Township, Gloucester Town, Deptford, Greenwich, Woolwich, Egg Harbor, and Galloway. The first 8 lie along the Delaware, and the other two on the ocean. It contains 13,172 free inhabitants, and 191 slaves. There are found in this co. quantities of bog iron ore, which is manufactured into pig and bar iron, and hollow ware. Here is also a glasshouse. Chief town, Woodbury.

Gloucester, a small town in the above co. on the E. side of Delaware R. 3 miles below Philadelphia. It was formerly the co-town, but has now scarcely the appearance of a village.

Gloucester, a post-town in Virginia, partly opposite York-Town, 17 miles distant.

Gloucester Co. Virginia, is founded S. W. by York R. and contains 13,498 inhabitants, including 7063 slaves.

GLOVER, a township in Vermont, Orleans co. N. E. of Craft-borough, adjoining.

GLYNN Co. in the Lower district of Georgia, bounded E. by the ocean, N. by Atamaha R., contains 413 inhabitants, including 215 slaves. Chief towns, Brunswick.

GNADENHUTTEN, a settlement of the Moravians or United Brethren, on Muskingum R. In 1746 it was a pleasant town, inhabited by Christian Indians, where were a chapel, missionary's house, and many Indian houses. This together with Schoenbrun and Salem were reserved by Congress, by an ordinance, May 20, 1783, for the Christian Indians formly settled there; Sept. 3, 1788, it was resolved that the plat of each town should make up 4,000 acres, and the grant was made to the United Brethren for propagating the gospel among the heathen.
Also the name of a Moravian settlement on the S. W. branch of the high R. in Pennsylvania, about 20 miles N. W. of Bethlehem.

GNADENHUTTEN New, a Moravian settlement on Huron R. at least 22 miles from Lake St.
Clair, and 28 N. W. of Detroit.

GRAVE LE PETIT, one of the W. jurisdictions of the French part of St. Domingo. It contains 5 parishes, is the unhealthyest part of the colony, the inhabitants being subject to constant fevers, occasioned by the badness of the waters. Its dependencies, however, are healthy, and remarkable for the culture of coffee. Exports from Jan. 1, 1789, to Dec. 31, of the same year; 27,090 lbs white sugar—655,187 lbs brown—897,865 lbs coffee—

50,053 lbs cotton—and 210 lbs indigo.

GOLEANS, POINT AU, a promontory on the N. side of Lake Ontario, about 33 miles south-westerly of Fort Frontinac.

GOFFSTOWN, in Hillsborough co. N. Hampshire, on the western bank of Merrimack R. 3 miles from Amoskeag Falls, and 60 W. of Portsmouth—1275 inhabitants.

GOLDSBOROUGH, a post-town in Hancock co. Maine, containing 267 inhabitants. On the waters of its harbor is the town of Washington. It is 47 miles easterly of Penobscot, 188 S. E. of Portland, and 330 N. E. of Boston.

GOLPHINGTON, the chief town of Washington co. Georgia, situated near the head of Ogeeche R. about 26 miles E. S. E. of Ocosee town, 37 S. W. of Augusta, and 50 N. W. of Louisville.

GONAVES, a bay in the island of Hispaniola, S. eastward of Cape St. Nicholas. N. lat. 19 33.

GOOCHLAND, a co. in Virginia, bounded by Louisa, Fluvanna, Hanover, and Powhatan cos. It contains 9,033 inhabitants, including 4,656 slaves.

GOON HORN, a Danish colony in W. Greenland, in N. lat. 64.

GOOSE CREEK, a river which falls into Potomac R. in Fairfax co. Virginia.

GOOSEBERRY ISLANDS and Rocks, on the coast of Essex co. Massachusetts, have been the occasion of the loss of many valuable vessels.

GONAVE, an island in the bay of Leogane, in the western part of the island of St. Domingo, 13½ leagues W. by N. W. of Port-au-Prince.

GONAIVES, a sea-port in the same island, at the head of a bay of its own name, on the N. side of the bay of Leogane. The town is situated on the great road from Port de Paix to St. Mark, 16 leagues S. E. of the former, and 15 N. by E. of the latter. N. lat. 19 27, W. long. from Paris 75 230.

GORHAM, a township in Cumberland co. Maine, on Saco R. 15 miles from Pepperellborough, and contains 2,244 inhabitants.

GOSHEN, a township in Hampshire co. Massachusetts, 14 miles N. of Northampton, and 112 W. by N. of Boston. It contains 681 inhabitants.

GRATTON County, the northern part of N. Hampshire, comprehending nearly as much territory as all the other four counties, but is by no means so thickly settled.
It is divided into 50 townships, and 17 locations, and contains 13474 inhabitants. The increase of population, since the enumeration of 1790, has been great.

GRATTON, a township in the

GRAINGER, the name given to a new co. in the district of Hamilton, in Tennessee, formed of parts of the counties of Knox, Jefferson and Hawkins; bounded
W. by the Indian boundary, N.
by the States of Virginia and Kentucky, and on the other sides by the counties of Knox, Jefferson and Hawkins. It is watered by Holston, Clinch and Powell's rivers.

GRAINGER Fort, in Tennessee State, stands on the N. side of Holston river, a little above its junction with the Tennessee, 18 miles below fort Tellico, and 22 below Knoxville.

GRANADA, or Grenada, the most southerly of the Caribbee Islands in the W. Indies, situated between 11 58 and 12 20 N. lat. and between 61 20 and 61 35 W. long. about 20 leagues N. W. of Tobago, and 20 N. of New-Andalutia, on the continent of America; 30 leagues S. W. of Barbadoes, and 70 from Martinico. Its extreme length is about 18 miles, and its breadth 13 miles. It contains about 80,000 acres of land; of which (although no less than 72,141 acres paid taxes in 1776, yet) the quantity under cultivation never exceeded 50,000 acres.

The face of the country is mountainous, but not inaccessible in any part; and it abounds with springs and rivulets. The exports of the island and its dependencies, in 1776, were valued at the ports of shipping, to be worth 600,000*l.* sterling. The sugar was the produce of 106 plantations; and they were worked by 18,293 negroes; which was more than a hoghead of Muscovado sugar of 16*cwt.* from the labour of each negro, old and young, employed in its cultivation and manufacture—a remark unequalled by any other British island in the W. Indies, St. Christopher's excepted. The exports of 1787 were inferior: by the prices in London, the value of the cargoes was, however, £614,908 9*s.* 3*d.* and consisted of the following articles shipped off in 188 vessels, viz. 175,548*cwt.* 9*lbs.* sugar—670,390 gallons of rum—4,300 gallons molasses—8,812*cwt.*
2*qrs.* 4*lbs.* coffee—2,716*cwt.* 3*qrs.*
18*lbs.* cocoa—2,062,427*lbs.* cotton—2,810*lbs.* indigo; besides hides, dying woods, &c. The exports to the American States, included in the above sum, amounted to £24,597 4*s.* This island is divided into six parishes, and its chief dependency, Carriacou Island, forms a 7th parish. Besides St. George's the capital, the other towns are inconsiderable villages. Grenville, or La Bay, is a port of entry, with distinct revenue officers independent of St.

George's. The white population does not now exceed 1,000.
There are likewise about 500 regular troops on the British establishment. The free people of colour amount to 2,115. In 1783 there were 23,926 negro slaves. The above was the state of the island prior to the late insurrection. Granada was ceded to Great-Britain in 1763, was taken by the French during the American war, and at the peace of 1783 was restored to Great-Britain.

GRANADA, a town of Nicaragua and audience of Guatimala, in S. America, is 70 miles from the sea, on a lake of the same name, by means of which the inhabitants carry on a great trade. N.
lat. 17 48.

GRANADA, New, a province of Terra Firma, S. America. It contains mines of gold, copper, and iron. Santa Fe de Bogota is the capital.

GRANADILLOS, or Grenadiers, a knot of dangerous islands and rocks near the leeward islands, lying about the 18th degree of latitude, dependent on Granada, containing 13 islands fit to pro-

GUADALOUPE, one of the Caribbe islands in the W. Indies belonging to France, having been settled by them in 1633. It is situated in 16 20 N. lat. and in 62 W. long. about 30 leagues N. of Martinico, and almost as many S. of Antigua, being 45 miles long and 38 broad. It is divided into two parts by a small arm of the sea, or rather a narrow channel, through which no ships can venture; but the inhabitants pass it in a ferry-boat. Its soil is equally fertile, and in the same productions with that of Martinico. This island was taken by the British in 1759, but was restored at the treaty of peace in 1763. It was taken by the same power in 1794, but was retaken by the French in the close of the same year. Here is a high burning mountain, which abounds with sulphur, and smoke issues out from sundry clefts and chinks. The negroes who sell brimstone fetch it from this mountain. Many years ago this island produced 46 million pounds of sugar, 22 millions of coffee, 320,000 of cotton, and 3,000 lbs. of cocoa.

GUATIMALA, Audience and Pres-

ince of, in N. Spain, is about 750 miles in length, and 450 in breadth. It has 12 provinces under it, and the native Indians profess Christianity; but it is mixed with a great many of their own superstitions. It produces great quantities of chocolate, cochineal, cotton, indigo, honey, some balsam and wood. The merchandize of the province is generally conveyed to the port of St. Thomas, in the bay of Honduras, to be sent to Europe. The way across this province to the South Seas is about 65 leagues, and is the next to that from Vera Cruz to Acapulco. St. Jago de Guatimala, the capital city, is situated in a valley, through the midst of which runs a river between two burning mountains. In 1541 this city was ruined by a dreadful tempest, and a number of the inhabitants were buried in the ruins. It was rebuilt at a good distance from the volcano, and became a large and rich town, with a bishop's see, and an university; but it was swallowed up by an earthquake in 1773. It contained about 60,000 inhabitants of all colours, and was immensely rich, but there are no traces of it left. The loss was valued at 15 millions sterling; and it was the third city in rank in Spanish America. In this dreadful earthquake 8,000 families instantly perished. New Guatimala is built at some distance, is well inhabited, and carries on a great trade. N. lat. 13 40, W. long. 90 30.

GUAXACA, a province in the audience of Mexico, in New Spain, N. America, and its capital city of the same name. It reaches from the bay of Mexico on the N. to the South Sea. It extends nearly 95 leagues along the South Sea, and 50 along the bay of Mexico. There were in this province 120 monasteries, besides hospitals, schools, and other places of public charity, 150 considerable towns, besides upwards of 300 villages. But now the province is said to be thinly inhabited.

GUAXACA, the capital of this province, is a bishop's see, and the residence of a governor. It lies 130 miles S. of the city of Mexico, in the delightful valley of Guaxaca, which is 40 miles in length and 20 in breadth; and on the road leading through Chiapa to Guatemala. This city contains a very stately cathedral, and several thousand families, both Spaniards and Indians. It carries on a considerable trade with the N. and S. seas. The river is not fortified, so that it lies open to invasion.

GUAYALAS, a province and jurisdiction in the archbishopric of Lima, extends along the centre of the Cordilleras, begins 30 leagues N. N. E. of Lima; produces grain, fruits, and pasture for cattle.

GUAYANA, a town in the province of Paria, in Terra Guayana, 6 miles S. of the mouth of the gulf of Paria.

GUAYAQUIL, a city, bay, harbour, and river, in Peru, S. America. Guayaquil city is the second of Spanish origin, being as ancient as 1534; is situated on the W. side of the river Guayaquil, N. of the island of Puna at the head of the bay, and about 155 miles S. S. W. of Quito, in 2° 11' S. lat. 79° 17' W. long. It contains about 20,000 inhabitants—Europeans, creoles and other casts; besides a number of strangers drawn hither by commercial interests. This place is noted for a shell-fish called turbine, no bigger than a nut, which produces a purple reckoned to exceed all others in the world, and to vie with that of the Tyrians. It is called the purple of Punta, a place in the jurisdiction of Guayaquil. With this valuable and scarce purple, they dye the threads of cotton, ribbands, laces, &c. and the weight and colour are said to exceed according to the hours of the day; so that one of the first preliminaries to a contract is to settle the time when it shall be weighed. The dye is only the blood of the fish, pressed out by a particular process; and the cotton so dyed is called by way of eminence caracasilla. The river Guayaquil is the channel of its commerce; and the distance of the navigable part of it, to the custom-house of Babahio is reckoned about 24 leagues. The commerce of this place is considerable; the productions of the country alone form the most considerable part of it; these are cocoa, timber, salt, tanned cattle, mules, and colts; Guinea pepper, drugs, and lana de ceibo, a kind of wool, the product of a very high and tufted tree of that name, being finer than cotton. It is used for mattresses and beds.

GUAYARA, La or Laguari, a maritime town, and one of the chief of Caracas, on the Spanish Main, S. America. This town is fortified, is a place of considerable trade, and is not far from the Island of Curraçoa. A formidable insurrection happened here in the summer of 1797, during which it was said the insur-

HADDAM, a town of Connecticut, the second in rank in Middlesex co. on the W. side of Connecticut river, 18 or 20 miles from its mouth, and 10 miles S. of the city of Middletown. This township, including East-Haddam, on the opposite side of the river, was purchased of the Indians May 20th 1662. A spot in East-Haddam, now called Moudus Landing, was famous for Indian Paravari, and was subject for many years to noises of the nature of earthquakes, which the first settlers, agreeable to the superstitious ideas of that age attributed to these Paravari. An old Indian being asked what was the reason of such noises in this place?—answered, "The Indian's God was very angry because the Englishmen's God came here." These noises are now frequently heard. Between 20 and 30 years since, a chasm of 18 inches wide, and 3 or 4 rods in length, and tapering at each end, was made at this place, and 30 or 40 cart-loads of sand were thrown out. The noise resembled that of a large mill-stone, falling on the bottom of a deep well.

HALIFAX, a co. in the eastern part of the British province of Nova-Scotia.

HALIFAX, the capital of the province of Nova-Scotia, in the above co. is situated on a spacious and commodious bay or harbor, called Chebucto, of a bold and easy entrance, where a thousand of the largest ships might ride with great convenience and safety. The town is built on the W. side of the harbour, on the declivity of a commanding hill, whose summit is 236 feet perpendicular from the level of the sea. The town is laid out into oblong squares; the streets parallel and at right angles. The town and suburbs are about two miles in length; and the general width a quarter of a mile. It contained in 1793, about 4000 inhabitants and 700 houses. At the northern extremity of the town, is the king's naval yard, completely built and supplied with stores of every kind for the royal navy. The harbour of Halifax is reckoned inferior to no place in British America for the seat of government, being open and accessible at all seasons of the year, when almost all other harbors in these provinces are locked up with ice; also from its entrance, situation and its proximity to the Bay of Fundy, and principal interior settlements of the province. This city, lying on the S. coast of Nova-Scotia, has communication with Pictou, 68 miles to the N. E. on the gulf of St. Lawrence, by a good cart-road, finished in 1792. N. lat. 44 40, W. long. 63 15.

HAMILTON, a town, or settlement lately laid out in Albany co. N. York, in the extensive township of Water Vliet, formerly called the Ghis Factory, and has its present name in honour of that great patron of American manufactures, the late secretary of the treasury of the United States. It lies 10 miles W. of Albany, two miles from the Schenectady road; and is one of the most decisive efforts of private enterprise in the manufacturing line, as yet exhibited in the United States. The glass manufactory is now so well established, and so happily situated for the supply of the northern and western parts of the State of N. York, as well as Vermont and Canada, that it is to be expected the proprietors will be amply rewarded for their great and expensive exertions. The proprietors were incorporated in the spring of 1797, by the name of "the Hamilton Manufacturing Society." The glass is in good reputation. Here are two glass-houses, and various other buildings, curious hydraulic works to save manual labour, by the help of machinery. A copious stream runs through the heart of the settlement which lies high; and being furrowed by pine plains, the air is highly salubrious. The great Schoharie road traverses the settlement. A spacious school-house, and a church of an octagon form are soon to be erected.

It derives its name from William, Earl of Dartmouth, one of its principal benefactors, and was founded in the year 1769, by the late Dr. Eleazer Wheelock. The funds of the college lie chiefly in lands, amounting to about 80,000 acres, which are increasing in value in proportion to the growth of the country. The revenue of the college, arising from the lands, in 1793, amounted annually to £140. By contracts then made, they would amount, in four years after, to £450; and in 12 years to £650. The income from tuition is about £600 per annum. The number of under-graduates is, on an average, from 150 to 180. The students are under the immediate government and instruction of a president, who is also professor of history, a professor of mathematics and natural philosophy, a professor of languages, and two tutors. The college is furnished with a handsome library, and a philosophical apparatus tolerably complete. A new college edifice of wood, 150 by 50 feet, and three stories high, was erected in 1786, containing 36 rooms for students. Its situation is elevated, healthful and pleasant, commanding an extensive prospect to the W. There are three other public buildings, belonging to the college, and a handsome congregational meeting-house has lately been erected, in which the commencement exercises are exhibited. It is 32 miles N. of Charleston, 125 N. W. by W. of Portsmouth, 138 N. W. of Boston, and 378 N. E. by N. of Philadelphia.

HAVANNAH, a strongly fortified sea-port town, on the northern side of the island of Cuba, capital of the island, 191 miles almost directly S. of Cape Florida. Its great strength, importance, and happy situation, been sion is to be called the key of the W. Indies. It is famous for its harbour, which is so large that it may hold 1000 vessels, and yet the mouth is so narrow that only one ship can enter at a time. This is the place where all the ships that come from the Spanish settlements rendezvous on their return to Spain. The entrance into the harbour is well defended by forts and platforms of great guns. The town, situated on the W. side of the harbour, contains above 2000 houses with a great number of rich churches and convents. It is a place of great commerce; the residence of the governor of the island, and other royal officers, the bishop of St. Jago, and most men of fortune belonging to the island. It was taken by the British in 1762, but restored to the Spaniards by the treaty of peace in 1763. It is 30 miles W. of the town of Santa Cruz. N. lat. 23 11, W. long. 84 13.

HOLLIS, a township in Hillsborough co. N. Hampshire, situated on the Massachusetts line, and contains 1441 inhabitants. It is about 58 miles S. W. of Portsmouth, and 45 N. W. of Boston.

HOLLISTON, the southernmost town, in the co. of Middlesex, Massachusetts, 27 miles S. W. from Boston, and 28 N. from Providence, Rhode-Island. It lies on a direct line from Boston to Hartford. Incorporated 1724, and in token of respect for Thomas Hollis of London, one of the patrons of the University in Cambridge, was called Holliston. Number of inhabitants, 875. In Dec. 1753 and Jan. 1754, the number of inhabitants then being about 400, there was what is called "The great sickness in Holliston." It was so prevalent that but few families escaped; for more than a month there was not enough well to tend the sick, and bury the dead, though they spent their whole time in these services; the sick suffered, and the dead lay unburied notwithstanding help was procured, and charitable assistance afforded by many, in neighbouring towns. On the fourth of January, ten corpses lay unburied, in which week seventeen died. In six weeks 53 persons died, more than one eighth of the people.

HOLMES' HOLE, a noted harbour on the N. side of Martha's Vineyard, where ships bound from the southward to Boston, often take shelter in bad weather.

HOLLY Mount. See Holly.

HOLSTON, the largest branch of Tennessee river, is a large, bold river, about 200 miles in length, and receives in its course several considerable rivers, viz.

from its head downwards, Watauga, French Broad, and Little rivers. Holston is navigable for boats of 25 tons upwards of 100 miles, as high as the mouth of the North Fork; at which place Mr. David Ross has erected iron-works upon a large scale. At the mouth of this river, on the north side, stands Fort Crain's-ger. The river is 156 yards wide, 16 miles above the North Fork at Ross's iron-works.

HOLZARON, a settlement on the river above mentioned, in the State of Tennessee, containing 28,649 inhabitants, though in the year 1775 it had hardly 2,200. There are sundry lead-mines in the settlement, one in particular on the French Broad, that produces 75 per cent. pure lead. Long-Island, on Holston river, is 340 miles S. W. by W. of Richmond in Virginia.

HONZA, a military township in Onondago co. N. York, on the head waters of the N. W. branch of Chenengo R.—56 of its inhabitants are electors.

HONA CHITTO, a river of Georgia, between Pearl and Losa Chitto rivers, runs southerly at the town of Mianca in W. Florida, turns W. to Mississippi R. N. lat. 30 25.

HONDO, Rio, a river of Yucatan, which empties into the bay of Honduras.

HONDURAS, a province of New-Spain, having the bay of its name and the North Sea on the north; Yucatan on the N. W. and the Mosquito Shore on the N. E.; Nicaragua and Guatemala on the S. and Vera Paz on the W. It is about 100 leagues long and 80 broad. It abounds with honey, cotton, fine wool, dye woods in particular, and has some gold and river mines. The rivers seem flow like the Nile, and enrich the land. The air is good, except near the lagoons and low grounds.

The soil in many parts bears Indian corn thrice a year; and the vineyards bear twice a year; for immediately after the vintage they cut them again; and the second grapes are ripe before Christmas. Valladolid is the chief town; where the governor and bishop reside. Truxillo is also a fine town, and very strong by nature; and Omoah is strongly fortified. The Spaniards claim this country; but the English have been long in possession of the log-wood tract in the Bay of Honduras, cutting large quantities of it every year. And the Mosquito Indians to the east of this province have entered into treaties with the English, received them into their country, and done them several services. Besides, the Spaniards have no forts in this bay, or in the country of the Mosquitoes, only two small towns.

HONDURAS BAY, noted for cutting logwood, as that of Campe-achy formerly was. It lies in the province of the same name, and opens betwixt Cape Honduras in N. lat. 17. 30 and Cape Catoche, the easternmost point of Yucatan in N. lat. 21. 30. The distance between these capes is 270 miles.
The part of the country where the English cut their logwood is all a flat, and a great part of it a morass, with several lagoons, which are very often overflowed.
The cutters amount to 1500 or 1600 men; but form no regular colony; yet they choose a chief, who cannot have less authority, luxury, or emolument, or whose subjects are more disobedient.
The quantity of wood annually furnished by the bay has been valued at 20,000 tons; the English export only about 6000; but the principal branch of the trade was lately carried on by the Dutch, whose annual clear profit used to amount to above 90,000 sterling. The bay is sprinkled with an infinity of shoals, rocks, and clusters of drowned islands, which abound with great numbers of green turtle.

Hillsborough co. N. Hampshire, on Contoocook R. about 9 miles

W. of Concord—and has 1,705 inhabitants.

HOPKINTON, a township in Middlesex co. Massachusetts, and contains 1377 inhabitants.

HOPKINTON, a township in Washington co. Rhode-Island, on the W. line of the State. It contains 2462 inhabitants.

HOPWELL, a township in Cumberland co. in the province of N. Brunswick, on Chepodic river.

HOPWELL, the name of three townships in Pennsylvania, viz. in York, Huntingdon, and Washington counties.

HOPWELL, a township in Huntingdon co. N. Jersey, on Delaware R. 14 miles W. of Princeton, 11 above Trenton, and 30 S. westerly of N. Brunswick. It contains 2320 inhabitants. Another township of this name lies in Cumberland co. in this State.

HORN, Cape, the southern extremity of S. America, was first sailed round in 1616, and the straits were discovered in 1643. S. lat. 55 58, W. long. 57 21.

HORN-TOWN, a village in Maryland, 31 miles from Snowhill, 26 from Accomack court-house, in Virginia.

HORSENECK, or West Greenwich, a parish in the township of Greenwich, in Fairfield co. Connecticut, 6 miles N. E. of Rye, in N. York State. A bloody battle was fought here between the Dutch and the Indians, in 1646. The Dutch with great difficulty obtained the victory. Great numbers were slain on both sides, and their graves appear to this day. In this place was the scene of a humorous anecdote of Gen. Putnam, related as follows by Col. Humphreys, in his life of that veteran officer. "About the middle of the winter of 1773, Gen. Putnam being on a visit to his out-post at Horseneck, he found Gov. Tryon, advancing upon that place, with a corps of 1500 men. To oppose these, Gen. Putnam had only a picket of 150 men, and two iron field pieces, without horse or dragoons. He however planted his cannon on the high ground by the meeting-house, and retarded their approach by firing several times; until, perceiving the horse, (supported by the infantry) about to charge, he ordered the picket to provide for their safety, by retiring to a swamp inaccessible to horse; and secured his own, by plunging down the steep precipice at the church, upon a full trot. This precipice is so steep, where he descended, as to have artificial stairs, composed of nearly 100 stone steps for the accommodation of foot passengers. There the dragoons, who were but a sword's length from him, stopped short. For the declivity was so abrupt that they ventured not to follow; and before they could gain the valley by going round the brow of the hill in the ordinary road, he was far enough beyond their reach." They shot at Gen. Putnam, and one ball passed through his hat. This circumstance so pleased Gov. Tryon that he presented him with a beaver hat, and a suit of clothes. It is 50 miles S. W. of N. Haven, and 36 N. E. of New-York city.

HORSENECK, a village in Essex co. N. Jersey, on the southern bank of Passaic R. above the Little Falls, four miles S. W. by S. of Patterforn.

Hosage, a branch of the Missouri R. about 300 miles from the place where the Missouri mingles its waters with the Mississippi. The Hosage Indians inhabit on this river. The Spaniards contemplated the establishment of a post here in 1794.

Hovour, La, a little fort situated 2 leagues beyond the Havannah, in the island of Cuba.

Howland's Ferry, is the narrow part of the waters that separate Rhode-Island from the main land. It is about a quarter of a mile wide. The bridge built across this strait cost 30,000 dollars, and was carried away by a storm in Jan. 1796. It is rebuilt.

Housatonic River, empties into Long-Island Sound, between Stratford and Milford in Connecticut. It is navigable about 12 miles, to Derby. In this river, between Salisbury and Canaan, is a cataract, where the water of the whole river which is 150 yards wide, falls perpendicularly 60 feet.

HUBBARDSTOWN, a township in Worcester co. Massachusetts, containing 933 inhabitants; 20 miles N. W. of Worcester, and 60 W. of Boston.

HUBBARTON, a township in Rutland co. Vermont, has 404 inhabitants, and is 50 miles N. of Bennington.

HUDSON'S BAY took its name from Henry Hudson, who discovered it in 1610. It lies between 55 and 65 degrees of N. latitude. It is reckoned about 300 leagues wide, from north to south. Its breadth is unequal, being about 130 leagues where broadest; but it grows narrower at both extremities. The commerce in the countries adjacent to this inland sea is in the hands of an exclusive British company of its name, who employ only 4 ships, and 130 seamen. The forts, Prince of Wales, Churchill river, Nelson, New Severn, and Albany, are garrisoned by 186 men. The French, in 1782, took and destroyed these settlements, &c. said to amount to the value of £500,000 sterling. The Company's exports are to the amount of £16,000, mostly the drugs of the market, which produce returns, chiefly in beaver skins and rich furs, to the value of £29,000; yielding government a clear revenue of £3,734. This includes the fishery in Hudson's Bay. The skins and furs procured by this trade, when manufactured, afford articles for trading with many nations of Europe, to great advantage.

Hudson River passes its whole course in the State of N. York, and is one of the largest and finest rivers in the United States. It rises in a mountainous country, between the lakes Ontario and Champlain. In its course southeasterly it approaches within 6 or 8 miles of Lake George; then, after a short course east, turns southerly, and receives the Sacandaga from the S. W. which heads in the neighbourhood of Mohawk R. The course of the R. thence to N. York, where it empties into York Bay, is very uniformly 8, 12 15. Its whole length is about 250 miles. From Albany to lake George is 65 miles. This distance, the R. is navigable only for batteaux, and has two portages, occasioned by falls, of half a mile each. The banks of Hudson's R. especially on the western side, as far as the highlands extend, are chiefly rocky cliffs. The passage through the highlands, which is 16 or 18 miles, affords a wild romantic scene. In this narrow pass, on each side of which the mountains tower to a great height, the wind, if there be any, is collected and compressed, and blows continually as through a bellows; vessels, in passing through it are often obliged to lower their sails. The bed of this river, which is deep and smooth to an astonishing distance, through a hilly, rocky country, and even through ridges of some of the highest mountains in the United States, must undoubtedly have been produced by some mighty convulsion in nature. The tide flows a few miles above Albany, which is 160 miles from N. York. It is navigable for sloops of 80 tons to Albany, and for ships to Hudson. Ship navigation to Albany is interrupted by a number of islands and shoals 6 or 8 miles below the city, called the Oswego Raids. It has been in contemplation to confine the river to one channel, by which means it will be deepened, and the difficulty of approaching Albany with vessels of a larger size, be removed. About 60 miles above N. York the water becomes fresh. The river is stored with a variety of fish, which renders a summer passage to Albany delightful and amusing to those who are fond of angling. The advantages of this river for carrying on the fur trade with Canada, by means of the lakes, are very great. Its conveniences for internal commerce are singularly happy. The produce of the remotest farms is easily and speedily conveyed to a certain and profitable market, and at the lowest expense.

Hudson City, a port of entry and post-town situated in Columbia co. N. York, on the east side of Hudson's river, 30 miles S. by E. of Albany, and 132 north of New-York city. The limits of the corporation include a square mile, and its privileges as a port of entry extend no farther. The city, which commenced in 1784, is laid out into large squares, bordering on the river, and divided into 30 lots. The increase of the town from 1784 to the spring of 1786, was astonishingly rapid, and reflects great honour upon the enterprising and persevering spirit of the original founders. In this space of time no less than 130 dwelling houses, besides shops, barns, and other buildings, four ware-houses, several wharves, spermaceti works, a covered rope-walk, and one of the best distilleries in America, were erected, and 1300 souls collected on a spot, which three years before, was improved as a farm, and but two years before began to be built. Its increase since has been very rapid; a printing-office has been established, and several public buildings have been erected, besides dwelling houses, stores, &c. The inhabitants are plentifully and conveniently supplied with water, brought to their cellars in wooden pipes, from a spring 2 miles from the town. It has a large bay to the southward, and stands on an eminence from which are extensive and delightful views. There is a bank here, called Bank of Columbia, whose capital may not exceed 160,000 dollars. It is composed of 400 shares, at 400 dollars each. Hudson city is governed by a mayor, recorder, 4 aldermen, 4 assistants, and a number of other officers.

co. N. York, containing 847 inhabitants. The compact part contains about 30 houses, situated on Esopus Kill, about 5 miles from the west bank of Hudson's river, and 100 north of N. York.

NEAON, one of the five principal northern lakes, is reckoned to be upwards of 1000 miles in circumference. It communicates with Lake Superior through the straits of St. Marie on the N. W. with Michigan on the W. and with Erie on the S. It is of a triangular shape. The land bordering on the western shore of the lake is greatly inferior in quality to that on Lake Erie. It is mixed with sand and small stones, and is principally covered with pines, birch and some oaks; but a little distance from the lake the soil is very luxuriant.

NEAON, a small river of the N. W. Territory, which, after a course of 38 miles, falls into Lake St. Clair from the N. W.

NEANIS ROAD is near the entrance of Lewis Bay, in the town of Barnstable, Massachusetts.

NEDE, a maritime co. in Newbern district, N. Carolina; bounded S. by Carteret co. It contains 4125 inhabitants.

NEDEBARK, a township in Orleans co. Vermont, containing 43 inhabitants; 25 miles S. of the Canada line, and 126 north by east of Bennington.

NEBBERVILLE, a river, or rather a sort of natural canal, of W. Florida, which, when the Mississippi overflows, and is high enough to run into it, (which is generally in the months of May, June, and July) forms a communication for vessels drawing three or four feet, from the Mississippi to the gulf of Mexico, eastward, through the lakes Mauripas and Pontchartrain. This canal, which has been dignified with the name of river, is dry all the rest of the year. It is 90 miles W. by N. of New-Orleans.

NEUESA-TOWA, in the Genessee country, N. York, is an Indian village, 60 miles easterly of Fort Erie, 70 E. by S. of La Boeuf, and 67 S. W. by S. of Hartford, on Genessee river.

NEUNTO, or St. Charles, a town on the S. side of the island of St. Domingo, and 200 fathoms from the city of St. Domingo. It is inhabited by emigrants from the Canary islands; who are the most industrious people in the Spanish part of the island.

NEUNTO, a captainship S. of that called Bay of All-Saints, and in the middle division of Brazil. Chief town, Pava. Ilheos, the capital of the above province, stands about 30 leagues N. E. of Porto Segaro, and as far S. W. of the Bay of All-Saints. It is watered by a river of the same name, and contains about 200 families. S. lat. 15 40; W. long. 34 28.

ILLINOIS, a large navigable river of the N. W. Territory, which after running a serpentine S. W. course, through an extensive country of rich, fertile land, and receiving a vast number of rivers from 20 to 100 yards wide, which are navigable for boats from 15 to 180 miles, approaches within 5 miles of the Mississippi; from thence running eastward about 12 miles, it pays its tribute by a mouth 400 yards wide, 176 miles above the Ohio, and 18 above the Missouri. The lands on the banks of the Illinois, particularly those on the S. E. side, are perhaps as fertile as any part of North-America. They produce

Jaen, Sit a handsome and agreeable town, of 8,000 inhabitants, of Chili, with a good harbor, and a bishop's see, and a royal audience. It is seated on a large beautiful plain, abounding in all the necessaries of life at the foot of the Andes, on the river Mapocha. It is subject to earthquakes, and the inhabitants are native Americans and Spaniards. It contains 3,000 inhabitants, according to Abbe Raynal, and carries on a considerable trade with Buenos Ayres by land 55 leagues distant. Although above 20 leagues of the way is amidst the snows and precipices of the Andes, yet it is found cheaper and cheaper to send goods by this road than by the St. George, the capital, is a town on the southern coast of the island. Cuba has a good harbour, and is formerly the capital of the island. It is well fortified, and commands the windward passage. The place has a declining aspect, and presents only the ruins of former greatness. Yet a beautiful bay and extensive plain are inferior to the Hawaiian only in its situation. It lies 8. 30 W. of the east end of the island of Jamaica. N. lat. 25 17, W. long. 76 40.

SPANISH TOWN, or Spanish Town, is the capital of the island of Jamaica; situated in Middlesex co. on the banks of the river Cobre, about 6 miles from the sea, and contains between 5 and 600 houses, and about 5,000 inhabitants, including people of colour. It is the residence of the governor who is accommodated with a superb palace. Here the legislature is convened, and the court of chancery, and the supreme court of judicature are held. It lies in the S. E. part of the island, about 7 miles N. W. of Port-Passage, on the bay of Port-Royal. N. lat. 18 4 W. long. 76 49.

JAMAICA, a township in Windham co. Vermont, containing 263 inhabitants.

JAMAICA, a post and chief town of Queens co. N. York, in the west part of Long-Island, and contains a Presbyterian, an Episcopalian, and a Dutch church, an academy, and nearly 100 dwelling houses. It is 12 miles east of N. York city. The whole township contains 1,675 inhabitants.

JAMAICA, one of the most valuable of the British W. India Islands. The centre of the island lies in about 18 12 N. lat. and about 76 43 W. long. from London. It is 150 miles in length, and on a medium about 40 miles in breadth containing 1,080,000 acres; of which 600,000 acres were planted in 1797; and in November, 1789, there were no more than 1,007,369 acres cleared, or taken up by grants from the crown. This island is intersected with a ridge of steep rocks, from which issue a vast number of small rivers of pure wholesome water. Sugar is the greatest and most valuable production of this island. Of this article was exported to Great-Britain in 1787, 924,766 cwt. in 1790, 1,183,519 cwt. Its products, all cocoas, ginger, pimento, or as it is called, Jamaica pepper, and vulgarly allspice; the wild cinnamon, the machinet, whose fruit though uncommonly delightful to the eye, contains one of the worst poisons in nature; the cabbage tree, remarkable for its height, and for the hardness of its wood, which, when dry, is incorruptible, and hardly yields to any kind of tool; the palma, affording oil, much esteemed by the negroes, both as food and medicine; the soap-tree, whose berries answer all the purposes of washing; the mangrove and olive bark, useful to tanners; the salt and redwood, to the dyers; and lastly, the logwood. The indigo plant was formerly much cultivated, and the cotton tree is still so. Here they have maize, or Indian corn, Guinea corn, peas of various kinds, with a variety of roots. Fruits grow in great plenty, as cherries, peaches, and China oranges, common and sweet lemons, limes, strawberries, pomegranates, mangoes, guavas, papas, pine-apples, prickly pears, all kinds of peaches, melons, guavas, several kinds of berries, and kitchen vegetables in great variety. Admiral Rodney enriched this beautiful island with many of the rare productions of the East, which fell into his hands by the fortune of war; particularly the bread-fruit tree, the true negroes 20,000; maroons 1,000, and slaves 150,000; in all 184,000.

 The value of this island as British property is estimated as follows: 250,000 negroes, at £10 sterling each, 2,500,000; the landed and personal property and buildings to which they are appurtemillions; in all 29 millions. The exports of Jamaica for one year ending the 31st of January 1787 amounted in sterling money to 1,236,442. In 1787

 the exports to the United States amounted to 60,000. The impositions from the United States to the value of 100,000.
 The island was originally a part of the Spanish empire in America. It was ceded under the British dominions by Spain and France in 1763, and ever since has been under British rule.
 The government of it is one of the richest places next to that of Ireland in the disposal of the crown, the standing army being 12,500 per annum, and the revenue commonly runs at 100,000 more in the governor, which with other provisions works on the whole, runs for three 100,000 a year. This the island is subject to earthquakes and hurricanes, which have done incredible damage.

JAMES' Bay lies at the bottom of the southern part of King George's Bay.

JAMES' Bay lies on the side of Charleston Harbour, in S. Carolina, and contains about 20 families.

JAMES, a navigable river of Virginia, affords harbour for vessels of any size in Hampton Road, but not in safety throughout the whole winter; and there is no navigable water for them as far as Muddy Island. A vessel goes to Jamestown, and lightening, &c. may sail to Harrison's Bar, on which there is only 15 feet water. Vessels of 250 tons may go to Warwick; those of 125 to Rockets's, while below Richmond, from thence is about 20 feet water to Richmond; and about the centre of the town 15 feet, where the navigation is interrupted by falls, which is a course of 8 miles, descend about 80 feet. A canal is nearly or quite completed for the passing of boats by these falls.

JARVIS, a settlement in Norway township, Herkimer co. N. York, on the E. side of Canada Creek.

JASOKAKA, a township in Ontario co. N. York. Of its inhabitants, 115 are electors. The compact part of it forms a handsome town, situated on the W. side of Seneca Lake, and contains about 30 families; the followers of Lemuel Wilkinson. It is 30 miles N.E. by N. of Bath, and 16 E. S. W. of Seneca.

JASOKAKA, or JASOK TOWN, a town of Maryland, Washington co. about 4 miles S. W. of Allipah Town. It contains about 50 dwellings, and a German church.

JOHN'S HEAD, S. Carolina, lies S. W. of Charleston harbour.

JOHN'S, is one of the chief towns of Newfoundland Island, situated on its E. coast. N. lat. 42 30. It is a harbour one of the best in the island, and has from 10 to 17 fathoms water up the King's wharf, which is a little to the north-west of the Old Fort, at the bottom of the novel, and is a mile from the mouth of the harbour.

JOHN'S R. is in S. Florida, passes a northern course, in a broad navigable stream, which in several places spreads into broad bays of lakes, of which Lake George is the chief. Vessels that draw 600 feet water, may navigate safely through the W. channel to St. John's R. as far as Lake George. The bar at the mouth is liable to shifts. It is well navigable N. of St. Augustine.

JOHN'S R. Little St. W. Florida, falls into Apalache Bay, about 200 miles eastward of Apalache R. It is said to be the clearest and purest of any in America, is about 200 yards broad, and about 15 or 20 feet deep at the town of Talahachete. The swamp called Oosquaphenogaw is said to be its source, which is 200 miles by land from Talahachete, and following its windings, from the sea 200 miles. The Indians and traders say it has no branches or tributaries, which fall into it; but that it is fed by great springs which break out through the banks.

JOHN'S, St. is the largest R. in the British province of N. Brunswick. From its mouth on the N. side of the bay of Fundy, to its main source, is computed to be 350 miles. The tide flows 80 or 90 miles up this river. It is navigable for sloops of 50 tons 60 miles, and for boats 200. Its general source from its source is E. S. E. It furnishes the greatest plenty of salmon, haddock, andurgeon, and is the common route to Quebec. This water flows in the summer and autumn months, but very dry and sometimes large, and occasional floods, a great part of which is caused by sudden snow-melting. The up-lands, in general, are covered with a fine growth of timber, such as pine and spruce, hemlock and hard wood, principally hemlock, fir, maple, and alder. The plains on this river are the largest to be met with in British America and afford a considerable supply of masts from 30 to 40 inches in diameter, for the con-

JOHNSTOWN, a post-town and the capital of Montgomery co. N. York, on the N. bank of Mohawk R. 24 miles W. of Schenectady. The compact part of the town has little back from the R. and contains about 70 houses, a Presbyterian and an Episcopal church, a court-house, and gaol. In the township 93 of the inhabitants are electors. Capharnaum is a parish or district of Johnstown 16 miles above Schenectady on the river. Settlements have been made here for about 30 years. Here stand the dwelling-house, barn, and one house full of slaves formerly occupied by Sir William Johnson. This settlement was mostly destroyed by the British in the year 1780, who were joined by a party of Indians and others, under the command of Sir William Johnson. In this action it is asserted, that Sir William evinced a want of feeling which would have disgraced a savage. The people destroyed in this expedition were his old neighbours.

KANAWASTOT, a town in the State of New York, in the County of Hamilton, 10 miles N. of Hudson, and 10 miles W. of Albany. It is supposed to have been inhabited by a Spaniard, whose name it retains, although it was long abandoned by him and his nation. It is more remarkable for having been the residence of Alexander Selkirk, a Scotchman, whose life and adventures furnished De Foe with the ground-work of that admirable novel, Robinson Crusoe. A small Indian town, some years ago, was situated here, and planted along the river and peach stone, which the Spaniards say were from thriving trees.

KANAWHA, Great, a river of Virginia of considerable note for the fertility of its lands, and still more as leading towards the head waters of James R. But it is doubtful whether its great and numerous rapids will admit a navigation, but at an expense to which it will require age to render its inhabitants equal.
The great obstacles begin at what are called the Great Falls, 90 miles above the mouth, below which are only 10 or 6 rapids, and these passable with some difficulty even at low water.
From the falls to the mouth of Green River is 100 miles. It is 180 yards wide at its mouth.
The Great Kanawha is 100 miles below Parkburg, and is navigable most of the year.

same name, 10 miles from its mouth but not half that distance from the Mississippi. It contains 30 houses, many of them well built. Several of these, with gar-

About 20 years ago it contained

KANAWA River is navigable is S. E. W. and near its mouth it turns to the S. S. E. and flows into the Mississippi R. 20 miles from the Illinois. It runs through a rich country, abounding in ex-before its destruction by General Scott and Wilkinson, it contained 120 houses, 80 of which were single stories. The best houses belonged to the French traders.

The gardens and improvements public and private houses, and the whole market was supplied

KANT, a port town of N. Hampshire, and one of the most flourishing in the State. It contained, in 1790, 2314 inhabitants. It is 14 miles from Wakefield, 90 W. of Portsmouth, and 20 N. W. from Dover.

KALYBAURON, a township in Chittenden co. Vermont, at the head of the N. branch of Lake Champlain.

Kennebec, near to Penobscot, is the chief river in Maine. Three miles from the Obispo, Swan Island, 1000 long, divides the waters of the river. The waters on both sides of it are navigable; but the channel on the E. side of it is mostly used. On each side of this island is a sand bar, which at low water, will not admit vessels to pass that draw more than 10 feet water; and after passing these bars the channel is narrow, and difficult to pass for several miles. Four miles and a half above Swan Island is another bar of sand, which impedes the navigation of the river. Between the Hook at Hallowell and Fort Western, 3 miles, there is commonly but 3 or 6 feet at low water—at high water 9 or 10 feet. Forty eight miles up the river we find the head of the navigable waters. This is a baron 40 miles from the sea, and very commodious for the anchoring of vessels. On the E. bank of the small fall which terminates the navigation of the Kennebeck, is Fort Western, which was erected in the year 1752. From that fort to Tacannet Fall is 18 miles. This is a great fall of water, and on the bank of it, on the eastern side of the river, is Fort Mifflin, erected in 1779, and situated at the point of land formed by the confluence of the Sebasticook with the Kennebeck, by which the latter is increased one third in size. Thirty miles above Fort Western, on the River, the stream called Sandy R. falls into the Kennebeck, at the point where the smaller town of Morrigen, week stood. The carrying place from Brunswick to the Kennebeck, is a small water in the S. Channel, 10 miles long. The Kennebeck affords great quantities of lumber, and is inhabited at different seasons by several species of valuable fish. Salmon and herring are taken here in great abundance, and Indian and Alewives relieve the wants of the necessitous part of the inhabitants. Scuppernons are caught in the greatest plenty at Merry Meeting Bay, hard vessels from Newbury-Port and other places used formerly to resort to catch these fish, which they boiled, pickled and put up in kegs of about 3 gallons, for the Indians market. This is found the nearest sea-port for the people on the upper part of the R. Connecticut. From the Upper Cohos, or Coos, on the latter R. to the tide water in Kennebeck is 90 measured miles. From Merry Meeting Bay and upwards, this R. is usually frozen four months in a year; sometimes longer, and the boats to call at, below this bay, are frequently frozen over.

Kennebec is the Indian name of the place first called Kello, in Maine, about 33 miles below Portsmouth, N. Hampshire. A river which divides the townships of Wells and Lund, bears this name. It has a good harbour at its mouth, whence

KENTUCKY, one of the United States of America, bounded N.
W. by the R. Ohio, W. by Cumberland river, S. by Tennessee State, E. by Sandy R. and a line drawn due S. from its source, till it strikes the northern boundary of Tennessee. It lies between 36 and 38° N. lat. and between 81 and 90° W. long. about 250 miles long, and 100 broad, and contains about 100,000 square miles. It is divided into 12 co. viz Jefferson, Fayette, Bourbon, Mercer, Nelson, Madison, Lincoln, Woodford, Elliot, Wall,

Franklin, Christian, Logan, and Shelby. It contains 234,777 inhabitants, of whom 12,430 are slaves. The whole country, as far as has been discovered, is covered by a bed of limestone, which in general is about 6 feet below the surface, except in the valleys, where the soil is much thinner. The climate is healthy and delightful, some few places in the neighbourhood of ponds and low grounds excepted. The inhabitants almost experience the extremes of heat and cold. Snow seldom falls deep, or lies long.
The winter, which begins about Christmas, is never longer than three months, and is commonly but two, and is so mild, as cattle can subsist without food.
There are various minerals, as iron, copper, lead, sulphur, nitre, &c. The legislature of Virginia, while Kentucky belonged to that State, made provision for a college in it, and endowed it with very considerable landed funds.
The Rev. John Todd collected chiefly from a number of liberal gentlemen in England, a very handsome library for its use.
This college, of late, has not flourished; and another has been established, and considerable funds collected for its support.
Schools are established in the several towns, and in general, regularly and handsomely supported. In this State are two printing-offices, and two weekly papers published. There are erected a paper-mill, oil-mill, tanning-mill, saw-mill, and a great number of valuable grist-mills. Several valuable tannories have been established in distinct parts of the country.
Their salt works are more than sufficient to supply the demand inhabitants, at a low price. They make considerable quantities of sugar from the sugar-trees. The distance of Philadelphia, by land, to Kentucky is between 700 and 800 miles; from Baltimore nearly 700; nearly 600 from Alexandria, and upwards of 500 from Richmond.

Ketow, or Kewee, the name given to Savannah river, above its confluence with the Tugolo, the west main branch, on which was anciently a populous town and territory of the Cherokee Indians. Fort George formerly stood near the old site of Ketow.

LANCASTER, Borough, a hand some and flourishing port-town, the capital of Lancaster county, Pennsylvania, and the largest in land town of the United States.
It is pleasantly situated upon the left bank of a hill, a mile and a half west of Conestoga creek, which falls into Susquehanna river 9 miles S. by W. of the town. Its trade is already great, and must increase, in proportion as the sur rounding country populates. A considerable part of the produce of the country in this vicinity is carried to Wilmington and New port, and thence by water con veyed to Philadelphia. It con tains about 7 or 800 houses, and about 3,000 inhabitants. The Legislature had agreed to meet here, till a permanent seat of gov ernment should be established, but their removal had not taken place in 1797. The public build ings are a handsome court-house of brick, a market-house of the same materials, and a strong stone mole. Here are six places of wor ship, for as many different per secutions, viz. German Lutherans, German Calvinists, Presbyteri ans, Episcopalians, Moravians, and Roman Catholics. Franklin college is established here for the Germans. Its endowments are nearly the same as those of Dick inson College at Carlisle. Its trustees consist of Lutherans, Cal vinists, Presbyterians, and Ep iscopalians; of each an equal num ber. The principal is a Luthe ran, and the vice-president a Calvinist. It is 58 miles as the new turnpike road runs, W. by 1775. It is 9 miles N. of Alba ny, 3 above Troy, and 170 north of New York.

LA PLATE. See Paraguay.

LATACUNGA, Affento of, the first jurisdiction to the southward of that of Quito, in Peru. The word affento implies a place less than a town, but larger than a village. The inhabitants amount to about 12,000, chiefly Spaniards and Melizcos. Great quantities of pork are salted here and sent to Quilo, Guayaquil, and Riobamba, being highly valued for the peculiar flavour given it in the pickling.

LAUREL MOUNTAIN, a range of mountains westward of the Alleghany ridge, and a part of what is called the Alleghany Mountains.

LAWRENCE River, St. St. Lawrence, is one of the largest rivers in N. America. It issues from Lake Ontario, forming the outlet of the long chain of great lakes, which separate Upper Canada from the United States. From Lake Ontario to Montreal it has the name of Iroquois, and, taking a north-east course, embosoms the island of Montreal; just above which it receives Ottawas from the west, and forms many fertile islands. From Montreal it assumes the name of St. Lawrence, and, continuing the same course, passes by Quebec, and meets the tide upwards of 400 miles from the sea, and is so far navigable for large vessels.

Rockingham co. N. Hampshire, 38 miles S. W. by W. of Portsmouth—2590 inhabitants. The people are mostly the descendants of emigrants who came chiefly from Ulster co. in Ireland, originally from Scotland, and attend to the manufacture of linen cloth and thread, and make considerable quantities for sale. The town is much indebted to them for its wealth and consequence.

LODOWICK, a township in Halifax co. Nova-Scotia, about 30 miles from the Basin of Minas.

LONDONBURY, a township and the north-westernmost of Windham co. Vermont, about 33 miles N. E. of Bennington.

LONDONBURY, the name of two townships in Pennsylvania, the one in Chester co. the other in that of Dauphine.

LONDONBURY, a township in Dauphine co. Pennsylvania.

LONG ISLAND, State of N. York, extends from the mouth of Hudson's river almost to the western bounds of the coast of Rhode Island, terminating with Montauk Point. Its length is about 40 miles, and its midlength breadth not above 10 miles, and separated from Connecticut by Long Island Sound. It is divided into 3 counties, King's, Queen's and Suffolk, and these again into 19 townships. The island contained, in 1790, 42,782 inhabitants, of whom 4,839 were slaves.

LONG MEADOW, a town in Hampshire co. Massachusetts, on the E. bank of Connecticut river, about 2 miles S. of Springfield, 10 M. of Hartford, and 67 W. of Boston.

LONG REACH: A straight part of Kennebeck river, between Merry Meeting Bay and its mouth in the Atlantic Ocean, 10 or 12 miles in length, is so called.

LOOKOUT, Cape, on the coast of N. Carolina, N. E. of Cape Fear, and S. of Cape Hatteras, in about latitude 34 50.

LORDBUR'S STONE, in the Territory N.W. of the Ohio, a place westerly from Fort Lawrence, and at or near a fork of a branch of the Great Miami river, which falls into the Ohio. Here the portage commences between the Miami of the Ohio and St. Mary's river, which runs into Lake Erie.

LOS CHARCOS, a province in the southern division of Peru, whose chief cities are Potosi and Poredo.

LOUDBON, a co. of Virginia, on the Potomac, adjoining Fairfax, contains 18,964 inhabitants. Chief town, Leesburg.

LOUDBON, a township in Rockingham co. N. Hampshire, on the E. side of Merrimack river, and contains 1084 inhabitants; 40 miles from Portsmouth.

LOUDBON, a township in Berkshire co. Massachusetts, 21 miles S. E. of Lenox, 24 W. of Springfield, and 124 W. of Boston—344 inhabitants.

LOUGHER, or Lachaber, a small settlement in Georgia, on a branch of Savannah river, above its confluence with the Tugulo.

LOUIS, ST. the capital town of Guadalupe, Grand Terre. It has a fortress 3 leagues to the S. E. of the Salt river.

LOUIS DE MARANHAM, ST. a town on the northern coast of Brazil, on the Atlantic Ocean.

LOUIS, ST. a jurisdiction and town on the south side of the island of St. Domingo. The jurisdiction contains 3 parishes. Its exports shipped from the town of St. Louis in 1789, were 120,665 lb. coffee; 19,253 lb. cotton; 3,751 lb. indigo. St. Louis is rather a borough than a town. It is situated on the head of the Bay of its name, opposite a number of small isles which shelter the bay on the south towards the ocean, and on the S. side of the south peninsula, 8 leagues N. E. of Les Cayes, and 36 leagues S. W. by W. of Port au Prince. N. lat. 18 18.

LOUIS, 87, a Spanish village on the W. side of the river Mississippi, about 14 miles below the mouth of the Missouri. About 20 years ago there were here 100 large and commodious houses, mostly built of stone, and 800 inhabitants, chiefly French. They had about 150 negroes, and large flocks of cattle, &c. Here is a fortress, situated on a rock upon the bank of the Mississippi, guarded by a serjeant and 12 men; the circumjacent militia about 300. Here the commandant, with the rank of captain, resides. It is 4 or 5 miles N. by W. of Cahokia; on the east side of the Mississippi. N. lat. 32 24.

LOUISA, a co. of Virginia, adjoining Orange and Goochland cos., contains 8,467 inhabitants.

LOUISA CUIRRO, or Santa Quito, a river which runs a south-westerly course through the Georgia western lands, and joins the Mississippi just below the Walnut Mills. It is 30 yards wide at its mouth, but after you enter it, is from 30 to 40 yards, and is said to be navigable for canoes 30 or 40 leagues. It is 394 miles below the Yazoo cliffs.

LOUISBOURG, the capital of Sydney, or Cape-Breton island. Its harbour is one of the finest in that country. The anchorage or mooring is good; and ships may run aground without any danger. The town of Louisbourg stands on a point of land, on the S. E. side of the island; its streets are regular and broad, consisting for the most part of stone houses. The town is near half a mile in length, and two in circuit. The principal trade of Louisbourg is the cod fishery, from which great profits accrue to the inhabitants. N. lat. 45 54. W. long. 59 55.

LOUISIANA, a Spanish province, bounded E. by the Mississippi, S. by the gulf of Mexico, W. by New-Mexico, and N. by undefined boundaries. This large country is intersected by a number of rivers, among which are, St. Francis, the Natchitoches, the Adair, of Mexicano river, the Missouri, Rouge, Noir, and many others. The greater part of the white inhabitants are Roman Catholics. They are governed by a viceroy from Spain. The number of inhabitants is unknown. The quantity of good land on the Mississippi and its branches, from the Bay of Mexico to Ohio river, a distance of nearly 1000 miles, is very great; but that in the neighbourhood of the Natchez, and of the river Yazoo, is the flower of it all.

The chief articles of exportation are indigo, cotton, rice, beans, myrtle wax, and lumber. The following is Melford's account of the Spanish strength in the Floridas and Louisiana, in 1790. Provincial levies and troops at St. Augustine, and on St. John's river, LOXA, a town of Quito in Peru, at the head of a N. W. branch of Amazon river, 215 miles N. E. of Paiza, and north-westerly of Boria. It is the capital of a jurisdiction of the same name, and lies in lat. 5 10 S. long. 77 30 W.

LUCANAY, a jurisdiction in the diocese of Guamanga, in Peru. It has silver mines, and is the centre of a very large commerce.

LUCAYA, one of the Bahama Islands, about 90 leagues E. of the coast of Florida. It gives name to the whole range. N. lat. 27 27, W. long. 78 5.

LOCKA, ST. one of the Caribbee Islands, 6 leagues S. of Martinica, and 21 N. W. of Barbadoes. It is about 27 miles long from N. to S. and 12 broad. There is plenty of cocoa and sustenance. There are 9 parishes in the island. In January, 1769, the free inhabitants of the island amounted to 2,514; the slaves to 10,170. It had, in cattle, 398 mules and horses, 1,819 horned beasts, and 2,378 sheep. Its plantations were 1,279,680 plants of cocoa—2,463,880 of coffee—631 squares of cotton—and 254 of sugar-canes; there were 16 sugar-works going on, and 18 nearly completed. Its produce yielded £112,000, which by improvement might be increased to £500,000. The English first settled in this island in 1637. The British made themselves master of it in 1778; but it was restored again to the French in 1783; and re-taken by the British in 1794. St. Lucia had 900 of its inhabitants destroyed by an earthquake, Oct. 12, 1788. It is 63 miles N. W. of Barbadoes. N. lat. 14, W. long. 61.

LYNN, a neat and thriving town in Essex co. Massachusetts, 10 miles N. by E. of Boston, 1,293 inhabitants. The business for which the town of Lynn is celebrated, is the manufacture of women's silk and cloth shoes.

By a calculation made in 1793, it appeared that there were 200 master workmen and 600 apprentices constantly employed in this business, who make annually 100,000 pair of shoes.

Old French fort Alabama.

MACHIAS, a port of entry, post-town and seat of justice, in Washington co. Maine, on a bay of its own name, 10 miles S. W.

of Passamaquoddy, 93 E. by N. of Penobscot, and 236 N. E. of Portland, in 44 37 N. lat. It is a thriving place, and carries on a considerable trade to Boston and the W. Indies in fish, lumber, &c. It is 400 miles N. E. of Boston, and about 300 by water.

The town is divided into 4 districts for the support of schools; and into 2 for the convenience of public worship. In 1792,

Washington academy was established here. The general court incorporated a number of gentlemen as trustees, and gave for its support a township of land.

In 1799 the town contained 813 inhabitants. Since that time its population has rapidly increased.

The exports of Machias consist principally of lumber, viz. boards, shingles, clap-boards, laths, and various kinds of hewed timber.

The cod fishery might be carried on to advantage, though it has been greatly neglected. In 1793, between 70 and 80 tons were employed in the fishery; and not above 300 quintals were exported. The mill-saws, of which there are 17, cut on an average three million feet of boards annually. The total amount of exports annually exceeds 15,000 dollars.

MAC-COWAN'S Ford, on Ca-tabaw river, is upwards of 500 feet wide, and about 3 feet deep.

Lord Cornwallis crossed here in pursuit of the Americans in 1781, in his way to Hillsborough.

MAGEGADAVICK, or Magegadavick, or Eastern River, falls into the bay of Passamaquoddy, and is supposed to be the true St. Croix, which forms part of the eastern boundary line between the United States and New-Brunswick.

This disputed line is now in treaty for settlement, agreeable to a treaty of 1794.

MAGELLAN, Straits of, at the south extremity of S. America lie between 52 and 54 S. lat. and between 76 and 84 W. longitude. These straits extend from E. to W. 110 leagues, but the breadth in some places falls short of 100. They were first discovered by Magellan, a Portuguese, in the service of Spain, who in 1520 found out thereby a passage from the Atlantic to the Pacific or Southern ocean. He was the first navigator who sailed round the world.

MAGELLANIA, or Terra Magellanica, a vast tract of land, extending from the province Rio de la Plata, to the utmost verge of S. America, viz. from lat. 35 to 54 S. The soil is generally barren, hardly bearing any grain, and the trees exhibit a dismal aspect; so that the inhabitants live miserably in cold, inhospitable climate. The Spaniards erected a fort on the strait, and placed a garrison in it; but the men were all starved.

orth, and between long. 64 33 and 70 39, west; bounded north-by Lower-Canada, east by the province of New-Brumwick, south by the Atlantic Ocean, west by New-Hampshire, on an average, 100 miles in length, and the same breadth. It is divided into 5 counties, viz. York, Cumberland, Lincoln, Hancock and Washington; these are subdivided into near 200 incorporated townships and plantations; inhabited by 15,440 free people. The chief seaport Portland, the metropolis of the District of Maine, York, townalborough and Wiscasset, Baldwell, Bath, Waldoborough, Kennebosc and Machias. Maine, though an elevated tract of country, cannot be called mountainous.
A great proportion of the land is arable and exceedingly fertile, particularly between Kennebosc and Kennebeck rivers.
In some parts of the sea-coast, the lands are but indifferent. The soil is friendly to the growth of wheat, rye, barley, oats, peas, bump and flax, &c. In 1652, this province came under the jurisdiction of Massachusetts, and was by charter, incorporated with it in 1691. It has since increased to upwards of 100,000 inhabitants, and will, it is expected, shortly be erected into a separate State.

between Anguilla on the N. from whence it is distant a league and a half, and St. Bartholomew on the S. E. 15 miles. It is about 15 leagues in circumference, with commodious bays and roads on the N. W. side. It has no fresh water but what falls from the clouds, and is saved by the inhabitants in cisterns. The salt lakes abound in good fish, particularly turtle. The French and Dutch share the island between them. The two colonies breed sugary and sheep, which they sell to the other islands. They also cultivate a little cotton and coffee. About 20 years ago the French part contained 400 white families, and 10,000 slaves. The Dutch part no more than 60 families, and about 200 slaves. N.

N. W. of Barbadoes, and 22 S. by E. of Guadaloupe, is about 60 miles in length, and 30 in breadth; containing about 160 square miles. The inland part of it is from which are poured out every side a number of agreeable and useful rivers, which adorn and enrich this island in a high degree. The produce of the soil is sugar, cotton, indigo, ginger, and such fruits and productions as are found in the neighbouring islands. But sugar is here, as in all the West-India islands, the principal commodity, of which they export a considerable quantity annually. Martinico is the residence of the governor of the French islands in these seas. Its bays and harbours are numerous, safe, commodious, and well fortified. It is divided into 28 parishes, which contain about the same number of towns and villages, and two principal towns, Fort Royal and St. Pierre.

In 1770, it contained 12,450 white people; 1814 free blacks or mulattoes; 70,553 slaves; and 443 fugitive negroes. About the same time its produce was computed at 23,000,000 lbs. sugar; 3,000,000 lbs. coffee; 600,000 lbs. cotton, and 40,000 lbs. cocoa. It was taken by the British in 1794.

of Winchester, and 28 N. N. W. of Alexandria.

MARTINVILLE, a post-town, and the capital of Guilford co.
N. Carolina, contains about 40 houses, a court-house and gaol.
It lies 48 miles N. W. of Hillsborough; 27 E. of Salem; and 30 N. E. of Salisbury. It was near this town that General Osear and Lord Cornwallis engaged in one of the last fought actions in the late war, on the 15th of March, 1787.

MARYLAND, one of the United States of America, lies between lat. 37 56 and 39 44 N. and between 75 8 and 79 38 W. long. It is about 134 miles in length, and 110 in breadth, and contains 14,000 square miles, one fourth of which is water. It is bounded N. by Pennsylvania; E. by Delaware State, and the Atlantic Ocean; S. and W. by Virginia; and is divided into 19 counties, 11 of which are on the Western, and 8 on the Eastern shore of Chesapeake bay. Those on the Western shore contain 212,089; those on the Eastern shore 107,639 inhabitants. The whole number of inhabitants in the State being 319,728, of whom 203,036 are slaves. Each of the counties sends 4 representatives to the house of delegates; besides which the city of Annapolis, the metropolis, and the town of Baltimore send two each. The chief towns of this State, besides these two, are Georgetown, bordering on the city of Washington on the river Patowmack, Fredericktown, Hagerstown, and Elkton. The city of Washington, or the Federal City, was ceded by the States of Virginia and Maryland to the United States, and by them established as the seat of their government, after the year 1800. The face of the country is uniformly level and low in most of the counties on the eastern shore, and consequently covered, in many places, with stagnant water. The spring and summer are most healthy. Wheat and tobacco are the staple commodities. In the interior country, on the uplands, considerable quantities of hemp and flax are raised. The trade of Maryland is principally carried on from Baltimore, with the other States, with the West-Indies, and with some parts of Europe. To these places they send annually about 20,000 hogshheads of tobacco, besides large quantities of wheat, flour, pig-iron, lumber and corn—beans, pork and flax-seed in smaller quantities; and receive in return, cloathing for themselves and negroes, and other dry goods, wines, spirits, sugars, and other West-India commodities. The balance is generally in their favour. The total amount of exports from Baltimore, in 1790, was 2,027,777 dollars, 64 cents. The seminaries of learning are as follows: Washington Academy; Washington College; St. John's College, at Annapolis; the Roman Catholic's College, at Georgetown; and the Methodists' College, at Abington. The legislature of this State is composed of two distinct branches, a Senate and House of Delegates, and styled, The General Assembly of Maryland. On the second Monday in November, annually, a governor is appointed by the joint ballot of both houses. The governor cannot continue in office longer than 3 years successively.

MARY'S RIVER, 34 forms a part of the southern boundary line of the United States, and is very crooked, with a wide open marsh on each side, from its mouth upwards 30 miles, where the marsh is terminated by thick woods. It is nearly straight for 30 miles farther to the head of navigation, where it is like a dead creek, 4 fathoms deep, and 10 rods wide. It rises in the great Okanobos or Kanawoga swamp, hemp and flax are the trade of Maryland, and are generally carried on from the West-Indies, and with the other States of Europe. To these are sent annually about 100,000 heads of tobacco, besides quantities of wheat, corn, lumber and corn, and flax-seed in quantities; and receiving cloathing for themselves, negroes, and other dry goods, spirits, sugars, and other commodities. It is generally in the month of May that the total amount of the trade of Baltimore, in 1790, was 77 dollars, 64 cents. The Academy of the College; St. John's College; the Roman Catholic College; at Georgetown; the Methodist College; the legislature of the State is composed of two distinct bodies, the Senate and House of Representatives, and styled, The General Assembly of Maryland. On Monday in November, a governor is appointed by a joint ballot of both the Senate and House of Representatives, and the governor cannot be re-elected for a longer than four years.

MASSACHUSETTS, a town in the State of Massachusetts, on the southern boundary of the United States, and with a wide opening on each side, from its mouth 30 miles, where it is terminated by thick woods, nearly straight for miles to the head of the river, where it is like a dead end, deep, and rises in the great Elkafanaga (swamp) which extends southwardly into Florida. It has 9 feet of water at low spring tides. It runs a course of 150 miles, and enters the ocean between the points of Amelia and Talheris islands, in lat. 30 44, and is navigable for vessels of considerable burden for 100 miles. Its banks afford immense quantities of fine timber, suited to the West-India market.

MARY'S STRAIT, or connect- ing Lake Superior with Lake Huron, are about 66 miles in length, navigable for canoes only, the current being very rapid, owing to large rocks. The French name is La Strait de St. Marie.

MARY'S, St. a post-town and seat of entry of Georgia, on St. Mary's river, a few miles from its mouth. It is a small place, and has little trade. It is 120 miles S. of Savannah. N. lat. 31 43.

MARY'S, St. a co. of Maryland, on the peninsula between Patuxent and Potomac rivers— 15,544 inhabitants.

MAX VILSE, the chief town of Blount county, Tennessee.

MASON, a co. of Kentucky, on the Ohio. It contains 2,267 inhabitants.

MASON, a township in Hillsborough co. N. Hampshire, on the Massachusetts line, about 72 miles W. of Portsmouth, and 50 N. W. of Boston— 922 inhabitants.

MASSAC, a fort built by the French, on the north-western side of the Ohio, about 21 miles below the mouth of Tennessee river. Its remains stand on a high bank, in a healthy agreeable situation.

MASSACHUSETTS, Proper, which with the District of Maine constitutes one of the United States of America, is situated between lat. 41 18 and 43 52 N. and between long. 69 57 and 73 38 W. Its greatest length is 190 miles; its greatest breadth, 90 miles, and is bounded N. by Vermont and New-Hampshire; E. by the Atlantic Ocean; S. by the Atlantic, Rhode-Island and Connecticut; W. by New-York. Massachusetts is divided into the following counties, whose polls and number of senators in 1793 were as follows:

Polls.	Counties.	Senators.
3742	Suffolk.	4.
6742	Norfolk.	3.
12376	Essex.	5.
10109	Middlesex.	4.

5723	Cumberland.	2.
2349	Lincoln.	2.
1967	Hampden.	2.
493	Washington.	2.

The population amounts to 378,787 souls, about 60 for every square mile. This is the only State in the Union in which there are no slaves. In Massachusetts are to be found all the varieties of soil, from very good to very bad, capable of yielding all the different productions common to the climate, such as Indian corn, rye, wheat, barley, oats, hemp, flax, &c. The northern, middle, and western parts of the State have, generally speaking, a strong, good soil, adapted to grazing and grain. The average produce of the good lands, well cultivated, has been estimated as follows: 40 bushels of corn an-an acre, 30 of barley, 10 of wheat, 30 of rye, 100 of potatoes. The staple commodities of this State are fish, beef, lumber, &c. The manufacture of iron is carried to a greater extent in this, than in any of the United States. The following is an account of the quantity of iron cut in the several rolling mills in the year 1793, obligingly furnished the author by Mr. Jonathan Leonard, of Stoughton, and taken by him from the clerks and owners of the several mills.

	Feet.	Of which were rolled
In 2 mills at Trumton, 740	259
In 1 do. at Bridgewater, 445	100
In 1 do. at Norton, 127	112
In 1 do. at Needham, 70	28
In 1 do. at Pawtucket, 70	31
In 1 do. at Plymouth, 100
In 1 do. at Kingston, 40
In 1 do. at Stoughton, 140
1793	610

From this statement it appears that of 1732 tons, (the whole quantity cut and rolled) 610 tons were rolled for hoop iron, and for cutting nail rods; the remainder was for common nail rods. (From April, 1796, to April, 1797, for from this time to this time, as time is there reckoned) at all the above mills, 1350 tons were cut and rolled. The quantity was less this year, on account of the drought and dull sale. This Commonwealth is remarkable for its literary, humane and other useful societies. The militia compose a body of about 30,000 infantry, 2,000 cavalry, and 1,500 artillery. This State, including Maine, owns more than three times as many tons of shipping as any other of the States, and more than one third part of the whole that belongs to the United States. Upwards of 20,000 men are employed in carrying on the fisheries, 46,000 in the coasting business, and 96,564 in trading with almost all parts of the world. The value of exports in the year, ending Sept. 30, 1796, was 5,380,703 dollars.

Matawpa Indian, a dirty people who live principally on fish. Their lands extend from Tobickcock, or Tabisco, to Burlington Bay, on the N. side of lake Ontario, W. of York.

MATHEWSON, a new and flourishing town on the Scioto river, in the N. W. Territory, situated in the midst of a fertile country which is rapidly settling. The banks of the Scioto up to the town, and above it, are lined pretty thickly with inhabitants, who have an organized militia for their protection, and courts of justice to preserve order and guard their civil rights. In Sept. 1796, 5 families established themselves at this place, and in July, 1797, there were in the town and its vicinity about 200 families, and about 100 houses, some of them with shingled roofs; and there was then growing for the subsistence of the inhabitants 70 acres of fine corn. The road from Wheeling to Limestone, Kentucky, runs through this town.

MATHEWSON'S CROSS ROAD, in Kenton Maryland, is N. E. of New Market, S. E. of George Town, and S. by W. of Rappahannock Town, a little more than 5 miles from each.

MERION, Upper and Lower, two townships in Montgomery co. Pennsylvania.

MERO District, in the State of Tennessee, on the banks of Cumberland R. was so named after Governor MERO, of West Florida, in gratitude for some good offices rendered the Cumberland settlers. It comprehends the cos. of Davidson, Sumner, Robertson and Montgomery. By the State census of 1795, there were 14,390 inhabitants.

MERRIMACK R. has its course easterly through the State of N. Hampshire, till it enters Massachusetts; it then turns easterly, and passes into the ocean at Newbury-Port. A canal is now in process to open a communication between the waters of this river and Chelmsford and the harbour of Boston, through Mystic R. The bar across the mouth of this river is a very great incumbrance to navigation, and is especially terrible to strangers. There are 6 feet of water upon it at common tides. There are two light-houses of wood, removeable at pleasure, according to the shifting of the bar. The lights now bear E $\frac{1}{2}$ N. and W $\frac{1}{2}$ S. Bringing both the light-houses to bear to one, until you are abreast of the lower one, will bring you over the bar in the deepest water, where is a bold shore and good anchoring ground. The point of Plum Island, which forms the E. side of the entrance to the river, lies in lat. 42 47 40.

MERRIMACK, a township in Hillsborough co. N. Hampshire, on Souhegan R. 55 miles westerly of Portsmouth—819 inhabitants.

MERRIMICK R. falls into the head of a bay of that name on the N. coast of the province of New-Brunswick.

MERRY-MEETING Bay, Maine, is formed by the junction of Androscoggin and Kennebeck rivers, opposite to the town of Woolwich, 20 miles from the sea; from the chops of the bay to the mouth of the river is 13 miles. Formerly, from this bay to the sea, the confluent stream was called Sagadahock.

MESSERABURG, a town in Franklin co. Pennsylvania, 16 miles S. W. of Chambersburg, and 168 W. by S. of Philadelphia.

METHUEN, the north-westernmost township in Essex co. Massachusetts, on the N. bank of Merrimack R. between Dracut and Haverhill—1,177 inhabitants.

MEXICANO R. or Adagey, in Louisiana, has a S. E. course, and empties into the gulf of Mexico, at Cabo du Nord.

MEXICO, a township in Herkimer co. N. York, incorporated in 1796, lying on Canada and Wood Creeks, and Oncida Lake.

MEXICO, or New-Spain, bounded N. by unknown regions; E. by Louisiana and the gulf of Mexico; S. by the isthmus of Darien, which separates it from Terra Firma in S. America; W. by the Pacific Ocean. Its length is about 2,100 miles; its breadth 1,600; situated between lat. 9 and 40 N. and between long. 83 8 and 125 8 W. This vast country is divided into Old-Mexico, which contains the audiences of Galicia, Mexico and Guatemala, which are subdivided into 22 provinces; New-Mexico, divided into two audiences, Apacheira and Sonora; and California, on the W. a peninsula. The land is in great part abrupt and mountainous, covered with thick woods, and watered with large rivers. In this country are interspersed many fountains of different qualities. There are an infinity of nitrous, sulphureous, vitriolic, and aluminous mineral waters; some of which spring out so hot, that in a short time any kind of fruit or animal food is boiled in them. There are also petrifying waters, with which they make little white, smooth stones, not displeasing to the taste; scrapings from which, taken in broth, or in gruel made of Indian corn, are most powerful diaphoretics, and are used with remarkable success in various kinds of fevers. The fruits of Mexico are, pine-apples, plums, dates, water-melons, apples, peaches, quinces, apricots, pears, pomegranates, figs, black cherries, walnuts, almonds, olives, chestnuts, and grapes. The cocoa-nut, vanilla, chia, great-pepper, tomato, the pepper of Tabasco, and cotton, are very common with the Mexicans. Wheat, barley, peas, beans and rice have been successfully cultivated in this country. With respect to plants, which yield profitable resins, gums, oils, or juices, the country of Mexico is singularly fertile. It is said, there are 200 species of birds peculiar to that kingdom. The civil government of Mexico is administered by tribunals, called audiences. In these courts, the viceroy of the king of Spain presides, who continues in office three years. The clergy are extremely numerous in Mexico. The priests, monks and nuns, of all orders, make a fifth of the white inhabitants, both here and in other parts of Spanish America.

Mexico, the capital of the above province, is the oldest city in America, of which we have any account; its foundation being dated at far back as 1329. It is situated in the charming vale of Mexico; on several small islands, in Lake Tetzcucotl, in lat. 19 26, and 103 35 W. long. from Ferro. This vale is surrounded with lofty and verdant mountains; and formerly contained no less than 40 emperors' cities, besides villages and hamlets. By a late accurate enumeration, made by the magistrates and priests, it appears that the present number of inhabitants exceeds 200,000. The buildings, which are of stone, are convenient, and the public edifices, especially the churches, are magnificent; and the city has the appearance of immense wealth. The trade of Mexico consists of three great branches, which extend over the whole world. It carries on a traffic with Europe, by La Vera Cruz, situated on the gulf of Mexico, or N. Sea, with the E. Indies, by Acapulco, on the S. Sea, 210 miles S. W. of Mexico; and with S. America, by the same port. These two sea-ports, Vera Cruz and Acapulco, are admirably well situated for the commercial purposes, to which they are applied.

Miami R. Little, in the N. W. Territory, empties into the Ohio on the E. side of the town of Columbus, 20 miles eastward of Great Miami, in a straight line, but 27 taking in the meanders of the Ohio. It is too small to Mexico. The priests of Aztec, of all orders, and of the white inhabitants here and in other parts of America.

Mexico, the capital of the empire, is the oldest city in America, of which we have no record; its foundation is said to be as far back as 1345, and it is the charming city of Mexico; on several islands in Lake Texcoco, in Mexico, and 101. 35 W. long. 19. 10. This vale is intersected by lofty and verdant hills, and formerly covered with less than 40 eminences. The villages and hamlets are late accurate enumeration by the magistrates, it appears that the number of inhabitants is 100,000. The buildings are of stone, and the public edifices, the churches, are magnificent; the city has the appearance of immense wealth. Mexico consists of several branches, which extend to the whole world, and a traffic with Europe, Vera Cruz, situated on the Gulf of Mexico, or N. Sea, Indies, by Acapulco, 210 miles S. W. and with S. America, the port. These trade is admirably well suited for commercial purposes, they are applied.

Mexico, Little, in the N. W. of the town of Coahuila, 10 miles eastward of the town, in a straight line, in the meander of the river.

batteaux navigation. Its banks are good land.

MIAMI R. Great, has a S. by W. course, and empties into the Ohio by a mouth 200 yards wide, and 604 miles from the mouth of the Ohio. It is one of the most beautiful streams in the N. W. Territory, and is so clear and transparent, at its highest state, that a pin may very plainly be seen at its bottom. It has a very long channel, a swift stream, but no falls. At the Picquet or Pickawillany towns, above 75 miles from its mouth, it is not above 30 yards broad; yet loaded batteaux can ascend 30 miles higher. The portage from the navigable waters of its eastern branch to Sandusky R. is 9 miles, and from those of its western branches the Miami of the Lakes, only 5 miles. It also interlocks with the Scioto.

MIAMI OF THE LAKES, falls into Lake Erie, at the S. W. corner of the lake.

MIAMI, a village on the Miami of the Lakes, near the Miami Port.

MIAMI, an Indian nation, who inhabit on the Miami R. and the southern side of Lake Michigan. They can raise about 300 warriors.

MICHAEL, St. a town in the province of Quito, in Peru, and said to be the first town the Spaniards built in that country. It is of considerable size, standing in a fruitful valley, about 20 leagues from the sea.

MICHAEL, St. a town in New Spain, very populous, and 200 miles from Mexico. N. lat. 20. 35. W. long. 102. 30.

MICHAEL'S, St. a town in Talbot co. Maryland, 8 miles W. of Easton, and 21 S. E. of Annapolis.

MICHAEL'S, St. a town of St. Domingo island, 10 leagues N. E. of St. Louis.

MICHIGAN LAKE, in the N. W. Territory, is the largest lake which is wholly within the United States, and lies between lat. 42. 10 and 45. 40 N. and between 84. 30 and 87. 30 W. long. Its computed length is 280 miles from N. to S.; its breadth from 60 to 70 miles, and its circumference nearly 600 miles. It is navigable for shipping of any burden; and communicates with Lake Huron, at the north-eastern part, through the Straits of Michillimackinac. The strait is 6 miles broad, and the fort of its name stands on an island at the mouth of the strait.

MICHELLIMACKINAK, an island, fort and village, N. of the straits of the same name. The small island, on which the village and the fort commanding the strait stand, is barren, though by cultivation it makes good gardens. Michillimackinac signifies a great quantity of turtles. In addition to the lands round this post, to which the Indian title had been extinguished by the French and British governments, the Indians have ceded, by the treaty of Greenville, a tract of land on the main, to the N. of the island on which the post of Michillimackinac stands; to measure 6 miles on lakes Huron and Michigan, and to extend 3 miles back from the water of the lake or strait, and also White Wood Island. This gift was the voluntary gift of the Chipewa nation. The island of Michillimackinac is the grand rendezvous of the Indian traders; and its very advantageous situation seems to insure that it will be, at some future period, a place of great commercial importance. It is within the line of the United States, and was lately delivered up by the British. It is about 200 miles N. N. W. from Detroit, and 974 N. W. of Philadelphia. N. lat. 45 20, W. long. 84 30.

MICHIGOTEN, a river which empties into Lake Superior, on the N. E. side of the lake.

MICHIGOTON House, in Upper Canada, is situated on the E. side of the mouth of the above river, in lat. 47 56 N. and belongs to the Hudson Bay Company.

MICHISCOU is the Indian and present name of the most northerly river in Vermont. It empties into Lake Champlain, at Michiscou Bay, in Highgate. It is navigable for the largest boats 7 miles.

MICKMACKS, an Indian nation, which inhabit the country between the Shapody Mountains and the Gulf of St. Lawrence in Nova-Scotia, opposite to St. John's Island. This nation convey their sentiments by hieroglyphics marked on the rind of the birch, and on paper, which the Roman missionaries perfectly understand.

MIDDLEBURY, a new town of N. York, in Schoharie co. incorporated in 1797.

MIDDLEBOROUGH, a township in Plymouth co. Massachusetts, 40 miles S. by E. of Boston; contains 4,526 inhabitants. Great quantities of nails are made here. In winter, the farmers and young men are employed in this manufacture. Here, and at Milton in Norfolk co. the first rolling and sitting-mills were erected about 40 years ago.

MIDDLEBURY, a post-town of Vermont, and capital of Addison co. 33 miles N. by W. of Rutland, 15 from Vergennes, and 38 S. E. of Burlington. Here is a brewery upon a pretty large scale—contains 305 inhabitants.

MIDDLEFIELD, a new town in Otsego co. N. York, taken from Cherry Valley, and incorporated in 1792.

MIDDLEHOOK, a village in N. Jersey, 8 miles W. of Brunswick.

MIDDLESEX, a co. of Massachusetts, bounded N. by the State of N. Hampshire, E. by Essex co.; S. by Suffolk, and W. by Worcester co. It has 42 townships, which contain 42,737 inhabitants. The chief towns are Charlestown, Cambridge, and Concord. Charlestown is the only sea-port in the co. There are in the co. 24 fulling-mills, about 20 tan-yards, 4 paper-mills, 3 spin-mills, 6 distilleries, and about 20 pot and pearl-shells.

MIDDLESEX, a maritime co. of Connecticut, divided into 6 townships, containing 18,845 inhabitants. Connecticut R. runs the whole length of the co. and on the streams which flow into it are a number of mills. The soil in this co. is uniformly of an excellent quality, and produces liberal crops of whatever is committed to it. Middletown is the chief town.

MIDDLESEX, a co. of N. Jersey, bounded N. by Essex, and E. by Raritan Bay and part of Staten Island. It contains 15,956 inhabitants. Chief towns, New Brunswick.

great importance to the States of Massachusetts and N. Hampshire.
It is now opening at a vast expense by an incorporated company.
The design is, to open a water communication from the waters of Merrimack R. at Chelmsford to the harbour of Boston. The distance from the Merrimack to Medford, as the canal will be made, is 27, and to Boston, 32 miles. The canal is to be 24 feet wide at the bottom, and 32 at the top, and 6 feet deep. The boats are to be 12 feet wide, and 70 feet long. The toll is to be 6 cents a mile for every ton weight which shall pass, besides pay for their boats and labour.

MIDDLETON, a township in tants.

MIDDLETOWN, a city, post-town, and port of entry of Connecticut, and the capital of Middlesex co. pleasantly situated on the west bank of Connecticut R. 31 miles from its mouth at Saybrook Har, according to the course of the river 115 miles S. of Hartford, 26 N. by E. of New-Haven, 40 N. W. by W. of New-London, and 209 N. E. of Philadelphia.
Its public buildings are, a Congregational church, an Episcopal church, one for Separatists, and a court-house. It contains about 300 houses, and carries on a considerable trade. Here the river has 20 feet water at full tides. N. lat. 41° 35', W. long. 77° 12'. In this city and its vicinity are, a powder, a paper, and an oil-mill, two distilleries, and a brewery on a large scale, at which porter is made, equal to London porter. Ship-building is carried on here, and at Chatham, on the opposite side of the river, to a considerable extent; but less extensively now than formerly, owning to the increasing scarcity of ship-timber. Several specimens of coal, indicative of valuable coal mines, have lately been found in the neighbourhood of this city.

MIDDLETOWN, a township in Stafford co. N. Hampshire, about 40 miles N. by N. W. of Portsmouth—617 inhabitants.

MIDDLETOWN, a township in Rutland co. Vermont—699 in-

MIDDLETOWN, a township in Newport co. on Rhode-Island, and contains 840 inhabitants.

MIDDLETOWN, a small post-town in Newcastle co. Delaware, lies on Apoquiminy Creek, 21 miles S. W. of Wilmington, and 49 S. W. of Philadelphia.

MIDDLETOWN, a township in Monmouth co. New-Jersey, has 3,226 inhabitants. Here is an academy of about 40 students, under good regulations. On North R. near Sarewsbury, within the limits of this township, salt-works have been erected upon a pretty large scale. The salt made here is of an excellent quality; but the works have not been long enough in operation to determine their success. The constructor of these works has a patent for securing the profits of his invention. The centre of the township is 50 miles E. by N. of Trenton, and 30 S. W. by S. of N. York city. The light-house built by the citizens of N. York on the point of Sandy Hook, is in this township.

MISSISSCOU. See Missisquoi.

Missouri R. forms the western boundary of the United States. Its sources have never been explored; of course its length is unknown. It is conjectured, however, to be upwards of 3,000 miles long from its source to its mouth in the Gulf of Mexico. The tributary streams which fall into it from the W. and E. are numerous; the largest of which are, the Missouri from the W. and the Illinois, Ohio and Tennessee from the E. The country on both sides of the Mississippi, and on its tributary streams, is equal in goodness to any in N. America. This river is navigable to St. Anthony's Falls without any obstruction, and some travellers describe it as navigable above them. An island of considerable size is formed by its mouth, besides many smaller isles. These mouths are situated between the lat. of 29 and 30 N. and between the long. of 89 and 90 W.

Missouri R. in Louisiana, falls into the Mississippi from the westward, 18 miles below the mouth of the Illinois, and 195 above the mouth of the Ohio. In Capt. Hutchins' map, it is said to be navigable 1,300 miles. Late travellers up this river (among whom is a French gentleman, a general officer, who has made a map of his expedition) represent that the progress of settlement by the Spaniards on the S. and W. and by the English on the N. and E. of the Missouri, is astonishing. People of both these nations have trading-houses, 600 or 700 miles up this river. A Mr. McKenzie has performed a tour from Montreal to the S. Sea; and it appears by his map, that by short portages, and there not very numerous, there is a water communication, without great interruption, from the Upper Lakes to Nootka Sound, or its neighbourhood.

MOBILE, a large navigable river, formed by two main branches, the Alabama and Tombigbee, in the south-western part of Georgia. The confluent stream enters the Gulf of Mexico at Mobile Point, in lat. 30 17 N. 11 leagues below the town of Mobile. Large vessels cannot go within 7 miles of the town.

MOBILE, a city of W. Florida, formerly of considerable splendour and importance, but now in a state of decline. It is pretty regular, of an oblong figure, and situated on the W. bank of the river of its name, to the N. eastward of the town, in a number of marshes and lagoons, which subject the people to fevers and agues. It is 30 miles W. N. W. of Pensacola. There are many very elegant houses here, inhabited by French, English, Scotch, and Irish. La Conde, which stands very near the bay, towards the lower end of the town, is a regular fort of brick; and there is a new square of barracks for the officers and soldiers. Mobile, was in possession of the British, sent yearly to London, skins and furs to the value of from 12,000 to 15,000 sterling. It surrendered to the Spanish forces in 1780.

MOHAWK River, in New-York rises to the northward of Rensselaer, and runs southward 20 miles to the fort, then eastward 120 miles, and, after receiving many tributary streams, falls into Hudson river, by the mouth opposite to the cities of Lanfurnagh and Troy, from 10 to 15 miles N. of Albany. barren, sandy, shrub plain to Albany. This line river is now navigable for boats, from Schenecady, nearly all the way to its source, the locks and canals round the Little Falls, 56 miles above Albany, having been completed the Autumn of 1793, so that boats full loaded now pass them.
The canal round them is nearly of a mile, but almost the whole distance through an uncommonly hard rock. The opening of this navigation is of great advantage to the commerce of the State. A part of at least 2000 miles in length is, in consequence of it, opened by boatable waters, exclusive of all the great lakes, and many millions of acres of extensive tillage land, rapidly settling, accommodated with water communication, for conveying their produce to market. The inter-valles on both sides of this river, of various width, now and then interrupted by the projection of the hills quite to the banks of the river, and are some of the richest and best lands in the world.

MOHAWK, a town on the S.

MOLE, The, is situated in the N. W. part of the island of St.
Domingo, 3 leagues E. of Cape St. Nicholas, and is often called by that name. The Mole, though inferior, by a great deal, to Cape Francois and Port au Prince, is the first port in the island for safety in time of war, being strongly fortified both by nature and art. The exports in 1789 were 265,615 lb. coffee—26,861 lb. cotton, and 2,823 lb. indigo. It is 36 leagues W. of Cape Francois, and 17 1/2 W. by S. of Port de Paix.

town in Stafford co. N. Hampshire, at the N. W. corner of Lake Winnepiscogee, 18 miles
E. by N. of Plymouth, and 48

N. W. by N. of Portsmouth—363 inhabitants.

MOUNT BETHEL, Upper and Lower, 2 townships in Northampton co. Pennsylvania.

MOUNT DESERT, an island on the coast of Hancock co. Maine, about 15 miles long and 12 broad. It is a valuable tract of land. In 1793, it contained 744 inhabitants. The northerly part of the island was formed into a township called Eden, in 1796—235 miles N. E. of Boston.

MOUNT HOLLY, a village in Burlington co. N. Jersey, on the northern bank of Ancocus Creek, about 7 or 8 miles S. E. of Burlington. To this place the courthouse, which was formerly at Burlington, has been lately removed.

MOUNT JOY, the name of 2 townships in Pennsylvania, the one in Lancaster the other in York county.

MOUNT JOY, a Moravian settlement in Pennsylvania, 16 miles from Litch.

MOUNT PLEASANT, a township in W. Chester co. N. York, on the E. side of Hudson R. bounded northerly and easterly by Philipsburg. It contains 1,924 inhabitants. Also, the name of a township in York co. Pennsylvania.

MOUNT PLEASANT, a village of Maryland, 11 miles E. of Church-Hill.

MOUNT TOM, a noted mountain on the W. bank of Connecticut R. near Northampton.

MOUNT VERNON, the seat of GEORGE WASHINGTON, late President of the United States. It is pleasantly situated on the Virginia bank of Patowmac R. in Fairfax co. Virginia, where the river is nearly 2 miles wide; 9 miles below Alexandria, 227 from

Point Look-Out, at the mouth of the river, and 280 miles from the sea. The area of the mount is 200 feet above the surface of the river; and, after furnishing a lawn of five acres in front, and about the same in rear of the buildings, falls off rather abruptly on those two quarters. On the N. end it subsides gradually into extensive pasture ground, while on the S. it slopes more steeply, in a short distance, terminates with the coach-house, stables, vineyard and nurseries. On either wing is a thick growth of different flowering forest trees. Parallel with them, on the land side, are two spacious gardens into which one is led by two serpentine gravel walks, planted with weeping willows and shade shrubs. The mansion-house appears venerable and convenient. A lofty portico, 96 feet in length, supported by 8 pillars, has a pleasing effect, when viewed from the water. The whole assemblage of the green-house, school-house, offices, and servants' halls, when seen from the land side, bears a resemblance to a rural village, especially as the lands on the side are laid out somewhat in the form of English gardens, in meadows and grass grounds, ornamented with little copses, circular clumps, and single trees. A small park on the margin of the river, where the English fallow deer and the American wild deer are seen through the thickets, alternately with the vessels, as they are sailing along, add a romantic and picturesque appearance to the whole scenery. On the opposite side of a small creek to the northward, an extensive plain exhibiting corn-fields and cattle grazing, affords in summer

Out, as the mouth of the river extends about 280 miles from the mouth of the Chesapeake Bay, the area of the mountainous country above the surface of the water, after furnishing a fertile area in front, and a fertile area in rear of the river, falls off rather abruptly into two quarters. The first is a gradual subsidence into a fertile pasture ground, and the second is a steep slope to the S. it slopes down to a short distance, and then rises to a coach-house, a garden and nurseries, and a flowering forest tree, and then, on the last, two spacious gardens, one is led by a gravel walk, planted with willows and shaded by the mansion-house, and a stable and convenient carriage, 96 feet in length, supported by 8 pillars, has a view, when viewed from the whole assembly, a school-house, servants' halls, which, on the land side, bears a resemblance to a rural village, and the lands on the river side, are somewhat in the style of gardens, in meadows, grounds, or named little copes, circled by single trees. A fine margin of the river, English fallow deer, American wild deer, and the thickets, alter the vessels, as they along, add a romantic appearance to the scenery. On the river, a small creek to the river, an extensive plain, corn-fields and cattle, and birds in summer lustrant landscape; while the verdant verdure of woodlands and cultivated declivities, on the Maryland shore, variegates the prospect in a charming manner. Such are the philosophic shades, which the Commander in Chief of the American army resided in 1783, at the close of a glorious war; which he again, in 1789, to dignify with his unequalled talents, the highest place in the gift of his fellow-citizens; and to which he has again retreated, loaded with honors and the benedictions of his country, to spend the remainder of his days as a private citizen, in peace and tranquillity.

MOUNT VERNON, a plantation in Lincoln co. Maine, in the neighbourhood of Sidney and Winslow.

MOUNT WASHINGTON, the north-westernmost township of Massachusetts, 250 miles W. by N. of Boston—67 inhabitants.

MOYSSON, a river of York co. Maine, which falls into the ocean at Wells.

Myo Island, in Delaware R. is 7 miles below the city of Philadelphia, whereon is a citadel, and a fort not yet completed.

MULLIGAN RIVER, in N. Jersey, empties into Little Egg-Harbour Bay, 4 miles easterly of the town of Leeds. It is navigable 20 miles for vessels of 60 tons.

MURKESBOROUGH, a post-town of N. Carolina, and capital of Gates co. on Meherrin R. and contains a few houses, a court-house, gaol, and tobacco warehouse; 3 miles from Princeton, 2 from Winton, 59 N. by W. of Denton, and 22 S. W. of Philadelphia.

MUSKOGEE Shoals, in Tennessee River, about 250 miles from its mouth, extend about 10 miles and derive their name from the number of shell-fish found there. At this place the river spreads to the breadth of 3 miles, and forms a number of islands; and the passage is difficult, except when there is a swell in the river. From this place up to the Whirl, or Suck, where the river breaks through the Great Ridge, or Cumberland Mountain, is 250 miles, the navigation all the way excellent.

MUSKOGEE, Muscogee, or, as they are more commonly called, Creek Indians, inhabit the middle parts of Georgia. The Tombigbee R. forms the western limit of their hunting grounds, and divides them from the Choctaw nation. The Creek or Muskogee confederacy have 55 towns, besides many villages. Their towns contain from 20 to 200 houses or huts, distributed in clusters of from 4 to 8 or 10, on the banks of the rivers. Each cluster contains a clan, or family of relations, who live and eat together in common. Their whole number, some years since, was 27,280, of which 3,860 were fighting men. Gen. McGillivray estimates the number of gun-men to be between 5 and 6,000, exclusive of the Seminoles, who are of little or no account in war, except as small parties of marauders, acting independent of the general interest of the others. The whole number of individuals may be about 25 or 26,000 souls. Their principal towns lie in lat. 32, and long. 11 20 from Philadelphia. They are settled in a hilly, but not mountainous country. The soil is fruitful in a high degree, and well watered.

MUSKOGUM, a navigable river ers of the N. W. Territory, 250 yards wide at its confluence with the Ohio, 172 miles below Pittsburg, including the windings of the Ohio, though in a direct line it is but 90 miles. At its mouth stands Fort Mifflin and Marietta. Its banks are so high as to prevent its overflowing, and it is navigable by large batteaux and barges to the Three Licks, 120 miles from its mouth, and by small boats to the lake at its head, 45 miles farther.

Musquito River and Bay lie at a small distance N. of Cape Canaveral, on the coast of East-Florida.

Myers town, a village of Dauphin co. Pennsylvania, on Tulpehocken creek, a few miles below the canal, of about 25 houses, and is 32 miles E. by N. of Harrisburg, and 77 from Philadelphia.

Navesink, a short, crooked, salt water river, which falls into Boston harbour from the N. is navigable 4 miles; to Medford.

N

NAAMAN'S Creek, a small stream which runs S. easterly into Delaware river, at Marcus Hook.

Nahant Point forms the N. E. point of Boston harbour, in Massachusetts; 9 miles E. N. E. of Boston.

NAIN, a Moravian settlement, on Lehigh river, Pennsylvania.

NANSEMOND, a co. of Virginia, on the S. side of James river, and W. of Norfolk co. 4900 inhabitants.

NANSEMOND, a short, navigable river of Virginia, which rises in Great Dismal Swamp, and pursuing a N. then a N. E. direction, empties into James river a few miles W. of Elizabeth river.

NANTUCKET Road, at the entrance of Boston harbour, lies W. of the light-house, near Rainford or Hospital Island. A vessel may anchor here in from 7 to 5 fathoms in safety. Two lighthouses are erected on Lovell's island, in the Narrows, at a short distance from this road, with accommodations for shipwrecked seamen.

NANTUCKET, a navigable river of the eastern shore of Maryland empties into the Chesapeake Bay.

NANTMILL, East and West, two townships in Chester co. Pennsylvania.

NANTUCKET Island, belongs to the State of Massachusetts, lat. 41 20 N. and 70 W. long. 15 miles in length; its greatest breadth is 3½ miles. The island constitutes a county of its own name, and contains 4,620 inhabitants. There is a duck manufacturing factory here, and 19 spermaceti works. The inhabitants are mostly seamen and mechanics. The seamen are the most experienced whalers in the world. From 1772, to 1775, the whale-fishery employed 150 sail from 90 to the tons, upon the coast of Guinea, Brazil, and the West-Indies; the produce of which amounted to 167,000l. sterling. The late war has most ruined this business. They have since revived it again, and pursue the whales even into the great Pacific Ocean. The people are mostly Friends, or Quakers. There is one Society of Congregationalists.

NANTUCKET, (formerly Shabtown) a post-town, capital, and port of entry in the above island, is 60 miles S. E. of New-Bedford.

siderable numbers of deer, sheep and cattle, are supported upon this island; and it has become famous for its excellent wool and cheese.

NASHVILLE, the chief town of Mero District, in the State of Tennessee, is pleasantly situated in Davidson co. on the S. bank of Cumberland river, where it is 200 yards broad. It was named after Brig. Gen. Francis Nash, who fell on the 4th of Oct. 1777, in the battle of Germantown.

It is regularly laid out, and contains 75 houses, a court-house, an academy, (for the support of which liberal funds are provided) and a church for Presbyterians, and one for Methodists.
It is the seat of the courts held semi-annually for the district of Mero, and of the courts of pleas and quarter sessions for Davidson co. It is 200 miles W. of Knoxville, 190 S. by W. of Lexington, is nothing more than a single mountain rising like a cone in an easy ascent from the sea; the cir cumference of its base not exceed ing 3 leagues. The island is well watered, and the land in general fertile. Four thousand acres of cane are annually cut, which produce an equal number of hogsheads of sugar. The island, small as it is, is divided into 5 parishes. It has one town, Charlestown, which is a port of entry, and the seat of government;

where is also Charles Fort.
There are two other shipping

NEWBURY, a co. of Ninety-Six District, S. Carolina, which contains 9,342 inhabitants. Newbury court-house is 45 miles from Columbia, and 32 from Laurens court-house.

NEWBURY, a township in York
co. Pennsylvania.

NEWBURY, the capital of Orange co. Vermont, pleasantly situated on the W. side of Connecut R. opposite to Flavelhill, in N. Hampshire, and from which it is 5 miles distant. It contains about 50 houses, a gaol, a courthouse, and a handsome church for Congregationalists, with a people, which was the first erected in Vermont. Number of inhabitants, 873.

NEWBURY, a township in Essex co. Massachusetts, situated on the northern bank of Merrimack R.
and contains 3,570 inhabitants.
It is divided into 5 parishes, besides a society of Friends, or Quakers. Dummer Academy, in this township, is in a flourishing state. A woollen manufactory has been established on an extensive scale in Byfield parish, and promises to succeed. This township is connected with Salisbury by Essex-Merrimack bridge, 2 miles above Newbury-port, built in 1793. At the place where the bridge is erected, an island divides the river into two branches. An arch, of 30 feet diameter, 40 feet above the level of high water, connects this island with the main on the opposite side. The whole length of the bridge is 1090 feet; its breadth 34.

NEWBURY-PORT, a port of entry, and post-town, in Essex co.
Massachusetts, pleasantly situated on the S. side of Merrimack R. about 3 miles from the sea.
In a commercial view, it is next in rank to Salem. It contains 4,837 inhabitants, although it is, perhaps, the smallest township in the State, its contents not exceeding 640 acres. The churches, 6 in number, are ornamented with steeple. The other public buildings are, the court-house, gaol, a bank, and a public school-house.
Before the war there were many ships built here; but some years after the revolution, the business was on the decline; it now begins to revive. The exports for a year, ending Sept. 30, 1794, amounted to 263,380 dollars. Newbury-Port is 40 miles N. N.
E. of Boston, and 22 S. by W. of Portsmouth; in 45 47 N. lat. and in 70 47 W. long.

NEW-CALEDONIA, the name given by the Scotch to the ill-fated settlement which that nation formed on the isthmus of Darien. See Darien.

NEW-CANTON, a small town, lately established in Buckingham co. Virginia, on the S. side of James R. 70 miles above Richmond. It contains a few houses, and a ware-house for inspecting tobacco.

NEW-CASTLE, the most northern co. of Delaware State. It contains 19,686 inhabitants. Here are 2 snuff-mills, a sitting-mill, 4 paper-mills, 60 for grinding different kinds of grain, and several fulling-mills. The chief towns of this co. are Wilmington and New-Castle.

NEW CASTLE, a post-town and the seat of justice of the above co. on the W. side of Delaware R. 5 miles S. of Wilmington, and 33 S. W. of Philadelphia. It contains about 70 houses; a court-house and gaol; a church for Episcopalians, and another for Presbyterians. This is the oldest town on Delaware R. having been settled by the Swedes about the year 1627. N. lat. 39. 38.

NEW-CASTLE, a township in West-Chester co. N. York—151 of the inhabitants are qualified electors.

NEW-CASTLE, a small town in the co. of Rockingham, N. Hampshire, 8 miles from Portsmouth — 524 inhabitants.

NEW-CANTLE, a small post-town in Lincoln co. Maine, between Damerscotta and Sheepscott rivers, 10 miles E. by N. of Wiscasset, 66 N. E. of Portland, and 192 N. by E. of Boston—896 inhabitants.

NEW-CASTLE, a post-town of Hanover co., Virginia, on the S. W. side of Pamunkey R. contains about 36 houses; 54 miles N. W. of Williamsburg, and 24 N. E. of Richmond.

NEW-CHSTER. a township in Grafton co. N. Hampshire, situated on the W. side of Pemigewasset river—319 inhabitants; about 13 miles below Plymouth.

NEW CONCORD, a township in Grafton co. N. Hampshire, on Ammonoosuck R. contains 247 inhabitants.

NEW-CORNWALL, a township in Orange co. N. York, W. of Hudson's R. and Haverstraw—4,225 inhabitants.

New-Dublin, a township in Lunenburg co Nova-Scotia, on Mahone Bay.

NEW-DURHAM, in Strafford co.

N. Hampshire, on the E. coast of Winnepiscogee Lake, nearly 40 miles N. W. of Portsmouth—554 inhabitants.

NEW-EDINBURGH, a new settlement in Nova-Scotia.

NEW-ENGLAND, (or EASTERN STATES) lies between 41° and about 48 1/2° N. lat. and between 64 1/2° and 74 8' W. long. bounded N. by Lower-Canada, E. by the province of New-Brunswick and the Atlantic Ocean, S. by the same ocean, and Long Island Sound, W. by the State of New-York. England has a very healthful mate. It is estimated that about one in seven of the inhabitants live to the age of 70 years; and about one in thirteen or fourteen to 80 and upwards. The extremes of heat and cold, according to Fahrenheit's thermometers are from 20° below, to 100°

43 to 50°. New-England is high, hilly, and in some parts mountainous country, formed nature to be inhabited by a hardy race of free, independent publicans. New-England, generally speaking, is better adapted for grazing than for grain, though a sufficient quantity of the latter is raised for home consumption, if we except what which is imported in consider-able quantities from the middle and southern States. Indian corn, rye, oats, barley, buck-wheat, flax and hemp, generally suc-

NEW-FAIRFIELD, the north-westernmost township in Fairfield county, Connecticut.

NEW-FANE, the chief town of Windham co. Vermont, on West

Brattleborough. It has 660 inhabitants.

NEWFOUNDLAND Island, on the E. side of the gulf of St. Lawrence, is separated from the coast of Labrador on the north by the straits of Bellef. It is situated between lat. 46 43, and 51 46 N. and between long. 52 31, and 59 30 W. from Greenwich; being 81 miles long, and from 40 to 87 miles broad. This island is chiefly valuable for its great fishery of cod carried on upon those banks, which are called the banks of Newfoundland. Great-Britain and the United States, at the lowest computation, annually employ 3,000 sail of small craft in this fishery; on board of which, and on shore to cure and back the fish, are upwards of 100,000 hands; so that this fishery is not only a very valuable branch of trade to the merchant, but a source of livelihood to many thousands of poor people, and a most excellent nursery to the royal navy. This fishery is computed to increase the national stock 300,000l. a year, in gold and silver, remitted for the cod sold in the north, in Spain, Portugal, Italy, and the Levant. By the last treaty of peace, in 1783, the French are to enjoy the fisheries on the north, and on the west coasts of the island; and the inhabitants of the United States are allowed the same privileges in fishing, as before their independence. The chief towns in Newfoundland are, Placentia, Bonaville, and St. John's. But not above 1,000 families remain here in winter. The Great Bank of Newfoundland, which may properly be deemed a vast mountain under water, is not less than 330 miles in length, and about 75 in breadth. The depth of water upon it varies from 15 to 60 fathoms, and the bottom is covered with a vast quantity of shells, and frequently by vast schools of small fish, most of which serve as food to the cod, that are inconceivably numerous and voracious. It is a fact, in proof of the plenty of cod here, that though so many hundred vessels have been annually loaded with them, for 2 centuries past, yet the prodigious consumption has not yet lessened their plenty.

The fishery on the banks of Newfoundland may be justly esteemed a mine of greater value than any of those in Mexico or Peru.

NEW-GARDEN, a township in Chester co. Pennsylvania.

NEW-GARDEN, a settlement of the Friends in Guilford co. N.
Carolina.

NEW-GENEVA, a settlement in Fayette co. Pennsylvania.

NEW-GERMANTOWN, a post-town of N. Jersey, Hunterdon co. 28 miles N. W. of Brunswick.

NEW-GLOUCESTER, a small post-town in Cumberland co.
Maine, 27 miles northerly of Portland—1,355 inhabitants.

NEW-GOTTINGEN, a town of Georgia, Burke co. on the W.

bank of Savannah R. about 18 miles E. of Waynesborough, and 33 N. W. of Ebeneser.

NEW GRANADA, a province in the southern division of Terra Firma, whose chief town is Santa Fe de Bogota. See Cibola.

NEW GRANTHAM, a township in Cheshire co. N. Hampshire, contains 333 inhabitants; about 15 miles S. E. of Dartmouth College.

NEW-HAMPSHIRE, one of the United States of America, is situated between lat. 42 42 and 45 11 N. and between 70 40 and 72 28 W. long. from Greenwich; bounded N. by Lower Canada; E. by the District of Maine; S. by Massachusetts; and W. by Connecticut river, which separates it from Vermont. It contains 9,491 square miles, or 6,074,240 acres; of which at least 100,000 acres are water. Its length is 168 miles; its greatest breadth 90; and its least breadth 29. This State is divided into 3 counties, viz. Rockingham, Strafford, Cheshire, Hillsborough, and Grafton. The chief towns are Portsmouth, Exeter, Concord, Dover, Amherst, Keen, Charlestown, Plymouth, and Haverhill. The whole number of townships and locations is 224; containing 147,833 persons, including 138 slaves. In 1767 the number of inhabitants was estimated at 52,700. This State has but about 18 miles of sea-coast, at its south-east corner. The wide spreading hills are esteemed as warm and rich; rocky moist land is accounted good for pasture; drained swamps have a deep mellow soil; and the vallies between the hills are generally very productive. Agriculture is the chief occupation of the inhabitants; beef, pork, mutton, poultry, wheat, rye, Indian corn, barley, pulse, butter, cheese, hops, esculent roots, planks, flax, hemp, &c. are articles which will always find market, and are raised in immense quantities in N. Hampshire, both for home consumption and exportation. Apples and pears are the most common fruits cultivated in this State, no husbandman thinks his farm complete without an orchard. The most considerable rivers in this State are Connecticut, Merrimack, Piscataqua, Saco, Androscoggin, Upper and Lower Amoskeuck, besides many other smaller streams. The chief lakes are Winnipiscogee, Umbagog, Mapee, Squam, and Great Ojibwa. Its exports consist of lumber, timber, whale-oil, flax-seed, stock, beef, pork, Indian corn, pot and pearl ashes, &c. The exports from the port of Portsmouth, in the year 1793, amounted to 193,197 dollars; in the year 1794, 253,856. The only college in the State is Hanover, called Dartmouth College, which is amply endowed with lands, and is in a flourishing situation. The principal academies are those of Exeter, New Ipswich, Atkinson, and Amherst.

NEW-HAMPTON, a town of Hampshire, Strafford co. on the W. side of Lake Winnipiscogee, 9 miles S. E. of Plymouth—60 inhabitants.

NEW-HANOVER, a maritime co. of Wilmington district, N. Carolina, on Cape Fear river—68 inhabitants. Chief town, Wilmington.

NEW-HANOVER, a township in Burlington co. N. Jersey. A compact part of the township called New-Mills, where a country, wheat, rye, barley, pulse, buckwheat, esculent roots, hemp, &c. are raised in the most fertile soil, and are raised in quantities in N. Hampshire for home consumption and exportation. Apples are the most cultivated in this State, and many think his without an orchard is not a complete river. Connecticut, Massachusetts, Saco, &c. Upper and Lower, besides many others. The chief laborers are Umbagog, Amherst, and Great Oyster. consist of lumber, fish, whale-oil, flax-seed, beef, pork, Indian corn, pearl ashes, &c. from the port of in the year 1793, to 1798, 1799 dollars; in 1794, 153,856. The State is called Dartmouth County, and is in a flourishing state. The principal academy of Exeter, New Hampshire, and Amherst, a town of Strafford co. on Lake Winnepesaukee, E. of Plymouth. New-Hampshire, a maritime district, N. C. Cape Fear river—68. Chief town, Wilmington.

NEW-HAMPSHIRE, a township in co. N. Jersey. The part of the township is in New-Mills, where are 50 houses, 27 miles from Philadelphia, and 13 from Burlington.

NEW-HAMPSHIRE, a township in Morgan co. Pennsylvania.

NEW-HARTFORD, a small post-town in Litchfield co. Connecticut, 14 miles N. E. of Litchfield, 20 W. by N. of Hartford.

NEW-HAVEN County, Connecticut, extends along the Sound—is divided into 14 townships. It contained, in 1796, 30,397 free persons, and 433 slaves.

NEW-HAVEN, (City) the seat of justice in the above co. and the metropolis of the State. This city lies round the head of a bay, which makes up about 4 miles from Long-Island Sound. It is originally laid out in squares 60 rods; many of these squares have been divided by cross streets. In the centre of the city is the public square, on and around which are the public buildings, which are a state-house, 2 college edifices, and a chapel, 3 churches—Congregationalists, and 1 for Episcopalians; all which are handsome and commodious buildings. The college edifices, chapel, state-house, and one of the churches are of brick. The public square is encircled with rows of trees which render it both convenient and delightful. Many of the streets are ornamented with rows of trees on each side, which give the city a rural appearance. The prospect from the steeples is greatly variegated and extremely beautiful. There are, in 1797, 547 dwelling-houses in the city, principally of wood, which have a very neat appearance. The streets are dirty but clean. Within the limits of the city are 4,000 souls. About one in 70 die annually.

X

It carries on a considerable trade with New-York and the West-India islands. The exports for one year, ending Sept. 30, 1794, amounted to the value of 171,868 dollars. Manufactures of card-teeth, linen, buttons, cotton, and paper, are carried on here. Yale college, which is established in this city, has its name from its principal benefactor, Governor Yale. There are at present six college buildings, two of which are inhabited by the students; a chapel, a dining hall, a house for the president, and another for the professor of divinity. In the chapel is lodged the public library, consisting of about 3,000 volumes, and the philosophical apparatus, as complete as most others in the United States, and contains the machines necessary for exhibiting experiments in the whole course of experimental philosophy and astronomy; and the number of students is generally 150. This place and Hartford are the seats of the legislature alternately. It is 40 miles S. W. by S. of Hartford, 54 miles from New-London, 88 from N. York, 152 from Boston, and 183 N. E. of Philadelphia. N. lat. 41 18, W. long. 72 56.

NEW-HAVEN, a township in Addison co. Vermont, on Otter Creek or River, containing 723 inhabitants.

NEW-HAMPSTEAD, a township in Orange co. N. York, bounded by Haverstraw—245 of its inhabitants are qualified electors.

NEW-HOLDERNESS, a township in Grafton co. N. Hampshire, on the E. side of Pemigewasset river, about 3 miles E. by S. of Plymouth—329 inhabitants.

NEW-HOLLAND, a town of Pennsylvania, Lancaster co. in the midst of a fertile country, 12 miles E. N. E. of Lancaster, and 54 W. N. W. of Philadelphia.

NEW-HUNTINGTON, a township in Chittenden co. Vermont, on the S. W. side of Onion river—136 inhabitants.

NEWINGTON, a township in Rockingham co. N. Hampshire; 5 miles from Portsmouth—543 inhabitants.

NEW-INVERNESS, in Georgia, is situated near Darien, on Alata-maha river. It was built by the Scotch Highlanders, 160 of whom landed here in 1735.

NEW-LESWICH, a township in Hillsborough co. N. Hampshire; has 1241 inhabitants. There is an academy here, founded in 1789, having a fund of about $1,000, and has generally about 40 or 50 students. It is about 24 miles S. E. of Keene, and 74 W. S. W. of Portsmouth.

NEW-JERSEY, one of the United States of America, is situated between 39 and 41 24 N. latitude, and between 74 44 and 75 33 W. longitude from London; bounded E. by Hudson's river and the ocean; W. by Delaware Bay and River, which divide it from the States of Delaware and Pennsylvania; N. by the line drawn from the mouth of Mahakkamak river, in lat. 41 24 to a point on Hudson's river, in lat. 41. It is about 160 miles long, and 52 broad, containing about 8,320 square miles. It is divided into 13 counties, viz. Cape-May, Cumberland, Salem, Gloucester, Burlington, Hunterdon, and Sussex; these 7 lie from S. to N. on Delaware river; Cape-May and Gloucester extend across to the sea; Bergen, Essex, Middlesex, and Monmouth, lie from N. to S. on the eastern side of the State; Somerset and Morris are inland counties. The number of inhabitants is 184,139, of whom 17,423 are slaves. The counties of Sussex, Morris, and the northern part of Bergen, are mountainous. As much as five-eighths of most of the southern counties, or one-fourth of the whole State, is almost entirely a sandy barren unfit, in many parts, for cultivation. All the varieties of food from the worst to the best kind may be found here. Wheat, rye, Indian corn, buck-wheat, oats, barley, flax, and fruits of all kinds, common to the climate are produced in this State. The land, in this hilly country, is good for grazing, and farmers feed great numbers of cattle for N. York and Philadelphia markets. The cider made here, is said to be the best in the world. The iron manufacture is, of all others, the greatest source of wealth to the State. The college at Princeton, called Nassau Hall, has been under the care of a succession of Presidents, eminent for piety and learning; and has furnished a number of Civilians, Divines, and Physicians, of the first rank in America. It has considerable funds, is under excellent regulations, and has generally from 80 to 100 students, principally from the southern States. There are academies at Freehold, Trenton, Hackensack, Orangedale, Elizabeth-Town, Burlington, and Newark; and grammar schools at Springfield, Morristown, Bordentown, and Amboy.

NEW-KANT, a co. of Virginia, bounded on the S. side of Potomunky and York rivers, containing 6,239 inhabitants. The courthouse is 30 miles from Rich-

NEW-LEBANON, a post-town in utchess co. N. York, celebrated for its medicinal springs. The compact part of this town is pleasantly situated, partly in an extensive valley, and partly on the declivity of the surrounding hills. The spring is on the S. side, and near the bottom of a gentle hill, but a few rods W. of the Massachusetts W. line, and surrounded with several good houses, which afford convenient accommodations for the valetu-dinarians who visit these waters.
A society of Shakers inhabit the part of the town. It is about 2 miles E. by S. of Albany, 10 of New-York, and 6 W. of Hittsfield.

NEWLIN, a township in Chester
co. Pennsylvania.

NEW-LONDON, a maritime co. the S. E. corner of Connecticut, is divided into 11 townships, of which New-London and Norwich are the chief—43,200 inhabitants.

NEW-LONDON, a city, port of entry, and post-town in the above co. and one of the most considerable commercial towns in the State. It stands on the W. side of the river Thames, about 3 miles from its entrance into the Sound, and is defended by Fort Trumbull and Fort Griswold; the one in the New-London, the other in the Groton side of the Thames.

A considerable part of the town was burnt by Benedict Arnold in 1781. It has since been rebuilt.
There are two places of public worship, one for Congregationalists, and one for Episcopalians, about 300 dwelling-houses, and 1,600 inhabitants. The harbour is large, safe and commodious. and has 5 fathoms water. On the W. side of the entrance is a light-house, on a point of land which projects considerably into the Sound. The exports for a year, ending Sept. 30, 1794, amounted to 557,453 dollars. In that year 1000 mules were shipped for the West-Indies. It is 14 miles S. of Norwich, 34 S. E. by S. of Hartford, 54 E. of New-Haven; and 257 N. E. by E. of Philadelphia. N. lat. 41° 25', W. long. 72° 15'.

NEW-LONDON, a small township in Hillsborough co. New-Hampshire—311 inhabitants; about 3 miles from the N. E. side of Sunapee Lake.

NEW-LONDON, a post-town of Virginia, Bedford co. contains about 130 houses, a court-house and gaol; 133 miles W. by S. of Richmond, 152 W. of Petersburg, and 393 S. W. by W. of Philadelphia.

NEW-MADRID, in the northern part of Louisiana, is a settlement on the W. bank of the Mississippi, in lat. 36° 30' N. and 45 miles below the mouth of Ohio river.

NEWMANSTOWN, Pennsylvania, Dauphin co. contains about 30 houses, and is 14 miles E. by N. of Harrisburg, and 72 N. W. by W. of Philadelphia.

NEWMARKET, a township in Rockingham co. N. Hampshire, N. of Exeter, of which it was formerly a part, and 17 miles W. of Portsmouth—1,137 inhabitants.

NEWMARKET, a village in Frederick co. Maryland, on the road to Frederickstown, from which it lies nearly 13 miles W. & W. and about 36 N. W. of the Federal City.

NEWMARKET, a village in Dorchester co. Maryland, 3 miles N.
E. of Indian-Town, and 9 N. E. of Cambridge.

NEWMARKET, a town in Vir ginia, Amherst co. on the N. side of James R. at the mouth of Tye R. 100 miles above Richmond.

NEW-MARLBOROUGH, a township in Ulster co. N. York.

NEW-MARLBOROUGH, Berkshire co. Massachusetts, 23 miles southward of Lenox, and 144 S. W. by W. of Boston.

NEW-MARLBOROUGH, a town in King George's co. Virginia, on the W. side of Patowmack R. 10 miles E. of Falmouth.

NEW-MEXICO. See Mexico.

NEW-MILFORD, a posttown of Connecticut, Litchfield co. on the eastern side of Housatonic R. about 16 miles N. of Danbury, and 20 S. W. of Litchfield.

NEW-ORLEANS, the metropolis of Louisiana, was regularly laid out by the French, in the year 1720, on an island on the E. side of the river Mississippi, in lat. 30 2 N. and long. 89 53 W. 18 miles from Detour des Anglois, or English Turn, and 195 from the Balise at the mouth of the river. All the streets are perfectly straight, but too narrow, and cross each other at right angles. There were, in 1788, 1,500 houses in this town, generally built with timber frames, raised about 8 feet from the ground, with large galleries round them, and the cellars under the floors level with the ground: any subterraneous buildings would be constantly full of water. Most of the houses have gardens. In March, 1788, this town, by a fire, was reduced in five hours to 400 houses. It has since been rebuilt. The side next the river is open, and is secured from the inundations of the river, by a high bank, which extends from the English Turn, to the upper settlements of the Germans, a distance of more than 50 miles, with a good road all the way. There is reason to believe that, from its local advantages, in a short time, New-Orleans may become a great and opulent city.

NEW-PALM, a township in Ulster co. New-York, on the W. side of Hudson R.—2,309 inhabitants. The compact part of it is situated on the eastern side of Wall-Kill, and contains about 250 houses and a Dutch church. It is 14 miles from Kingston, S. W. of Rhinebeck, and 84 N. W. of New-York.

NEWPORT, a township of Nova-Scotia, Hants co. on the river Avon.

NEWPORT, a township in Cheeshire co. N. Hampshire, E. of Claremont—780 inhabitants.

NEWPORT, a maritime co. of Rhode-Island, comprehending Rhode-Island, Canonicut, and several other small islands. It is divided into 7 townships, and contains 14,300 inhabitants.

NEWPORT, the chief town of this co. and the semi-metropolis of the State, of Rhode-Island, stands on the S. W. end of Rhode-Island, about 3 miles from the sea. Its harbour (which is one of the finest in the world) spreads westward before the town. The entrance is easy and safe, and a large fleet may anchor in it, and ride in perfect security. It is probable this may, in some future period, become one of the man-of-war ports of the American empire. The town lies N. and S. upon a gradual ascent; if you proceed eastward from the water, and exhibits a beautiful view from the harbour, and from the neighbouring hills which rise westward upon the main. New-port contains about 1,000 houses.

with a good road to the sea. There is reason to believe that, from its local advantages, in a short time, New-Orleans will become a great and important city.

ROCKLAND, a township in New-York, on the Hudson R.—2,309 inhabitants. The compact part of the town is situated on the eastern side of the river, and contains about 100 acres and a Dutch church. It is 10 miles from Kingston, 10 from Rhinebeck, and 8 from New-York.

ROCKPORT, a township of Maine, Hancock co. on the river.

ROCKPORT, a township in New-Hampshire, Rockingham co.—780 inhabitants.

ROCKPORT, a maritime county, comprising the islands of Canonicut, and other small islands. It is divided into 7 townships, and has 14,390 inhabitants.

ROCKPORT, the chief town and the semi-metropolis of the State, of Rhode-Island, at the S. W. end of Rhode-Island, about 3 miles from the harbour (which is the best in the world) spread before the town. The climate is early and safe, and it may anchor in it, in perfect security. In this way, in some respects, it may become one of the great ports of the American Empire. The town lies upon a gradual ascent, and extends eastward from the harbour, and from the surrounding hills which rise upon the main. New-York has about 1,000 houses built chiefly of wood. It has 10 houses for public worship, 4 for Baptists, 2 for Congregationalists, one for Episcopalians, one for Quakers, one for Moravians, and one for Jews. The other public buildings are a state-house, and an edifice for the public library. Here is a flourishing academy, under the direction of a rector and tutors, who teach the learned languages, English grammar, geography, &c. This city, famed for the beauty of its situation, and the salubrity of its climate, is no less remarkable for the great variety and excellent quality of fresh fish, which the market furnishes at all seasons of the year. No less than 60 different kinds have been produced in this market. This town, although greatly injured by the late war, and its consequences, has a considerable trade. A cotton and duck manufactory have been lately established. The exports for a year, ending Sept. 30, 1794, amounted to 311,200 dollars. It is 30 miles S. by E. of Providence, 14 S. E. of Bristol, 75 S. W. by S. of Boston, 113 E. N. E. of N. Haven, and 202 N. E. by E. of Philadelphia. N. lat. 41 29, W. long. from Greenwich 71 17.

NEWTOWN, a township in Tioga co. N. York, lies between the S. end of Seneca Lake and Tioga R. having Geheimung township E. from which it was taken, and incorporated in 1792—169 of its inhabitants are electors.

NEWTOWN, a township in Gloucester co. N. Jersey.

NEWTOWN, the seat of justice in Suffolk co. N. Jersey.

NEWTOWN, the capital of Bucks co. Pennsylvania. It contains a Presbyterian church, a stone gaol, a court-house, an academy, and about 30 houses; 10 miles W. of Trenton in N. Jersey, and 30 N. E. by N. of Philadelphia. There are two other townships of this name; the one in Delaware co. the other in that of Cumberland.

NEWTOWN, a small town of Virginia, Frederick co. between the N. and S. branches of Shenandoah R. 7 miles S. of Winchester, and 173 N. N. W. of Richmond.

NEW-URGENT, a small maritime town of N. York, King's co. Long-Island, opposite the Narrows, and 7 miles S. of N. York city. The whole township contains 562 inhabitants.

NEW-WINDSOR, a township of Ulster co. N. York, pleasantly situated on the W. bank of Hudson R. just above the high lands, 3 miles S. of Newburgh, and 6 N. of West-Point. It contains 1,819 inhabitants. The compact part of the town contains about 40 houses and a Presbyterian church, 64 miles N. of N. York.

NEW-WENTHAM, Maine, a township, 6 miles E. of Penobscot R. adjoining Orrington, and 13 miles from Bucksport.

NEW-YORK, one of the United States of America, is situated between lat. 40 40 and 41 N. and between long. 73 10 30 30 W.; is about 350 miles in length, and 300 in breadth, bounded south-easterly by the Atlantic Ocean; E. by Connecticut, Massachusetts and Vermont; N. by Upper Canada; S. W. and W. by Pennsylvania, New-Jersey and Lake Erie. It is subdivided into 22 cos. In 1790, this State contained 340,120 inhabitants, of whom 21,324 were slaves. In 1796, according to the State census, there were 195 townships and 64,017 qualified electors. Electors in this State are divided into the following classes;

Freeholders to the value of $1000	20,11
Do. to the value of $50 and under $100	4,8
Do. who rent tenements of 40¢ per annum	22,1
Other freeholders	64,01

It is difficult to ascertain accurately the proportion the number of electors bears to the whole number of inhabitants in the State. In 1790 the number of inhabitants was, as already mentioned, 340,120; of whom 21,324 were electors. In 1795 the number of electors was 64,017 which if the proportion between electors and the whole number of inhabitants be the same, gives as the whole number of inhabitants in 1795, 530,177, an increase in 5 years, of 190,057. The chief rivers are Hudson, Mohawk and their branches. New-York, if we speak generally, is intersected by ridges of mountains extending in a N. E. and S. W. direction. Beyond the Alleghany Mountains, however, the country is level, and of a fine rich soil. Ed the Alleghany Mountains, which commence with the Kaatskill, on the W. side of Hudson's river, the country is broken into hills with rich intervening valleys; the vallies, when cultivated, produce wheat, hemp, flax, peas, oats, Indian corn, &c. This State, having a short and easy access to the ocean, commands the trade of a great proportion of the best settled and best cultivated parts of the United States. Their exports to the West-Indies are, biscuit, peas, Indian corn, apples, onions, boards, staves, furs, sheep, butter, cheese, pickled oysters, beef and pork. Wheat is the staple commodity of the State. In wheat and flour about a million bushels are annually exported. The exports to foreign parts, for the year, ending Sept. 30, 1795, was 1,304,180 dolrs. 78 cts. This State owned, in 1792, 46,826 tons of shipping; besides which she finds employment for about 10,000 tons of foreign vessels. There are in this State, 2 handsomely endowed, and flourishing colleges, viz. Columbia College, in the city of N. York, and Union College, at Schenectady. Besides these, there are dispersed in different parts of the State, 14 incorporated academies, containing, in the whole, as many as 6000 students. These, with the establishment of schools, one at least in every district of 4 square miles, for the common branches of education, must have the most beneficial effects on the state of society. The western parts of the State are settled and settling principally from New-England. There are 3 incorporated cities in this State, New-York, Albany and Hudson.

New-York Co. in the above State, comprehends the island of New-York, or Manhattan, on which the metropolis stands. It contained, in 1790, 33,131 inhabitants, including 2,369 slaves. Now, in 1796, the number of inhabitants amounts to about 70,000, of whom 7,272 are qualified electors.

New-York City is situated on the S. W. point of York island, at the confluence of Hudson and East rivers, and is the metropolis of the State of its name, and the second in rank in the Union. The circumference of the city is about 5 or 6 miles. The principal streets run nearly parallel with the river. These are intersected, though not at right angles, by streets running from river to river. In the width of the streets there is a great diversity. Front street, on East river, is wide and convenient, as is also Pearl (formerly Queen) street, which runs parallel with it. Water and Pearl streets, which occupy the banks of East river, are very conveniently situated for business. Broad street, extending from the Exchange to the city hall, is sufficiently spacious. But the most convenient and agreeable part of the city is the Broadway. It begins at a point which is formed by the junction of the Hudson and East rivers—occupies the height of land between them, upon a true meridional line—rises gently to the northward—is nearly 70 feet wide—adorned, where the fort formerly stood, (which has lately been levelled) with an elegant brick edifice, for the accommodation of the governor of the State, and a public walk from the extremity of the point, occupying the ground of the lower battery, which is now demolished; also with two Episcopal churches, one of which has lately received the addition of an excellent chime of bells, and a city hotel, erected on a Tontine plan, 100 feet front, 80 deep, and 4 stories high; and a number of elegant private buildings. It terminates to the northward, in a triangular enclosed and ornamented area, fronting the bridewell and alms-house, and commands from any point, a view of the Bay and Narrows. The streets are raised in the middle under an angle sufficient to carry off the water to the side gutters, and foot-ways of brick made on each side. Wall street is generally 50 feet wide and elevated, and the buildings elegant. Two elegant buildings, for the use of the banks, are erecting on this street. Hanover square and Dock street are conveniently situated for business, and the houses well built. William street is also elevated and convenient, and is the principal market for retailing dry goods. Many of the other streets are pleasant, but most of them are irregular and narrow. The houses are generally built of brick, and the roofs tiled. The most magnificent edifice in this city is Federal Hall, situated on the N. E. side of Wall street, fronting Broad street, in which is a gallery 12 feet deep, guarded by an elegant iron railing. In this gallery our beloved WASHINGTON, attended by the senate and house of representatives, took his oath of office in the face of Heaven, and in presence of a large concourse of people assembled in front, at the commencement of the operation of the Federal Constitution, April 30th, 1789. The other public buildings in the city are, 3 houses of public worship for the Dutch Reformed church, 3 Presbyterian churches, 2 Associated Reformed Scotch Presbyterian churches, 1 Associated Scotch church, 5 Episcopal churches, 2 for German Lutherans and Calvinists, 2 Friends meeting-houses, 1 for Baptists for Methodists, 1 for Moravians, 1 Roman Catholic church, 1 French Protestant church, and Jews' synagogue. Besides these there is the New-York Hospital on North river, a noble and commodious building. The hospital has granted about £4,000 a year for its support. It has also 600 patients received into it annually. The government of it is in the hands of 25 governors, annually chosen, constituting a corporate body. The New-York State prison, lately erected on an improved plan, is situated at Greenwich, about 2 miles from the southern point of the city, on the E. of Hudson's R. and is intended to be enclosed by a wall, from top to bottom, 20 feet high. The building comprehends a number of subdivisions and apartments, for different purposes; the whole exhibiting a front and rear of 100 feet. The edifice is wholly built of hard stone, the walls thick and the grates of stout iron bars, steeled and hardened. The height of the whole (the solitary cells excepted) is 3 stories. The building is covered with slate, and in the centre, over a handsome pediment, stands an elegant cupola, which commands a pleasing view of all the vessels going from and coming to the city through the Narrows, and down ed with 4 markets, in different parts, which are furnished with great plenty and variety of provisions, in neat and excellent kitchens. The Columbia College edifice is of stone, 3 complete stories high, with 4 stair-cases, 12 apartments in each, a chapel, hall, library, museum, anatomical theatre, and a school for experimental philosophy. It is situated on a gravelly soil, about 150 yards from the bank of Hudson's R. which it overlooks, commanding most extensive and beautiful prospect. Since the revolution, the legislature passed an act, constituting 21 gentlemen (of whom the governor and lieutenant-governor, for the time being, are members ex officio) a body corporate and politic, by the name and style of "The Regents of the University of the State of New-York." They are entrusted with the care of literature in general the State, and have power to re-charter of incorporation erecting colleges and academies throughout the State, are to visit these institutions as often as they shall think proper, and report their state to the legislature once a year. Columbia College consists of two faculties, a faculty of arts, and a faculty of physics. The first has a president and 7 professors, and the second a dean and 7 professors. The students attending both the faculties, at the beginning of the year 1795, amounted to 140. The officers of instruction and immediate government, in the faculty of arts, are, a president, a professor of mathematics and natural philosophy, a professor of logic and geography, and a professor of languages. 3 others have lately been added, a professor of chymistry and agriculture, a professor of oriental languages, a professor of law, and a professor of the French language. The library and museum were destroyed during the war. Upwards of £800 (of monies granted by the legislature) have been lately expended in books to increase the library. The philosophical apparatus is new and complete. The government of the city (which was incorporated in 1696) is now in the hands of a mayor, recorder, aldermen, and common council. The city is divided into 7 wards, in each of which there is chosen annually by the people, an alderman and an assistant.

The mayor and recorder are appointed annually by the council of appointment. The situation of the city is both healthy and pleasant. Surrounded on all sides by water, it is refreshed with cool breezes in summer.
This city is esteemed the most eligible situation for commerce in the United States. It almost necessarily commands the trade of one half New-Jersey, most of that of Connecticut, part of that of Massachusetts, and almost the whole of Vermont, besides the whole fertile interior country, which is penetrated by one of the largest rivers in America.
This city imports most of the goods consumed, between a line of 30 miles E. of Connecticut R. and 30 miles W. of the Hudson, which is 130 miles; and between the ocean and the confines of Canada, about 400 miles; a considerable portion of which is the best peopled of any part of the United States; and the whole territory contains nearly a million people, or one-fifth of the inhabitants of the Union. In time of war it will be insecure, without a marine force; but a small number of ships will be able to defend it from the most formidable attacks by sea. A want of good water is a great inconvenience to the citizens, there being few wells in the city. Most of the people are supplied every day with fresh water, conveyed to their doors in casks, from a pump near the head of Pearl street. This well is about 20 feet deep and 4 feet diameter. The average quantity drawn daily from this remarkable well, is 110 hhd. of 130 gallons each. In some hot summer days, 216 hhd. have been drawn from it; and what is very singular, there is never more or less than about 3 feet water in the well. The water is sold commonly at three pence a hhd. at the pump. On a general view of this city, as described 40 years ago, and in its present state, the comparison is flattering to the present age; particularly the improvements in taste, elegance of manners, and that easy unaffected civility and politeness which form the happiness of social intercourse. The number of inhabitants in the city is probably about 50,000. Works of defence have been erected here to a considerable extent, and when completed on the original plan, will afford great security to the city, from enemies' ships. N. York city is 95 miles N. E. of Philadelphia, and 252 S. W. of Boston. N. lat. 40 43' 8". W. long. 74 9 45.

NIAGARA River and Falls. The Niagara river connects the N. E. of Lake Erie, with Lake Ontario, and is about 30 miles in length. The Falls, in this river, are opposite Fort Sluisher, about 7 or 8 miles S. of Lake Ontario, and form the greatest curiosity which this, or indeed any other country affords. The river is about 100 yards wide at the falls. The perpendicular pitch of this body of water, produces a foam that is frequently heard at a distance of 20 miles, and in clear day, and fair wind, 40 or even 50 miles. A perceptible tremulous motion in the earth is felt for several rods round the heavy cloud or fog is constantly ascending from the falls, in which rainbows may always be seen when the sun shines. This spray, in the winter season, falls upon the neighbouring rocks, where it congeals, and produces a most beautiful chrystalline appearance. This remark is applicable likewise to the falls of Genesee. It is conjectured that the water must fall at least 65 feet in chafin; the perpendicular pitch at the cataract is 150 feet; other accounts say only 137 feet; these add 38 feet which the water falls the last half mile immediately above the falls, and have 273, which the water falls in the distance of $7\frac{1}{2}$ miles. Animals swimming near the Rapids above the great Cataract, are instantly hurried to destruction. On Christmas night, 1795, a severe shock of an earthquake was felt here, and by which a large piece of the rock, that forms the famous cataract, was broken

ORONOCO, one of the largest rivers of S. America, and is remarkable for its rising and falling once a year only; for it gradually rises during the space of 3 months, and then remains one month stationary, after which it falls for 3 months, and in that space continues for one month also. These alternate changes are regular, and even in winter.

The mouth of the river is S. E. of the Gulf of Paria, in lat. 10 30 N. and long. 59 30 W. and points to the island of Trinidad.
It is large and navigable, and has many good towns on its banks that are chiefly inhabited by Spaniards, and is joined also on the
E. side by the Lake Caspar. It

PANAMA is the capital of Panama, a province of America; situated on a capacious bay of its name, on the S. side of the Isthmus of Panama on Darien, opposite to Porto Bello, on the N. side of the isthmus. It is the great receptacle of the vast quantities of gold and silver, with other rich merchandize from all parts of Peru and Chili. Here they are lodged in store-houses, till the proper season arrives to transport them to Europe. It is surrounded with a stone wall and other fortifications, and the public buildings are very handsome.
N. lat. 8 57 48, W. long. 82 5 14.

PARA River or Bay, near the N. W. part of the coast of Brazil, in S. America, has a town of its name at the mouth of it, with a large fort and a platform of cannon at the water's edge, com-standing the wind. This harbour is much frequented for all kinds of provisions which abound here. Tobacco is carried from this, to Pernambuco, to be shipped for Europe. The river is about 200 miles long.

PARADISE, a township of Pennsylvania, in York county.

PARAGUAY, a country of S. America, claimed by Spain, about 1,500 miles in length, and 1,000 in breadth. It lies between 12 and 37 S. lat. and between 50 and 75 W. long. bounded N. by Amazonia, S. by Patagonia, E. by Brazil, and W. by Peru and Chili. It is divided into the following provinces, viz. Paraguay, Parana, Guirá, Uragua, Tucuman, and Rio de la Plata. Paraguay sends annually into the kingdom of Peru as many as 1,500 or 2,000 mules. They travel over dreary deserts for the distance of 800 or 900 leagues. The province of Tucuman furnishes to Potosí, annually, 14 or 18,000 oxen, and 4000 or 5000 horses, brought forth and reared upon its own territory. Buenos Ayres is the capital of this country. From the best information that can be obtained, there are not more than 100,000 souls in this country, including Spaniards, Indians, Negroes, and the mixed blood, or Creoles.

PARAGUAY, a large river of S. America, which falls into the river Ba Plata.

PARAIBA, or Parayba, the most northern province of Brazil, in S. America, having the South Atlantic Ocean to the E. and Figueras to the west. It belongs to the Portuguese, and abounds in sugar-canes, Brazil-wood, cattle, tobacco, cotton, &c.

PARAIBA, the metropolis of the above province, or captainship, situated on the S. bank of a river of its name, three leagues from the sea; according to others, 10 leagues; the river being navigable for ships loaded with 600 or 700 hhds. of sugar, at a considerable distance above the city. S. lat. 6.50; W. long. 49.53.

PARAMARIBO, the chief town of Surinam, containing about 400 houses, on the bank of the Surinam river, in a pleasant but unhealthy situation. The houses are of wood, tolerably convenient, erected on foundations of European bricks. Its port is 10 leagues from the sea, and affords every convenience. It is the rendezvous of all the ships from the mother country which come hither to receive the produce of the colony.

PARANA, a province in the division of Paraguay, South America. Its chief town is Ann.

PARHAM Town and Harbour on the north side of the island Antigua, in the West-Indies.

PARSON-TOWN, in Nova-Scotia. PARSONSFIELD, a township of the county of York, in the N. Hampshire line, between Great and Little Office rivers; and is 118 miles N. of Boston—655 inhabitants.

PARTRIDGEFIELD, a township in Massachusetts, in Berkshire county, 26 miles W. N. W. of Northampton, and 128 westward of Boston—1041 inhabitants.

PASCAGOULA, a river of the Georgia Western Territory, which pursues a S. by E. course through West-Florida, and empties into the Gulf of Mexico, by several mouths. It is said to be navigable more than 150 miles. PISCATAQUA, or Piscataqua, is the only large river, whose whole course is in N. Hampshire. Its mouth is a pond in the N. E. corner of the town of Wakefield, its general course thence to the sea at Portsmouth, is S. S. E. about 40 miles. The river, from its form, and the situation of its banks, is extremely favourable to the purposes of navigation and commerce. A light-house, with a single light, stands at the entrance of Piscataqua harbour, N. 43 4 N. and long. 70 41 W. PASQUOTANK, a county of N. Carolina, north of Albemarle—5497 inhabitants.

PASSAGE Fort, a small town of the island of Jamaica, situated in the road between Port-Royal and Spanish-Town, 7 miles S. E. of the latter. It has a brisk trade, and contains about 400 houses, the greatest part of them, houses of entertainment.

PASSAIC, a crooked river of New-Jersey, which falls into New-Bay. It is navigable about 10 miles, and is 230 yards wide at the ferry. The cataract of Great Falls, in the river, is one of the greatest natural curiosities in the State. The river is about 40 yards wide, and moves in a slow, gentle current, until coming within a short distance of a deep cleft in a rock, which crosses the channel, it descends and falls above 70 feet perpendicular, in one entire sheet, presenting a most beautiful and tremendous scene. The new manufacturing town of Patterson is erected on the Great Falls of this river. There is a bridge 500 feet long, over this river, on the post-road from Philadelphia to New-York.

PASSAMAQUODDY, a bay and river, near the division line between the British province of New-Brunswick and Maine. The bay is about a league from this point. It is high water here, at full and change of the moon, about the same time as at Boston. There are 3 rivers which fall into this bay; the largest is called by the modern Indians, the Scoodic; but by De Mons and Champlaine, Etchemina. Its main source is near Penobscot R. and the carrying-place between the two rivers is but 3 miles. The mouth of Passamaquoddy R. has 25 fathoms water.

PASSAMAQUODDY Post-Office, on the above described bay, is kept at a little village at the mouth of the Cobscook river, 17 miles this side Brewer's, the easternmost post-office in the United States, 20 N. E. of Machias, 378 N. E. of Boston, and 728 in a like direction from Philadelphia.

PATAGONIA, a country of S. America, little known, extending from 35 to near 54 S. lat. being 1,200 miles long, and upwards of 300 broad, lying S. of Chili and Paraguay. The N. parts contain an immense quantity of timber, and numerous flocks of cattle.

PATASCO, a navigable river of Maryland, which empties from the N. W. into Chesapeake Bay, in lat. 39 8 30. N. It pursues a S. and S. E. course, till it reaches Elkridge Landing, about 8 miles S. W. of Baltimore; it there turns eastwardly over falls, and widens into a broad bay-like stream to its mouth. It is about 30 or 40 yards wide, just before it communicates with the basin, on which stands the large commercial town of Baltimore. It is navigable for vessels drawing 18 feet water to Fell's Point at Baltimore; but the falls a little above Elkridge Landing, prevent the navigation farther.

PATOWMACK, or Potomack, a large and noble river, which rises by two branches, the northern and the southern, which originate in and near the Alleghany Mountains, and forms through its whole course, part of the boundary between the States of Virginia and Maryland. Its course is N. E. to Fort Chamberland; thence turning to the E. it receives Conococheague Creek from Pennsylvania; then pursuing a S. E. course, it receives the Shenandoah from the S. W.; after this it runs a S. E. and S. course, till it reaches Maryland Point; thence to its mouth it runs S. easterly. The distance from the Capes of Virginia, to the termination of the tide-water in this river, is above 300 miles, and navigable for ships of the greatest burden, nearly that distance. From thence this river, obstructed by 4 considerable falls, extends through a vast tract of inhabited country towards its source. Early in the year 1785, the legislatures of Virginia and Maryland acts to encourage opening navigation of this river. Part of these works are finished. This noble river is by many flourishing towns, chief of which are, Shepletown, Georgetown, Washington, Alexandria, New-Market, and Charlestown, of Tobacco. The tides in the river are not very strong, except after great rains. In order to form just conceptions of the land navigation, it would be requisite to notice the long, which empty into the Potomac, and survey the geographical situation of the western waters.

PATRICK'S, St. a small town, the chief of Camden co. Ga. on Great Satilla river, above miles from its mouth, and same distance north-west to the town of St. Mary's.

PATTERSON, a town in Essex co. N. Jersey. It was established in consequence of an act of the legislature of N. Jersey, in 1791, incorporating a manufacturing company with peculiar privileges. Its situation, on the Great Passaic river, is healthy and agreeable. It now contains 50 dwelling-houses, independent of those appropriated for the machinery; and it is certainly one of the most convenient situations for a manufacturing town, on the continent. This company was incorporated to erect all kinds of manufactures, the sum of 500,000 dollars soon subscribed; but for want of experience, and a proper knowledge of the business, much has been expended to little purpose. It is 19 miles N. E. of Newark town, and 10 N. of Newburgh.

Through this village runs the river Patuxent, which empties into Seekonk R. at this

The river Patuxent, called by the natives, Blackstone's, has a beautiful fall of water, over which a bridge has been built. The fall, in its whole length, is upwards of 50 feet; the water passes through several chasms in a rock, which extending diametrically across the bed of the stream, serves as a dam to the water. Several mills have been erected upon the falls; and the spouts and wheels, which have been connected to conduct the streams in their respective wheels, and the bridge, have taken very much from the beauty and grandeur of the scene, which would otherwise have been indescribably charming and romantic.

PAUATUENT, or Patumet, a navigable river of Maryland, which empties into the W. side of Chesapeake Bay, 15 or 20 miles N. of the mouth of the Patowmac. It admits vessels of 250 tons to Nottingham, nearly 40 miles from its mouth, and of boats to Queen Anne, 12 miles higher.

PAUKATUCK, a small river which empties into Stonington harbour, and forms a part of the division line between Connecticut and Rhode-Island.

PAUL, St. a town of Brazil, S. America, in the captainship of Vincent. It is a kind of an independent republic, composed of the handiwork of several nations. However, they pay a tribute of 2000000 to the king of Portugal. It is surrounded by inaccessible mountains and thick forests. S. lat. 23 25, W. long. 43 34.

PAULINGTOWN, or Pauling, a township in Dutchess co. N. York, on the western boundary of Connecticut, and has South and East Town on the S.—4,330 inhabitants.

PAULSBURGH, a township in Grafton co. N. Hampshire, on the head waters of Ammonoosuck R.

PAULUS Hook, in Bergen co. N. Jersey, is on the W. bank of Hudson river, opposite N. York city, where the river is 2,000 yards wide. Here is the ferry, which is, perhaps, more used than any other in the United States. This was a fortified post in the late war. In 1780 the frost was so intense, that the passage across the river here was practicable for the heaviest cannon.

PAWLET, a township in Rutland co. Vermont, having 1,438 inhabitants; on the N. York line.

PAWTRUCKET Falls, in Merrimack R. are in the township of Dracut.

PAWTRUCKET, a village in the township of Cranston, Providence co. Rhode-Island.

PAXTON, a township of Massachusetts, Worcester co. 8 miles W. of Worcester, and 55 westerly of Boston—558 inhabitants.

PAYARA, a town and captainship in the northern division of Brazil.

PAYTA, or Paito, a small seaport of Quito, on the coast of Peru, with an excellent harbour. Ships from Acapulco, Sonsonate, Realajo, and Panama, to Callao, can only touch and refresh here; and the length of their voyages, by reason of the winds being most of the year against them, occasions the port to be very much frequented. The Bay is defended by a fort, and it is so situated, that even muskets alone can hinder boats from landing. There is anchorage in 10½ fathoms, about a mile and a half from the town. S. lat. 5° 15', W. long. 80° 55'.

PAZ, La, a small jurisdiction of the audience of Charcas, in Peru, S. America.

PAZ, La, a city of Peru, and capital of the above jurisdiction. This city contains, besides the cathedral, many public edifices, and about 20,000 inhabitants. It is 180 miles N. of La Plata, and 330 S. E. of Cusco. S. lat. 13° 59', W. long. 64° 30'.

PEACHAM, a thriving township, in Caledonia co. Vermont, lies 6 miles W. of Barnet, on Connecticut R. Here is a county grammar-school, kept in a handsome two-story building, built for the purpose. This school is flourishing, and is endowed with very ample funds, consisting of the reserved lands of the State. Here also is a distillery. It contains 365 inhabitants.

PEACOCK, a township in Buck's co. Pennsylvania.

PEAKS OF OTTER, 4,000 feet high, are thought to be the highest part of the Blue Ridge.

PEARL, a river which rises in the Chachaw country, in the W. part of Georgia, has a southerly course to the Gulf of Mexico, and is navigable upwards of 150 miles. Its principal mouths are near the entrance at the E. end of the Regolets, through which is the passage to Lake Ponchartrain. It has 7 feet at its entrance, and deep water afterwards. In 1769, there were some settlements on this river, where they raised tobacco, indigo, cotton, rice, Indian corn, and sorts of vegetables. The land produces a variety of timber, for pipe and hoghead staves, masts, yards, and all kinds of plank for ship-building.

PEDEE, a river which rises in N. Carolina, where it is called Yadkin river. In S. Carolina it takes the name of Pedee, and receiving the waters of Lynch Creek, Little Pedee, and Black River, it joins the Wakkamaw R. near Georgetown. These streams, with the accession of a small creek, which Georgetown stands, form Winyaw Bay, which, about 15 miles below, communicates with the ocean.

PEEK'S-KILL, a post-town, in W. Chester co. N. York, on the E. side of Hudson's R. It is 20 miles S. of Fish-Kill, and 50 northern of N. York. In the winter of 1780, Gen. Washington encamped on the strong grounds in the vicinity.

PEJERSBOTT, or Pejipsbaug Falls, in Androscoggin river.

PELLESON. See Clinch River.

PELHAM, a township of Massachusetts, Hampshire co. 12 miles N. easterly of Northampton, and 85 W. of Boston—1,040 inhabitants.

PELHAM, a township of Rockingham co. N. Hampshire, adjoining Dracut in Massachusetts, 10 miles S. westerly of Exeter, 40 from Portsmouth, and 36 from Boston—791 inhabitants.

PELHAM, a small township of N. York, W. Chester co. on the Sound—199 inhabitants.

PENN'S Neck, the name of a range of farms of excellent soil, situated about a mile and a half S. E. of Princeton, in N. Jersey.

PENNSYLVANIA, one of the United States of America, is situated between 39 43 and 43 N. lat. and between 74 48 and 80 8 W. long. being in length about 288 miles and in breadth 156. It is bounded east by Delaware river; N. by N. York; W. by the N. Western Territory and a part of Virginia; S. by a part of Virginia, Maryland, and Delaware. The State lies nearly in the form of a parallelogram. Pennsylvania contains 44,900 square miles, and is divided into

13 counties, viz. Philadelphia, Chester, Delaware, Bucks, Montgomery, Berks, Lancaster, Dauphin, Northampton, Luzerne, York, Cumberland, Northumberland, Franklin, Bedford, Huntingdon, Mifflin, Westmoreland, Somerset, Fayette, Washington, Alleghany, and Lycoming. These are subdivided into townships, not by any special law of the legislature, but on application of a sufficient number of the citizens, in any neighbourhood, to the judges of the court of common pleas and general quarter sessions of the county. The number of inhabitants is 434,373, including 3,737 slaves. There are six considerable rivers, which, with their numerous branches, peninsulate the whole State, viz. The Delaware, Schuylkill, Susquehanna, Youghiogany, Monongahela and Alleghany. The bay and river Delaware are navigable up to the Great or Lower Falls at Trenton, 155 miles from the sea, and a ship of the line can ascend to Philadelphia, the metropolis, 120 miles from the sea, by the ship-channel of the Delaware. A considerable part of the State may be called mountainous; the other parts are generally level, or agreeably variegated with hills and vallies. A great proportion of the State is good land. Great and exemplary improvements are making in different parts of this State by the enterprising Pennsylvanians, in canals, turnpikes, cutting new roads, &c. Pennsylvania has the various kinds of grain, &c. common to the neighbouring States, but wheat is the principal grain of very general cultivation. In the year 1786, the exports of flour were 150,000 barrels; in 1789—369,618 barrels; and much greater quantities in years since. The manufactures of this State are at numerous kinds, such as iron, leather, skins, and fur, wood, paper, gunpowder, bricks, earthenware, copper, lead, tin wares, pewter, cotton, sugar, molasses, tobacco, &c. &c. The commerce of Pennsylvania is very extensive, and nearly the whole of that which is foreign is carried off from the port of Philadelphia. In the year ending Sept. 30, 1794, the amount of exports from Pennsylvania, was 17,513,866 dollars. The number of militia in this State is estimated at upwards of 90,000, between 18 and 40 years of age. The inhabitants are principally the descendants of English, Irish and German, with some Scotch, Welch, Swedish, and a few Dutch. The literate, humane, and other useful societies, are more numerous and flourishing in Pennsylvania than in any of the sixteen States. The seminaries of learning are respectable. There is an university at Philadelphia, and colleges at Carlisle and Lancaster. The Episcopalians have an academy at Yorktown, in York co. There are also academies at Germantown, at Pittsburg, at Washington, at Allen's Town, and other places; these are endowed by donations from the legislature, and by liberal contributions of individuals. The legislature have also reserved 60,000 acres of the public lands for public schools. The United Brethren, or Moravians, have academies at Bethlehem and Nazareth, on the best establishment of any schools perhaps in America. Besides Philadelphia, the metropolis, the

In the of Poreu, and by the rivers, the soil is fertile, but along the sea-coast, it is a barren land. This country produces fruits peculiar to the climate, and most of those in Europe. In the northern parts of Peru are several gold mines, but those of silver are found all over the country, particularly in the neighbourhood of Potosi. From 1543 to 1638, these mines had yielded 395,619,000 pieces of eight, which is about 4,235,000 pieces a-year. Potosi is about 20 or 25 leagues from the city of La Plata. The city of Lima is said to contain 34,000 inhabitants; Guayaquil, 20,000; Potosi, 25,000; La Paz, 20,000, and Cuzco, 20,000. The Peruvian bark, so famous for curing intermittent fevers, is found here. The tree from which it is taken, grows upon the slope of mountains, and is about the size of a common cherry tree. It is distinguished into three kinds, the red, yellow, and white; but the red is found to be the best and most efficacious.

PATAQUI, a territory of America, in Brazil, bounded E. by the South Atlantic ocean, contains mines of silver.

PETERSBURG, a post-town of Pennsylvania, in York co. It contains a Roman Catholic church, and about 80 houses—25 miles S. W. of York-Town, 59 northerly of the Federal city.

PETERSBURG, a small town of Kentucky, Woodford co. on the E. side of Kentucky river; 19 miles W. S. W. of Lexington, and 15 S. E. of Frankfort. It has a tobacco warehouse, and a few dwelling-houses.

PETERSBURG, a post-town of Virginia, and a place of considerable trade, in Dinwiddie co. on the S. E. bank of Appamattox river, just below the falls, about 25 miles S. of Richmond. It contains about 300 houses, built irregularly. The Free Mason's Hall is a handsome building. There are several tobacco warehouses, stores of dry goods, and some few neat and commodious dwelling-houses. This town is a corporation, and comprehends the village of Blandford, in Prince George's co. and Powhatan in Chesterfield co. on the opposite side of the river. It contains 2,828 inhabitants, including 226 slaves. The situation of the town is low, and rather unhealthy. The quantity of tobacco received here, for a number of years, considerably exceeded 20,000 hhds. per annum; and the quantity of flour made in this town, and within an hundred yards of it, exceeded 38,000 barrels.

other mills, with a few others, 26,000 barrels per annum: to this add the flour made at the several country mills, and brought to this place for sale, the whole quantity may safely be stated to exceed 60,000 barrels per annum. The whole exports of this town, valued at the usual prices, amount to 1,380,000 dollars. It is 80 miles W. by N. of Norfolk, and 159 S. by W. of Alexandria. N. lat. 36 24. W. long. 78 2.

PETERSBURG, a very flourishing port-town of Georgia, Elberton is a pleasant and beautiful situation, on the point of land formed by the confluence of Broad with Savannah river, 25 miles below the junction of Tugalo and Keowee rivers. In 1798 the first buildings were erected on this spot, the site of Old Fort Darmouth; and the year following, indeed, for the first time, was conveyed down the Savannah river, from this place, in a boat which contained only a single man, a boat with a single man, carry 10 or 11 men to Augusta, and return in 3 days. About 20 miles of the distance, the water is shallow. It had 12 dwelling-houses in 1797, and the number was fast increasing. It has two tobacco inspections, one established in 1782, and the other in 1797. The number of slaves inspected in 1796, exceeded 900, weighing about 1,200,000 lbs. There were, besides, brought to this town the same year, 300,000 lbs. of seed cotton, exclusive of other produce. There were 11 merchants in this small commercial town, in 1797, who trade principally to N. York and Philadelphia. The West-India goods are purchased at Savannah.

About 10 miles above this town, on the bank of Savannah river, on a handsome plain, is an Indian mound, about 250 yards in circumference, and 60 or 70 feet high. On its top stands a cedar tree, apparently of great age. It can be ascended on one side only. This town is 32 miles from Elberton, 20 N. by E. of Washington, 50 above Augusta, 74 N. of Louisville, and 226 from Philadelphia. N. lat. 32 26. W. long. 81 27.

PETERSHAM, a township in Worcester co. Massachusetts, 23 miles N. W. of Worcester, and 66 W. of Boston—2,500 inhabitants.

PERIT ARSE, a village on the N. side of the island of St. Domingo, 24 leagues S. of Cape François.

PETRESCUET, a river which falls into an arm of the Bay of Fundy, called Chequamegan Channel. The Indians have a communication from the head of it with St. John's N. by a portage across to the head of Peanebeque.

PETER GUARD, at Gona, a jurisdiction town and bay, on the N. coast of the S. peninsula of the island of St. Domingo, and near the head of the Bay of Site of Leogane. The jurisdiction contains 1 parish, and is the unhealthy place in the colony, the inhabitants being constantly subject to fevers, occasioned by the badness of the water. Its dependencies, however, are healthy, and are remarkable for the culture of coffee. Its exports, in 1789, were 27,000 lb. white sugar—55,187 lb. brown sugar—302,800 lb. coffee—50,000 lb. cotton, and 100,000 lb. indigo. of Pennsylvania. It contains about 89,600 acres, and is divided into 15 townships. On the banks of Schuylkill, in this co. is an excellent quarry of marble, from which the stone cutters of Philadelphia are supplied. It contains, besides Philadelphia, its capital, 21,371 inhabitants.

PHILADELPHIA, the metropolis of Pennsylvania, and the present seat of the government of the United States, is situated on the western bank of the Delaware, which is here a mile broad. It lies in lat. 39 50 34 N. and long.
75 8 45 W. from London; distant about 120 miles from the Atlantic ocean, by the course of the bay and river. A 74 gunship can come up to this city.
It was laid out by William Penn, in the year 1683. The ground plot of the city is an oblong square, about one mile N. and S. and two E. and W. lying in the narrowest part of the rhemus between the Delaware and Schuylkill rivers, about 5 miles in a right line above the confluence.
The buildings now occupy a space not exceeding 1/2 mile in length from N. to S. and in the most extended part do not reach a mile from the Delaware. The city is intersected by a great number of streets, crossing each other at right angles. The E.

and W. streets, except High-street, are named after the trees first found by the colony on their arrival in the country, viz. Vine, Sassafras, Mulberry, Chestnut, Walnut, Spruce, Pine, and Cedar; which last is the southern boundary of the city. The streets running N. and S. receive their names from their numerical order, beginning at Delaware river; Front is First, then Second, and so on to Thirtieth street, whence the numerical order ceases from Delaware front, and begins at Schuylkill in the same order, as First, Second, &c. to Eighteenth-street, between which and Nineteenth-street is Broad-street, so named from its being the widest in the city. The number of squares in the original plan was 184; but as several of the squares have lately been intersected by new streets, their number now amounts to 304; and several of these are again intersected by lanes and alleys. Broad-street is 113 feet wide; High-street, 100; Mulberry, 60; and the other streets, in the original plan, 50 feet wide. Most of the city is well paved with neat foot paths of brick, furnished with common sewers and gutters; so that the streets are, in general, kept very clean and neat. No less than 668 lamps of two branches each, disposed at convenient distances, in all parts of the city, are lighted every night, and are estimated to consume annually nearly 9,000 gallons of oil. The houses in the city and suburbs, are generally of brick, three stories high, in a plain neat style, without much display of ornament. Here are 27 places for public worship, viz. 5 for Friends or Quakers, 6 for the Presbyterians and Seceders, 3 for Episcopalians, 3 for Roman Catholics, 2 for German Lutherans, 2 for Methodists, 1 for German Calvinists, 1 for Swedish Lutherans, which is the oldest church in town, 1 for the Moravians, 1 for Baptists, 1 for Africans, and a Jewish synagogue. The other public buildings are a State-house and offices, two city court-houses, a county court-house, an university, the philosophical society's hall, a public library, an hospital, dispensary, an almshouse, a gaol, 3 incorporated banks, 2 dramatic theatres, a medical theatre, a laboratory, an amphitheatre, 4 brick market houses, a fish market, a house of correction, and a powder magazine, which contains often upwards of 10,000 quarter casks of gun-powder. Mr. Peale's museum is the largest collection of natural curiosities that is to be found in America. In it are 400 species of birds, some living animals, &c. The Philadelphia library at present, contains upwards of 12,000 volumes, besides a museum and a valuable philosophical apparatus. To the library is annexed a rare and valuable collection of books, the bequest of James Logan, Esq. to the public. The bank of the United States, lately finished, is reckoned one of the most elegant edifices in the United States. The public gaol is a hollow square, 100 feet in front, built of stone, three stories high. All the apartments are arched with stone, as a precaution against fire; and it is one of the the largest, strongest, and neatest buildings of the kind, in the United States. To the gaol is annexed a work-house with yards to keep the laborers apart, and criminals from the debtors. There are also apartments lately added for the solitary confinement of criminals. The whole is securely inclosed by stone walls. The university was formed by the union of two literary institutions, which had previously existed a considerable time in Philadelphia, the designated by the above name; the other by that of the college academy, and charitable schools of Philadelphia. They now constitute a very respectable seminary. The funds of the university produce annually a revenue of about £2,365. The aggregate number of students, in the several schools, is, on an average, about 510; and the number usually admitted to degrees each year, about 25. The Friends' academy, and Young Ladies' academy, are also respectable and useful establishments. The chief literary and humane societies, are the American philosophical society; the college of physicians; the society for promoting political inquiries; the Pennsylvania hospital; the Philadelphia dispensary; the Pennsylvania society for the abolition of slavery; the society for alleviating the misery of prisoners; the Pennsylvania society for the encouragement of manufactures and useful arts; the Philadelphia society for the information and assistance of emigrants; and two other societies of the same kind, one for the relief of German and another for the relief of Irish immigrants; and an

Here is a grand lodge of Free and Accepted Masters, and eight subordinate lodges. The Industry Company of N. America, lately established here, is in high repute, and infers houses, goods, &c. against fire, on very reasonable terms. Few cities in the world, of the same population and riches as Philadelphia, are better provided with useful institutions, both public and private. In the city and suburbs are 10 rope-walks, which manufacture about 800 tons of hemp annually, and 13 breweries, which are said to consume 30,000 bushels of barley, yearly. The public mint, at which the national money is coined, is in this city.
There are 34 printing-offices in this city; 15 of these publish each a daily gazette, and two others publish gazettes twice a week.
This city is governed by a mayor, recorder, 15 aldermen, and 30 common council-men; according to its present charter, granted in the year 1789. The trade of Pennsylvania is principally carried on from this city, and there are few commercial ports in the world, where ships from Philadelphia may not be found in every season of the year. In the year 1792, Philadelphia shipped 20,000 barrels of flour and eddings; in 1794, 300,251.
According to a list published of the births and deaths in the several religious societies of Philadelphia, it appears that, from Aug. 1, 1792, to Aug. 1, 1793, the deaths amounted to 2,511, and the births to 1,497. In the years 1793 and '97, Philadelphia was visited with a severe scourge, the yellow fever, which swept off, in 1793, nearly 5,000 inhabitants.

In 1794, there were 9,000 houses in this city, and 400 which were building; and the present number of inhabitants may be estimated at between 60 and 70,000.

PICOU, a small isle, river, bay, and settlement, in the N. E. part of the province of Nova-Scotia, at the southern extremity of the Gulf of St. Lawrence. The settlement is fertile, populous, and increasing in importance. A good road is cut, cleared, and bridged to Halifax, 68 miles distant, S. by W. This settlement is now called Tinmouth.

PIERMONT, a township in Grafton co. N. Hampshire, on the E. bank of Connecticut R. 6 miles southward of Haverhill, and 3 northward of Orford—416 inhabitants.

PIERRE, St. the first town built in the island of Martinico in the West-Indies, situated on a round bay, on the W. coast of the island, 3 leagues S. of Fort Royal. It is a port of entry, the residence of merchants, and the centre of business. It has been 4 times burnt down, yet it contains at present about 2,000 houses. The anchorage ground is situated along the sea side on the strand, but is very unhealthy. Another port of the town is separated from it by a river, and the houses are built on a low hill, which is called the fort, from a small fortress which defends the road, which is commodious for loading and unloading ships, and is likewise easy of access; but in the rainy season, the shipping take shelter at Fort Royal, the capital of the island.

PIERRE, St. a river in Louisiana, which empties into the Mississippi from the W. about 10 miles below the Falls of St. Anthony.

PIKELAND, a township in Chester co. Pennsylvania.

PINCKNEY, a district of the upper country of S. Carolina, lying W. of Camden and Cheraw districts; subdivided into the cos. of York, Chester, Union and Spartanburgh—contains 1570 white inhabitants.

PINCENEVILLE, a post-town of S. Carolina, and capital of the above district, in Union co. on the S. W. side of Broad R. at the mouth of Pacolet. It contains a handsome court-house, a jail, and a few compact houses. It is 75 miles N. W. of Columbia, 56 from Lincolntown, in N. Carolina, and 716 from Philadelphia.

PINE CREEK, in Northumberland co. Pennsylvania, a water of the W. branch of Susquehanna R. Its mouth is about 12 miles westward of Locoming Creek, and 20 N. W. of the town of Northumberland.

PIONIAS Fort and Village, Old in the N. W. Territory, on the western shore of Illinois R. and at the southern end of Illinois Lake; 210 miles from Mississippi R. and 30 below the Craws Meadows R. The summit, on which the stockaded fort stood, commands a fine prospect of the country to the eastward, and up the lake, to the point where the river comes in at the N. end; to the westward are large meadows. The Indians, at the treaty at Greenville, in 1793, ceded to the United States a tract of 12 miles square at this fort. N. lat. 40 30 W. long. 91 12 30.

PISCATAQUA Bridge, one of the most neat and elegant structures of the kind in the United States, is 4 or 5 miles N. W. of Portsmouth, N. Hampshire, over Piscataqua R. connecting Newington with Kittery. It is half a mile in length, including an island of 16 or 18 rods. It has one arch, the chord of which is 249 feet.

length. It was completed in 1796, and cost about 70,000 dollars. From the increase of travel in this part of the country, the proprietors promise themselves a handsome income from their property in this bridge.

PISCATAWAY, a township of N. Jersey, Middlesex co. on Rariton R. 6 miles from its mouth, has 2,261 inhabitants. It is 34 miles N. E. of New-Brunswick, and 14 S. W. of Elizabeth-Town. PISCATAWAY, a small post-town of Prince-George's co. Maryland; situated on the creek of its name which runs westward into Patowmack R. opposite Mount Vernon in Virginia, and 14 miles S. of the Federal City. The town is 16 miles N. of Port Tobacco, and 67 S. W. by S. of Baltimore. PISCO, a noted harbour on the coast of Peru, in the province of Los Reyes, 6 leagues from the port of China. The town is inhabited by about 300 families; 123 miles S. of Lima. S. lat. 13 36, W. long. 76 15.

PITTSBURGH, a post-town of Pennsylvania, the capital of Alleghany co. situated on a beautiful plain. The Alleghany, which is a beautiful clear stream, on the N, and the Monongahela, which is a muddy stream, on the S. uniting below where Fort du Quesne stood, form the majestic Ohio, which is there a quarter of a mile wide; 1,188 miles from its confluence with the Mississippi. This town was laid out on Penn's plan, in the year 1765, on the eastern bank of the Monongahela, about 200 yards from Fort du Quesne, which was taken from the French, by the British, in 1760, and who changed its name to Fort Pitt, in honour of the late Earl of Chatham. It contains about 200 houses, a gaol, court-house, Presbyterian church, a church for German Lutherans, an academy, two breweries, and a distillery. It has been lately fortified, and a party of troops stationed in it. By an enumeration made Dec. 1795, it appears that there were then 1,353 inhabitants in this borough; the number has considerably increased since. The navigation of the Ohio, in a dry season, is rather troublesome from Pittsburg to the last Town, about 75 miles; but from thence to the Mississippi, there is always water enough for barges, carrying from 100 to 200 tons burden, such as are used on the Thames, between London and Oxford, viz. from 100 to 120 feet keel, 16 to 18 feet in breadth, 4 feet in depth; and when loaded, drawing about 3 feet water. During the season of the floods in the spring, vessels of 100 or 200 tons burden may go from Pittsburg to the sea with safety, in 16 or 17 days, although the distance is upwards of 2,000 miles. It is 178 miles length. It was completed in 1796, and cost about 70,000 dollars. From the increase of travel in this part of the country, the proprietors promise themselves a handsome income from their property in this bridge.

PLATTSMING is an extensive township in Clinton co. N. York, on the W. margin of Lake Champlain, lying northerly of Willfborough, about 300 miles N. of New-York city, and nearly that distance southerly of Quebec in Canada. Several years ago, this township, and the whole county indeed, which at present contains several thousand inhabitants, was a wilderness; now they have a house for public worship, a court-house and gaol; the courts of common pleas and general sessions of the peace sit here twice in a year. It has 458 inhabitants.

PLEASANT River, a small village where is a post-office on the sea-coast of Washington co. Maine, and at the head of Narraguagus Bay; 16 miles N. E. of Goldborough, and 22 W. by S. of Machias.

PLUM River, the northern head-water of Illinois R. It interlocks with Chicago R. a water of Lake Michigan.

PLUCKEMIN, a town or village of some trade, in Somerset co. N. Jersey, 28 miles N. of Princeton, and about 18 S. W. of Brunswick. It derived its singular name from an old Irishman, noted for his address in taking in people.

PLUMB Island, on the coast of Massachusetts, is about 9 miles long, and about half a mile broad, extending from the entrance of Ipswich R. on the S. nearly a N. course to the mouth of Merrimack river. On the sea-shore of this island, and on Salisbury beach, the Marine Society, and other gentlemen of Newbury-Port, have humanely erected several small houses, furnished with fuel and other conveniences, for the relief of mariners who may be shipwrecked on this coast. The N. end lies in lat. 43 4 N. and long. 70 47 W.

PLUMB Island, on the N. E. coast of Long-Island, in the State of N. York, is annexed to Southold in Suffolk co. It contains about 800 acres, and supports 7 families. It is fertile, and produces wheat, corn, butter, cheese and wool. It is three-fourths of a mile from the eastern point of Southold.

PENNETTAD, a post-town of Pennsylvania, on the W. side of Delaware river, 36 miles N. of Philadelphia.

PLYMOUTH, a maritime co. in the eastern part of the State of Massachusetts, subdivided into 15 townships, of which Plymouth is the chief; and contains 4,240 houses, and 29,735 inhabitants. Within the counties of Plymouth and Bristol, there are now in operation, 14 blast, and 6 air furnaces, 20 forges, 7 slitting and rolling mills, besides a number of trip-hammer shops, and an almost incredible number of nail-shops, and others for common smithery. These furnaces, supplied from the neighbouring mines, produce annually from 1,500 to 1,800 tons of iron ware. The forges, on an average, manufacture more than 1,000 tons annually, and the slitting and rolling mills, at least 1500 tons. The various manufactures of these mills have given rise to many other branches in iron and steel, viz. cut and hammered nails, spades and shovels, card-teeth, saws, scythes, metal buttons, cannon balls, bells, fire-arms, &c. In these counties are also manufactured hand-bellows, combs, sheet-iron for the tin manufacture, wire, linseed oil, snuff, stone and earthen ware. The iron-works, called the Federal Furnace, are 7 miles from Plymouth harbor.

PLYMOUTH, a sea-port town in Massachusetts, shire town of the above county, 42 miles S. from Boston; a post-town and port of entry. The township is extensive, containing more than 20 square miles. The number of inhabitants is 2,928. The Town, or principal settlement, which contains more than two-thirds of the inhabitants, is on the north-easterly part of the township, compactly built, and contains about 200 dwelling-houses, a handsome meeting-house, court-house, and gaol. The harbour is spacious, but shallow. There is a light-house on the Crane, and an Old-light Beach is placed one of the lights erected and maintained by the Humane Society of Massachusetts, for the reception and relief of shipwrecked mariners. The principal business of the town, is the cod-fishery, in which are employed 2,000 tons of shipping, and about 300 men annually. There are a few coasting-vessels belonging to the place, and two brigs, and 10 or 12 schooners employed in foreign-trade. Many of the fishing-vessels make voyages to the Southern States, in the winter season. The exports, which, at the commencement of the present federal government, were very inconsiderable, not exceeding 8,000 or 9,000 dollars annually, are now respectable. In 1793, they exceeded 70,000 dollars, and in 1796, they amounted to near 130,000 dollars. Formerly the produce of the fishery was sold at Boston or Salem; it is now almost wholly exported from the town. An academy is contemplated: a valuable slitting-mill, and other works, are erected: a stage, which goes twice a week to Boston, is well supported; and an aqueduct for bringing fresh water to the houses of the inhabitants is more than half completed. The situation of the town is pleasant and healthful. It is the first settlement in New-England, and is peopled, principally, by the descendants of the ancient stock. But few foreigners are among them. The rock on which eastern part of the compactly built, and about 200 dwelling-houses, a handsome meeting-house, and a public-house, and a public-house is capacious, and there is a light-house, and an old building, and one of the houses is maintained by the Society of Massachusetts, for the reception and relief of distressed mariners. The business of the town is chiefly in shipping, in which are employed 300 men annually, and a few coasting-vessels go to the place, and send 20 or 22 schooners in foreign-trade. Many of the fishing-vessels sail to the Southern States, in winter season. The wharves, which, at the commencement of the present federal government, were very inconsiderable, exceeding 8,000 or 9,000 annually, are now respected. In 1793, they exceeded 10,000, and in 1796, they exceeded 130,000 dollars. Formerly, the produce of the fishery was sold at Boston, but it is now almost wholly sent from the town. A wharf is contemplated: a valve-sitting-mill, and other buildings are erected: a stage goes twice a week to Boston, well supported; and a stage for bringing fresh water-houses of the inhabitants is than half completed. The situation of the town is healthy: it is the most pleasant in New-England, peopled, principally, by descendants of the ancient. But few foreigners are here. The rock on which their brethren first landed, was conveyed, in 1774, from the shore to a square in the centre of the town. The sentimental traveller will not fail to view it; and if he is passing to Cape Cod, he will pause a moment at Cum gratias Pond, about 7 miles from the town, where the people, in ancient days, when travelling from the Cape to attend the courts of Plymouth, used to sit and regale themselves with the clam and pudding which they brought with them. A few miles farther S. on the same road, are the fouries rocks, which are covered with the dry limbs of trees and planknets, heaped upon them by the Indians as they pass by, in observance of an ancient usage, the origin of which is uncertain.

PLYMOUTH, a town in Litchfield co. Connecticut.

PLYMOUTH, a post-town of N. Hampshire, Grafton co.

PLYMOUTH, a town of N. York, in Onondago co. lately laid out and named by E. Watson, Esq. a native of Plymouth, New-England. The town lies about 21 miles S. E. of Geneva, on a beautiful declivity on the E. side of Seneca Lake, and commands a charming and extensive view of the whole lake. The town stands on the spot formerly called Apple-Town, and was the head-quarters of the Seneca Indians, who were conquered and dispersed by Gen. Sullivan, in his western expedition, in 1779. The situation is healthful and pleasant, well watered by copious living springs; upwards of 20 houses were built here in 1796. The new State road intersects this town; and here is a ferry across the lake, to another thriving town on the opposite side.

PONFON, a village so called, on Edisto river, South-Carolina.

PONTCHARTRAIN, a lake of W. Florida, which communicates eastward with the Gulf of Mexico, and westward with Mississippi river, through Lake Maurepas and Iberville river. It is about 40 miles long, 24 broad, and 18 feet deep.

POPAYAN, a province of South-America, in New-Grenada, about 400 miles in length, and 300 in breadth. The country is unhealthy, but vast quantities of gold are found in it.

POPAYAN, the capital of the above province, and a bishop's see, inhabited chiefly by creoles. It is 220 miles N. E. of Quito.

POPPLIN, a township of New-Hampshire, Rockingham co. 12 miles westerly of Exeter, and 33 from Portsmouth—493 inhabitants.

POOSKONUCK, a river of Vermont, which falls into Connecticut river in the township of Barre. It is 100 yards wide, and noted for the quantity and quality of salmon it produces. On this river, which is settled 20 miles up, are some of the best townships in the State.

POSCO, a jurisdiction of South-America, in the province of Charcos, about 25 leagues from the city of La Plata, and extending about 20 leagues.

POSPONET, Cape, on the coast of York co. Maine, 7 leagues N. by E. of Cape Neddock.

PORTAGE, Point, on the east coast of New-Brunswick, and in the S. W. part of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, forms the N. limit of Miramichi Bay; as Point Escommenac does the south.

PORT AMHERST, a bay on the south-eastern coast of Nova-Scotia, S. W. of Port Roseway, and 17 miles N. E. of Cape Sable.

PORT ANGEL, a harbour on the W. coast of Mexico, about half way between St. Pedro and Compostella. It is a broad and open bay, having good anchorage, but bad landing. N. lat. 13 32, W. long. 97 4.

PORT ANTONIO, in the north-eastern part of the island of Jamaica, is capable of holding a large fleet; and if it were fortified and accommodated for refitting ships of war, would be of great importance, as it is only 36 leagues westerly of Cape Taboron in St. Domingo, and opens directly into the Windward Passage. The town of Titchfield lies on this bay.

PORT-~~au~~ Prince, a jurisdiction and sea-port, at the head of the great Bay or Bight of Leogane, in the W. part of the island of St. Domingo. The town, which is seated on the head of the bay, is the seat of the French government in time of peace, and a place of considerable trade. Though singularly favoured with the E. winds, it was long the tomb of the unhappy Europeans, in consequence of the difficulty of obtaining good water. By the exertions of M. de Marbois, who resided here about 5 years, in constructing fountains, public basins, and airy prisons, the place has become far more healthy and desirable. The jurisdiction contains six parishes. Its exports in 1789 were, 2497,321 lbs.

Point, on the east coast of New-Brunswick, and in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, forms the N. limit of the Bay, as Point Esprit is the south.

MURRAY, a bay on the east coast of Nova-Scotia, of Port Roseway, and N. E. of Cape Sable.

ANGEL, a harbour on the east coast of Mexico, about 100 miles between St. Pedro and Yucatan. It is a broad and deep bay, having good anchorage and landing. N. lat. 19° 45' N. long. 97° 45' W.

ANTONIO, in the north-east part of the island of Jamaica, capable of holding 1000 men; and if it were fortified, it would be of great importance, as it is only 10 miles westerly of Cape Town, St. Domingo, and opens into the Windward Passage. The town of Titchfield is bay.

Port au Prince, a jurisdiction and port, at the head of the bay or Bight of Leogane, the part of the island of St. Domingo.

The town, which is at the head of the bay, is the seat of the French government of peace, and a place of considerable trade. Though it was long the tomb of happy Europeans, in consequence of the difficulty of obtaining good water. By the exertions of M. de Marbois, who reigned about 5 years, in consequence of fountains, public basins, prisons, the place has become more healthy and desirable. The jurisdiction comprises 10 parishes. Its exports were, 2,497,321 lbs. of white sugar; 44,716,246 lbs. of brown sugar; 17,829,424 lbs. of coffee; 1,378,999 lbs. of cotton; 1,378,999 lbs. of indigo; and other articles, as, hides, molasses, spirits, &c. to the value of 8,248,311 livres. This fine town was nearly burnt down by the revolting negroes, in Nov. and Dec. 1791. It is only fit for a shipping-place for the produce of the adjacent country, and for that of the rich plains of the Cul de Sac to the northward. The island of Goave, to the westward, would enable a squadron to block up the port. The line of communication between Port au Prince and the town of St. Domingo, is by the ponds, and through the towns of Neybe, Azua, Bani, &c. The distance from Port au Prince to St. Domingo city, is 69 leagues E. by N. of the town of Leogane, and about 50 S. by E. is the road run, from Port de Paix. N. lat. 18° 34', W. long. from Paris, 74° 45'.

PORT DE PAIX, a jurisdiction and sea-port, on the N. side of the island of St. Domingo, towards the western end. The jurisdiction contains 7 parishes. The exports in 1789 were, 331,900 lbs. of white sugar; 515,500 lbs. of brown sugar; 1,957,618 lbs. of coffee; 35,154 lbs. of cotton, and 9,181 lbs. of indigo. It is 30 leagues N. of St. Mark, 17 E. by S. of the Mole, and 19 and a half westward of Cape François. N. lat. 19° 54', W. long. from Paris, 75° 18'.

PORT DE LA CHAUDIERRE, on the S. coast of the island of St. Domingo, is large, open, and deep enough to admit vessels of any burden.

PORT AU PRINCE, a town on the northern coast of the island of Cuba, having a good harbour.

PORTSMOUTH, a small settlement in York co. Maine.

PORTLAND, a post-town and port of entry, in Cumberland co. Maine. It is the capital of the district, and is situated on a promontory in Casco Bay, and was formerly a part of Falmouth. It is 50 miles S. by W. of Wiscasset, 123 N. by W. of Boston, and 469 N. E. of Philadelphia. It has a most excellent, safe, and capacious harbour, which is seldom or never completely frozen over. It is near the main ocean, and is easy of access. The inhabitants carry on a considerable foreign trade, build ships, and are largely concerned in the fishery. It is one of the most thriving commercial towns in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. It contains about 2,300 inhabitants. Among its public buildings are, 3 churches, 2 for Congregationalists, and 1 for Episcopalians, and a handsome court-house. A light-house was erected, in 1790, on a point of land called Portland Head, at the entrance of the harbour. It is a stone edifice, 72 feet high, exclusive of the lantern, and stands in lat. 44° N. and long. 69° 52' W. The works erected in 1795, for the defence of Portland, consist of a fort, a citadel, a battery for 10 pieces of cannon, an artillery store, a guard-house, an air-furnace for heating shot, and a covered way from the fort to the battery.

PORTLAND HEAD, in Casco Bay, the promontory on which the light-house above-mentioned stands. See Portland.

PORTO BELLO, a sea-port town of S. America, having a good harbour on the northern side of the Isthmus of Darien, in the province of Terra Firma Proper. It is situated close to the sea, on the declivity of a mountain which surrounds the whole harbour. It was taken by Admiral Vernon in 1742, who demolished the fortifications. But it is now strongly fortified. N. lat. 9 34 35, W. long. 81 52.

Porto Cabello, a maritime town of the Caraccas, in Terra Firma, S. America, 6 leagues from Leon; chiefly inhabited by fishermen, sailors and factors.

Porto Gruallo, a sea-port town of S. America, in Terra Firma, and on the coast of the Caraccas. N. lat. 10 20, W. long. 64 30.

Porto del Principe, a sea-port on the N. coast of the island of Cuba, 300 miles S. E. of the Havanah, and 186 N. W. of Baracoa. It was formerly a large and rich town, but being taken by Capt. Morgan, with his buccaniers, after a stout resistance, it never recovered itself.

Porto Rico, one of the Antille Islands, in the W. Indies, belonging to the Spaniards, about 100 miles long, and 40 broad, and contains about 3,100 square miles. It is 20 leagues E. S. E. of the island of St. Domingo. The lands are beautifully diversified with woods, vallies, and plains, and are very fruitful, yielding the same produce as the other islands. The island is well watered by springs and rivers, but is unhealthy in the rainy seasons. In 1778, this island contained 80,660 inhabitants, of which only 6,330 were slaves. There were then reckoned upon the island, 77,384 head of horned cattle; 23,195 horses; 1,515 mules; 49,058 head of small cattle; 5,862 plantations, yielding 2,737 quintals of sugar; 1,160 quintals of cotton; 19,556 quintals of rice; 15,215 quintals of maize; 7,458 quintals of tobacco; and 9,860 quintals of molasses.

Porto Rico, the capital town of the island of that name, above described, stands on a small island, on the N. side of the island of Porto Rico, to which it is joined by a causeway, extending across the harbour, which is very spacious, and where the largest vessels may lie in the utmost security. It is large and well built, and is the see of a bishop; and the forts and batteries are so well situated and strong, as to render it almost inaccessible to an enemy. It was, however, taken by Sir Francis Drake, and afterwards by the Earl of Cumberland. It is better inhabited than most of the Spanish towns, being the centre of the contraband trade carried on by the British and French with the king of Spain's subjects. In 1625, the Dutch took and plundered this city, but could not retain it. N. lat. 18 20, W. long. 65 35.

Porto Seguro, a captainship on the coast of Brazil.

Porto Seguro, the capital of the above captainship, is on the top of a rock, at the mouth of a river on the sea-coast, and inhabited by Portuguese. S. lat. 17, W. long. 38 30.

Port Penn, a town of New Castle co. Delaware, on the west shore of Delaware R. and separated from Reddy Island on the E. by a narrow channel. It contains about 30 or 40 houses, and lies 50 miles below Philadelphia.

Port Royal, an island on the coast of S. Carolina, is separated from the main land on the W. by Broad R. It consists of about quintals of sugar; 1,160 of cotton; 19,556 quintals of rice; 15,216 quintals of tobacco; 1,558 quintals of tobacco; 10 quintals of molasses.

Penn, a town of New Delaware, on the west of Delaware R. and separated from Reedy Island on the narrow channel. It contains about 30 or 40 houses, 12 miles below Philadelphia.
Royal, an island on the of S. Carolina, is separated the main land on the W.
B. It consists of about 2000 acres of excellent land; and on it stands the town of Sanfort. It has an excellent harbour, sufficient to contain the largest fleet in the world. N. lat.

18, W. long. 80 54.

Port Royal, a post-town of Virginia, on the S. bank of Rap-hanock R. in Caroline co. It laid out on a regular plan, and contains about 200 houses, which make a handsome appearance, being built of brick. Here are 3 churches, for Episcopalians, Presbyterians, and Methodists. It is 2 miles S. E. of Fredericksburg, 3 above Urbanna, and 230 S. W.
Philadelphia. N. lat. 38 13,
W. long. 77 34.

Port Royal, on the S. side of the island of Jamaica, once a place of the greatest wealth and importance in the West-Indies, is now reduced, by repeated calamities, to 3 streets, a few lanes, and about 200 houses. It contains, however, the royal navy-yard, for heaving down and refitting the king's ships; the naval hospital and barracks for a regiment of soldiers. The fortifications are kept in excellent order, and vie in strength, it is said, with any others in the British dominions.
The excellence of the harbour, and its situation, were so alluring, that it was not until the town had been 3 times entirely destroyed, (first, by a terrible earthquake, June 9, 1692; then, by a great flood, 10 years after; and lastly, by a hurricane in 1782, the most terrible on record) that the inhabitants could be prevailed upon to relinquish this ill-fated spot. After this last calamity, they resolved to remove to the opposite side of the bay, where they built Kingston, now the capital of the island. In the harbour of Port Royal, vessels of 700 tons can lie close along shore. N. lat.

18, W. long. 76 45.

Port Royal, a town and harbour in the island of Martinico, in the West-Indies, which, with St. Peter's, are the chief places of the island. N. lat. 14 36, W. long. 61 9.

Port St. John, a small town in the province of Nicaragua, in New-Spain, at the mouth of a river in the North Pacific Ocean.
The harbour is safe and spacious, and is the sea-port of the city of Leon, 30 miles to the S. E.
N. lat. 12 10, W. long. 87 38.

PORTSMOUTH, the metropolis of N. Hampshire, the largest town in the State, and its only sea-port, is about 2 miles from the sea, on the S. side of Piscataqua river. It is the shire town of Rockingham county, and its harbour is one of the finest on the continent, having a sufficient depth of water for vessels of any burden. It is defended against storms by the adjacent land, in such a manner, as that ships may securely ride there in any season of the year; nor is it ever frozen, by reason of the strength of the current, and narrowness of the channel.
Besides, the harbour is so well fortified by nature, that very little art will be necessary to render it impregnable. Its vicinity to the sea renders it very convenient for naval trade. A light-house, with a single light, stands on New-Castle Island, at the entrance of the harbour, in lat. 43 5 N. and long. 70 41 W. Ships of war have been built here; among others, the America, of 74 guns, launched Nov. 1782, and presented to the king of France, by the Congress of the United States.

PRINCETON, a post-town of N. Jersey, situated partly in Middlesex, and partly in Somerset co. Nassau Hall College, an institution which has produced a great number of eminent scholars, is very pleasantly situated in the compact part of this town. Here are about 80 dwelling-houses, and a brick Presbyterian church. The college edifice is a handsome stone building, of 180 feet by 54, 4 stories high, and stands on an elevated and healthful spot, and commands an extensive and delightful prospect. The establishment, in 1796, consisted of a president, who is also professor of moral philosophy, theology, natural and revealed; history, and eloquence; a professor of mathematics, natural philosophy, and astronomy; a professor of chymistry, and two tutors. The number of students is from 70 to 90, besides the grammar school. The annual income of the college, at present, by the fees of the students, was $10,000, in about 1800, in currency a year. It has, besides funds in possession, through the extraordinary liberality of James Leslie, of New-York, and Mrs. Esther Richards, of Rahway, to the amount of 15,000 dollars for the education of poor and pious youth, for the ministry of the gospel; and the reverend an estate in Philadelphia, for the same purpose, of between 600 and 1,300 per annum, a legacy of the late Mr. Hugh Hodge, a man of eminent piety, which he came to the college at the death of a very worthy and widow. Providence, the chief town of the above co. situated 20 miles by W. from Newport, and 25 from the sea; seated at the head of Narraganset Bay, on both sides of Providence R.

the two parts of the town being connected by a bridge, 180 feet long, and 22 wide. It is the oldest town in the State; and lies in
lat. 41 49 N. and long. 71 23 W.
44 miles S. by W. of Boston, and 40 N. E. of Philadelphia. A ship of 950 tons for the E. India trade, was lately built in this town, and fitted for sea. It is one of the most thriving commercial towns in New-England.
The public buildings are, an elein which is deposited a library, for the use of the inhabitants of the town and country; a workhouse, a market-house, and a brick school-house, in which 4 schools are kept. Rhode-Island College is established at Providence. The elegant building erected for its accommodation, is situated on a hill to the E. of the town; and while its elevated situation renders it delightful, by commanding an extensive, varie-gated prospect, it furnishes it with a pure, salubrious air. The edifice is of brick, 4 stories high, 150 feet long, and 46 wide, with a projection of 20 feet each side.

It has 48 rooms for students, and larger ones for public uses. It is a flourishing seminary, and contains upwards of 60 students.
It has a library, containing between 2 and 3,000 volumes, and a valuable philosophical apparatus. There are two spermaceti works, a number of distilleries, sugar-houses, and other manufactories. A bank has also been established here, and a cotton manufactory, which employs 100 hands; with which is connected a mill for spinning cotton, on the model of Sir R. Arkwright's mill.

It is erected at Pawtucket Falls, in North-Providence, and is the first of the kind built in America.
The exports for one year, ending Sept. 30, 1794, amounted to the value of 642,372 dollars.
It contains 6,380 inhabitants, including 48 slaves.

PROVIDENCE, North, a township of Rhode-Island, in Providence county, N. of the town of Providence—1,071 inhabitants.

PROVIDENCE, a township of N.
York, situated in Saratoga co. taken from Galway, and incorporated in 1796.

PROVIDENCE, Upper and Lower, townships in Delaware co. Pennsylvania.

PROVIDENCE, a township in Montgomery co. Pennsylvania.

PROVIDENCE, one of the Ba-hama Islands, in the Atlantic Occean, and the second in size of those so called, being about 36 miles in length and 16 in breadth.
It is subject to Great-Britain. N.

PROVINCE-TOWN is situated on the hook of Cape-Cod, in Barn-stable co. Massachusetts. Its harbour, which is one of the best in the State, opens to the southward, and has depth of water for any ships. It has been in a thriving and decaying state, many times. It is now rising, and contains 454 inhabitants, whose sole dependence is upon the cod-fishery, in which they employ 20 sail, great and small. Ten of their vessels, in 1790, took 17,000 quintals of cod-fish.

PUAN, or Green Bay, has communication eastward with Lake Michigan.

PURVISBURG, a handsome town of S. Carolina, Beaufort district, on the eastern side of Savannah river, 37 miles from the ocean, and 20 from the town of Savannah. It contains between 40 and 50 dwelling-houses, and an Episcopal church. It took its name from John Peter Pury, a Swiss, who settled a colony of his countrymen here about the year 1733, with a view to the culture of silk. The mulberry trees are yet standing, and some attention is still paid to the making of silk.

POTNEY, a thriving town in Windham co. Vermont, on the W. side of Connecticut river, S. of Westminster—1,248 inhabitants.

QUAMPEAGAN Falls is at the head of the tide on Newichwanock R. which joins Piscataqua river, 25 miles from the sea.

QUAKER Town, in Buck's co. Pennsylvania, 25 miles N. W. of Newtown, and 33 N. N. W. of Philadelphia.

QUEBEC, the capital, not only of Lower Canada, but of all British America, is situated at the confluence of the rivers St. Lawrence and St. Charles, or the Little river, about 320 miles from the sea. It is built on a rock, which is partly of marble and partly of slate. The town is divided into Upper and Lower. This city contained in the year 1784, 6,472 inhabitants. The houses in the Lower town, (as also those in the Upper) are of stone, strong and well built, and chiefly inhabited by merchants. The fortifications are extensive but irregular. The natural situation of the town renders its defence easy. If attacked by ships from the river, their guns cannot injure the works of the upper town, though the ships themselves would be liable to great injury from the cannon and bombs from these elevated ramparts. The lower town is defended by a platform flanked with two bastions, which at high water and spring tides are almost level with the surface of the water. A little above the bastion, to the right, is a half bastion, cut out of the rock; a little higher a large battery; and higher still a square fort, the most regular of all the fortifications, and in which the governor resides. The passages which form a communication between these works, are extremely rugged. The rock which separates the upper from the lower town, extends, with a bold and steep front, a considerable distance westward, along the river St. Lawrence. The lower town is well supplied with water, which is sometimes scarce in the upper town. This city was besieged by the British in 1755, without success; but was taken by them, in September, 1759, when the brave General Wolf, who commanded the army of besiegers, lost his life. In December, 1775, it was attacked by the Americans, under the command of the brave General Montgomery, who was slain, and his army repulsed. N. lat. 46 48 39, W. long. 71 22 6.

RHODE-ISLAND is one of the smallest of the United States; its greatest length being 47 miles, and its greatest breadth 37; or about 1,300 square miles. It is bounded N. and E. by the commonwealth of Massachusetts; S. by the Atlantic Ocean, and W. by Connecticut, divided into 5 counties, which are subdivided into 36 townships, containing 68,211 inhabitants, of whom 948 are slaves. Rhode-Island, from which the State takes its name, is 13 miles long, and about 14 broad, on an average. Perhaps no island in the world exceeds this in point of soil, climate, and situation. In its most flourishing state it was called, by travellers, the Eden of America. But the change, which the ravages of war, and the decrease of business have effected, is great. Between 30,000 and 40,000 sheep are fed on this island, besides neat cattle and horses. The State is intersected in all directions by rivers and bays, which swarm with fish, to the amount of more than 70 different kinds; the markets are alive with them. Oysters, lobsters, and other shell-fish abound in Narraganset Bay. Travellers are generally agreed, that Newport is the best fish-market in the world. This State produces corn, rye, barley, oats, and several other articles as are common in the other N. England States, but paste-wheat, sufficient for home consumption; and the various kinds of grasses, fruits and culi-nary roots and plants in great abundance, and in perfection; ex-cess is made for exportation. The farmers raise some of the finest neat cattle in New England, weighing from 1600 to 1800 weight. They keep large dairies, and make butter and cheese of the best quality, and in large quantities for exportation. Iron ore is found in great plenty, and manufactured in several parts of the State. Newport and Providence are the chief towns of the State. The greatest part of the commerce of Rhode-Island is present carried on by the inhabi-tants of the flourishing town of Providence, which had, in 1796, phia.

Richmond, a co. of Virginia, on Rappahannock river—6,985 inhabitants. The court-house, where a post-office is kept, is 273 miles from Philadelphia.

Richmond, the present seat of government, of the State of Virginia, is in Henrico co. on the N. side of James's river, just at the foot of the falls, and contains between 400 and 500 houses, and nearly 4,000 inhabitants. Part of the houses are built on the margin of the river, convenient for business; the rest are upon a hill which overlooks the lower part of the town, and commands an extensive prospect of the river and adjacent country.
The new houses are well built.
A large state-house, or capitol, has lately been erected on the hill. This city likewise boasts of an elegant statue of the illustrious WASHINGTON, which was formed at Paris. A bridge between 300 and 400 yards in length, has been thrown across James river, at the foot of the fall, which connects the city with Manchester.
The public buildings, besides the state-house, are an Episcopal church, a court-house, gaol, a theatre, and 3 tobacco warehouses. The falls above the bridge are 7 miles in length. A noble canal is cutting, and nearly completed on the N. side of the river, which is to terminate in a basin of about 2 acres, in the town of Richmond. From this basin to the wharves in the river, will be a land carriage of about a mile. The opening of this canal promises the addition of much wealth to Richmond. Vessels of burden lie at City Point, 20 miles below, to which the goods from Richmond are sent down in boats. It is 626 miles from Boston, 374 from N. York, 176 from Baltimore, 278 from Philadelphia, 247 from Fayetteville, 497 from Charleston, and 662 from Savannah. N. lat. 37 40, W. long. 77 50.

Saco River, one of the three largest rivers in Maine, finds the sea at Biddeford. This river is navigable for ships to Saco Falls, about 6 miles from the sea. A number of mills are erected here to which logs are floated from 40 or 50 miles above; and vessels can come quite to the mills to take in the lumber. Four million feet of pine boards were annually sawed at these mills before the war. The mouth of this river lies 4 miles E. of Cape Porpoise. There is a bar which will not allow a vessel of above 100 tons burden to pass, if fully loaded. Saco river meanders through the ancient Indian village of Pigwacket, 60 miles from the sea. In 1775, a new river burst into the Saco, from the White Mountains, and still continues to aid Saco and a branch of it, called Ellis's river. The waters were of a red colour for a few days, and the people on the upper banks had a report, that the river was bloody.

SALEM, a post-town of N. Jersey, and capital of Salem co. situated on a branch of Salem Creek, about 34 miles from its confluence with Delaware bay. Salem creek is of sufficient size and depth for sea-vessels of 40 or 50 tons as far as the town, where a bridge has been erected, above which it is impassable even for balloons. This is an ancient town, but does not at present carry on much trade. In extent and number of houses, it is the first in the two counties. The Friends have here their largest place of worship in N. Jersey. Here is also a small, but well built Episcopal church, erected 50 or 60 years since, but has been vacant chiefly, for more than 40 years past. A meeting house for Baptists, and another for Methodists, have been lately erected; the former in, and the latter near this town. Here are, besides, a court-house, gaol, and about 100 houses, most of them built with brick, and many of them elegant. It is 20 miles N. W. of Bridgetown, 11 S. by W. of Woodstown, and 37 S. SALEM, a port of entry and post-town of Massachusetts, and the capital of Essex co. 4 miles N. W. of Marblehead, 19 N. by E. of Boston. It is the second town for size in the Commonwealth, containing (in 1790) 921 houses and 7921 inhabitants, and in 1797, 950 houses and about 8,500 inhabitants, and except Plymouth, the oldest, was settled in 1628, by Governor Endicott, and was called by the Indians, Naumkeag. Here are a society of Quakers, an Episcopal church, and 5 Congregational societies. The town is situated on a peninsula, formed by two small inlets of the sea, called North and South rivers. The principal harbour and place for business is at South river. So shoal is this harbour, that vessels which draw more than 10 or 12 feet of water, must be laden and unladen at a distance from the wharves by the assistance of lighters. Notwithstanding this inconvenience, more navigation is owned, and more trade carried on in Salem, than in any port in the Commonwealth, Boston excepted. The fishery, the trade to the West-Indies, to Europe, to the coast of Africa, to the East-Indies, and the freighting business from the southern States, are here all pursued with energy and spirit. A bank was established here in 1792. The enterprise of the merchants of this place is equalled by nothing but their indefatigable industry and severe economy. This latter virtue forms a distinguishing feature in the character of the people of this town. A court-house, built in 1786, forms a principal ornament to the town. The supreme judicial court holds a term here the second Tuesday of November, the courts of common pleas and sessions, the second Tuesday of March, and September. A manufactory of duck and sail-cloth was lately instituted here, and is prosecuted with much spirit. The town of Salem is connected with Beverly by Essex bridge, upwards of 1500 feet in length, erected in 1789. N. lat. 42 30, W. long. 70 30.

SANDWICH Islands, a group of islands in the South Sea, discovered by Captain Cook. They consist of 11 islands, extending in lat. from 18 54 to 22 15 N. and in long. from 150 54 to 160 4 W. The climate and vegetable productions are nearly the same as in the other islands in this ocean. The taro root is of a superior quality. The bread-fruit trees thrive not in such abundance as in the rich plains of Otaheite, but produce double the quantity of fruit. The sugar

SANDY Lake, and Portage or Bay is at the fourth side of Lake Erie. Its length is 17 miles, its greatest width 7 miles. From the N. end of this lake, there is a strait of only a mile and a half to Portage river, a small stream which runs into Lake Erie, and stands opposite to the strait. lat. 41.51, W. long. 83.

SANDY River, a navigable stream of the N. W. Territory, rises near a branch of the Miami, between which and the lake it is 9 miles. It pursues a N. E. course, and empties into the S. W. corner of Sand Lake.

SANDWICH, a township in the northern part of Strafford co. N. H., north of Winnepesaukee Lake—905 inhabitants. SANDWICH, Massachusetts, a town at the bottom of Cape Cod, Barnstable co. is 18 miles from Plymouth, and about 59 from Boston—1,991 inhabitants. SANDWICH Islands, a group of islands in the South Sea, discovered by Captain Cook. They consist of 11 islands, extending from 18° 54' to 22° 15' N. and from 150° 54' to 160° 14' W. The climate and vegetable productions are nearly the same as in the other islands in this group. The taro root is of a fine quality. The bread-fruit tree thrives not in such abundance as in the rich plains of the West, but produce double the quantity of fruit. The sugar cane are of a very unusual size, some of them measuring 11 inches and a quarter in circumference, and having 14 feet eatable. There is also a root of a brown colour, shaped like a yam, and from 6 to 10 pounds in weight, the juice of which is very sweet, of a pleasant taste, and an excellent substitute for sugar. Tattooing the body is much practised here. The natives rise with the sun, and, after enjoying the cool of the evening, retire to rest a few hours after sun-set. Their instruments of war are spears, daggers, clubs, and slings. The dagger is a weapon peculiar to themselves. It is from 1 to 2 feet long, made of heavy black wood resembling ebony, sharpened at one or both ends, and secured to the hand by a string. Its use is to stab in close fight, and it is well adapted to the purpose. They have also the knife or saw, with which the New-Zealanders cut up their slaughtered enemies. For defensive armour they wear strong mats, which are not easily penetrated with such weapons as their's.

SANDY Hill, a small delightful village of N. York, 2 miles N. of Fort Edward, on a high hill, overlooking Hudson's river from the east.

SANDY Hook, or Point, in the township of Middleton, N. Jersey, forms a capacious harbour, thence and from the inlet passes to N. York, about 30 miles distant, and about 18 from the Narrows.

SARANAC, a river of N. York, which passes through Plattsburg, and empties into Lake Champlain from the W. famous for salmon.

SARATOGA, a co. of the State of N. York, on Hudson and Mohawk rivers. It is divided into 8 townships.

SARATOGA, a township of N. York, Saratoga co. on the W. side of Hudson's R. 36 miles N. of Albany. It contains few houses in a compact state. It will ever be distinguished in history, for being the place at which Gen. Burgoyne was obliged to surrender his army, in 1777. This town is also famous for its medicinal waters, called the Saratoga Springs. They are 10 miles from Ballstown, in a shallow vale or marsh, in several respects resembling that of Ballstown. These waters appear to have received as strong, if not stronger, impregnation of the same kind of ingredients that enter those of Ballstown, and may be a stream of the same fountain running through the same kind of calcareous earth. One of these springs is covered over by a natural cretaceous, or rather calcareous pyramid, about five or six feet high. This hollow pyramid, or cone, has a hole in the top about six inches over. If we look into this hole we see the mineral water boiling vehemently like a pot over the fire; the water is nevertheless intensely cold, and is said to be, in every respect, smarter than that at Ballstown. The calcareous matter extends for several rods from the base of this pyramid. Crystals of a good quality have been found here, a specimen of which may be seen in the museum of Yale College.

SARECTO, the chief town of Duplin co. N. Carolina, on the N. E. branch of Cape Fear R. which affords water for rafts to the town. It contains a courthouse, gaol and about 20 houses. It is 130 miles above Wilmington, to the northward.

SATILLA, Great and Little, two roba, a township of Saratoga co. on the W. Hudson's R. 36 miles N. by. It contains few houses. It will be distinguished in history, being the place at which Burgoyne was obliged to surrender his army, in 1777. It is also famous for its mineral waters, called the Saratoga Springs. They are 10 miles from Ballstown, in a shallow vale, and in several respects resemble that of Ballstown. They appear to have received their name, if not stronger, impression of the same kind of insects that enter those of Ballstown, and may be a stream from the same fountain running in the same kind of calcareous earth. One of these springs is covered over by a natural, calcareous, or rather calcareous pyramid, about five or six feet high. This hollow pyramid, which has a hole in the top about 12 inches over. If we look down the hole we see the mineral boiling vehemently like water over the fire; the water is intensely cold, and is found to be, in every respect, more than that at Ballstown. A calcareous matter extends several rods from the base of the pyramid. Crystals of a quality have been found in the specimen of which may be seen in the museum of Yale micro, the chief town of the co. N. Carolina, on the branch of Cape Fear R. It affords water for rafts to the river. It contains a court house and about 20 houses. It is 5 miles above Wilmington the northward.

ELLA, Great and Little, two towns of Georgia, which fall into the ocean, in Camden co. between the Altamaha and St. Mary's rivers.

SAUCON, Upper and Lower, townships in Northampton co. Pennsylvania.

SAUNDERSVILLE, a small town of Georgia, Hancock co. which, from its situation in a fertile country, has prospects of future importance.

SAURA Lower Town is situated on the S. side of Dan river, in N. Carolina. It was formerly the chief town of the Saura Indians.

SAURA Upper Town, in the same State, an ancient and well peopled town of the Saura Indians, in Stokes co. on the south side of Dan river.

SAUTEURS, le Morne des, or Leaper's Hill, a precipice near the river Sauteurs, at the north end of the island of Grenada. After the year 1650 the French gradually exterminated the Charraies; near this place they butchered 40 of them on the spot; and 40 others, who had escaped the sword, threw themselves headlong into the sea from this precipice, and miserably perished. A beautiful young girl, of 12 or 13 years of age, who was taken alive, became the object of dispute between two of the French officers, each claiming her as a lawful prize, when a third of those white savages put an end to the contest, by shooting the girl through the head.

SAVANNAH, a port of entry and post-town of Georgia, and formerly the metropolis of the State, in Chatham co. on the S. side of the river Savannah, on a high sandy bluff, 17 miles from the ocean. The town is regularly built in the form of a parallelogram, and, including its suburbs, contained, in 1787, about 2,300 inhabitants, of whom about 80 or 90 are Jews. More than $\frac{2}{3}$ of this town was consumed by fire in the fall of 1796. The exports for one year, ending the 30th of September, 1794, amounted to the value of 263,830 dollars. It is 129 miles N. by E. of St. Mary's, 132 S. W. by S. from Augusta, and 925 in a like direction from Philadelphia. N. lat. 32 3. W. long. 81 24.

SAVANNAH River divides the State of Georgia from that of S. Carolina, and pursues a course nearly from N. W. to S. E. It is navigable for large vessels, 17 miles up to Savannah, and for boats of 100-feet keel to Augusta.

SAVANNAH la Mar, at the E. end of the island of St. Domingo, is a settlement on the S. side of the bay of Samana, opposite the city of Samana, on the N. side, at the end of a plain which is more than 10 leagues from E. to W. and 4 wide from N. to S. The city of Samana and this town were both begun in 1756, and together do not contain more than 500 souls.

SAVANNAH la Mar, on the S. side of the island of Jamaica, in Cornwallis co. has good anchorage for large vessels. It was almost entirely destroyed by a dreadful hurricane and inundation of the sea, in 1780. It is now partly rebuilt, and may contain from 60 to 70 houses.

SAVILLA, St. a small town of Georgia, 64 miles S. of Savannah, and 65 N. of St. Mary's.

SAVOY, a new township in Berkshire co. Massachusetts, incorporated in 1797.

SAZEGOTHA, a village or settlement in S. Carolina, on the S. bank of Congaree R. about 48 miles N. W. of Augusta, in Georgia.

SAXTON'S River, in Vermont, empties into the Connecticut at Westminster.

SAYBROOK, a post-town of Connecticut, Middlesex co. on the W. side of Connecticut R. across which is a ferry, on the road leading to N. London. It is 36 miles E. of N. Haven, 18 W. of N. London, and 19½ N. E. of Philadelphia.

SCHODACK, a township in Rensselaer co. N. York, taken from Rensselaerwick township, and incorporated in 1795; 14 miles E. of Albany—377 of its inhabitants are electors.

SCHORN-BRUNN, or the Beautiful Spring, one of the easternmost settlements of the Moravians on Muskingum R. This settlement of Christian Indians was established in 1772, on a tract of land granted by the Delaware tribe. In 1775, the chapel, which could contain 500 people, was found too small for the hearers, who came in great numbers. It was situated about 30 miles from Gekelmuckpechuenk, and 70 from Lake Erie. It appears that a large fortified Indian town formerly stood here; some ramparts and the ruins of three Indian forts being still visible. This thriving settlement was destroyed in 1782, when the Huron Indians carried the inhabitants to Sandusky; and when these peaceable Indians were permitted to return to reap their harvest, they were cruelly butchered by the American settlers, while praising God and forgiving their enemies. Congress granted 4,000 acres of land here to the society of the United Brethren for the purpose of propagating the gospel, on Sept. 3, 1783.

SCHOHARIE, a co. of N. York, bounded N. by Montgomery, E. by Albany, and W. by Otsego. This co. in 1797, was divided into the towns of Schoharie, Middleberg, Blenheim, Bristol, Cobleskill, and Sharon.

SCHOHARIE, the principal town in the above co. is on Schoharie Creek or R. and is one of the wealthiest inland farming towns in the State. The inhabitants are Dutch, and, before its division in 1797 were 2,073 in number. It is between 30 and 40 miles westward of Albany.

SCHOHARIE River runs a northerly course of about 80 miles from the Kaats' Kill Mountains, and empties into Mohawk R. at Fort Hunter.

SCHUYLKILL, a R. of Pennsyl- vania, which passes through a fine champaign country, and runs, from its source, upwards of 120 miles in a S. E. direction, and passing through the limits of the city of Philadelphia, falls into the Delaware, opposite Mud Is- land, 6 or 7 miles below the city. It will be navigable from above Reading, 85 or 90 miles to its mouth, when the canal begun at Norriton is completed. This will pass by the falls, and also form a communication with the Delaware above the city.

SCIOTA River, falls into the Ohio in the N. W. Territory, and is passable for large barges for 100 miles, with a portage of only 15 miles to the Sandusky, a boat- able water which falls into Lake Erie. The stream of the Sciota is gentle, no where broken by falls. At some places, in the spring of the year, it overflows the banks, providing for large natural rice plantations. Salt springs, coal mines, white and blue clay, and free stone, abound in the country adjoining this R. Its mouth is in N. lat. 38 40, a- bout 300 miles below Pittsburg, and is navigable to its source in canoes.

SCIRIO, a post-town of N. York, Onondago co. on the E. side of Cayuga Lake, 14 miles S. E. of Geneva, 39 S. W. by W. of On- nondago, and 46 1/2 N. W. by N. of Philadelphia.

SIARA, or Sedra, a town on the N. E. coast of Brazil, in the captainship of its name. S. lat. 30, W. long. 39 50. Andrew Vidal, of Negreiros, was chief magistrate of this city in the year 1772, in the 124th year of his age, and discharged his duty as judge to entire satisfaction; and died 2 years after, in full possession of his mental powers. In 1773, 189 of his descendants were alive.

SIDNEY, a township of N. York, on the N. line of Pennsylvania, opposite to the mouth of Chenango river.

SIMON'S, St. the easternmost of the 3 large islands situated at the mouth of the Alatomaha R. in Georgia. The southern end of the island is near the N. mouth of the Alatomaha. It formerly had a strong battery erected here, for the defence of Jekyll Sound, in which 10 or 12 forty gun ships may ride in safety. This island is about 45 miles in length, and from 2 to 4 in breadth; has a rich and fruitful soil, full of oak and hickory trees, intermixed with meadows and old Indian fields. In the middle of the island is the town of Frederica. The bar or entrance of St. Simon's is S. by W. 19 leagues from Tybee Inlet.

SIMSBURY, a township of Connecticut, Hartford co. 14 miles N. W. of Hartford.

SINO-BING, an inconsiderable village on the E. side of Haverstraw Bay, in West-Chester co. 35 miles N. of N. York city.

SINICA, a considerable Cherokee town, on the banks of Keowee river. The houses on the E. side are on an elevated situation, and command a delightful and extensive prospect of the whole settlement. The inhabitants, about 500 in number, can muster 100 warriors.

SISSEE'S, a branch of Tombigbee R. in Georgia, which runs a S. W. by S. course. Its mouth is in about lat. 31 55 N. and 40 miles N. by W. of the upper mouth of Alabama river.

SIX NATIONS, a confederacy of Indian nations, consisting of Mohawks, Oneidas, Onondagas, Senecas, Cayugas and Tuscaroras. The latter joined the confederacy 70 years ago. In the late war with G. Britain, they were allies of that power, and in 1779 they were entirely defeated by the troops of Congress, and their towns all destroyed. They now live on grounds called the State Reservations, which are intermediate spaces settled on all sides by white people. The number of souls in all the six nations was, in 1796, 4,058. The Stockbridge and Brotherton Indians, who now live among them, added, make the whole number 4,508, of whom 760 live in Canada, the rest in the United States. By a treaty made in 1794, between the United States on the one part, and the Six Nations and their Indian friends residing with them, on the other part, it was stipulated that "the sum of 4,500 dollars should be expended annually and forever, in purchasing cloathing, domestic animals, implements of husbandry, and other utensils, and in compensating useful artificers who shall reside among them, and be employed for their benefit." This allowance is under the direction of a superintendent, and is not distributed for any private purposes. It is apportioned among them according to their numbers, in order to which, there is annually taken an exact census of all these Indians.

SKENECLADY, an ancient and respectable town in Albany co. N. York, 16 miles N. W. of Albany, situated in a vale on the margin of Mohawk river. The houses, about 150 or 200 in number, are compactly built, chiefly of brick, on regular streets, in the old Dutch style, on the S. side of the river: few of them are elegant. The public buildings are a Dutch, and a Presbyterian church. The windings of the river, through the town and fields which are often overflowed in the spring, afford a rich and charming prospect about harvest time. This town, being at the foot of navigation, on a long river which passes through a very fine country, rapidly settling, it would be natural to conclude, would embrace much of its commerce; but originally knowing no other than the fur trade, which, since the revolution, has almost ceased, and having taken no advantage of its happy situation for other commerce, the place has considerably decayed. Union College was established and incorporated here in 1794, and is under the direction of 24 trustees. It took its name from the union of various denominations of Christians in its establishment. The Dutch were, however, by far the most liberal benefactors to this institution. It is well situated for the convenience of the northern and western parts of the State. In June, 1796, there were 40 students, divided into 4 classes, viz.—1 languages, 2 history and belles lettres, 3 mathematics, 4 philosophy. The funds of the College amount to 42,422 dollars, and 2,604 acres of land. The library consists of about 1000 volumes, and £500 is appropriated to the purchase of philosophical apparatus. The township of Skeneclady contains 3,472 inhabitants.

SKENESBOROUGH. See Whitwell.

ANDOVER, one of the 13 States of America; N. by N. Carolina; E. by the Atlantic Ocean; S. and W. by the Savannah river, which forms the State from Georgia. It is in length 200 miles, in breadth 125, and contains 30,000 square miles. It is divided into 9 districts, and is called the Low

Country, and contains 19 parishes, and 28,694 white inhabitants; send to the legislature 70 representatives, and 20 senators, and pay taxes to the amount of £28,081:5:11. Ninety-Six, West-ington, Pinckney, Camden, Orangeburg and Cheraw districts, are comprehended in the Upper Country, and contain 23 counties, and 110,902 white inhabitants; send to the legislature 34 representatives, and 17 senators, and pay taxes to the amount of £8,390:2:3. The total number of inhabitants in 1790, 249,073, of whom 107,094 were slaves. This State is watered by many navigable rivers, the principal of which are Savannah, Edisto, Santee, Pedee, and their branches. The tide in no part of the State, flows above 25 miles from the sea. A canal of 21 miles in length, connecting Cooper and Santee rivers, is nearly completed. The only harbours of note, are those of Charleston, Port-Royal, and Georgetown. The climate is different in different parts of the State. Along the sea-coast, bilious diseases and fevers of various kinds are prevalent between July and October. The upper country, situated in the medium between extreme heat and cold, is as healthful as any part of the United States. Except the high hills of the Santee, the Ridge and some few other hills, this country is like one extensive plain, till you reach the Tryon and Hog-back Mountains, 230 miles N. W. of Charleston. The whole State, to the distance of 80 or 100 miles from the sea, generally speaking, is low and level, almost without a stone, and abounds more or less, especially on and near the rivers, with swamps or marshes, which, when cleared and cultivated, yield, in favourable seasons, on average, an annual income of from 20 to 40 dolls. for each acre, and often much more: but this species of soil cannot be cultivated by white men, without endangering both health and life. These swamps do not cover an hundredth part of the State. It is curious to observe the gradations from the sea-coast to the upper country, with respect to the produce, the mode of cultivation, and the cultivators. On the islands upon the sea-coast, and for 40 or 50 miles back, and on the rivers much farther, the cultivators are all slaves. The articles cultivated are corn, rye, oats, every species of pulse, and potatoes, which, with the small rice, are food for the negroes; rice, indigo, cotton, and some hemp, for exportation. In the middle settlements, negroes are not so numerous. The master attends personally to his own business. The land is not properly situated for rice. It produces tolerable good indigo weed, and some tobacco is raised for exportation. The farmer is contented to raise corn, potatoes, oats, rye, poultry, and a little wheat. In the upper country, there are but few negroes; generally speaking, the farmers have none, and depend, like the inhabitants of the northern States, upon the labour of themselves and families for subsistence; the plough is used almost wholly. Indian corn in great quantities, wheat, rye, barley, oats, potatoes, &c. are raised for food; and tobacco, wheat, cotton, hemp, flax and indigo, for exportation. There are several respectable academies in Charleston, one at Beaufort, and several others in different parts of the State. Three colleges have been incorporated by law, one at Charleston, one at Willsborough; in the district of Camden the other at Cambridge, in the district of Ninety-Six. The public and private donations for the support of these three colleges, were originally intended to have been appropriated jointly, for the erecting and supporting of one respectable college. The division of these donations has frustrated this design. The legislature, in their session in January, 1793, appointed a committee, to inquire into the practicability of, and to report a plan for, the establishment of schools in the different parts of the State. Since the revolution, by which all denominations were put on an equal footing, there have been no disputes between different religious sects: they all agree to differ. The upper parts of this State are settled chiefly by Presbyterians, Baptists, and Methodists. From the most probable calculations, it is supposed that the religious denominations of this State, as to numbers, may be ranked as follows: Presbyterians, including the Congregational and Independent churches, Episcopalians, Baptists, Methodists, &c. In the most successful seasons, there have been as many as 140,000 barrels of rice; and 1,300,000 pounds of indigo exported in a year. In the year ending Sept. 30, 1795, the amount of exports from this State was 5,998,492 dollars 49 cents. Charleston is by far the most considerable city on the sea-coast, for an extent of 600 miles.

E. part of the Oneida Reservation, in the State of New-York, inhabited by the Indians, 300 in number, who, some years since, removed from Stockbridge, Massachusetts, and from this circumstance are called the Stockbridge Indians. This tract was given to these Indians by the Oneidas, as an inducement to them to settle in their neighbourhood; and is 7 miles S. E. of Kahnawolohale, the principal village of the Oneidas. These Indians are under the pastoral care of a missionary, the Rev. Mr. Sarjeant, whose pious labours have been attended with considerable success. They are generally industrious, especially the women, and employ themselves in agriculture, and breeding of cattle and swine. Their farms are generally inclosed with pretty good fences, and under tolerable cultivation. In the fall of 1796, almost every family sowed wheat; and there was a single instance this year, of one of the Indian women, named Ryber, who wove 16 yards of woollen cloth; who is here mentioned as an example of industry, and as having led the way to improvements of this kind. There is little doubt but her example will be followed by others. Their dividend of monies from the United States, amounting to about 300 dollars, has hitherto been expended in erecting a saw-mill, and supporting an English school.

TARBOROUGH, a post-town of N. Carolina; on the W. side of Tar River, about 85 miles from its mouth, 120 north by east of Fayetteville, 37 south of Halifax. It contains about 50 houses, a court-house and gaol. Large quantities of tobacco, of the Petersburg quality, pork, beef, and Indian corn are collected here for exportation.

TAR, or Pamlico River, North-Carolina, pursues a S. E. course, and, passing by Washington, Tarborough and Greenville, enters Pamlico Sound in lat. 35 22 N. It is navigable for vessels drawing 9 feet water to the town of Washington, 40 miles from its mouth; and for scows or flats carrying 30 or 40 hhds. 50 miles farther to the town of Tarborough.

TARPAULIN Cove, on the S. shore of Naushton island, about 3 leagues N. N. W. of Holmer's Hole, in Martha's Vineyard.

TARRYTOWN, a considerable village in Phillips's Manor, N. York, on the E. side of Hudson's river, 30 miles N. of N. York city. Under a large tree, which is shewn to travellers as they pass the river, is the spot where the unfortunate Major Andre was taken; who was afterwards executed at Tappan.

TAUNTON, a river which empties into Narraganset Bay, at Tiverton.

TAUNTON, a post-town of Massachusetts, the capital of Bristol co. on the W. side of Taunton river, contains 40 or 50 houses, compactly built, a church, court-house, gaol, and an academy. It is 36 miles S. by E. of Boston, 21 E. of Providence.

Tennessee river, immediately opposite the remains of Fort Loudon, and is computed to be 900 miles, according to the course of the river, from its mouth, and 32 miles S. of Knoxville in Tennessee. It was erected in 1794, and has proved a very advantageous military post. It has lately been established, by the United States, as a trading post with the Indians.

America, about 135 miles from the city of Santa Martha.

TENNESSEE, a large, beautiful, and navigable river of the State of Tennessee, called by the French Cherokee, is the largest branch of the Ohio. It rises in the mountains of S. Carolina, in about lat.
37, and pursues a course of about 2000 miles S. and S. W. nearly to lat. 34, receiving from both sides a number of large tributary streams. It then wheels about to the N. in a circuitous course, and mingles with the Ohio, nearly 60 miles from its mouth. It is navigable for vessels of great burthen to the Muscle Shoals, 250 miles from its mouth. It is there about 100 miles broad, full of small islands, and only passable in small boats or batteaux. From these shoals to the Whirl or Suck, the place where the river is contracted to the breadth of seventy yards, and breaks through the Great Ridge, or Cumberland Mountain, is 250 miles, and the navigation for large boats all the way excellent. The highest point of navigation upon this river is Tellico Block-House, 900 miles from its mouth, according to its meanders.

TENNESSEE, one of the United States of America, and until 1796, called The Tennessee Government, or Territory of the United States South of the Ohio. It is in length 400 miles, and in breadth 104; between lat. 35 and 36 30
N. and long. 81 28 and 91 38
W. It is bounded N. by Kentucky and part of Virginia; East by N. Carolina; S. by Georgia; W. by the Mississippi. It is divided into 3 districts, viz. Washington, Hamilton, and Mero, which are subdivided into thirteen counties. The two former districts are divided from the latter, by an uninhabited country of 91 miles in extent; through which there is a waggon road, opened in the summer of 1795.
—There are few countries so well watered with rivers and creeks. The principal are the Mississippi, Tennessee, Cumberland, Holston, and Clinch. There is hardly a spot in this country, which is upwards of 20 miles distant from a navigable stream. The Enchanted Mountain, about two miles S. of Brass-Town, is famed for the curiosities on its rocks. There are on several rocks a number of impressions resembling the tracks of turkeys, bears, horses, and human beings, as visible and perfect as they could be made on snow or sand. The latter were remarkable for having uniformly six toes each; one only excepted, which appeared to be the print of a negro's foot. By this we must suppose the originals to have been the progeny of Titan or Anak. One of these tracks was very large, the length of the foot 16 inches, the distance of the extremities of the outer toes 13 inches, the proximate breadth behind the toes 7 inches, the diameter of the heel-ball 5. One of the horse tracks was likewise of an uncommon size, the transverse and conjugate diameters, were 8 by 10 inches; perhaps the horse which the Great Warrior rode. What appears the most in favour of their being the real tracks of the animals they represent, is the circumstance of a horse's foot having apparently slipped several inches, and recovered again, and the figures having all the same direction, like the trail of a company on a journey. If it be a lusus nature, the old dame never sported more seriously. If the operation of chance, perhaps there was never more apparent design. If it were done by art, it might be to perpetuate the remembrance of some remarkable event of war, or engagement fought on the ground. The vast heaps of stones near the place, said to be tombs of warriors slain in battle, seem to favour the supposition. The texture of the rocks is soft, and could easily be cut with a knife, and appeared to be of the nature of the pipe stone. Some of the Cherokees entertain an opinion that it always rains when any person visits the place, as if sympathetic nature wept at the recollection of the dreadful catastrophe which those figures were intended to commemorate. The principal towns are Knoxville, the seat of government, Nashville, and Jonesborough, besides 8 other towns, which are as yet of little importance. In 1791, the number of inhabitants was estimated at 33,691. In November, 1795, the number had increased to 77,262 persons. The soil is luxuriant, and will afford every production, the growth of any of the United States. The climate is temperate and healthful; the summers are very cool and pleasant in that part which is contiguous to the mountains that divide this State from N. Carolina; but on the western side of the Cumberland Mountain the heat is more intense, which renders that part better calculated for the production of tobacco, cotton and indigo. The country abounds with mineral springs. Salt licks are found in many parts of the country. [See Campbell's Salines.] This country furnishes all the valuable articles of the southern States. Fine waggon and saddle horses, beef cattle, ginseng, deer-skins and furs, cotton, hemp, and flax, may be transported by land; also iron, lumber, pork and flour may be exported in great quantities, now that the navigation of the Mississippi is opened to the citizens of the United States. The Presbyterians are the presupposition. The temperature is soft, and could be cut with a knife, and to be of the nature of stone. Some of the people entertain an opinion that heavy rains when any part of the place, as if sympathy were at the recollection of the dreadful catastrophe of the year 1792. The principal towns are Knoxville, the seat of government, Nashville, and Jonesborough. Besides 3 other towns, as yet of little importance. In 1792, the number of inhabitants was estimated at 10,000.

In November, 1793, the number had increased to 15,000 persons. The soil is luxuriant and will afford every probability of the growth of any of the staples. The climate is temperate and healthful; the rivers are very cool and pleasant. A part which is contiguous to the mountains that divide North Carolina; but the eastern side of the Cumberland Mountain the heat is intense, which renders that country calculated for the production of tobacco, cotton and sugar. The country abounds in mineral springs. Salt licks are found in many parts of the country.

[See Campbell's Soliman.] The country furnishes all the articles of the Southern trade. Five waggon and saddle steers, cattle, ginseng, deer, furs, cotton, hemp, and other articles can be transported by land; lumber, pork and flour exported in great quantities. That the navigation of the Mississippi is opened to the people of the United States.—The Methodists and Presbyterians are the pre-valing denomination of Christians; in 1788, they had 23 large congregations. There are also some Baptists and Methodists. The inhabitants have paid great attention to the interests of science; besides private schools, there are three colleges established by law; Greenville in Green's co. Blount at Knoxville, and Washington in the county of that name. Here is likewise a "Society for promoting Useful Knowledge." A taste for literature is daily increasing. The inhabitants chiefly emigrated from Pennsylvania, and that part of Virginia that lies W. of the Blue Ridge.

TENSAW, a settlement near Mobile Bay, inhabited by 90 American families, that have been Spanish subjects since 1783.

TERRA del Fuego Island, or Land of Fire, at the south extremity of S. America, is separated from the main on the N. by the Straits of Magellan, and contains about 42,000 square miles. This is the largest of the islands S. of the Straits, and they receive this name on account of the vast fires and smoke which the first discoverers of them perceived.

TERRA FIRMA, or Casile del Oro, the most northern province of S. America, 1,400 miles in length, and 700 in breadth; situated between the equator and 14 N. lat. and between 60 and 82 W. long. bounded N. by the Atlantic Ocean, here called the North Sea; E. by the same ocean and Surinam, S. by Amazonia and Peru, and W. by the North Pacific Ocean. The chief towns are Porto Bello, Panama, Cartagena, and Popayan.

TERRITORY North-West of the Ohio, or North-Western Territory, a large part of the United States, is situated between 37 and 50 N. lat. and between 82 E. and 98 W. long. Its greatest length is about 900 miles, and its breadth 700. This extensive tract of country is bounded N. by part of the northern boundary line of the United States; E. by the lakes and Pennsylvania; S. by the Ohio river; W. by the Mississippi.—This tract contains 263,040,000 acres, of which 43,040,000 are water. That part of this territory in which the Indian title is extinguished, and which is settling under the government of the United States, is divided into five counties, viz. Washington, Hamilton, St. Clair, Knox, and Wayne. The number of souls in this large tract of country, has not been ascertained. From the best accounts received, the population was estimated, in 1792, as follows:

Indians, (suppose)	65,000
Ohio Company purchase,	2,500
Col. Symmes' settlements,	2,000
Gallipolis, (French settlements) opposite the Kanaway river,	1,000
Vincennes and its vicinity on the Wabash,	1,500
Kaskaskias and Cahokia,	680
At Grand Ruiffeau, village of St. Philip, and Prairie-du-rochers,	240

Total 72,820

The lands on the various rivers which water this territory, are interspersed with all the variety of soil which conduces to pleasantness of situation, and lays the foundation for the wealth of an agricultural and manufacturing people. Large level bottoms, or natural meadows, from 20 to 50 miles in circuit, are found bordering the rivers, and variegating the country in the interior parts. These afford as rich a soil as can be imagined, and may be reduced to proper cultivation with very little labour. Cotton is said to be the natural production of this country, and to grow in great perfection. The sugar maple is the most valuable tree, for an inland country. Any number of inhabitants may be forever supplied with a sufficiency of sugar, by preserving a few trees for the use of each family. A tree will yield about ten pounds of sugar a year, and the labour is very trifling. By an ordinance of Congress, passed on the 23th of July, 1787, this country, for the purposes of temporary government, was created into a district, subject, however, to a division, when circumstances shall make it expedient. Sixteen tracts of land of 6 and 12 miles square, interspersed at convenient distances in the Indian country, were, by the treaty of Greenville, Aug. 3, 1795, ceded to the United States, for the convenience of keeping up a friendly and beneficial intercourse between the parties. The United States, on their part, "relinquish their claims to all other Indian lands northward of the river Ohio, eastward of the Mississippi, and westward and southward of the Great Lakes and the waters uniting them, according to the boundary line agreed on by the United States, and the king of Great Britain, in the treaty of peace made between them in the year 1763. But from this relinquishment, by the United States, the following tracts of land are explicitly excepted. 1st. The tract of 150,000 acres near the rapids of the Ohio R. which has been assigned to Gen. Clark, for the use of himself and his warriors. 2d. The post of St. Vincennes, on the river Wabash, and the lands adjacent, of which the Indian title has been extinguished. 3d. The land at all other places in possession of the French people and other white settlers among them, of which the Indian title has been extinguished, as mentioned in the third article; and 4th. The post of Fort Mastic, towards the mouth of the Ohio. To which several parcels of land so excepted, the said tribes relinquish all the title and claim which they or any of them may have." Goods to the value of 20,000 dollars were delivered the Indians at the time this treaty was made; and goods to the amount of 9500 dollars at first cost in the United States, are to be delivered annually to the Indians at some convenient place northward of the Ohio. A trade has been opened, since this treaty, by a law of Congress, with the forementioned tribes of Indians, on a liberal footing, which promises to give permanency to this treaty, and security to the frontier inhabitants.

Tewksbury, a township of Massachusetts, Middlesex co. on Concord river, near its junction with Merrimack river, 24 miles N. of Boston—958 inhabitants.

THOMAS Island, St. is the largest and most northerly of the Virgin Islands, in the West-Indies, and is about 9 miles long, and 3 broad. It has a sandy soil, and is badly watered, but enjoys a considerable trade, especially in time of peace, in the contraband way; and privateers, in time of war, sell their prizes here. A large battery has been erected for its defence, mounted with 20 pieces of cannon. N. lat. 18 22, northern division of Terra Firma.

THOMASTOWN, a post-town of Maine, Lincoln co. the W. side of Penobscot Bay. The grand staples of Thomastown are lime and lumber. Lime-stone is very common; and there are now about 35 kilns erected, each of which, on an average, will produce 200 fifty gallon casks, at a burning, or 21,000 casks a year, which neat, after all expenses, about a dollar a cask. A fort, with a number of cannon, and a regular garrison of provincials, was formerly stationed within the limits of this township. Few vestiges of the fort now remain, but in place of it an elegant building was erected in 1794, by the Hon. Henry Knox, Esq. It was computed to contain in 1796, above 1,200 inhabitants. The compact part of the town is 7 miles southerly of Camden, 7 E. of Warren, 39 N. E. by E. of Wiscasset, and 215 N. E. of Boston.

THOMPSON, a township of Windham co. in the N. E. corner of Connecticut.

THORNTON, a township of N.
Hampshire, in Grafton co. at the head of Merrimack river—385 inhabitants.

THOUSAND Isles are in Iroquois

Queensburg, and incorporated in 1792.

TIERA Creek, a small stream which runs southerly through the city of Washington, and empties into Patowmac river.
Its source is 236 feet above the level of the tide in the creek; the waters of which, and those of Reedy Branch, may be conveyed to the President's house, and to the capitol.

TIBERON, or Tiburón, a bay and village on the S. W. part of the island of St. Domingo. The bay is formed by the cape of its name on the N. W. and Point Burgau on the S. E. a league and three-fourths apart. The village stands on the high road, and according to its course along the sea-shore, 10 leagues S. of Cape Dame Marie, 20 from Jeremie, and 32 by the winding of the road from Les Cayes. The cape

96 34 40 W. The exports from Cape Tiberon, in 1789, were 2000lbs white sugar; 377,800lbs brown sugar; 600,000lbs coffee; 13,672lbs cotton; 1,088lbs indigo; and small articles to a considerable amount.

TIBERON, a fort, near the town or village above mentioned.

TICKLE ME QUICKLY, a name given by British seamen to a fine little sandy bay of Terra Firma, on the isthmus of Darien. It is much frequented by privateers.

TICONDEROGA, in the State of N. York, built by the French in 1756, on the N. side of a peninsula formed by the confluence of the waters issuing from Lake George into Lake Champlain. It is now a heap of ruins, and forms an appendage to a farm. Its name signifies Noisy, in the Indian language. This was the first fortress attacked by the Americans during the revolutionary war. The troops under Gen. Abercrombie were defeated here in the year 1758, but it was taken the year following by Gen. Amherst. It was surprised by Cols. Allen and Arnold, May 10, 1775, and was retaken by Gen. Burgoyne in July, 1777.

TIGNARES, the chief town of the captainship of Rio Grande in Brazil.

TINICOM, two townships of Pennsylvania; the one in Buck's co. the other in that of Delaware.

TINMOUTH, a township of Nova-Scotia, on the eastern coast, about 40 miles from Truro.

TINMOUTH, a township of Vermont, Rutland co. and contains 935 inhabitants. In this town are 10 or 12 forges; and the manufacture of iron is carried on to a great extent.

TIOGA, a township of Pennsylvania, in Luzerne co.

TIOGA, a county of N. York, bounded E. by Otsego, W. by Ontario, and S. by the State of Pennsylvania. It contains seven towns, in which are 1,165 electors, according to the State census of 1796.

TIOGA Point, the point of land formed by the confluence of Tioga R. with the E. branch of Susquehannah R. It is about 54 miles southerly from the line which divides N. York State from Pennsylvania, and is about 150 miles N. by W. of Philadelphia. The town of Athens stands on this point of land.

TIOGA R. a branch of the Susquehannah, which empties into the same at Tioga Point; navigable for boats about 50 miles.

TISBURY, a small fishing-town, on the N. side of the island of Martha's Vineyard, about three miles from Chilmark, and 97 from Boston. The township contains 1,142 inhabitants. It is in Duke's co. Massachusetts, and in 1796, the easterly part was incorporated into a separate precinct.

TIVERTON, a township of Rhode-Island, in Newport co.—2,453 inhabitants; about 13 miles N. N. E. of Newport.

VERMONT, one of the United States of America, lies between lat. 42 44 and 45 N. and between long. 71 32 and 73 25 W. It is bounded N. by Lower Canada; E. by N. Hampshire, from which it is separated by Connecticut river; S. by Massachusetts; and W. by the State of N. York. No part of the State is nearer than 70 or 80 miles of any part of the ocean. The length of the State, 157 miles: the mean width from E. to W. is about 65 miles. It is divided into 11 counties, which are subdivided into upwards of 230 townships, generally 6 miles square. Reservations of land are made in the several townships, for the encouragement of collegiate, academic, and school education, and for the support of the gospel, and for its propagation in foreign parts.—Windsor, on the E. side of the Green Mountains; and Rutland, on the W. side; both nearly in the centre of the settled parts of the State from N. to S. are, according to an act of the legislature, to be alternately the seat of government, till about the year 1800. Both are flourishing towns. In 1790, according to the census then taken, the number of inhabitants in this State was 85,589. This number has since greatly increased. The people are an industrious, brave, hardy, active, frugal race. The soil is deep, and of a dark colour, rich, moist, warm, and loamy. It bears corn and other kinds of grain, in large quantities, as soon as it is cleared of the wood, without any ploughing or preparation; and after the first crops, naturally turns to rich pasture or mowing. Thro' this State there is one continued range of mountains, which are called the Green Mountains, from their perpetual verdure, and gives name to the State. Kellington Peak, one of the highest of the Green Mountains, is 3,454 feet above the level of the ocean. All the streams and rivers of Vermont rise among the Green Mountains; about 35 of them have an easterly direction, and fall into Connecticut river; about 25 run westerly, and pay tribute to Lake Champlain. The most considerable on the W. side of the Green Mountains, are Otter Creek, Onion river, La Moille, and Michicomi. The trade of Vermont is principally to Boston, Hartford, and N. York; to which places the inhabitants export horses, beef, pork, butter, cheese, wheat, flour, iron, nails, pot and pearl 1791, to be established at Burlington. In 1792, the state of the militia was as follows; 20 regiments of infantry, divided into 8 brigades, and 4 divisions; 15 companies of cavalry, and 6 companies of artillery; the whole computed at 18,300. Vermont sends two representatives to Congress.

miles W. by S. of Lexington.

VERSHIE, a township of Vermont, Orange co. adjoining West-Fairlee—439 inhabitants.

VICTORY, a township of Vermont, situated in Essex co. adjoining Guildhall, on Connecticut river.

VIENNA, a small town on the N. E. bank of Savannah river, in S. Carolina, opposite the mouth of Broad river and Petersburg; containing, in 1799, three dwelling-houses, a store, and a tobacco inspection, which receives annually about 50 hhds.

VIENNA, a port of entry and post-town of the eastern shore of Maryland, Dorchester co. on the W. side of Nanticoke river; contains about 30 houses, but carries on a brisk trade with the neighbouring sea-ports, in lumber, corn, wheat, &c. Its foreign exports in 1794, amounted to 1,667 dollars. It is 15 miles N. W. of Salisbury, 32 S. S. E. of Easton, and 150 S. W. of Philadelphia.

VIENNA, the capital of Greene co. Kentucky; on the N. side of Green river, about 158 miles W. S. W. of Lexington.

VINALHAVEN, a township on the coast of Maine, in Hancock co.—578 inhabitants. It is S. E. of Deer Island, and 250 miles from Boston.

VINCENTS, Fort, in the N. W.
Territory, stands on the E. side of Wabash river, 150 miles from its mouth. It was erected in the year 1787, in order to repel the incursions of the Wabash Indians, and to secure the western lands from intruding settlers. It has 4 small brass cannon, and is garrisoned by a major and 2 companies.—The town of Vincents contained, in 1792, about 1,500 souls, principally of French extraction. It is 300 miles S. W. of Fort Recovery. N. lat. 39 15.
W. long. 90 7.

VINCENT, St. one of the 14 captainships of Brazil, in South-America.

VINCENT, St. a town on the coast of Brazil; on Amiaz Island, in the Bay of All Saints.

VINCENT, a township of Pennsylvania, in Chester co.

VINCENT, St. one of the Caribbean Islands, between 61 10, and 61 13 W. long. and between 13 5 and 13 19 N. lat. being about 17 miles long, and about 10 broad. The vallies are fertile and extensive, and the clearing the ground has rendered the climate healthy. Of 84,000 acres which the island contains, 23,603 are at present possessed by British subjects, and about as much more is supposed to be held by the Charaibes; and the remainder is thought to be incapable of cultivation. This is the only island of the Antilles, where the small remains of the natives (with a mixture of negro blood) exist in the form of a nation. The number of inhabitants is 1,450 whites, and 11,853 negroes. St. Vincents is divided into 4 parishes. Its towns are Kingstown, the capital, and Richmond; the others are villages or hamlets, at the several bays and landing places. The islands dependent on the St. Vincents government, are Bequia, containing 3,700 acres; Union, 2,150 acres; Canouane, 1,777 acres; and Mustique, about 1,200 acres.—Of the above 11,853 negroes, about 1400 are employed in the cultivation of these islands. The total exports in 1788, in 122 vessels, from St. Vincents, amounted in value, according to the current prices in London, to £186,450 : 14 : 8, including exports to the American States, to the value of £9,019 : 1 : 8 sterling. The cargoes consisted of 65,128 cwt. 1 qr. 27 lbs. of sugar; 88,266 gallons rum; 9,656 gallons molasses; 634 cwt. 1 qr. 5 lb. coffee; 761,880 lbs. cotton; 143 cwt. 24 lb. cocoa; besides hides, dying woods, &c. Here they cultivate cinnamon, mango, sesamum, vanilla, China tallow-tree, camphor, gum-storax, &c. It is about 20 leagues W. of Barbadoes.

VINEYARD, New, a plantation in Lincoln co. Maine, on the two north-eastermost branches of Sandy river, about 39 miles N. by W. of Brunswick, and 37 N. W. of Hallowell.

VINEYARD Sound, on the E. eastern coast of Massachusetts, is the strait or passage between the Elizabeth Islands and Martha's Vineyard.

VIRGIL, a military township of Onondago co. N. York.

VIRGIN GORDA, one of the principal of the Virgin Isles, in the W. Indies. It lies 4 leagues to the E. of Tortula, and of a very irregular shape. It is worse watered than Tortula, and has fewer inhabitants. A mountain which rises in its centre, is affirmed to contain a silver mine.

VIRGINIA, one of the United States, lies between 36 30 and 40 30 N. lat. and between 75 54 and 83 8 W. long. It is in length 446 miles, in breadth 124; containing about 70,000 square miles. Bounded N. by Maryland, part of Pennsylvania, and Ohio river; W. by Kentucky; S. by N. Carolina, and E. by the Atlantic Ocean. This State is divided into 82 counties, (and by another division into parishes) which, with the number of inhabitants, according to the census of 1790, are mentioned in the following table.

The chief rivers are Roanoke, James, Nansemond, Chickahominy, Appamatox, Rivanna, York, Piankatank, Rappahannock, Patowmack, Shenandoah, and the great Kanaway. They abound with fish of various kinds, as sturgeon, shad, bass, carp, sheep-head, drum, herrings, perch, cat-fish, oysters, crabs, &c. It is worthy of notice, that the mountains are not solitary and scattered confusedly over the face of the country; but commence at about 150 miles from the sea-coast, are disposed in ridges one behind another, running nearly parallel with the sea-coast. In the same direction generally are the veins of lime-stone, coal and other minerals hitherto discovered; and so range the falls of the great rivers.

But the courses of the great rivers are at right angles with these. The mountains abound in coal, lime, and free-stone; the summits of them are generally covered with a good soil, and a variety of timber; and the low, intervalle lands are rich and remarkably well watered. The whole country below the mountains is level, and seems from various appearances to have been once washed by the sea. The soil in this tract seems to have acquired a character for goodness which it by no means deserves. Though not rich, it is well suited to the growth of tobacco and Indian corn, and parts of it for wheat. Good crops of cotton, flax and hemp are also raised; and in some counties they have plenty of cyder, and exquisite brandy, distilled from peaches, which grow in great abundance upon the numerous rivers of the Chesapeake. The planters, before the war, paid their principal attention to the culture of tobacco, of which there used to be exported, generally, 55,000 hogheads a year. Since the revolution, they are turning their attention more to the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, barley, flax and hemp. Every able bodied freeman, between the ages of 16 and 50, is enrolled in the militia. The Governor is head of the military as well as civil power. The law requires every militia man to provide himself with the arms usual in the regular service. If the militia bear the same proportion to the number of inhabitants now, as in 1782, they amount to about 68,000. This State is not divided into townships, nor are there any towns of consequence, owing probably to the interfection of the country by navigable rivers, which brings the trade to the doors of the inhabitants, and prevents the necessity of their going in quest of it to a distance. The principal towns, or more properly villages or hamlets, are as follows. On James river, and its waters, Norfolk, Portsmouth, Hampton, Suffolk, Smithfield, Williamsburgh, Petersburg, Richmond, the seat of government, Manchester, Charlottesville, New-London.—On York R. and its waters, York, Newcastle, Hanover.—On Rapahannock, Urbanna, Port-Royal, Fredericksburg, Falmouth.—On Patowmack, and its waters, Dumfries, Colchester, Alexandria, Winchester, and Staunton. The college of William and Mary was founded, at Williamsburg, about the beginning of this century. The academy in Prince Edward county has been erected into a college by the name of Hampden Sydney college. There are a number of academies in different parts of Virginia. The present denominations of Christians in Virginia are Presbyterians, who are most numerous, Episcopalians, Baptists, and Methodists. The exports of this State, in the year ending Sept. 30th, 1796, amounted to 5,268,615 dollars. The greatest quantity of tobacco ever produced in this country, in one year, was 70,000 hhds. in the year 1758. Virginia was settled permanently, after several preceding unsuccessful attempts, in 1610, being the earliest established of any of the United States.

Virgin Islands, a group of small islands in the W. Indies, to the eastward of the Island of Porto Rico, belonging to different Eu-of the country by rivers, which brings to the doors of the inland and prevents the necessity of their going in quest of distance. The principal more properly villages are as follows. On the R. and its waters, Norfolk, Southampton, Hampton, Suffolk, Williamsburgh, Richmond, the seat of government, Manchester, New-London. — On the York, and its waters, York, Hanover. — On the Rapahannock, Urbanna, Port-Royal, Suffolk, Falmouth. — On the James, and its waters, Jamestown, and Staunton. The William and Mary College, at Williamsburg, the beginning of this century an academy in Prince George's county has been erected, called by the name of the late Sydney college. There are several of academies in other parts of Virginia. The denominations of Christians in Virginia are Presbyterian, Baptist, and Methodist. The most numerous, Episcopal, and Baptist, and Methodist exports of this State, ending Sept. 30th, 1800, amounted to 5,268,615 dollars, the greatest quantity of tobacco produced in this State in one year, was 70,000 bales, in the year 1758. Virginia has no permanent settlement, after the first unsuccessful attempt, being the earliest of any of the United States, a group of small islands, the W. Indies, to the Island of Porto Rico, going to different European powers. They extend for the space of 24 leagues, from E. to W. and about 16 leagues from N. to S. and nearly approach the E. coast of Porto Rico. VOLUNTOON, a township on the E. line of Connecticut, Windham co. E. of Plainfield, 19 miles N. E. of Norwich, and 26 S. W. of Providence.

W

WABASH is a beautiful navigable river, of the N.W. Territory, which runs a S. W. and southern course, and empties into the Ohio, by a mouth 270 yards wide, in lat. 37 41 N.—168 miles from the mouth of the Ohio, and 1020 miles below Pittsburg. In the spring, summer, and autumn, it is passable in batteaux and barges, drawing about 3 feet water, 412 miles, to Onitaton; and for large canoes 197 miles further, to the Miami carrying place, 9 miles from Miami village. The land on this river is remarkably fertile. A silver mine has been discovered about 28 miles above Onitaton, on the northern side of the Wabash. Salt springs, lime, free-stone, blue, yellow, and white clay, are found in plenty on this river. The copper mine on this river, is perhaps the richest vein of native copper in the bowels of the whole earth.

WABASH, Little, runs a course S. S. E. and falls into the Wabash 20 miles from the Ohio.

WACHOVIA, or Dobb's Parish, a tract of land in N. Carolina, between the E. side of Yadkin river, and the head waters of Haw and Deep rivers, consisting of about 100,000 acres, in Stokes WARMINSTER, a small post-town of Virginia, on the N. side of James river, Amherst co. about 90 miles above Richmond. It contains about 40 houses, and a tobacco warehouse. It is 12 miles from Charlottesville. There is also a township of this name in Bucks co. Pennsylvania.

WARM Springs, Virginia. The most efficacious of these are two springs in Augusta, near the sources of James river, where it is called Jackson's river. The Warm Spring issues with a very bold stream, sufficient to work a grist-mill, and to keep the waters of its basin, which is 30 feet in diameter, at the vital warmth, viz. 96° of Fahrenheit's thermometer. They relieve rheumatism. Other complaints also of very different nature have been removed or lessened by them. It rains here 4 or 5 days in every week. The Hot Spring is about six miles from the Warm, is much smaller, and has been so hot as to have boiled an egg. Some believe its degree of heat to be lessened. It raises the mercury in Fahrenheit's thermometer to 175 degrees, which is fever heat. It sometimes relieves where the Warm Spring fails. These Springs are very much resorted to, in spite of a total want of accommodation for the sick. Their waters are strongest in the hottest months, which occasions their being visited in July and August principally. The Sweet Springs, in the county of Botetourt, at the eastern foot of the Alleghany, are about 42 miles from the Warm Springs.

WARNER, a township of New Hampshire, Hillsborough co.—863 inhabitants.

WARREN, a new county of the Upper district of Georgia.

WARREN, a co. of Halifax district, N. Carolina—9,397 inhabitants.

WARRENTON, a post-town, and the capital of the above mentioned county, 16 miles E. by N. of Hillsborough, 35 W. of Halifax, 54 N. of Raleigh, 83 S. of Petersburg in Virginia. The town contains about 30 houses. Here is a respectable academy, having generally from 60 to 70 students.

WARREN, a township of Vermont, Addison co. about thirty miles N.E. by E. of Crown Point.

WARREN, a post-town of Maine, Lincoln co. adjoining Camden and Thomaston; 203 miles N. E. by N. of Boston—642 inhabitants.

WARREN, a township of Grafton co. N. Hampshire, N. E. of Orford, adjoining—206 inhabitants.

WARREN, a post-town of Rhode Island, Bristol co. 4 miles N. of Bristol, 10 S. S. E. of Providence. This is a flourishing town; carries on a brisk coasting and West-India trade, and is remarkable for ship building. The whole township contains 1122 inhabitants. Rhode Island College was first instituted in this town, and afterwards removed to Providence.

WARREN, a new township of Herkimer co. N. York. It was taken from German Flats, and incorporated in 1796.

WARREN, a part of the township of Chenango, in the State of N. York, on Susquehanna river.

er, bears this name in De Witt shap.

WARREN, a township of Connecticut, Litchfield co. between the townships of Kent and Litchfield.

WARREN, a post-town of Virginia, on the N. side of James river, Fluvanna co. 10 miles from Warminster, 21 from Charlottesville, and 80 W. of Richmond. It is a flourishing town, has a tobacco inspection, and is situated just below those falls in James river, below which the Indians in travelling from north to south, used to ford the river. It took its name from General Joseph Warren.

WARRINGTON, the name of two townships of Pennsylvania; the one in York co. the other in Buck's.

WARWICK, a co. of Virginia, on James river. It is the oldest county of the State, and contains 1690 inhabitants.

WARWICK, a township of Massachusetts, in Hampshire county.—1246 inhabitants—90 miles N. W. of Boston.

WARWICK, the chief town of Kent co. R. Island, at the head of Narraganset Bay, and on the W. side; 8 miles south of Providence—2493 inhabitants. A cotton manufactory has been established in this town upon an extensive scale. One of Arkwright's machines was erected here in August, 1795; and the yarn produced answers the most sanguine expectation. This town was the birth-place of the celebrated Gen. Green.

WARWICK, a township of N. York, Orange co.—3603 inhabitants.

WARWICK, the name of two townships of Pennsylvania; the one in Buck's co. the other in that of Lancaster. In the latter is the fine Moravian settlement called Litia.

WARWICK, a post-town of Maryland, Cecil co. on the eastern shore of Chesapeake Bay 12 miles southerly of Elkton, 37 S. W. of Philadelphia.

WARWICK, a small town of Chesterfield co. Virginia; on the S. W. side of James river, about 7 miles S. S. E. of Richmond, and 17 N. of Petersburg. Vessels of 250 tons burthen can come to this town.

WASHINGTON, a county of Maine, and the most easterly in the United States. It is bounded E. by the British province of New-Brunswick. The number of inhabitants in 1790, was 2758; but the increase since must have been very considerable. Chief town, Machias.

WASHINGTON, a port of entry and post-town of N. Carolina; Beaufort co. on the N. side of Tar river, in lat. 35 30 N. 90 miles from Ocracoke Inlet, 40 from the mouth of Tar river, 38 N. by E. of Newbern, and 460 from Philadelphia. It contains a court-house, gaol, and about 80 houses. From this town is exported tobacco of the Petersburg quality, pork, beef, Indian corn, peas, beans, pitch, tar, turpentine, rosin, &c. also pine boards, shingles, and oak staves. About 130 vessels enter annually at the custom-house in this town. The exports for a year, ending the 30th of September, 1794, amounted to 33,684 dollars.

WASHINGTON, a post-town of Kentucky, and the capital of Mason co. It contains about 100 houses, a Presbyterian church, a handsome court-house and gaol; and is fast increasing in importance. It is 62 miles N. E. of Lexington, 75 N. E. by E. of Frankfort, and 709 S. W. by W. of Philadelphia.

WASHINGTON, a post-town of Georgia, and the capital of Wilkes co. 50 miles N. W. by W. of Augusta, 58 N. by W. of Louisville, and 813 from Philadelphia. It is regularly laid out, and contained, in 1788, 34 houses, a court-house, gaol, and academy. The funds of the academy amount to about 800l. sterl. On the east side of the town, a mile and half distant, is a medicinal spring, which is said to be a sovereign remedy for the scurvy, scrophulous disorders, gout, and every other disorder arising from humours in the blood. N. lat. 33 14.

WASHINGTON City, in the territory of Columbia, was ceded by the States of Virginia and Maryland to the United States, and by them established as the seat of their government, after the year 1800. This city, which is now building, stands at the junction of the river Patowmack, and the Eastern Branch, lat. 38 53 N. extending nearly 4 miles up each, and including a tract of territory, exceeded in point of convenience, salubrity and beauty, by none in America. The situation of this metropolis, is upon the great post-road, equi-distant from the northern and southern extremities of the Union, and nearly so from the Atlantic and Pittsburg, upon the best navigation, and in the midst of a commercial territory, probably the richest, and commanding the most extensive internal resource of any in America. The plan of this city appears to contain some important improvements upon that of the best planned cities in the world, combining, in a remarkable degree, convenience, regularity, elegance of prospect, and a free circulation of air. The positions of the different public edifices, and for the several squares and areas of different shapes as they are laid down, were first determined on the most advantageous ground, commanding the houses, a court-house, academy. The funds amount to about WASHINGTOWN City, in the territory of Columbia, was ceded by Virginia and Maryland to the United States, and by the act of Congress established as the seat of government, after the year 1800. This city, which is now stands at the junction of the Potomack, and the Annapolis branch, lat. 38 53 N. nearly 4 miles up each, being a tract of territory in point of convenience, fertility and beauty, by the act of Congress. The situation of this metropolis, is upon a high point, equidistant from the northern and southern extremities of the Union, and from the Atlantic and the Gulf of Mexico, upon the best navigation in the middle of a country, probably the most fertile and commanding the most extensive view of any city in the United States. The plan of this city is to contain some improvements upon that of the original plan of the city, in the planning, in a remarkable convenience, regularity of prospect, and a salubrious atmosphere. The positions of the different public edifices, and the several squares of different shapes as laid down, were first determined by the most advantageous, commanding the most extensive prospect, and from their situation, susceptible of such improvements as are either useful or ornamental. The city requires a large capital is situated on a most beautiful eminence, commanding a complete view of every part of the city, and of a considerable part of the country around. The President's house stands on a rising ground, possessing a delightful water prospect, together with a commanding view of the capitol, and the most material parts of the city. North and south lines, intersected by others running due east and west, make the distribution of the city into streets, squares, &c. and those lines have been so combined, as to meet at certain given points, with the divergent avenues, so as to form, on the spaces first determined, the different squares or areas. The grand avenues, and such streets as lead immediately to public places, are from 130 to 160 feet wide, and may be conveniently divided into four foot-ways, a walk planted with trees on each side, and a paved way for carriages. The other streets are from 90 to 110 feet wide. Washington, or as it is more commonly called, the Federal City, is separated from Georgetown, on the W. by Rock Creek, but that town is now within the territory of Columbia. It is 42 miles S. W. by S. of Baltimore, 876 from Passamaquoddy, in Maine, 500 from Boston, 248 from N. York, 144 from Philadelphia, 133 from Richmond, in Virginia, 232 from Halifax, in N. Carolina, 630 from Charleston, S. Carolina, and 794 from Savannah, in Georgia.

E. of Philadelphia. It consists of between 200 and 300 houses, and has a very elegant brick meeting-house for Congregationalists. The inhabitants are generally wealthy farmers; and besides the common productions of the country, raise great quantities of onions, which are exported to different parts of the United States, and to the W. Indies.

WEISENBERG, a township of Pennsylvania, in Northampton county.

WELLFLEET, a township of Massachusetts, Barnstable co. on

Moreover, a post-town in Georgia, 30 miles S. of M. E. of Louisville, contained, in 1797, 100 dwelling-houses, and two miles of Briarley, when cleared off (and there are now 1000 for this purpose) capable for boats carrying loads of corn, to the Wayneborough, and inferior courts in this town, and here a academy, with liberal education in the infancy, but a useful institution, in the township of New-Hillborough co. to the N. of Concord, and 70 miles S. of Boston—1794 inhabitants.

WEST BETHLEHEM, a township of Washington co. Pennsylvania.

WESTBOROUGH, a township of Massachusetts, Worcester co. 34 miles W. S. W. of Boston, and 1/2 E. of Worcester. Among other singular occurrences in the Indian wars, the strange fortune of Silas, and Timothy Rice is worthy of notice. They were sons of Mr. Edmond Rice, one of the first settlers in this town, and carried off by the Indians on August 8, 1704, the one 9, the other 7 years of age. They lost their mother tongue, had Indian wives, and children by them, and lived at Cagnawaga. Silas was named Tockanowagas, and Timothy, Ought-foroughten. Timothy recommended himself so much to the Indians by his penetration, courage, strength, and warlike spirit, that he arrived to be the third of the six chiefs of the Cagnawagas. In 1740 he came down to see his friends. He viewed the house where Mr. Rice dwelt, and the place from whence he with the other children were captivated, of both which he retained a clear remembrance; as he did likewise of several elderly persons who were then living, though he had forgot the English language. He returned to Canada, and it is said, he was the chief who made the speech to Gen. Gage, in behalf of the Cagnawagas, after the reduction of Montreal. These men were alive in 1790.

WEST CAMP, a thriving village of N. York, containing about 60 houses, in Columbia co. on the east side of Hudson's river, 2 miles above Red Hook, and 13 N. of N. York city.

staple commodity of the W. Indies is sugar. The juice of the sugacane is the most lively, excellent, and the least cloying sweet in nature. They compute, that, when things are well managed, the rum the plantation, and the sugars are clear gain. The quantity of rum as follows: Rum, 9,492,177 gal. of which 1,485,461 gal. came to the United States;—Molasses, of free condition. In Jamaica, they are reckoned at 10,000; and about the same number in the other islands, taken collectively. The following statement was made by Mr. Dundas in the British House of Commons. Im-

The French writers state the number of ships employed in their W. India trade at 600, each on an average 300 tons—their seamen at 15,000. The produce in 1785, 160 millions of livres. The W. India trade is thought to be worth to France about £400,000 sterl. annually. This was before the revolution. The value of the Spanish W. India trade is blended with that of America in general. The Danish W. India trade brings in a revenue to the King of Denmark of 133,000 dollars. The islands are described under their respective names.

WEST POINT, a strong fortress erected during the revolution, on the W. bank of Hudson's river, in the State of N. York, 6 miles above Anthony's Nose, 7 below Fish-Kill, 22 S. of Poughkeepsie, and about 60 N. of N. York city.
It is situated in the midst of the high lands, and is strongly fortified by nature as well as art. The principal fort is situated on a point of land, formed by a sudden bend in the river, and commands it for a considerable distance, above and below. Fort Putnam is situated a little further back, on an eminence which overlooks the other fort, and commands a greater extent of the river. There are a number of houses and barracks on the point near the forts. On the opposite side of the river, are the ruins of Old Fort Constitution, with some barracks going to decay. A number of continental troops are stationed here to guard the arsenal and stores of the United States, which are kept at this place. This fortress is called the Gibraltar of America, as by reason of the rocky ridges, rising one behind another, it is incapable of being invested by less than 20,000 men.

The fate of America seemed to hover over this place. Benedict Arnold, to whom the important charge of this fort was committed, designed to have surrendered it up to the British; but Providence disappointed the treasona-ble design, by the most simple means. Major Andre, a most accomplished and gallant officer, was taken, tried, and executed as a spy, and Arnold escaped. Thus the British exchanged one of their best officers, for one of the worst men in the American army.

WHITETOWN, in Herkemer co. N. York, on the S. side of Mohawk river, 4 miles W. of Old Fort Schuyler, and 100 W. of Albany. The compact part of this new and flourishing town lies on one beautiful street, about a mile in length, ornamented with trees. The houses are generally furnished with water, conducted by pipes laid under ground, from the neighbouring hills. At present the court-house, meeting-house, and school-house, are combined in one building; but it is contemplated shortly to erect separate and handsome edifices for these several purposes. The soil of this town is remarkably good. Nine acres of wheat in one field, yielded on an average, 41 bushels of wheat, of 60lb. each, an acre. This is no uncommon crop. This town and its neighbourhood has been settled with remarkable rapidity.—All that district comprehended between the Oneida Reservation, and the German Flats, and which is now divided into the townships of Whitetown, Paris, and Westmoreland, was known, a few years since, by the name of Whitetown, and no longer ago than 1785, contained two families only, those of Hugh White, and Moses Foot, esquires. In 1796, there were within the same limits, 6 parishes, with as many settled ministers, 3 full regiments of militia, 1 corps of light-horse, all in uniform. In the whole,

WILLIAMSBURG, a post-town of Virginia, chief town in the above county, contains about 200 houses, and has about 1,400 inhabitants. It is regularly laid out in parallel streets, with a pleasant square in the centre of about ten acres, through which runs the principal street, east and west, about a mile in length, and more than 100 feet wide. At the ends of this street are two public buildings, the college and capitol.
Besides these, there is an episcopal church, a prison, a court-house, a magazine, now occupied as a market, and a hospital for lunatics. The capitol is little better than in ruins. A late act of the assembly authorises the pulling down one half of this building, to defray the charge of keeping the other half in repair. The college of William and Mary fixed here, was founded in the time of king William and queen Mary, who granted to it 20,000 acres of land, and a penny a pound duty on certain tobaccoes exported from Virginia and Maryland. The assembly also gave it, by temporary laws, a duty on liquors imported, and skins and furs exported. From these resources it received upwards of 3,000l. The buildings are of brick, sufficient for an indifferent accommodation of perhaps 100 students. By its charter it was to be under the government of 20 visitors, who were to be its legislators, and to have a president and six professors, who were incorporated. It was also to have a representative in the general assembly. Under this charter, a professorship of the Greek and Latin languages, a professorship of mathematics, one of moral philosophy, and two of divinity, were established. To these, were annexed, for a sixth professorship, a considerable donation by a Mr. Boyle of England, for the instruction of the Indians, and their conversion to Christianity. This was called the professorship of Brafferton. A court of admiralty sits here whenever a controversy arises. It is 12 miles E. of York-Town, 60 E. of Richmond, 48 N. W. of Norfolk, and 338 S. S. W. of Philadelphia. N. lat. 37 16, W. long. 76 48.

WILLIAMSTOWN, in Vermont, Orange co. W. of Washington—146 inhabitants.

WILLIAMSTOWN, a township of Massachusetts, in the N. W. corner of the State, Berkshire co. containing 1769 inhabitants. It is a pleasant town on a plain, embosomed in mountains, containing a number of handsome houses of wood and brick, and well watered by Hoosack and Green rivers. The main country road passes through it. Col. Ephraim Williams laid the foundation of an academy several years since, and endowed it by a handsome donation of lands. In 1790, partly by lottery, and partly by the liberal donation of gentlemen in the town, a brick edifice was erected, 82 feet by 42, and four stories high, containing 24 rooms for students, a large school-room, a dining-hall, and a room for public speaking. In 1793, this academy was erected into a college, by an act of the legislature, by the name of Williams' College, in honour to its liberal founder. The languages and sciences usually taught in the American colleges are taught here. The first public commencement was held at this college in September, 1795. In WILMINGTON, a port of entry and post-town of Delaware, and the most considerable town in the State, in Newcastle co. between Christiana and Brandywine creeks, which at this place are about a mile distant from each other, but uniting below the town, they join the Delaware in one stream, 400 yards wide at the mouth. The site of the principal part of the town is on the S. W. side of a hill, 28 miles S. W. from Philadelphia. On the N. E. side of the same hill, on the Brandywine, there are 13 mills for grain, and about 40 neat dwelling-houses, which form a beautiful appendage to the town. The Christiana admits vessels of 14 feet draught of water to the town; and those of 6 feet draught, 8 miles further, where the navigation ends; and the Brandywine admits those of 7 feet draught to the mills. The town is regularly laid out in squares similar to Philadelphia, and contains upwards of 600 houses, mostly of brick, and 3,000 inhabitants. It has 6 places of public worship, viz. 2 for Presbyterians, 1 for Swedish Episcopalians, 1 for Friends, 1 for Baptists, and 1 for Methodists. Here are two market-houses, a poor-house, which stands on the west side of the town, and is 120 feet by 40, built of stone, and 3 stories high, for the reception of the paupers of Newcastle co. There is another stone building, which was used as an academy, and was supported for some time with considerable reputation, but by a defect in the constitution of the seminary, or some other cause, it has, of late, been much neglected. The Latin classics are however still taught here; and there are nearly 300 children in the different schools in town. The town is incorporated, and its officers are two burgesses, 6 assistants, and two constables, all of whom are annually chosen. N. lat. 39 43 18.

56,807 inhabitants.

Worcester, a post-town and capital of the above co. is the largest inland town of N. England, and is about 45 miles W. of Boston, 52 north-east of Springfield. The public buildings in this town are two Congregational churches, a court-house, and a strong stone gaol; inhabitants, upwards of 2000. The compact part of the town contains about 150 neat houses, situated in a healthy vale, principally on one street. Printing, in its various branches, is carried on very extensively in this town by Isaiah Thomas, Esq. who, in the year 1791, printed two editions of the Bible, the one the large royal quarto, the first of that kind published in America, the other a large folio, with 50 copper-plates, besides several other books of consequence. His printing apparatus consists of 10 printing-presses, with types in proportion; and he is now making preparations for the printing of Bibles of various smaller kinds. His printing apparatus is reckoned the largest in America. N. lat. 42 23, W. long. 71 44.

XALISCO, a province of New-Spain, the most southerly on the coast of Guadalajara audience. It is not above 150 miles in extent either way. It has silver mines, and abounds with Indian wheat, but has few cattle. The oil of the Infernal Fig-tree, as the Spaniards call it, is brought from this province. It is said to be efficacious in dissolving tumors, expelling of wind, and all cold humours, by anointing the belly, and taking a few drops of it in a glass of wine, as also by clysters. It is also said to cure ulcers in the head, and deafness. Xalisco, an ancient city, is the capital, yet the most considerable place in it is Com-postella.

XERES de la Frontera, a town

YARMOUTH, a post-town of Massachusetts, Barnstable co. on the peninsula of Cape-Cod, four miles E. of Barnstable, 12 E. by S. of Sandwich, 77 S. E. of Boston —2,678 inhabitants. Within the memory of some, the Indians in this town were nearly as numerous as the white people. As late as 1779 there was a small cluster of wigwams at Indian-town, belonging to the Parukannawhutt Indians, but at present (1797.) there is but a single wigwam, inhabited by an Indian and a squaw.
The following curious anecdote is related, as authentic, of an Indian deacon, a worthy character, by the name of Joseph Naubaught, of this place. On a certain time, at a distance from any inhabitants, Naubaught was attacked by a number of large black snakes. He was without a knife or even a stick to defend himself.
To out-run them, or to keep them off without any weapon, he knew was impracticable. In this hazardous situation he resolved to stand firm on his feet, and meet his fate. The snakes soon began to wind themselves about him. In a little time one of them had reached his neck, and stretched out his head towards Nauhaught's mouth. He opened it, and the black serpent immediately thrust in his head, which in an instant was bitten off by the Indian. As soon as the other serpents saw the blood of their wounded companion they precipitately left their prey, and Nauhaught thus escaped an awful death.

YARMOUTH, a township of Nova-Scotia, Queen's co. at the head of a short bay, 8 miles S. E. of Cape St. Mary.

YAZOO River, in Georgia Western Territory, consists of 3 large branches which run a southern course, and near its mouth these unite and pursue a S. W. course a few miles, and the confluent stream enters the eastern bank of the Mississippi, by a mouth upwards of 100 yards wide; according to Mr. Gauld, in lat. 32 37 N. and by Mr. Purcel, in 32 28.

YAZOO Cliffs, or Aux Cotes, lie 7½ miles from the river Yazoo, and 39½ miles from Louisa Chitto, or Big Black river.

YOHOGANY, the principal branch of Monongahela river, pursues a north-westerly course, and passes through the Laurel Mountain, about 30 miles from its mouth; is, so far, from 300 to 150 yards wide, and the navigation much obstructed in dry weather by rapids and shoals. In its passage through the mountain it makes very great falls, admitting no navigation for 10 miles, to the Turkey-foot. Thence to the Great Crossing, about 20 miles, it is again navigable, except in dry seasons, and at this place is 200 yards wide. The country on this river is uneven, but in the vallies the soil is extremely rich. Near to Pittsburg the country is well peopled, and there, as well as in Redstone, all the comforts of life are in the greatest abundance. This whole country abounds with coal, which lies almost on the surface of the ground.

YONKERS, a township of New-York, West-Chester co. on Hudson's river—1125 inhabitants.

YONKERS, a post-town of New-York, 114 miles from Philadelphia.

YORK, a river of Virginia, which empties into the Chesapeake, a little to the S. of Mobjack Bay. At York-Town it affords the best harbour in the State, which will admit vessels of the largest size. The river there narrows to the width of a mile, and is contained within very high banks, close under which the vessels may ride. It has 4 fathoms water at high tide, for 20 miles above York.

YORK, a river of York co. in Maine, which runs up 7 or 8 miles, and affords a tolerable harbour for vessels under 200 tons. About a mile from the sea is a bridge over this river, 270 feet long, erected in 1761.

YORK, or Yorktown, a port of entry and post-town of Virginia, and capital of York co. It is on the S. side of York river, where the river is suddenly contracted to a narrow compass, opposite to Gloucester, and a mile distant, where there is a fort fronting that on the York side, about 11 miles W. by S. of the mouth of the river. It contains about 60 or 70 houses, a gaol, an Episcopal church, and a tobacco warehouse. It will ever be famous in the American annals for the capture of Lord Cornwallis and his army, by the combined force of the United States and France, which took place on the 19th of October, 1781. It is 12 miles E. by S. of Williamsburg, 21 N. W. of Hampton, 72 E. S. E. of Richmond, and 330 S. S. W. of Philadelphia. N. lat. 37 23 30, W.

YORK, formerly called Toronto, is situated on the north side of York Bay, a water of Lake Ontario, in Upper Canada, 80 miles W. by N. of Oswego, and about 35 N. N. W. of Niagara. A town was laid out here in 1791, and contained, in 1797, between 2 and 300 families. A government house has been erected, and it is established as the seat of government for this Province.
The legislature held their first session here in June, 1797. The latitude of this town, as accurately taken in 1796, is 43 45 N.
Its longitude four degrees W. of the meridian of Philadelphia, or about 79 W. of Greenwich. The French had a small fort called Fort Toronto, about 3 miles west of the site of this town, the vestiges of which only are now to be seen. Toronto, is supposed to have been a corruption, either of Tarento, a town in Italy, or rather, of Tarantou, the Indian word for bull-frog. A small garrison is kept on York bay, two miles W. of the town.

YORK Bay, on which the above town is situated, is a water of Lake Ontario, from which it is separated by a sandy beach 8 miles long. On the W. end of this beach, at the mouth of the bay, is a block-house. Its north shore is rocky, with high banks.
A road, running N. 74° E. is laid out along the north shore of this bay, from York to the bay of Quinti. The country, between these two places, is laid out in townships of 9 miles by 11, and on some of them were a few settlers in 1797. The whole of this country is well timbered, and watered by innumerable creeks and rivulets, which have a variety of fish, such as salmon, salmon trout, bass, eel, &c. It is remarkable that no rattle-snakes have been found here, though, at the head of the lake, 36 miles distant, they are found in great numbers.

YORK Bay, in the State of New-York, is 9 miles long, and 4 broad, and spreads to the southward before the city of N. York. It is formed by the confluence of East and Hudson's rivers, and embraces several small islands, of which Governor's Island is the principal. It communicates with the Narrows, below Staten and Long Islands, which are scarcely 2 miles wide. The passage up to N. York, from Sandy Hook, the point of land that extends furthest into the sea, is safe, and not above 20 miles in length. The common navigation is between the east and west banks, in about 12 feet water.

CAMBLETON, a town on the Carolina side of Savannah river, 2 miles above Augusta. It has 2 ware-houses, which take from 1000 to 1200 hhds. of tobacco annually, and about 30 dwelling-houses. The Augusta boats ascend to this town, which is at the foot of the falls. It is a town of considerable mercantile importance, but its growth is and will be checked by its vicinity to the larger and flourishing town of Augusta.

Cox's Town, four miles from Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. A mould for running musket bullets, it is said, was lately found here, in digging a well, 30 feet below the surface of the earth.

DAYTON, a township at the mouth of Mad R. a branch of the Great Miami, in the North-West Territory.

tered to be conveyed by post, or they may be sent unpaid at the writer's choice.

12. Every single piece of paper, large or small, sealed or unsealed, is to be rated as a single letter; and if a paper (a bank note for instance) be enclosed, the letter is double; if two papers are enclosed, the letter is triple; if more than two enclosures, and weighing one ounce or more avoirdupois, each ounce is estimated equal to four single letters.

SHIP LETTERS.

Masters of vessels are bound immediately after arrival to deliver all letters and packets (excepting such as are for the owner or principal consignee) into the Post-Office, for which they are entitled to receive of the Post-Master, two cents for every letter and packet. These letters are to be rated with four cents each, and if conveyed by post, with the addition of usual postage.

13. Each Post-Master is to calculate the rates of postage from his office to each other office:
and a table of such rates is to be put up in the office, for the government of the Post-Master, and information of others.

14. Post-Masters may not detain the mail longer than the time fixed by contract. Information should be immediately communicated to the General Post-Office of failure and accidents happening to the mail.

15. Letters entered in a Post-Office, may be returned to the writer if required; he producing the superscription in the same hand-writing, and giving a receipt therefor.

INSTRUCTIONS ABRIDGED.

2. No person may inspect or handle any letters or newspapers constituting a part of the mail, who is not employed by a Post-Master, and under oath.

3. No Post-Master may open a mail not addressed to his office.

6. All letters discovered to be mislent must be forwarded to the proper office.

8. Mail-Carriers must deliver all letters which they receive on the way to the next Post-Office; the Post-Master there will pay them one cent for each. Post-Masters are to send letters by the mail carriers to persons living on the route, and more than two miles from a Post-Office; the mail carrier is to collect the postage and pay it to the Post-Master; he has a right to receive two cents for his trouble from the person to whom he delivers the letter.
This is not required where the mail is carried with great expedition.

9. No person is to be trusted for postages.

10. Letters and packets are to be marked with the name of the office where entered, to be conveyed by post, with the time of such entry, and the rate of postage.

11. Postages of letters and packets may be paid in advance at the office where they are en-

16. When a letter is mislent by a wrong direction of the writer, fresh postage must be added when the letter is forwarded; but no postage is to be added when properly directed and mislent by a Post-Master.

17. Letters on hand at the close of a quarter, must be advertised; and such as have lain in the office three months, are called Dead Letters, and are to be forwarded with the Quarterly Accounts to the General Post-Office.

18. Accounts must be rendered quarterly, on the last days of March, June, September, and December. The papers to be rendered, are,
